MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Advancing Knowledge.
 Transforming Lives.

CONGRATULATORY LETTERS

May 2009

Dear Graduates and Families:

Graduation is an important milestone for our graduates and their families. At commencement ceremonies we celebrate our graduates and their accomplishments at MSU, and we acknowledge the encouragement and support that family and other significant individuals have provided them. Reaching this milestone marks the completion of a degree program and the beginning of the next chapter in each student's life.

Graduates become a part of a tradition that spans more than 150 years. As a person with a long-standing connection to Michigan State—for more than three decades—I have had many opportunities to interact with alumni, students, faculty, and staff who, on a daily basis, are Advancing Knowledge and Transforming Lives. Although much has changed along the banks of the Red Cedar River since I first enrolled in 1970, the core values of the University remain—quality, inclusiveness, and connectivity.

MSU continues to lead as a “community-engaged university.” Our faculty and students are involved in outreach and forge partnerships to serve the public good.

Our faculty and students are globally engaged. MSU is a long-time leader in research, study abroad and international student enrollment. Study abroad has offered many of you the opportunity to bridge cultures and accomplish mutual understanding and cooperation. We hope, as alumni, that you will continue to bring your Spartan spirit wherever you travel.

Nearly a half-century ago, our legendary President John A. Hannah confirmed the bond that is forged with our graduates. He said:

Until the moment degrees are conferred and diplomas presented, a university and its students are in a temporary relationship. Either can disclaim the other at any time before that final moment. But when commencement is concluded, Michigan State University places its stamp of approval upon you. You become part of this University . . . forever.

Our graduates go forth as caring global citizens, and although we bid you farewell and wish you a very bright future, we invite you to come home often.

Sincerely,

Lou Anna Kimsey Simon, Ph.D.
President

May 2009

Dear Graduates and Families:

Congratulations to our graduates and your families! As President Simon encourages you to come home often, so do I!

More than three decades ago, I earned a bachelor's degree at Michigan State University, and although I earned advanced degrees at other institutions, that first college degree has served me well.

It gives me great pleasure to be here at a time when Michigan State University continues to create new opportunities at home, in the state of Michigan, and around the world. With our students and our faculty, we are achieving new levels of excellence. Our students are enthusiastic in taking advantage of the opportunity to study and to expand their views, and to grow as individuals and global citizens.

As a student of Michigan State University you are a member of a vibrant community united by the common interest we share as scholars. I hope that, even after earning your degree, you will always remain members of this community—that is, be hungry to learn, to seek new knowledge, and to share and apply that knowledge for the betterment of others.

As you and your families celebrate your accomplishments at Michigan State University, we join you in that celebration and wish you the best in all of your personal and professional pursuits and in your future endeavors as Spartans. May the relationships you forged here with your professors and other students continue to inspire you.

Sincerely,

Kim A. Wilcox, Ph.D.
Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, founded in 1855, is a leader in realizing the ideal of democratizing education and knowledge. Officially named the Agricultural College of the State of Michigan, it became the model for all land-grant institutions established by the Morrill Act, passed by Congress in 1862. The research and knowledge developed at land-grant institutions provides practical solutions that make a difference in the lives of individuals and in communities. Now, as a major public research university with global reach, Michigan State University continues this tradition with its commitment to advancing knowledge and transforming lives across the State, the region, and around the world.

From its beginnings on the site where Beaumont Tower now stands, the East Lansing campus has grown from 677 to 5,200 acres, and from three to 577 buildings. Today, throughout Michigan, 15,000 acres are used for agricultural, animal, and forestry research.

MSU has more than 46,000 students from all 83 counties in Michigan, all 50 states in the United States, and about 130 other countries. More than 460,000 Spartan alumni live around the globe.

Since its agricultural beginnings, MSU has grown to 17 degree-granting colleges offering more than 200 programs of study, and is the only university in the country with three on-campus medical schools. According to Newsweek/MSNBC, MSU ranks as one of the Top 100 Global Universities.

The Honors College attracts academically talented scholars and enables these students to pursue individualized, enriched programs of study. MSU has produced more Rhodes Scholars in the past 25 years than any other Big Ten school.

