Advancing Knowledge.
Transforming Lives.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

For more than 150 years, Michigan State University has been advancing knowledge and transforming lives. MSU, one of the nation's leading land-grant universities, was founded in 1855 as the first agricultural college with only six faculty members and three buildings to provide youths with an education in farming. Today, MSU continues to strive for excellence in providing a diverse student body with a broad and rich combination of liberal and practical education.

The East Lansing campus looks quite different than it did in 1855. More than 5,200 acres of land encompass more than 650 buildings, and more than 4,000 faculty and staff are engaged in teaching, research and public service. More than 40,000 students—85 percent from Michigan—attend the University's main campus. Our student body represents every county in the state, every state in the nation, and more than 100 nations from around the globe.

Michigan State University's commitment to inclusiveness in its student body, faculty, staff, curriculum and outreach and engagement programs is exemplified through global services in numerous research, extension, and international programs. MSU's Study Abroad program, which offers more than 200 programs in more than 60 countries, is consistently ranked among the three largest undergraduate study abroad programs in the nation.

More than a century after its agricultural beginnings, MSU has a Graduate School and 16 colleges: Agriculture and Natural Resources, Residential College in the Arts and Humanities, Arts and Letters, Broad College of Business, Communication Arts and Sciences, Education, Engineering, Human Medicine, James Madison College, Law, Music, Natural Science, Nursing, Osteopathic Medicine, Social Science and Veterinary Medicine.

Today, three colleges represent the central academic disciplines which most universities refer to as the liberal arts and sciences: Arts and Letters, Natural Science, and Social Science. These colleges offer outstanding undergraduate and graduate degree programs with majors in traditional disciplines while also providing special programs that enable students to obtain a broad, multidisciplinary education. The College of Education collaborates with the colleges to help prepare students to become teachers in the secondary schools of Michigan and the nation.

Our residence hall system is designed to complement and enhance the learning experiences of our students.

The Honors College, which attracts fine young scholars nationwide, enables students to waive standard graduation requirements and undertake enriched academic programs. MSU has produced 16 Rhodes Scholars, 12 Marshall Scholarship winners, 15 Churchill Scholarship recipients, one Mitchell Scholar, and two recipients of the Gates Cambridge Scholarship. These scholarships are among the most distinguished and prestigious academic awards a student can receive.

Multimillion dollar, sponsor-funded programs support a wide array of outstanding research activities at MSU. Major facilities include the Plant Research Laboratory, operated with the U.S. Department of Energy as a national plant biology center; and the MSU/W.K. Kellogg Biological Station, home to one of the National Science Foundation's long-term ecological sites. In collaboration with both the National Science Foundation and the U.S. Department of Energy, the National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory at MSU is able to study the nuclei of the heaviest elements.

The public significantly benefits from the University through University Outreach and Engagement, MSU Extension, and the Agricultural Experiment Station which provide technical information and course work for many Michigan citizens. The Kellogg Center, one of the finest hotel and conference centers nationwide, annually hosts some 500,000 adults who come to the campus for approximately 1,400 conferences and other educational meetings.

Service to the international community is equally important. Supported by grants from the federal government and private foundations, MSU sustains educational and research assistance projects internationally. These projects have given many faculty members overseas experience and have added new dimensions to their teaching.

Michigan State University is a member of the Association of American Universities, National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, American Council on Education, American Council of Learned Societies, International Association of Universities, Association of Graduate Schools, Council of Graduate Schools, and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctoral gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round, and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of the bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree (e.g., green and white for MSU; burnt orange and white for the University of Texas; blue and gold for UCLA). If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department of faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. Generally, the code for the velvet of the hood is the same as listed below for tassels.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different departments of study by tassels of the official department color as established by the Intercollegiate Code. Candidates graduating from the Honors College wear a white stole with the initials, HC. Candidates graduating "With Honor" or "With High Honor" wear a gold braid.

UNIVERSITY MACE

A GLIMPSE OF MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University is pleased to include the University mace in commencement ceremonies. The introduction of the mace, at the 2005 Founders' Day celebration and inauguration of MSU's twentieth president, serves to commemorate the sesquicentennial celebration. The University, founded in 1855, celebrated its 150th birthday in 2005. The mace is designed by University Relations and was produced by Physical Plant staff.

Historically, the mace is a symbol of authority dating from medieval times when knights carried them during processions with their kings. As the tradition grew, the mace became a ceremonial symbol of peaceful leadership, and maces were embellished with jewels and metals. Today, a university's mace is carried before the president or chancellor and platform-party dignitaries during commencement and inaugural and other academic ceremonial processions.

