MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

MISSION STATEMENT

Michigan State University, a member of the Association of American Universities and one of the top 100 research universities in the world, was founded in 1855. We are an inclusive, academic community known for our traditionally strong academic disciplines and professional programs, and our liberal arts foundation. Our cross- and interdisciplinary enterprises connect the sciences, humanities, and professions in practical, sustainable, and innovative ways to address society's rapidly changing needs.

As a public, research-intensive, land-grant university funded in part by the state of Michigan, our mission is to advance knowledge and transform lives by:

- providing outstanding undergraduate, graduate, and professional education to promising, qualified students in order to prepare them to contribute fully to society as globally engaged citizen leaders
- conducting research of the highest caliber that seeks to answer questions and create solutions to expand human understanding and make a positive difference, both locally and globally
- advancing outreach, engagement, and economic development activities that are innovative, research-driven, and lead to a better quality of life for individuals and communities, at home and around the world.

The Mission Statement was approved by the Board of Trustees on April 18, 2008.

From the President

CONGRATULATORY LETTER

DEAR GRADUATES AND FAMILIES:

Graduation is an important milestone. At commencement ceremonies, we celebrate our graduates and their accomplishments at Michigan State University, and we acknowledge the encouragement and support that family and other significant individuals have provided them. Reaching this milestone marks the completion of a degree program and the beginning of the next chapter in each student's life.

Graduates become part of a tradition that spans more than 150 years. As a person with a long-standing connection to Michigan State, I have had many opportunities to interact with alumni, students, faculty, and staff who, on a daily basis, are advancing knowledge and transforming lives. Although much has changed along the banks of the Red Cedar River since I first enrolled in 1970, the core values of the University remain—quality, inclusiveness, and connectivity.

MSU leads as a "community-engaged university." Our faculty and students are involved in outreach and forge partnerships to serve the public good. Through research, education, and practice, we make the world and our campus better places. To be a Spartan is to be a part of something big. There are more than 500,000 Spartans at work on every continent, rising to practically every challenge imaginable. Every day, we make the world more sustainable, healthy, safe, and beautiful, proving again and again that "Spartans Will."

Our graduates go forth as caring global citizens, and although we bid you farewell I ask you to recall what our legendary President John A. Hannah confirmed. A special bond is forged with our graduates.

Until the moment degrees are conferred and diplomas presented, a university and its students are in a temporary relationship. Either can disclaim the other at any time before that final moment. But when commencement is concluded, Michigan State University places its stamp of approval upon you. You become part of this University ...forever.

Forever starts now. May you have a very bright future and come home often.

Sincerely,

Lou Anna Kimsey Simon Ph.D.
President

December 2014

From the Provost and Executive Vice President
for Academic Affairs

CONGRATULATORY LETTER

DEAR GRADUATES AND FAMILIES:

Congratulations to our graduates and your families! As President Simon encourages you to come home often, so do I!

As you may or may not know, I earned my degrees at Michigan State University. This education has served me well.

It gives me great pleasure to be here at a time when Michigan State University continues to create new opportunities at home, in the state of Michigan, and around the world. With our students and faculty, we are achieving new levels of excellence even as we face many new challenges. Our students are enthusiastic in taking advantage of the opportunities to study and to expand their views, and to grow as individuals and global citizens.

As a student of Michigan State University you are a member of a vibrant community united by the common interest we share as scholars. I hope that even after earning your degree, you will always remain members of this community—that is, be hungry to learn, to seek new knowledge, and to share and apply that knowledge for the betterment of others and to contribute to a more sustainable planet for the generations of Spartans who follow you.

As you and your families celebrate your accomplishments at Michigan State University, we join you in that celebration and wish you the best in all of your personal and professional pursuits and in your future endeavors as Spartans. May the relationships you forged here with your professors and other students continue to inspire you.

Sincerely,

June Pierce Youatt Ph.D.
Provost and Executive Vice President
for Academic Affairs

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, founded in 1855, is a leader in realizing the ideal of democratizing education and knowledge. Officially named the Agricultural College of the State of Michigan, it became the model for all land-grant institutions established by the Morrill Act, passed by Congress in 1862. The research and knowledge developed at land-grant institutions provides practical solutions that make a difference in the lives of individuals and in communities. Now, as a major public research university with global reach, Michigan State University continues this tradition with its commitment to advancing knowledge and transforming lives across the state, the region, and around the world.

From its beginnings on the site where Beaumont Tower now stands, the East Lansing campus has grown from 677 to 5,200 acres, and from three to 538 buildings. Today, more than 19,000 acres are used throughout Michigan for agricultural, animal, and forestry research.

MSU has more than 50,000 students from all 83 counties in Michigan, all 50 states, and more than 130 other countries. There are more than one-half million Spartan alumni living around the globe.

Since its agricultural beginnings, MSU has grown to 17 degree-granting colleges offering more than 200 programs of study, including graduate and graduate professional education. The Honors College attracts academically talented scholars and enables these students to pursue individualized, enriched programs of study.