Sponsored research totals nearly $400 million a year. The top federal funding agencies include, the National Science Foundation, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Other externally funded research programs include the MSU–U.S. Department of Energy Plant Research Laboratory, Center for Advancing Microbial Risk Assessment, Great Lakes Bioenergy Research Center, Energy and Automotive Research Laboratories, Composite Vehicle Research Center, U.S.–China Center for Research on Educational Excellence, Center for Advanced Study of International Development, and the Center for International Business Education and Research.

The National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory is the premier rare isotope research facility in the nation. In December 2008, the U.S. Department of Energy selected MSU to design and establish the Facility for Rare Isotope Beams (F-RIB). The proposed $550 million facility will bring together an international community of top scientists. Their work will help unlock the mysteries of nature and the universe and promote breakthrough applications for medicine, national security, and the environment.

MSU Extension reaches into all 83 counties in Michigan to provide practical, university-based knowledge. The Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station (MAES) encompasses the research of more than 300 scientists in six colleges and at a network of 14 field research stations in the State. Their work ranges from the development of forest products to food safety, new varieties of fruits and vegetables, water quality, livestock production, rural and community development, and the quality of life of Michigan youth and families.

University Outreach and Engagement connects faculty with external audiences and constituencies to address community issues through research and collaboration. MSU Global extends academic and professional degree and certificate programs to off-campus learners.

MSU is a national leader in study abroad among U.S. public universities with more than 245 programs on all continents in 62 countries. Nearly 3,000 students study abroad each year.

MSU–Dubai, a new instructional site, offers undergraduate and graduate degree programs and the MSU Dubai Academy provides a venue for students who aspire to meet the admissions requirements of top universities in the world.

Michigan State University is a member of the Association of American Universities, Association of Public and Land-grant Universities, American Council on Education, American Council of Learned Societies, International Association of Universities, Association of Graduate Schools, Council of Graduate Schools, and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctoral gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round, and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of the bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree (e.g., green and white for MSU; burnt orange and white for the University of Texas; blue and gold for UCLA). If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department of faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. Generally, the code for the velvet of the hood is the same as listed below for tassels.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different areas of study by tassels of the official color as established by the Intercollegiate Code. Candidates graduating from the Honors College wear a white stole with the initials, HC. Candidates graduating "With Honor" or "With High Honor" wear a gold braid.

UNIVERSITY MACE

A GLIMPSE OF MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University is pleased to include the University mace in commencement ceremonies. The introduction of the mace, at the 2005 Founders' Day celebration and inauguration of MSU's twentieth president, serves to commemorate the sesquicentennial celebration. The University, founded in 1855, celebrated its 150th birthday in 2005. The mace is designed by University Relations and was produced by Physical Plant staff.

Historically, the mace is a symbol of authority dating from medieval times when knights carried them during processions with their kings. As the tradition grew, the mace became a ceremonial symbol of peaceful leadership, and maces were embellished with jewels and metals. Today, a university's mace is carried before the president or chancellor and platform-party dignitaries during commencement and inaugural and other academic ceremonial processions.

The Michigan State University mace, 42 inches in length, includes important institutional symbols in its finial, crown, and shaft. The finial is the circular University seal, which includes an image of "Old College Hall." This oak-carved seal derives from an 1869 State Board of Agriculture (now, Board of Trustees) authorization for a woodcut to be used as the frontispiece of the college academic catalog. College Hall, built in 1856, was the first instructional building erected in the United States for the teaching of scientific agriculture. When it collapsed in 1918, John Beaumont (class of 1882) provided funds to erect Beaumont Tower in 1928 at the same location. The tower stands as a symbol of Michigan State's beginnings as the first land-grant college dedicated to teaching "agriculture and the mechanic arts" with a "liberal and practical curriculum."

