On the cover is Beaumont Memorial Tower, constructed in 1928, a gift of John W. Beaumont, class of 1882. Restoration of the tower, carillon, and clock was completed in 1996, reviving the bells which had been silent since 1987. Beaumont Tower once again is a functioning symbol of the beauty and strength of Michigan State University.

Diplomas will be mailed to degree recipients approximately one month after the end of the semester.

Honors designations are based on the GPA attained through the semester prior to graduation. Honors designations for Summer Candidates therefore will require recalculation.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

For 150 years, Michigan State University has been advancing knowledge and transforming lives. MSU, one of the nation's leading land-grant universities, was founded in 1855 as the first agricultural college with only six faculty members and three buildings to provide youths with an education in farming. Today, MSU continues to strive for excellence in providing a diverse student body with a broad and rich combination of liberal and practical education.

The East Lansing campus looks quite different than it did in 1855. More than 5,200 acres of land encompass more than 400 buildings, and more than 4,000 faculty and staff are engaged in teaching, research and public service. More than 40,000 students —85 percent from Michigan—attend the University's main campus.

Our student body represents every county in the state, every state in the nation, and more than 100 nations from around the globe. Minority students comprise more than 15 percent of the campus population, and our campus includes the largest number of African American students among all Big Ten schools.

Michigan State University's commitment to diversity and multiculturalism in its student body, faculty, staff, curriculum and outreach programs is exemplified through world-wide services in numerous research, extension, and international programs. MSU's Study Abroad program, which offers 180 programs in 57 countries, is the third largest of any single-campus university in the nation.

More than a century after its agricultural beginnings, MSU has a Graduate School and 14 colleges: Agriculture and Natural Resources, Arts and Letters, the Broad College of Business, Communication Arts and Sciences, Education, Engineering, Human Ecology, Human Medicine, James Madison, Natural Science, Nursing, Osteopathic Medicine, Social Science and Veterinary Medicine.

Today, three colleges represent the central academic disciplines which most universities refer to as the liberal arts and sciences: Arts and Letters, Natural Science, and Social Science. These colleges offer outstanding undergraduate and graduate degree programs with majors in traditional disciplines while also providing special programs that enable students to obtain a broad, multidisciplinary education. The College of Education collaborates with the colleges to help prepare students to become teachers in the secondary schools of Michigan as well the nation.

Our residence hall system is designed to complement and enhance the learning experiences of our students.

The Honors College, which attracts fine young scholars nationwide, enables students to waive standard graduation requirements and undertake enriched academic programs. MSU has produced 16 Rhodes Scholars, 11 Marshall Scholarship winners, 14 Churchill Scholarship recipients, one Mitchell Scholar, and one recipient of the Gates Cambridge Scholarship. These scholarships are among the most distinguished and prestigious academic awards a student can receive.

Multimillion dollar, sponsor-funded programs support a wide array of outstanding research activities at MSU. Major facilities include the Plant Research Laboratory, operated with the U.S. Department of Energy as a national plant biology center; and the MSU/W.K. Kellogg Biological Station, home to one of the National Science Foundation's long-term ecological sites. In collaboration with both the National Science Foundation and the U.S. Department of Energy, the National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory at MSU is able to study the nuclei of the heaviest elements.

The public significantly benefits from the University through University Outreach, MSU Extension Service, and the Agricultural Experiment Station which provides technical information and course work for many Michigan citizens. The Kellogg Center, one of the finest hotel and conference centers nationwide, annually hosts some 500,000 adults who come to the campus for approximately 1,400 conferences and other educational meetings.

Service to the international community is equally important. Supported by grants from the federal government and private foundations, MSU sustains educational and research assistance projects internationally. These projects have given many faculty members overseas experience and have added new dimensions to their teaching.

Michigan State University is a member of the Association of American Universities, National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, American Council on Education, American Council of Learned Societies, International Association of Universities, Association of Graduate Schools, Council of Graduate Schools, and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctoral gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round, and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of the bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree (e.g., green and white for MSU; burnt orange and white for the University of Texas; blue and gold for UCLA). If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department of faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. Generally, the code for the velvet of the hood is the same as listed below for tassels.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different departments of study by tassels of the official department color as established by the Intercollegiate Code. Candidates graduating from the Honors College wear a white stole with the initials, HC. Candidates graduating "With Honor" or "With High Honor" wear a gold braid.

A GLIMPSE OF MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY:

HISTORY, FUTURE, AND THE UNIVERSITY MACE

Michigan State University is pleased to include the University mace in commencement ceremonies. The introduction of the mace, earlier this semester at the Founders' Day celebration and inauguration of MSU's twentieth president, serves to commemorate the sesquicentennial celebration. The University, founded in 1855, is celebrating its 150th birthday this year. The mace is designed by University Relations and was produced by Physical Plant staff.

