CONGRATULATORY LETTER

DEAR GRADUATES AND FAMILIES:

Graduation is an important milestone. At commencement ceremonies, we celebrate our graduates and their accomplishments at Michigan State University, and we acknowledge the encouragement and support that family and other significant individuals have provided them. Reaching this milestone marks the completion of a degree program and the beginning of the next chapter in each student's life.

Graduates become part of a tradition that spans more than 150 years. As a person with a long-standing connection to Michigan State, I have had many opportunities to interact with alumni, students, faculty, and staff who, on a daily basis, are advancing knowledge and transforming lives. Although much has changed along the banks of the Red Cedar River since I first enrolled in 1970, the core values of the University remain—quality, inclusiveness, and connectivity.

MSU leads as a "community-engaged university." Our faculty and students are involved in outreach and forge partnerships to serve the public good. Through research, education, and practice, we make the world and our campus better places. To be a Spartan is to be a part of something big. There are more than 500,000 Spartans at work on every continent, rising to practically every challenge imaginable. Every day, we make the world more sustainable, healthy, safe, and beautiful, proving again and again that "Spartans Will."

Our graduates go forth as caring global citizens, and although we bid you farewell I ask you to recall what our legendary President John A. Hannah confirmed. A special bond is forged with our graduates.

Until the moment degrees are conferred and diplomas presented, a university and its students are in a temporary relationship. Either can disclaim the other at any time before that final moment. But when commencement is concluded, Michigan State University places its stamp of approval upon you. You become part of this University ...forever.

Forever starts now. May you have a very bright future and come home often.

Sincerely,

Lou Anna Kimsey Simon Ph.D.
President

From the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs December 2012

CONGRATULATORY LETTER

DEAR GRADUATES AND FAMILIES:

Congratulations to our graduates and your families! As President Simon encourages you to come home often, so do I!

As you may or may not know, I earned a bachelor's degree at Michigan State University, and although I earned advanced degrees at other institutions, that first college degree has served me well.

It gives me great pleasure to be here at a time when Michigan State University continues to create new opportunities at home, in the state of Michigan, and around the world. With our students and faculty, we are achieving new levels of excellence even as we face many new challenges. Our students are enthusiastic in taking advantage of the opportunities to study and to expand their views, and to grow as individuals and global citizens.

As a student of Michigan State University you are a member of a vibrant community united by the common interest we share as scholars. I hope that even after earning your degree, you will always remain members of this community—that is, be hungry to learn, to seek new knowledge, and to share and apply that knowledge for the betterment of others and to contribute to a more sustainable planet for the generations of Spartans who follow you.

As you and your families celebrate your accomplishments at Michigan State University, we join you in that celebration and wish you the best in all of your personal and professional pursuits and in your future endeavors as Spartans. May the relationships you forged here with your professors and other students continue to inspire you.

Sincerely,

Kim A. Wilcox Ph.D.
Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, founded in 1855, is a leader in realizing the ideal of democratizing education and knowledge. Officially named the Agricultural College of the State of Michigan, it became the model for all land-grant institutions established by the Morrill Act, passed by Congress in 1862. The research and knowledge developed at land-grant institutions provides practical solutions that make a difference in the lives of individuals and in communities. Now, as a major public research university with global reach, Michigan State University continues this tradition with its commitment to advancing knowledge and transforming lives across the state, the region, and around the world.

From its beginnings on the site where Beaumont Tower now stands, the East Lansing campus has grown from 677 to 5,200 acres, and from three to 561 buildings. Today, 17,500 acres are used throughout Michigan for agricultural, animal, and forestry research.

MSU has more than 47,000 students from all 83 counties in Michigan, all 50 states, and 130 other countries. More than one-half million Spartan alumni live around the globe.

Since its agricultural beginnings, MSU has grown to 17 degree-granting colleges offering more than 200 programs of study, including graduate and graduate professional education.

The Honors College attracts academically talented scholars and enables these students to pursue individualized, enriched programs of study. MSU has produced more Rhodes Scholars in the past 25 years than any other Big Ten school.