The mace's crown is trimmed with a maple samara and acorn pattern carved from walnut, a pattern drawn from the "Michigan State College" limestone relief at the Abbot Road campus entrance that also adorns markers at other campus entrances. An image of Beaumont Tower lies in the crown's oak center. Below the crown is the cylindrical shaft, whose alternating, horizontal oak and walnut bands descend to a brass tip. Its oak is purported to be "Beaumont oak," from one of the original saplings surrounding College Hall. Its walnut is from a tree removed to clear land for the Wharton Center for Performing Arts of 1982.

In its soaring verticality, Beaumont Tower continues to inspire the MSU community and is an appropriate symbol for the MSU mace. As President Robert S. Shaw (1928-41) stated at the tower's dedication, it has served as "a unifying factor" to remind us, even through our individual activities, of the overall mission of Michigan State University: to inspire us by "appealing to many of the better things in us" and to encourage us to "live up to higher standards, scholastically, socially, morally, and spiritually in all of our affairs."

HONORARY DEGREES

Wallace B. Jefferson

You are the highly respected chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court, known for your commitment to an efficient, effective judiciary, accessible to all citizens.

You were the first African American judge to serve on the Texas Supreme Court, appointed by the governor in 2001; the next year you were elected to the court. In 2004, the governor appointed you chief justice, and you have since been elected twice to that position.

As chief justice you have presided over rulings that protected civil rights and the rule of law. When use of DNA evidence began leading to overturned convictions, you called for a statewide commission on statutory reforms to enhance equity of criminal justice law. To support your belief that court cases should be transparent to the public, you made electronic versions of briefs and opinions and audio and video versions of oral arguments available on the court's Web site.

You are known for weighing issues by constitutional precedent rather than prevailing ideology, personal beliefs, or majority opinions. You have used your own family history—you are the great, great, great grandson of a slave owned by a Texas judge—to demonstrate the power of the rule of law. You have cited the example of that judge, who followed the law and supported the civil rights of freed slaves despite his previous practices, to exemplify your commitment to relying on the law over personal views.

After graduating from MSU's James Madison College, you earned your law degree at the University of Texas Law School, studying with renowned constitutional scholar Charles Alan Wright. You went into appellate law, forming your own firm that became a leading practice in the state. Early in your career, you argued—and won—two cases before the U.S. Supreme Court.

You have served your community as director of the San Antonio Public Library Foundation and of Alamo Area Big Brothers/Big Sisters. You were recognized as a pillar of a local school district, which named a new middle school in your honor.

For your personal integrity, your commitment to equality of justice for all, and your service to your community, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Laws from Michigan State University.

Dan Rather

You are one of the most recognized journalists of the past fifty years, known for your curiosity about the world and your passion for reporting the events that shape it.

As a regional CBS journalist in Dallas, Texas, in November 1963, you were the first to report President John F. Kennedy's death. The extensive coverage of that event helped make TV news the country's dominant information source. Your professionalism and important contributions to that coverage helped launch your national and international career.

You have reported all U.S. presidential campaigns since 1960 and served as White House correspondent for CBS News during the Johnson and Nixon administrations. You covered the civil rights movement, Watergate, and the World Trade Center attacks, among other notable events in this country.

You have traveled the globe to cover news in areas like Iraq, Afghanistan, Vietnam, Tiananmen Square, the Middle East, Bosnia, and Haiti, serving as CBS bureau chief in London and Saigon. You routinely take on challenging assignments. You reported the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan from positions near the front lines and later learned that those reports contributed to the U.S. decision to support the mujahideen, which led to the Soviet decision to leave Afghanistan. You have interviewed such notable newsmakers as Saddam Hussein, Yasser Arafat, and Hosni Mubarak. You were the journalist who broke news of the abusive treatment of prisoners at Iraq's Abu Ghraib prison.

You anchored the CBS Evening News for 24 years, the longest such tenure for a network news program. As a news anchor you handled marathon coverage of dramatic events like the 1986 explosion of the space shuttle Challenger, the controversial 2000 presidential election, and the 9/11 terror attacks in New York and Washington with dignity and sensitivity. As a correspondent for 48 Hours and 60 Minutes you pursued news stories with tenacity and determination. Your exemplary reporting has earned you many Emmy Awards and a Peabody Award. You continue to provide investigative reports and newsmaker interviews on your weekly news program on HDNet.

