On the cover is Beaumont Memorial Tower, constructed in 1928, a gift of John W. Beaumont, class of 1882. Restoration of the tower, carillon, and clock was completed in 1996, reviving the bells which had been silent since 1987. Beaumont Tower once again is a functioning symbol of the beauty and strength of Michigan State University.

DIPLOMAS WILL BE MAILED TO DEGREE RECIPIENTS
APPROXIMATELY ONE MONTH AFTER THE END OF THE SEMESTER

Honors designations are based on the GPA attained through the semester prior to graduation. Honors designations for Summer Candidates therefore will require recalculation.

MSU is an affirmative-action, equal-opportunity institution.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, one of the nation's leading land-grant universities, was founded in 1855 as the first agricultural college with only six faculty members and three buildings to provide youths with an education in farming. Now, 140 years later, MSU continues to strive for excellence in providing a diverse student body with a broad and rich combination of liberal and practical education.

Today, the East Lansing campus looks quite different than it did in 1855. More than 5,200 acres of land encompass more than 400 buildings, and more than 3,000 faculty and staff are engaged in teaching, research and public service. More than 40,000 students — 85 percent from Michigan — attend the University's main campus.

Our student body represents every county in the state, every state in the nation, and 107 foreign nations. Minority students comprise more than 14 percent of the campus population, and our campus includes the largest number of African American students among all Big Ten schools.

Michigan State University's commitment to diversity and multiculturalism in its student body, faculty, staff, curriculum and outreach programs is exemplified through world-wide services in numerous research, extension, and international programs.

More than a century after its agricultural beginnings, Michigan State has a Graduate School and 14 colleges: Agriculture and Natural Resources, Arts and Letters, the Broad College of Business, Communication Arts and Sciences, Education, Engineering, Human Ecology, Human Medicine, James Madison, Natural Science, Nursing, Osteopathic Medicine, Social Science and Veterinary Medicine.

Today, three colleges represent the central academic disciplines which most universities refer to as the liberal arts and sciences: Arts and Letters, Natural Science, and Social Science. These colleges also provide outstanding undergraduate and graduate degree programs with majors in traditional disciplines while also providing special programs that enable students to obtain a broad, multidisciplinary education. The College of Education collaborates with the colleges to help prepare students to become teachers in the secondary schools of Michigan as well the nation. Our residence hall system is designed to complement and enhance the learning experiences of our students.

The Honors College, which attracts fine young scholars nationwide, enables students to waive standard graduation requirements and undertake enriched academic programs. MSU has produced 13 Rhodes Scholars, six Marshall Scholarship winners, and 11 Churchill Scholarship recipients. These British scholarships are among the most distinguished and prestigious academic award that an American student can receive.

Multimillion dollar, sponsor-funded programs support a wide array of outstanding research activities at MSU. Major facilities include the Pesticide Research Laboratory, operated with the U.S. Department of Energy as a national plant biology center; and the MSU/W.K. Kellogg Biological Station, which has been designated as a National Research Preserve. In collaboration with both the National Science Foundation and the U.S. Department of Energy, the National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory at MSU is able to study the nuclei of the heaviest elements.

The public significantly benefits from the University through University Outreach, MSU Extension Service, and the Agricultural Experiment Station which provides technical information and course work for many Michigan citizens. The Kellogg Center, one of the finest nationwide, annually hosts some 30,000 adults who come to the campus for approximately 600 conferences and other educational meetings.

Service to the international community is equally important. Supported by grants from the federal government and private foundations, MSU sustains educational and research assistance projects internationally. These projects have given many faculty members overseas experience and have added new dimensions to their teaching.

Michigan State University is a member of the Association of American Universities, National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, American Council on Education, American Council of Learned Societies, International Association of Universities, Association of Graduate Schools, Council of Graduate Schools, and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties.

Three types of gowns are indicted by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctor's gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round, and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of the bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree (e.g., green and white for MSU; burnt orange and white for the University of Texas; blue and gold for UCLA). If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department of faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. Generally, the code for the velvet of the hood is the same as listed below for tassels.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different departments of study by tassels of the official department color as established by the Intercollegiate Code.

HONORARY DEGREE

WILLIAM G. ANDERSON, I

You are a skilled and committed physician, an inspiring educator, and a pioneering civil rights leader who has focused not only on improving the health of your patients but also on making the world they live in a better place. Known as a man of principle with high standards of achievement, you have influenced generations of osteopathic medical students to serve the public good.