Research and other grants total nearly $500 million a year. The top federal funding agencies include the National Science Foundation, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Other externally funded research programs include the MSU—U.S. Department of Energy Plant Research Laboratory, the Center for Advancing Microbial Risk Assessment, the Great Lakes Bioenergy Research Center, the Energy and Automotive Research Laboratories, the Composite Vehicle Research Center, the U.S.—China Center for Research on Educational Excellence, the Center for Advanced Study of International Development, and the Center for International Business Education and Research.

The National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory is the premier rare isotope research facility in the nation. In December 2008, the U.S. Department of Energy selected MSU to design and establish the Facility for Rare Isotope Beams (FRIB). The proposed $680 million facility will bring together an international community of leading scientists. Their work will help unlock the mysteries of the universe and promote breakthrough applications for medicine, national security, and the environment.

MSU Extension reaches into all 83 counties in Michigan to provide practical, university-based knowledge. The AgBioResearch (formerly Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station) encompasses the research of nearly 400 scientists in six colleges and a network of 14 field research stations in the state. Their work ranges from agricultural production, alternative energy and biofuel production, food safety and environmental stewardship to childhood obesity, community development, and the quality of life of Michigan youth and families.

University Outreach and Engagement connects faculty with external audiences and constituencies to address community issues through research and collaboration. MSU Global extends academic and professional degree and certificate programs to off-campus learners.

MSU is a national leader in study abroad among U.S. public universities with more than 270 programs on all continents in more than 60 countries. Nearly 3,000 MSU students participate in study abroad each year.

Michigan State University is a member of the Association of American Universities, the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities, the American Council on Education, the American Council of Learned Societies, the International Association of Universities, the Association of Graduate Schools, the Council of Graduate Schools, and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

CEREMONY LYRICS

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see,
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming.
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
that our flag was still there.
Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

O beautiful for spacious skies
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

ALMA MATER*

M.S.U., We love thy shadows,
when twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling,
o'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather,
to give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater,
and thy praises, M.S.U.

MSU FIGHT SONG

On the banks of the Red Cedar,
is a school that's known to all;
Its speciality is winning,
and those Spartans play good ball;
Spartan teams are never beaten,
all through the games they fight;
Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.
Go right thru' for MSU,
watch the points keep growing.
Spartan teams are bound to win,
they're fighting with a vim.
RAH! RAH! RAH!
See their team is weakening,
we're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team, Fight!
Victory for MSU.

*The lyrics of Alma Mater were written by Bernard Traynor (MSC Athletic Department, 1925–1927). The melody is based on Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. It was not until March 30, 1949, after a vote by the students, that the popular song on campus known as the MSU Shadows was finally adopted as the official Alma Mater.

Lyrics by Francis Irvin Lankey (MSU Engineering, 1916).

UNIVERSITY MACE

Michigan State University is pleased to include the University mace in commencement ceremonies. The introduction of the mace, at the 2005 Founders' Day celebration and inauguration of MSU's twentieth president, serves to commemorate the sesquicentennial celebration. The University, founded in 1855, celebrated its 150th birthday in 2005. The mace was designed by University Relations and produced by Physical Plant staff.

Historically, the mace is a symbol of authority dating from medieval times when knights carried them during processions with their kings. As the tradition grew, the mace became a ceremonial symbol of peaceful leadership, and maces were embellished with jewels and metals. Today, a university's mace is carried before the president or chancellor and platform-party dignitaries at commencement, inaugural, and other academic ceremonial processions.

The Michigan State University mace, 42 inches in length, includes important institutional symbols in its finial, crown, and shaft. The finial depicts the circular University seal, which includes an image of "Old College Hall." This oak-carved seal derives from an 1869 State Board of Agriculture (now, Board of Trustees) authorization for a woodcut to be used as the frontispiece of the college academic catalog. College Hall, built in 1856, was the first instructional building erected in the United States for the teaching of scientific agriculture. When it collapsed in 1918, John Beaumont (class of 1882) provided funds to erect Beaumont Tower in 1928 at the same location. The tower stands as a symbol of Michigan State's beginnings as the first land-grant college dedicated to teaching "agriculture and the mechanic arts" with a "liberal and practical curriculum."

The mace's crown is trimmed with a maple samara and acorn pattern carved from walnut, a pattern drawn from the "Michigan State College" limestone relief at the Abbot Road and other campus entrances. An image of Beaumont Tower lies in the crown's oak center. Below the crown is the cylindrical shaft, whose alternating, horizontal oak and walnut bands descend to a brass tip. Its oak is purported to be "Beaumont oak," that is, from one of the original saplings surrounding College Hall. Its walnut is from a tree removed to clear land for the Wharton Center for Performing Arts in 1982.

