On the cover is Beaumont Memorial Tower, constructed in 1928, a gift of John W. Beaumont, class of 1882. Restoration of the tower, carillon, and clock was completed in 1996, reviving the bells which had been silent since 1987. Beaumont Tower once again is a functioning symbol of the beauty and strength of Michigan State University.

DIPLOMAS WILL BE MAILED TO DEGREE RECIPIENTS
APPROXIMATELY ONE MONTH AFTER THE END OF THE SEMESTER.

FOR INFORMATION ABOUT THE SENIOR CLASS GIFT, PLEASE SEE <http://www.msu.edu/~senior98>

MSU is an affirmative-action, equal-opportunity institution.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, one of the nation's leading land-grant universities, was founded in 1855 as the first agricultural college with only six faculty members and three buildings to provide youths with an education in farming. Now, 140 years later, MSU continues to strive for excellence in providing a diverse student body with a broad and rich combination of liberal and practical education.

Today, the East Lansing campus looks quite different than it did in 1855. More than 5,200 acres of land encompass more than 400 buildings, and more than 3,000 faculty and staff are engaged in teaching, research and public service. More than 40,000 students — 85 percent from Michigan — attend the University's main campus.

Our student body represents every county in the state, every state in the nation, and 107 foreign nations. Minority students comprise more than 14 percent of the campus population, and our campus includes the largest number of African American students among all Big Ten schools.

Michigan State University's commitment to diversity and multiculturalism in its student body, faculty, staff, curriculum and outreach programs is exemplified through world-wide services in numerous research, extension, and international programs.

More than a century after its agricultural beginnings, Michigan State has a Graduate School and 14 colleges: Agriculture and Natural Resources, Arts and Letters, the Broad College of Business, Communication Arts and Sciences, Education, Engineering, Human Ecology, Human Medicine, James Madison, Natural Science, Nursing, Osteopathic Medicine, Social Science and Veterinary Medicine.

Today, three colleges represent the central academic disciplines which most universities refer to as the liberal arts and sciences: Arts and Letters, Natural Science, and Social Science. These colleges also provide outstanding undergraduate and graduate degree programs with majors in traditional disciplines while also providing special programs that enable students to obtain a broad, multidisciplinary education. The College of Education collaborates with the colleges to help prepare students to become teachers in the secondary schools of Michigan as well the nation.

Our residence hall system is designed to complement and enhance the learning experiences of our students.

The Honors College, which attracts fine young scholars nationwide, enables students to waive standard graduation requirements and undertake enriched academic programs. MSU has produced 13 Rhodes Scholars, six Marshall Scholarship winners, and 11 Churchill Scholarship recipients. These British scholarships are among the most distinguished and prestigious academic award that an American student can receive.

Multimillion dollar, sponsor-funded programs support a wide array of outstanding research activities at MSU. Major facilities include the Pesticide Research Laboratory, operated with the U.S. Department of Energy as a national plant biology center; and the MSU/W.K. Kellogg Biological Station, which has been designated as a National Research Preserve. In collaboration with both the National Science Foundation and the U.S. Department of Energy, the National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory at MSU is able to study the nuclei of the heaviest elements.

The public significantly benefits from the University through University Outreach, MSU Extension Service, and the Agricultural Experiment Station which provides technical information and course work for many Michigan citizens. The Kellogg Center, one of the finest nationwide, annually hosts some 30,000 adults who come to the campus for approximately 600 conferences and other educational meetings.

Service to the international community is equally important. Supported by grants from the federal government and private foundations, MSU sustains educational and research assistance projects internationally. These projects have given many faculty members overseas experience and have added new dimensions to their teaching.

Michigan State University is a member of the Association of American Universities, National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, American Council on Education, American Council of Learned Societies, International Association of Universities, Association of Graduate Schools, Council of Graduate Schools, and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties.

Three types of gowns are indicted by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctor's gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round, and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of the bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree (e.g., green and white for MSU; burnt orange and white for the University of Texas; blue and gold for UCLA). If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department of faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. Generally, the code for the velvet of the hood is the same as listed below for tassels.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different departments of study by tassels of the official department color as established by the Intercollegiate Code.

