The President presented the following letter of resignation from Dean White's resignation Dean White: June 5th, 1918. To the President of M.A.C. and the State Board of Agriculture:-It is with very sincere regret that I herewith tender to you my resignation as Dean of the Division of Home Economics and as Dean of Women of the Michigan Agricultural College. 200 After long and careful consideration, it has seemed to me best to accept the position as Adviser of Women at Cornell University because of unusual conditions which have arisen there that have made the Alumnae and others interested in the College feel that the training and experience which I have had might be of especial value there at this time.

As Cornell is not only my Alma Mater but also the University from which I obtained my degre of Ph. D., and the University with which I have close family associations, there are many ties binding me to the work there.

The work at the Michigan Agricultural College and in the State has been a matter of such deep interest to me that it has been hard for me to decide that the service that I can render at Cornell might be greater than the service that I could render here, but matters have shaped themselves in such a way that I believe that I should go.

Permit me to take this opportunity to express to you my very great appreciation of the cordial cooperation which I have had since I came to the Michigan Agricultural College from the State Board, from the President and the Secretary and from the Faculty, as well as from the people with whom I have had the opportunity of working in the state. The interest which has been shown in the work that I have tried to de, - and the help that has been given to me at every step, in trying to carry out the plans which I have had in mind, - have made the work here a pleasure and have made it very full of interest.

> Respectfully submitted, (Signed) Georgia L. White, Dean, Divisi on of Home Economics.

On motion of Mr. Beaumont, the resignation of Dean White was accepted and the following resolutions adopted:

"RESOLVED, That in accepting the resignation of Miss Georgia L. White as Dean of Women and of Home Economics, the members of this Board do so with feelings of profound regret, both officially and personally. They recognize and fully appreciate how broadly her influence has extended throughout the state and how earnestly and successfully she has labored to extend the scope of, and to dignify, the work in Home Economics. Deeply as they feel the loss of Miss White's services and influence, they yet recognize the significance of a call to the Deanship of Women at Cornell University, in this case made doubly attractive through personal relations, and extend to her their kindest wishes for the same measure of success to which she has attained in this state and in this institution.

"RESOLVED, That the Secretary be requested to transmit a copy of these resolutions to Miss White."