In its soaring verticality, Beaumont Tower continues to inspire the MSU community and is an appropriate symbol for the MSU mace. As President Robert S. Shaw (1928-1941) stated at the tower's dedication, it has served as "a unifying factor" to remind us, even through our individual activities, of the overall mission of Michigan State University to inspire us by "appealing to many of the better things in us" and to encourage us to "live up to higher standards, scholastically, socially, morally, and spiritually in all of our affairs."

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctoral gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round, and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of the bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree (e.g., green and white for MSU). If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department of faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. Generally, the code for the velvet of the hood is the same as listed for tassels.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different areas of study by tassels of the official color as established by the Intercollegiate Code. Candidates graduating from the Honors College wear a white stole with the initials "HC." Candidates graduating "With Honor" or "With High Honor" wear a gold braid.

HONORARY DEGREES

Alumnus Eli Broad, for whom MSU's Eli Broad College of Business is named, is a renowned business leader who built two Fortune 500 companies from the ground up. Not only is he a successful entrepreneur, but Mr. Broad and his wife, Edythe, are engaged in many important philanthropic endeavors. In fall 2002, Michigan State University proudly awarded Mr. Broad an honorary doctorate of humanities.

Eli Broad and his wife, Edythe, with a total gift of $28 million, have made contemporary art available to the entire Michigan State University community and those who visit us from around the globe. The Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum officially opened this fall. The world-class art museum is designed by Pritzker Prize-winning architect Zaha Hadid. For information about the facility, exhibitions and programs, please visit www.broadmuseum.msu.edu.

We tell our graduates to "Come Home Often." We hope that you, and your family, will come home often and include a visit to the Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

JOHNNETTA BETSCH COLE

You are a pioneering educator, author, and leader... the first female, African American president of Spelman College.

Your commitment to education has taken you from your birthplace of Jacksonville, Florida, to Fisk University, Oberlin College, and finally Northwestern University, where you earned master's and doctoral degrees in anthropology. You taught at the University of California, Los Angeles; directed the Black Studies program at Washington State University; became provost of undergraduate education at the University of Massachusetts; directed the Latin American and Caribbean Studies at Hunter College; and became a Presidential Distinguished Professor Emerita at Emory University.

Your scholarship and your activism in calling for gender and racial diversity are exemplified in your books, such as All-American Women: Lines That Divide, Ties That Bind; Dream the Boldest Dreams: And Other Lessons of Life;

Gender Talk: The Struggle for Women's Equality in African American Communities; and Conversations: Straight Talk with America's Sister President.

But it is your leadership and your vision that made you a world-renowned president of not just Spelman, but also Bennett College for women. Spelman and Bennett are the only two institutions in the United States founded specifically for the higher education of African American women. You revitalized these historic institutions and established a foundation for them to move boldly—focused on the students they serve—into the 21st century.

You continue to serve education today in your role as director of the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of African Art.

For your scholarship, your vision, and your historic leadership in education, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters from Michigan State University.

IAN GRAHAM COWX

As the director of the University of Hull International Fisheries Institute, you have worked throughout the world to raise awareness, conserve fisheries, and promote sustainable inland water ecosystems.

Your extensive global research endeavors, and particularly your efforts to conserve the world's valuable freshwater life systems, have indelibly impacted individual lives as well as entire communities. You have led nearly 100 research and consultancy projects in Europe, Africa, and Asia, including projects in conjunction with the European Union and the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. Some of your initiatives include developing management plans for sustainable fisheries on Lake Victoria, the second largest lake in the world, and assessing the potential impacts of dam construction on the fisheries of the Mekong River, a major food-source for many people in Southeast Asia.

From your first experiences as the scientific officer at Severn-Trent Water Authority—as you were completing your doctorate from the University of Exeter—you recognized the importance of controlling water consumption and managing both floods and drought.

For nearly a quarter of a century, you have been at the University of Hull, teaching and researching fishery resource management, preparing the next generation of researchers from all over the world. Your work has earned you the International Fisheries Prize—a lifetime achievement award for scientists in this field.