HONORARY DEGREE

FREDERICK S. ADDY

Your long and successful career in corporate finance, your support of education, and your significant contributions to your community identify you as a citizen of the world.

You earned two degrees at Michigan State University—a bachelor's degree in business administration and an MBA in marketing—and then joined the Amoco Corporation in Chicago. At Amoco, you held a series of positions with increasing responsibility, including vice president and treasurer, and retired as Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer, and Director.

During your long career you were known for your integrity and your mastery of the challenging intricacies of corporate finance on a global scale. Through your efforts, Amoco achieved and maintained a coveted Triple-A debt rating and gained a reputation in the financial community for strength and stability. You were also a key player in such major transactions as Amoco's acquisition of Dome Petroleum Company. This extensive and complex transaction was, at the time, the largest business merger in Canada.

You have shared your business knowledge and acumen by serving on boards of investment firms and community and educational organizations. You have been a strong and consistent supporter of Michigan State University.

In recognition of your distinguished record of achievements, Michigan State University is pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities.

HONORARY DEGREE

JEAN CHRÉTIEN

You have served your country for more than three decades with a strong commitment to improving the quality of life for Canadians. Throughout your career, your hallmark has been an ability to bring people together to work toward a common purpose.

You were first elected to the House of Commons in 1963. On your reelection in 1965 you were appointed Parliamentary Secretary to Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson. Throughout the 1960s and 1970s you held numerous posts, including Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development, President of the Treasury Board, Minister of Industry, Trade and Commerce, and Minister of Finance.

After being reelected with an unprecedented majority in 1980, you were appointed Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada and Minister of State for Social Development. You also served as minister responsible for constitutional negotiations and Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources. In 1984 you became Deputy Prime Minister and Secretary of State for External Affairs. As a member of the Opposition you were appointed Critic for External Affairs.

In 1990 you were elected Leader of the Liberal Party of Canada and were sworn in as Prime Minister in 1993. Since then your government has achieved a remarkable economic recovery in Canada and balanced the budget. Economic indicators in Canada point to continued prosperity. You have worked to promote open trade in the Americas, in the Pacific, and around the world. To continue improving the quality of life for Canadians, you have encouraged investment in what you have called "brains and health": education, cutting-edge research and development, the national health care system, and information technology. Canada is a pioneer in connecting schools and public libraries to the Internet and in electronic commerce. You have continued Canada's distinctive role in the international arena and worked creatively to maintain Canada's complex national identity.

For your commitment to making Canada a better place to live for all its people and an example to the world, Michigan State University is pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

HONORARY DEGREE

LORETTA L. VAN CAMP

Your contribution to the discovery of two successful anti-cancer medications has improved the lives of thousands of people. Your diligence and careful attention to detail in the complex laboratory experiments you conducted helped isolate, characterize, and test the compounds that form the important drugs cisplatin and carboplatin. Your careful observations, biological knowledge, and aptitude were vital to the success of this research.

Your concern for the patients who would take those drugs led to your active exploration of the side effects they might experience. Even after your retirement you continued to probe the mechanism of anti-cancer drugs at the cellular level and to study the possible toxic side effects as well as antidotes.

Through your commitment to the highest standards of experimentation in the laboratory you coordinated at Michigan State University, you served as an exceptional mentor for thousands of graduate and undergraduate students. You are known for your technical skills, passion for science, rigorous commitment to the pursuit of truth, and strong concern for intellectual integrity.

You have been a strong supporter of Michigan State University, using your success to continue research activities you helped begin. For your service, your example, your dedication to education, and your commitment to science, Michigan State University is pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

HONORARY DEGREE

ELIE WIESEL

Concern for the oppressed and neglected of the world has marked your life's work. You have defended the cause of Soviet Jews, Nicaragua's Miskito Indians, Argentina's "disappeared," Cambodian refugees, the Kurds, South African apartheid victims, famine victims in Africa, and more recently the victims and prisoners in the former Yugoslavia.

Your first-hand experience of oppression and torture led to that commitment. In 1944 when you were fifteen, Nazis took over your village, in what is now Romania, and transported you and your family to Auschwitz, where your mother and younger sister perished. You and your father were later transported to Buchenwald, where your father died. Only you and your two older sisters survived the concentration camps.