For your dedication to reporting the news of the world with energy, perseverance, and hard work, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREES

Desmond Tutu

You are the recipient of the 1984 Nobel Peace Prize, awarded for your work to forge racial equality in South Africa. You are considered the moral conscience of your country, known for your commitment to nonviolence and justice.

You were a high school teacher in 1957 when the South African government decreed an inferior education system for the black population. In protest, you resigned and began studying for the priesthood as a way to improve the lives of your disenfranchised compatriots.

You were ordained in the Anglican Church in 1960. After further theological study in London, you returned to South Africa to lead a largely white parish while speaking out about the plight of black Africans. You were the first black to hold major church offices in South Africa: dean of St. Mary's Cathedral in Johannesburg, then Bishop of Lesotho, and General Secretary of the South African Council of Churches. As leader of an organization representing 75 percent of South Africans—both black and white—you advocated peace and reconciliation while demanding equal civil rights for all and organizing peaceful protests against apartheid. The Nobel Peace Prize recognized your work as a trailblazer in the struggle for human rights.

You were the first black African to be elected Archbishop of Cape Town, the head of the Anglican Church in South Africa. After national and international pressures for government reforms led to the country's first multi-racial elections in 1994, President Nelson Mandela appointed you chair of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission to investigate the human rights violations under apartheid. You counseled forgiveness and cooperation rather than revenge. You described South Africa as the Rainbow Nation to symbolize unity and peace in the country's ethnically diverse population.

As Archbishop Emeritus, you have continued to champion democracy, freedom, and human rights throughout the world. You are co-founder of the Desmond Tutu Education Trust, established to support advanced education programs and historically disadvantaged institutions. Your commitment to peace and freedom for all was recognized with the Albert Schweitzer Prize for Humanitarianism and the Gandhi Peace Prize in 2005.

For your courage in denouncing human rights abuses and apartheid in South Africa, your compassion for the disadvantaged, and your commitment to a just and humane life for all, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree Doctor of Humane Letters from Michigan State University.

MSU Fight Song

*On the banks of the Red Cedar
Is a school that's known to all;
Its speciality is winning,
And those Spartans play good ball;
Spartan teams are never beaten,
All through the games they fight;
Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.*

*Go right thru' for MSU,
Watch the points keep growing.
Spartan teams are bound to win,
They're fighting with a vim.
RAH! RAH! RAH!
See their team is weakening,
We're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team, Fight!
Victory for MSU.*

Lyrics by Francis Irvin Lankey, (MSU Engineering, 1916).

Star-Spangled Banner

*Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
O, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!*

Alma Mater

*M.S.U., We love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy-covered halls.*

*Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M.S.U.*

The lyrics of the Alma Mater were written by Bernard Traynor (MSC Athletic Department, 1925-1927). The melody is based on Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. It was not until March 30, 1949, after a vote by the students, that the popular song on campus known as the MSC Shadows was finally adopted as the official Alma Mater. Today, the Alma Mater is known as the MSU Shadows.

The current minimum grade-point average for seniors graduating With Honor is 3.60 and those graduating With High Honor is 3.84, which is approximately 20 percent of graduating seniors who have earned the highest grade-point averages. Recognition of graduation honors in the commencement program is based on the grade-point average of all work at MSU completed prior to the opening of the semester of graduation. To be eligible for graduation honors, transfer students must earn a minimum of 50 semester credits at MSU.

ADVANCED DEGREES

Star-Spangled Banner

*Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
O, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!*

Alma Mater

M.S.U., We love thy shadows	Beneath the pines we'll gather
When twilight silence falls,	To give our faith so true,
Flushing deep and softly paling	Sing our love for Alma Mater
O'er ivy-covered halls.	And thy praises, M.S.U.

The lyrics of the Alma Mater were written by Bernard Traynor (MSC Athletic Department, 1925-1927). The melody is based on Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. It was not until March 30, 1949, after a vote by the students, that the popular song on campus known as the MSC Shadows was finally adopted as the official Alma Mater. Today, the Alma Mater is known as the MSU Shadows.