You began your medical practice in Albany, Georgia, and at the same time founded and served as the first president of the Albany Movement, a pioneering civil rights organization in southwest Georgia. You were an associate of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., during his lifetime, serving as a director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which he founded. After his assassination, you were one of the civil rights leaders who helped keep his dream alive.

You also served in numerous leadership positions in your profession. You are a Fellow of the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons and served on the Board of Directors of the American Osteopathic Association for two decades. You were the first African American to serve as the association's president, and the organization recognized your accomplishments with a Distinguished Service Certificate for your leadership and commitment. The American Osteopathic Foundation established a scholarship in your name to support the education of underrepresented minority students.

Colleges of osteopathic medicine have benefited from your commitment to excellence and equality through your teaching and service on their boards and on professional educational committees. You teach Michigan State University students during their residencies in southeast Michigan hospitals. You also serve on the Statewide Campus System Governing Board, which represents twenty hospital partners in Michigan. As associate dean of the Kirtsville College of Osteopathic Medicine Michigan Region you develop osteopathic medical education programs for students, interns, and residents at hospitals within the St. John Health System in Michigan. You also serve your community through service on the boards of businesses, your church, and other organizations.

For your commitment to excellence in your profession, your support of education, and your work to promote civil rights, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree, Doctor of Science, from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE

RICHARD B. CHENEY

You have had a distinguished career as a public servant and businessman, serving in three presidential administrations and as a member of Congress before becoming the 46th vice president of the United States.

Your career in public service began in 1969 when you served at the Cost of Living Council, the Office of Economic Opportunity, and then at the White House. You were on the transition team when Gerald Ford assumed the Presidency in 1974, and you became his Chief of Staff at age 34.

You were subsequently elected six times as the single Congressman from Wyoming in the U.S. House of Representatives. Your colleagues elected you Chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, Chairman of the House Republican Conference, and House Minority Whip. During your tenure in the House, you were highly regarded for your knowledge, character, and accessibility.

As Secretary of Defense under President George H. W. Bush, you played a crucial role in the largest military campaign in recent history—Operation Desert Storm in the Middle East. Your decisions helped shape the future of the U.S. military in an age of profound and rapid change as the Cold War ended. For your leadership in the Gulf War, President Bush awarded you the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 1991.

After leaving public service, you became a senior fellow at the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, lectured widely in the United States, and joined the boards of several corporations. In 1995, you became the president and chief executive officer of the Halliburton Company, a Texas-based Fortune 500 energy services company. You led the company to its position as the largest provider of oil-drilling, engineering, and construction services in the world.

Your foreign policy, congressional, and defense experience serve you well as vice president in the administration of President George W. Bush. You are widely recognized for your understanding of national and international issues and your commitment to a safer, more peaceful world. People from all positions on the political spectrum describe you as hard working, loyal, and thoughtful.

For your lifetime of dedication to public service, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE

PETER C. DOHERTY

A self-described nonconformist who is delighted by the unexpected in everything from art to scientific experiments, your discoveries about the body's immune system changed the way we understand infectious diseases, chronic inflammatory diseases, organ transplantation, and vaccination.

As an Australian teenager looking for a course of study that would lead to a reasonable career, you decided to attend veterinary college and become a researcher. Your experimental interest in viruses took you to Moredun Research Institute in Edinburgh, Scotland then back to Australia to the John Curtin School of Medical Research in 1972. There you met Rolf Zinkernagel and began the research that would result in your sharing the Nobel Prize in Medicine in 1996.

Your research examined how the immune system, and particularly T-lymphocytes, could protect animals against a virus able to cause meningitis. Infected mice developed T-lymphocytes, which could kill virus-infected cells. But you encountered the unexpected: those T-lymphocytes were unable to kill infected cells from another strain of mice. Your work demonstrated that white blood cells must recognize both the virus and certain self-molecules—histocompatibility antigens—in order to kill the infected cells.

This discovery contradicted the accepted model of immune response and revolutionized the understanding of immunity in organ transplantation. Researchers continue to investigate its implications for strengthening the immune response against invading microorganisms and certain forms of cancer and for diminishing the effects of autoimmune reactions in inflammatory diseases such as rheumatic conditions, multiple sclerosis, and diabetes.

You worked on some of those diseases yourself at the Wistar Institute in Philadelphia. Now as chair of the Department of Immunology at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, you lead researchers working to understand pediatric immunodeficiency disease, develop and test a potential AIDS vaccine, and apply gene therapy to rehabilitate the immune system.

For your contributions to immunological science and their significant impact for human health, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree, Doctor of Science, from Michigan State University.

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER.....Key
Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars thru the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thru the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

ALMA MATER.....Traynor
M.S.U., We love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M.S.U.