Historically, the mace is a symbol of authority dating from medieval times when knights carried them during processions with their kings. As the tradition grew, the mace became a ceremonial symbol of peaceful leadership, and maces were embellished with jewels and metals. Today, a university's mace is carried before the president or chancellor and platform-party dignitaries during commencement and inaugural and other academic ceremonial processions.

The Michigan State University mace, 42 inches in length, includes important institutional symbols in its finial, crown, and shaft. The finial is the circular University seal, which includes an image of "Old College Hall." This oak-carved seal derives from an 1869 State Board of Agriculture (now, Board of Trustees) authorization for a woodcut to be used as the frontispiece of the college academic catalog. College Hall, built in 1856, was the first instructional building erected in the United States for the teaching of scientific agriculture. When it collapsed in 1918, John Beaumont (class of 1882) provided funds to erect Beaumont Tower in 1928 at the same location. The tower stands as a symbol of Michigan State's beginnings as the first land-grant college dedicated to teaching "agriculture and the mechanic arts" with a "liberal and practical curriculum."

The mace's crown is trimmed with a maple samara and acorn pattern carved from walnut, a pattern drawn from the "Michigan State College" limestone relief at the Abbot Road campus entrance that also adorns markers at other campus entrances. An image of Beaumont Tower lies in the crown's oak center. Below the crown is the cylindrical shaft, whose alternating, horizontal oak and walnut bands descend to a brass tip. Its oak is purported to be "Beaumont oak," from one of the original saplings surrounding College Hall. Its walnut is from a tree removed to clear land for the Wharton Center for Performing Arts of 1982.

In its soaring verticality, Beaumont Tower continues to inspire the MSU community and is an appropriate symbol for the MSU mace. As President Robert S. Shaw (1928-41) stated at the tower's dedication, it has served as "a unifying factor" to remind us, even through our individual activities, of the overall mission of Michigan State University: to inspire us by "appealing to many of the better things in us" and to encourage us to "live up to higher standards, scholastically, socially, morally, and spiritually in all of our affairs."

HONORARY DEGREE

Maya Angelou

You are known as a Renaissance woman for the breadth of your accomplishments in the arts, education, and civil rights.

You are perhaps best known for your poetry and your autobiographies, but you have written other nonfiction, children's books, short stories, plays, films, and musical scores. You are an accomplished dancer, singer, film director, producer, actress, and cook. When President Bill Clinton invited you to participate in his inauguration ceremony, you were only the second poet in U.S. history—Robert Frost was the first—to write and recite original work at a presidential inauguration.

Encouraged to read during a difficult childhood, you developed an appreciation for language and its power. Your writing, with its strong images and vocabulary, captures the texture of life and touches readers deeply, inspiring women, people of color, and others to face prejudice, discrimination, and abuse with courage.

You are a compassionate champion of human rights. Your play, Freedom Cabaret, helped support the civil rights movement; and in the 1960s, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., asked you to be the northern coordinator for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Your personal outreach efforts have helped change the lives of thousands. In recognition of your concern for and contributions to health and family issues confronting minorities, Winston-Salem State University established the Maya Angelou Institute for the Improvement of Child and Family Education and Wake Forest University established the Maya Angelou Research Center on Minority Health.

You are a natural teacher who eagerly shares your enthusiasm for literature, writing, philosophy, French, and Spanish as the first Z. Smith Reynolds Professor of American Studies at Wake Forest University. Your award-winning documentaries teach viewers about African American culture. Your books are taught in classes around the world.

For your commitment to education and the arts and your success in using multiple forms of communication to convey your concerns for equality and tolerance, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE

Harry E. Lester

As director of District Two of the United Steel Workers of America, you have had an important impact on labor relations in Michigan, affecting not only the lives of union members but also the economy of the state.

Rising in the union from shop steward to director of one of the largest districts, you have become known as a tough but fair negotiator, committed to ensuring that workers share in the wealth they create and have dignity and rights on the job. Under your leadership, the union negotiated the workplace safety and health language later recognized by the U.S. Supreme Court as the standard for workers. You were at the forefront of joint labor-management participation programs, negotiating extensive and successful Cooperative Partnership Agreements in steel and other industries. These partnerships helped companies save millions of dollars and gave workers unprecedented input to the operation of their workplaces.

You have long recognized the value of education, believing that workers needed to be as skilled as their management counterparts if they were to negotiate successfully. You volunteered to serve as education chair for the local union and worked with MSU's Labor Education Program to develop courses for union members. You set an example for other union members by enrolling in labor studies courses at Michigan universities throughout your career.