The Michigan State University mace, 42 inches in length, includes important institutional symbols in its finial, crown, and shaft. The finial is the circular University seal, which includes an image of "Old College Hall." This oak-carved seal derives from an 1869 State Board of Agriculture (now, Board of Trustees) authorization for a woodcut to be used as the frontispiece of the college academic catalog. College Hall, built in 1856, was the first instructional building erected in the United States for the teaching of scientific agriculture. When it collapsed in 1918, John Beaumont (class of 1882) provided funds to erect Beaumont Tower in 1928 at the same location. The tower stands as a symbol of Michigan State's beginnings as the first land-grant college dedicated to teaching "agriculture and the mechanic arts" with a "liberal and practical curriculum."

The mace's crown is trimmed with a maple samara and acorn pattern carved from walnut, a pattern drawn from the "Michigan State College" limestone relief at the Abbot Road campus entrance that also adorns markers at other campus entrances. An image of Beaumont Tower lies in the crown's oak center. Below the crown is the cylindrical shaft, whose alternating, horizontal oak and walnut bands descend to a brass tip. Its oak is purported to be "Beaumont oak," from one of the original saplings surrounding College Hall. Its walnut is from a tree removed to clear land for the Wharton Center for Performing Arts of 1982.

In its soaring verticality, Beaumont Tower continues to inspire the MSU community and is an appropriate symbol for the MSU mace. As President Robert S. Shaw (1928–41) stated at the tower's dedication, it has served as "a unifying factor" to remind us, even through our individual activities, of the overall mission of Michigan State University: to inspire us by "appealing to many of the better things in us" and to encourage us to "live up to higher standards, scholastically, socially, morally, and spiritually in all of our affairs."

HONORARY DEGREES

Adnan Badran

You are a scientist and an educator who has applied your skills to make the world, and especially your home country of Jordan, a better place.

After earning advanced degrees at Michigan State University, you worked as a plant physiologist and biochemist to develop an environmental technique to suppress the ripening process in bananas during shipping, advancing the worldwide distribution of fresh bananas.

You returned to Jordan where you were soon recognized for your vision, your ability to inspire others to high levels of achievement, and your own tireless efforts to elevate the education system. Your career as an educator began on the Faculty of Science at the University of Jordan where you later were dean. You went on to become founding president of the Science and Engineering Campus of Jordan University at Yarmouk and then president of Yarmouk University. After you were named president of Philadelphia University in Jordan it quickly became one of the country's top universities with an enrollment that almost tripled within three years. Under your leadership, Philadelphia University became a center for excellence in education, community service, and cultural activities. You also established a Virtual University for Distant Learning, funded by UNESCO.

Because of your educational leadership you were named minister of education in Jordan, having already served as secretary-general of the Higher Council for Science and Technology and minister of agriculture. King Abdullah II appointed you prime minister in 2005.

Your influence spread throughout the world when you were named assistant director-general for science and then deputy director-general at UNESCO. In that position you were responsible for education, science, culture, and communication with a staff of more than 2000 in 60 field offices around the world.

For your unmatched accomplishments as a scientist, educator, public servant, and administrator, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Science from Michigan State University.

Jaime A. Escalante

You are known as a gifted educator who inspired generations of high school students to achieve at the highest levels.

The son of teachers in a small town in Bolivia, you taught math and physics in your native country for twelve years, developing a reputation for excellence there. You immigrated to the United States where, after earning a degree in mathematics and your teaching credentials, you were hired to teach basic math at an inner-city school in East Los Angeles. The remarkable success of your Garfield High School students became the subject of a book and an acclaimed film. The movie Stand and Deliver accurately depicted how, despite the daily presence of drugs, gangs, and violence at the school, you were able to motivate a group of students to take and pass the advanced placement calculus exam. By the time you left Garfield High School, the number of students taking AP exams in math and other subjects had increased to 570 and the school ranked seventh nationally in calculus.

During the 1990s you taught algebra and calculus in the Sacramento Unified School District. You also became host of the award-winning PBS television series, "Futures," which introduces students to math and science careers.

Among your many awards are the Presidential Medal for Excellence in Education and the Andres Bello award from the Organization of American States. You were inducted into the National Teachers Hall of Fame in 1999.

Your challenging and inspiring teaching methods encouraged students to push themselves to achieve more than they—and almost everyone else—considered possible. Your caring and drive demonstrate how one teacher can make a significant difference in many lives. Many of your students have gone on to earn advanced degrees and excel at high level careers.

For your dedication to teaching and learning and your belief in the capabilities of all students, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREES

Julie L. Gerberding

You are a physician respected internationally for your leadership during public health crises. You were the first woman to be named director of the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), and have been called one of the most powerful people in the world.

Your interest in public health began with your residency at San Francisco General Hospital, where you treated people suffering with what became known as AIDS. Working in that emerging epidemic showed you the effect a disease can have on a population.