For your indefatigable dedication to promoting ecological sustainability and improving the lives of others, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Michigan State University.

RICHARD DALE SNYDER

You are a successful business executive and the governor of the State of Michigan.

From your years in the nation's top accounting firms, to your leadership at Gateway Inc., a leading computer company, and as an accountant and an attorney, you have astutely recognized and boldly acted upon significant business opportunities that have contributed to the nation's economic growth.

Your venture capital firms, Avalon and Ard-esta, showed your commitment to investing in America's future, helping new enterprises thrive despite an uncertain environment. You have applied your same sense of "relentless positive action" to Michigan's economic challenges, characteristically focusing on solving problems rather than scoring political points. An attribute that is all too rare these days.

You recognized the importance of having all sectors of the community involved in economic development when you said, "Local governments, the private sector, schools, higher education and nongovernmental and civic organizations must collaborate to make Michigan's economic regions and, ultimately, the state competitive."

Your vision for "reinventing Michigan" when you took office in 2011 was courageous, considering the economic challenges you faced. But according to Comerica Bank's recent Michigan Economic Activity Index report, the state's economic activity has reached a 10-year high. The unemployment rate has also decreased and the automotive industry is on a strong rebound.

Your efforts to solve the structural problems in the State budget will establish a legacy of responsibility and hope that Michiganders can build upon in the years to come.

For your leadership and for your commitment to prosperity for the people of Michigan, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

THOMAS JAMES VILSACK

You are a champion of the business of agriculture—providing a livelihood for farmers, ranchers, and rural entrepreneurs, and assuring a safe, plentiful source of food for America and the world.

As the nation's 30th Secretary of Agriculture, you are working to promote job growth and income growth through expanded production of renewable energy, outdoor recreational opportunities, and development of local and regional food supplies. You helped pass the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act, making the most significant improvements to school lunches in 30 years in an effort to combat child hunger and obesity.

While you have worked to make the USDA more efficient, transparent and effective, you have implemented new programs to restore our forests and clean up our water supply. As chair of the first-ever White House Rural Council, you and your agency are strengthening services for rural businesses and entrepreneurs creating job opportunities, finding new ways to partner with other federal agencies and the private sector to spur investment. You have helped forge new trade agreements with Colombia, South Korea, and Panama that will create even more export opportunities for American farmers and ranchers.

Your dedication to public service over the last 25 years—as governor of Iowa, as a senator in Iowa, and as mayor of Mount Pleasant, Iowa—has resulted in a wide range of economic improvements from establishing the Grow Iowa Values Fund, to support for biofuel production and other solutions to the energy challenge.

For your lifelong commitment to helping American farmers thrive as well as helping them feed the world, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Michigan State University.

CHRISTOPHER ROLAND SOMERVILLE

You are a renowned scientist, an authority on the conversion of plant cellulose to energy, and director of the Energy Biosciences Institute—at the University of California, Berkeley and the largest public-private partnership of its kind in the world.

Your life's work on the characterization of photosynthesis, membrane biology, cell wall synthesis, your pioneering development of the plant, Arabidopsis, as a model species for plant molecular genetics, and your contributions to plant genomics, lipid metabolism, and polysaccharide synthesis have earned you the world's top recognitions.

You are an elected member of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences, The Royal Society of London, the Royal Society of Canada, and Academia Europaea. Your honors to date also include the prestigious Balzan Award, the Alexander von Humboldt U.S. Senior Scientist Award, a Presidential Young Investigator Award from the National Science Foundation, and the Charles F. Schull Award and the Gibbs Medal from the American Society of Plant Physiologists.

After earning your undergraduate degree in mathematics, and your master's and doctoral degrees in genetics from the University of Alberta, Canada, you served in many academic roles, at institutions such as Stanford University and the University of California, Berkeley. You served MSU for more than a decade, as a member of the MSU-DOE Plant Research Laboratory and as a professor in the former Department of Botany and Plant Pathology.

For your leadership in moving the world's energy community into a new era, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Michigan State University.

“Until the moment degrees are conferred and diplomas presented, a university and its students are in a temporary relationship. Either can disclaim the other at any time before that final moment. But when commencement is concluded, Michigan State University places its stamp of approval upon you. You become part of this University . . . forever.”

John A. Hannah (1902-1991)
President, Michigan State University (1941-1969)