Your leadership in promoting the vitality of Michigan's economy has included an effort that led to creation of the nation's largest employee-owned company, saving thousands of jobs. You have worked with union, management, and government leaders on other creative plans to fend off business failures.

You demonstrated your commitment to your community by organizing the Steelworkers Golf Day that has raised significant funding for kidney disease treatment and research. You also serve on the boards of many civic organizations.

For your service to your coworkers, union members, community, and the state and for your commitment to the education of workers, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE

Gustav Meier

You are an internationally renowned conductor and music educator who has helped make music an important part of life in central Michigan.

As music director of the Greater Lansing Symphony Orchestra for the past twenty-five years, you have developed a professional ensemble of high quality and standards. Your judicious choice of music for the orchestra to perform has helped increase audience attendance. The programs are known for their mix of favorite classical composers, new music by contemporary composers, and works from Broadway shows and films. You have engaged star soloists, who consistently praise your skill as an attentive, sensitive, and skilled accompanist.

Your commitment to education includes connections to the public schools through children's concerts at the Wharton Center, where hundreds of young audience members have been introduced to symphonic music. Your "mentor" concerts allow local students to sit in rehearsals and concerts with the orchestra, giving the students an important early professional experience. You have engaged many MSU students and faculty to play with the orchestra.

Your international career has included conducting at opera houses in Lucerne, Vienna, Zurich, New York City, Santa Fe, and San Francisco. You have had academic appointments at the Yale School of Music, the Eastman School of Music, and the University of Michigan, and you were director of the conducting program at the Peabody Conservatory of Music. Your students have appeared with every major orchestra and opera company, and many of them serve as music directors of major musical institutions. You are in demand for conductors' workshops and have received numerous awards for your teaching ability and your high level of artistic accomplishment.

For your wise and ambitious direction of the Greater Lansing Symphony Orchestra and your commitment to advancing the knowledge of musicians and music lovers alike, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Fine Arts from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE

Elias A. Zerhouni

You are a respected leader in the field of radiology and medicine and an administrator known for your open and interactive style of management.

As director of the National Institutes of Health you have provided leadership during the historic doubling of the NIH budget, directing the process that is awarding a record number of research grants and supporting more young scientists and more clinical trials. You launched the NIH Roadmap for Medical Research, a research vision to accelerate medical discovery. With the broad goal of improving health, the Roadmap focuses the biomedical research community on new paths and encourages new interdisciplinary collaborations with the aim of speeding discovery and application of knowledge to prevent, diagnose, and treat ailments.

One of your primary concerns is the national obesity epidemic. To address it, you developed a strategic plan designed to advance new research and coordinate obesity research across NIH. Your plan links research teams to study behavioral and environmental causes of obesity as well as genetic and biologic causes.

Before joining NIH your expertise in radiology was recognized with your appointment as director of the Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) division and then chair of the radiology department at Johns Hopkins University. You are a member of the National Academy of Sciences' Institute of Medicine and served on the National Cancer Institute's Board of Scientific Advisors. You have also been a consultant to the World Health Organization and to President Ronald Reagan.

Your research in imaging led to advances in Computerized Axial Tomography (CAT scanning) and MRI that resulted in 157 peer reviewed publications and eight patents. A Gold Medal from the American Roentgen Ray Society for CAT research and two Paul Lauterbur Awards for MRI research acknowledge your significant contributions to the field of diagnostic imaging.

For your work to improve the health and well-being of the American people, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Science from Michigan State University.

The University acknowledges candidates for the bachelor's degree who will graduate as Academic Scholars (A), from the Honors College (H), With Honor (*), or With High Honor (). Academic Scholars completed a two-year honors program including at least four honors-caliber courses. Honors College graduates are academically talented students who have participated in rigorous, highly individualized programs of study, including at least eight honors-caliber courses. Graduation Honors. The current minimum grade-point average for seniors graduating With Honor is 3.5 and those graduating With High Honor is 3.8, which is approximately 20 percent of graduating seniors who have earned the highest grade-point averages. Recognition of graduation honors in the commencement program is based on the grade-point average of all work at MSU completed prior to the last semester of graduation. To be eligible for graduation honors, transfer students must earn a minimum of 50 semester credits at MSU.

Processional The MSU Wind Symphony, John L. Whitwell, Conductor

Star-Spangled Banner*Francis Scott Key*

Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars thru the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thru the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?
(The MSU Wind Symphony and Audience, led by Matthew Tuell, MSU School of Music)

Alma Mater M.S.U., We love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M.S.U.
(The MSU Symphony Band, Tuell and Audience)
