ACADEMIC COSTUME

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties. Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctor's gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood. Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree. If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department or faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different departments of study by tassels of the official department color as established by the Intercollegiate Code.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND NATURAL RESOURCES Maize	COLLEGE OF EDUCATION Light Blue	COLLEGE OF NATURAL SCIENCE Golden Yellow
Forestry, Packaging Russet	COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING Orange	COLLEGE OF NURSING Apricot
COLLEGE OF ARTS AND LETTERS White	COLLEGE OF HUMAN ECOLOGY Maroon	COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE Green

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, a leading land-grant university and the first agricultural college in America, strives for excellence in providing students a broad curricula of liberal and practical education. MSU also serves people of the state, nation and world through its numerous research, extension and international programs.

Now in its 129th year, Michigan State University has grown from three buildings and six faculty members to one of the largest universities in the nation. It has more than 3,000 faculty/staff engaged in teaching, research and public service, 412 campus buildings, and more than 5,300 acres of land, of which some 2,100 acres are in existing or planned campus development. Nearly 40,000 students now attend the University at East Lansing, of which about 85 percent are from Michigan.

Founded in 1855 to educate youth for the major occupation of that day — farming — MSU has broadened its offerings to meet the educational needs of today. The University now has a Graduate School and 14 colleges — Agriculture and Natural Resources, Arts and Letters, Business, Communication Arts and Sciences, Education, Engineering, Human Ecology, Human Medicine, James Madison, Natural Science, Nursing, Osteopathic Medicine, Social Science, and Veterinary Medicine.

At the center of all major universities is a cluster of disciplines which comprise the liberal arts and sciences. At MSU, this center consists of three colleges — Arts and Letters, Natural Science, and Social Science. Providing outstanding undergraduate and graduate degree programs with majors in traditional disciplines, these colleges also have special programs which enable students to obtain a broad, multidisciplinary education. In addition, in collaboration with the College of Education, the three colleges prepare students to become teachers in the secondary schools of Michigan and the nation. These colleges touch the lives of all undergraduate students at MSU by providing the general education that constitutes approximately one-quarter of the undergraduate program. The Honors College, which enables superior undergraduate students to waive normal graduation requirements and undertake individual programs, attracts many of the nation's finest young scholars. Michigan State University also ranks in the top five nationally among public institutions enrolling National Merit Scholars.

MSU adds to the store of knowledge with a wide array of outstanding research activities which are supported by a multimillion dollar sponsor-funding program. Some major facilities include the Pesticide Research Center, which presents a model program of multidisciplinary research and teaching; the Plant Research Laboratory, operated with the U.S. Department of Energy as a national plant biology center; and the MSU W. K. Kellogg Biological Station, which has been designated as a National Research Preserve. In collaboration with both the National Science Foundation and the U.S. Department of Energy, the National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory at MSU will examine the nuclei of the heaviest of elements.

Benefits of the University are brought to the public by the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lifelong Education Programs, and the Cooperative Extension Service. Their programs provide technical information and formal course work for many Michigan citizens. The Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, one of the finest conference centers in the nation, annually hosts nearly 60,000 adults who come to the campus for some 600 conferences and other educational meetings.

The University's land-grant concept of service is international. Supported by grants from the federal government and private foundations, MSU maintains research and educational assistance projects on a worldwide basis. International projects have given many faculty members overseas experience, adding a new dimension to their teaching.

With more than a century of educational achievement behind it, Michigan State University continues to apply its academic and physical resources to the problems of today and to the challenges of the future.

HONORARY DEGREE

JAMES J. BLANCHARD

It is a tribute to your courage, leadership ability and concern for the people of Michigan, that in the brief time you have been in office as the 45th Governor of the State of Michigan, you have made bold moves toward bringing about a solution to some of the state's most pressing problems. You demonstrated a deep concern for the needs of education by giving it a high priority in your first budget recommendations to the Legislature. Your leadership talent was demonstrated early in your career, when, as a student at Michigan State University, you were elected president of your sophomore and senior classes, and were active in a number of student organizations stressing service and academic achievements. You were the recipient of the bachelor of arts degree in social science and pre-law, and a master's degree in business administration from this University; and you were awarded a law degree from the University of Minnesota. Before your election to the State of Michigan's highest office, you served eight years in Congress, representing thirteen Oakland and Macomb communities, and were named as one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men in America by the United States Jaycees. Your leadership qualities were further recognized when, as a member of the House Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs Committee, you were elected chairman of the House Subcommittee on Economic Stabilization. You steered the Chrysler Loan Guarantee Act through the Congress, legislation that helped revitalize a segment of one of the state's most crucial industries. Also, during your eight years in Congress you closely monitored federal programs that might affect the quality and preservation of the Great Lakes, and you introduced the Great Lakes Protection Act of 1982. Your dedication to the citizens of Michigan was expressed during your campaigns as you stressed cooperation between business and labor, the cities and rural communities, and among all our citizens. In recognition of the courage and leadership that you demonstrated during your young, but already distinguished career; for your devotion to government and the people of Michigan; and especially for your service to education, Michigan State University, your alma mater, is pleased to award you, the first graduate of this University ever to serve as Governor of the State of Michigan, the degree of Doctor of Laws.