During your residency you also held a National Institutes of Health fellowship in clinical pharmacology and infectious diseases. That experience honed your scientific thinking and showed how it could apply to public health problems.

Before joining the CDC, you directed the Prevention Epicenter at the University of California at San Francisco. In your first position at CDC you developed programs to prevent infections, antimicrobial resistance, and medical errors in health care facilities. As acting deputy director of the National Center for Infectious Diseases, you were acclaimed for leading the CDC's response to the anthrax bioterrorism events in 2001. Named director in 2002, you are leading the CDC to become the nation's health-protection agency, prepared to manage health threats ranging from bioterrorism to influenza to environmental hazards. The Emergency Response Center you pioneered provided a high-tech virtual lab in which researchers from around the world collaborated to identify the agent responsible for the SARS outbreak in record time. That kind of collaboration is typical of your approach to crises.

You are also an educator, contributing to the training of new generations of physicians, applying your expertise to guidelines and policies on preventing infections, and providing safety and health tips to the general public.

For your commitment to the health of the public in the United States and around the world, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree, Doctor of Science, from Michigan State University.

Kate Pew Wolters

You are known for your leadership on social issues and your commitment to improving the lives of others.

You demonstrated your concern for the wellbeing of others by earning a master's degree in social work from Michigan State University and taking a position as staff social worker in the Steelcase Inc. Counseling and Referral Center. You also served as director of the Grand Rapids Center for Independent Living and then became executive director of the Steelcase Foundation, which makes grants to nonprofit organizations, projects, and programs in the areas of human service, health, education, community development, the arts, and the environment. You are currently chair of the foundation, overseeing a charitable organization with assets exceeding $110 million.

You serve on boards of numerous other community organizations, including the MSU Foundation, Grand Valley State University, the Grand Rapids Art Museum Foundation, and Michigan Protection and Advocacy Service. You are also a board member of the Mary and Robert Pew Public Education Foundation established by your parents to support public education in Florida. You and your late husband established the Kate and Richard Wolters Foundation to expand your humanitarian service.

In 1994 President Bill Clinton appointed you to the National Council on Disability where you served for nine years, eight of them as vice chair. In that position you testified before a Congressional committee regarding programs and policies that affect people with disabilities.

In both your humanitarian work and your business activities, you use your skills and education to make a difference. You are known for your insight on the strategic and tactical issues involved in advancing initiatives.

For your business acumen and your commitment to improving the lives of people with disabilities, the disadvantaged, the elderly, and the young, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

America the Beautiful

O beautiful for spacious skies	America! America!
For amber waves of grain,	God shed his grace on thee
For purple mountain majesties	And crown thy good with brotherhood
Above the fruited plain!	From sea to shining sea!

Star-Spangled Banner

*Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
O, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!*

Alma Mater

M.S.U., We love thy shadows	Beneath the pines we'll gather
When twilight silence falls,	To give our faith so true,
Flushing deep and softly paling	Sing our love for Alma Mater
O'er ivy-covered halls.	And thy praises, M.S.U.

The lyrics of the Alma Mater were written by Bernard Traynor (MSC Athletic Department, 1925-1927). The melody is based on Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. It was not until March 30, 1949, after a vote by the students, that the popular song on campus known as the MSC Shadows was finally adopted as the official Alma Mater. Today, the Alma Mater is known as the MSU Shadows.

The University acknowledges candidates for the bachelor's degree who will graduate as Academic Scholars (A), from the Honors College (H), With Honor (*), or With High Honor (). Academic Scholars completed a two-year honors program including at least four honors-caliber courses. Honors College graduates are academically talented students who have participated in rigorous, highly individualized programs of study, including at least eight honors-caliber courses. Graduation Honors. The current minimum grade-point average for seniors graduating With Honor is 3.5 and those graduating With High Honor is 3.8, which is approximately 20 percent of graduating seniors who have earned the highest grade-point averages. Recognition of graduation honors in the commencement program is based on the grade-point average of all work at MSU completed prior to the opening of the semester of graduation. To be eligible for graduation honors, transfer students must earn a minimum of 50 semester credits at MSU.

ADVANCED DEGREES

Star-Spangled Banner

*Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
O, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!*

Alma Mater

M.S.U., We love thy shadows	Beneath the pines we'll gather
When twilight silence falls,	To give our faith so true,
Flushing deep and softly paling	Sing our love for Alma Mater
O'er ivy-covered halls.	And thy praises, M.S.U.

The lyrics of the Alma Mater were written by Bernard Traynor (MSC Athletic Department, 1925-1927). The melody is based on Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. It was not until March 30, 1949, after a vote by the students, that the popular song on campus known as the MSC Shadows was finally adopted as the official Alma Mater. Today, the Alma Mater is known as the MSU Shadows.