You went on to study at the Sorbonne and become a journalist in France. When you interviewed Nobel laureate Francois Mauriac, he encouraged you to speak about your Holocaust experiences. Your response was the novel, Night. Published in 1958, it was the first of more than forty books to explore Judaism, the Holocaust, and the ethics and morality of human rights. In addition to your writing and speaking, you are a teacher who has held posts at several universities. Since 1976 you have been the Andrew W. Mellon Professor in the Humanities at Boston University where you also hold the title of University Professor.

Your humanitarian efforts earned you the Nobel Peace Prize in 1986. Building on the prize, you and your wife established The Elie Wiesel Foundation for Humanity to advance the cause of human rights and peace throughout the world. You continue to receive numerous honors. In the United States you have received the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the Congressional Gold Medal of Achievement, and the Medal of Liberty Award. You hold the rank of Grand Officer in the French Legion of Honor. You are founding chairman of the United States Holocaust Memorial Council and founding president of the Paris-based Universal Academy of Cultures.

For your advocacy of human rights around the world, Michigan State University is pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities.

FRED C. TINNING

Fred C. Tinning received three degrees from Michigan State University – a bachelor's degree in 1959, a master's degree in 1961 and a doctorate in philosophy in 1973.

Currently President Emeritus of Kirksville, MO College of Osteopathic Medicine, Tinning served as president for 12 years. Prior to that appointment he was Assistant Dean for Planning and Program Operations at Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine. He also served as a professor in the Department of Counseling, Personnel Services and Educational Psychology, College of Education, and in a variety of other administrative and teaching positions at Michigan State University.

He is also currently an adjunct professor for Department of Health Administration, University of South Carolina. Tinning served as a member of the Advisory Panel to the U.S. Office of Technology Assessment's for the Rural Health Care Study. Tinning had international consulting experiences with the University Center for International Rehabilitation, a federal center established at MSU by the U.S. Congress.

Tinning served on a special task force on Medical School Cost Study as the vice chairman for the Institute of Medicine, National Academy of Science Model, and as a representative for the Senate Fiscal Agency. He was appointed to the Governor's Planning Systems for Michigan in 1966. In Missouri he was appointed by the Governor to several task forces and commissions.

Tinning's professional affiliations include serving as chair for the Board of Governors for the American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine, and as a member of the Bureau of Professional Education, American Osteopathic Association.

The City of Kirksville, Missouri proclaimed Fred C. Tinning Day on October 10, 1997. He has also received numerous recognitions from his professional colleagues and from the Missouri Senate and House of Representatives.

1999 DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD

SHIRLEY A. WEIS

Shirley Weis received a bachelor's degree in nursing from Michigan State University in 1975.

Currently she chairs the Department of Managed Care for the Mayo Foundation.

Prior to this appointment, Weis held other management positions at Mayo Foundation and Mayo Management Services where she directed all activities for HMO, TPA and medical management services for 115,000 lives and supervised more than $185 million in paid claims. Until August 1995, she was the chief operating officer for the Blue Care Network – Health Central in Michigan.

Previously she was manager of energy department and outpatient services, and emergency room nursing and supervision. She also has taught management courses for health care professionals. Weis's professional affiliations include membership on the Minnesota Council of Health Plans, Minnesota Regional C Coordinating Board, Region 6; the Lansing Community College Foundation; the HMO Association of Michigan; the American Association of Health Plans; and the American Managed Care and Review Association.

Weis has received numerous recognition and awards including the Diana Award for Outstanding Business Women in 1982 and in 1988. She has published numerous articles in professional journals.

O CANADA.....Lavallée

O Canada! Our home and native land!
True patriot love in all thy sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The True North strong and free!
From far and wide, O Canada,
We stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
(The MSU Wind Symphony and Audience)
Lead Singer -- Sarah Hibbard

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER.....Key

Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars thru the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thru the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?
(The Symphony, Hibbard, and Audience)

ALMA MATER.....Traynor

M.S.U., We love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M.S.U.