Research and other grants total more than $500 million in 2013-14. The top federal funding agencies include the National Science Foundation, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Other externally funded research programs include the MSU-U.S. Department of Energy Plant Research Laboratory, the Center for Advancing Microbial Risk Assessment, the Great Lakes Bioenergy Research Center, the Energy and Automotive Research Laboratory Centers, the Composite Vehicle Research Center, the U.S.-China Center for Research on Educational Excellence, the Center for Advanced Study of International Development, and the Center for International Business Education and Research.

The National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory is the premier rare isotope research facility in the nation. In December 2008, the U.S. Department of Energy selected MSU to design and establish the Facility for Rare Isotope Beams (FRIB). The proposed $730 million facility will bring together an international community of leading scientists. Their work will help unlock the mysteries of the universe and promote breakthrough applications for medicine, security, and industry.

MSU Extension reaches into all 83 counties in Michigan to provide practical, university-based knowledge. The AgBioResearch encompasses the research of more than 300 scientists in a network of 13 research centers across the state. Their work ranges from agricultural production, alternative energy and biofuel production, food safety and environmental stewardship to childhood obesity, community development, and the quality of life of Michigan youth and families.

University Outreach and Engagement connects faculty with external audiences and constituencies to address community issues through research and collaboration. MSU Global extends academic and professional degree and certificate programs to off-campus learners.

MSU is a national leader in study abroad among U.S. public universities with more than 270 programs on all continents in more than 60 countries. Nearly 3,000 MSU students participate in study abroad each year.

Michigan State University is a member of the Association of American Universities, the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities, the American Council on Education, the American Council of Learned Societies, the Council of Graduate Schools, and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

CEREMONY LYRICS

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

O, say, can you see
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed
at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
that our flag was still there.
O, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free,
and the home of the brave.

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

ALMA MATER*

M.S.U., We love thy shadows,
when twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling,
o'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather,
to give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater,
and thy praises, M.S.U.

When from these scenes we wander,
and twilight shadows fade,
Our mem'ry still will linger,
where light and shadows played;
In the evening oft we'll gather,
and pledge our faith anew,
Sing our love for Alma Mater,
and thy praises, MSU.

MSU FIGHT SONG

On the banks of the Red Cedar,
is a school that's known to all;
Its speciality is winning,
and those Spartans play good ball;
Spartan teams are never beaten,
all through the games they fight;
Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.
Go right thru' for MSU,
watch the points keep growing.
Spartan teams are bound to win,
they're fighting with a vim.
RAH! RAH! RAH!
See their team is weakening,
we're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team, Fight!
Victory for MSU.

*The lyrics of Alma Mater were written by Bernard Traynor (MSC Athletic Department, 1925-1927). The melody is based on Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. It was not until March 30, 1949, after a vote by the students, that the popular song on campus known as the MSU Shadows was finally adopted as the official Alma Mater.

Lyrics by Francis Irvin Lankey (MSU Engineering, 1916).

UNIVERSITY MACE

Michigan State University is pleased to include the University mace in commencement ceremonies. The introduction of the mace, at the 2005 Founders' Day celebration and inauguration of MSU's twentieth president, serves to commemorate the sesquicentennial celebration. The University, founded in 1855, celebrated its 150th birthday in 2005. The mace was designed by University Relations and produced by Physical Plant staff.

Historically, the mace is a symbol of authority dating from medieval times when knights carried them during processions with their kings. As the tradition grew, the mace became a ceremonial symbol of peaceful leadership, and maces were embellished with jewels and metals. Today, a university's mace is carried before the president or chancellor and platform-party dignitaries at commencement, inaugural, and other academic ceremonial processions.

The Michigan State University mace, 42 inches in length, includes important institutional symbols in its finial, crown, and shaft. The finial depicts the circular University seal, which includes an image of "Old College Hall." This oak-carved seal derives from an 1869 State Board of Agriculture (now, Board of Trustees) authorization for a woodcut to be used as the frontispiece of the college academic catalog. College Hall, built in 1856, was the first instructional building erected in the United States for the teaching of scientific agriculture. When it collapsed in 1918, John Beaumont (class of 1882) provided funds to erect Beaumont Tower in 1928 at the same location. The tower stands as a symbol of Michigan State's beginnings as the first land-grant college dedicated to teaching "agriculture and the mechanic arts" with a "liberal and practical curriculum."

The mace's crown is trimmed with a maple samara and acorn pattern carved from walnut, a pattern drawn from the "Michigan State College" limestone relief at the Abbot Road and other campus entrances. An image of Beaumont Tower lies in the crown's oak center. Below the crown is the cylindrical shaft, whose alternating, horizontal oak and walnut bands descend to a brass tip. Its oak is purported to be "Beaumont oak," that is, from one of the original saplings surrounding College Hall. Its walnut is from a tree removed to clear land for the Wharton Center for Performing Arts in 1982.

In its soaring verticality, Beaumont Tower continues to inspire the MSU community and is an appropriate symbol for the MSU mace. As President Robert S. Shaw (1928-1941) stated at the tower's dedication, it has served as "a unifying factor" to remind us, even through our individual activities, of the overall mission of Michigan State University to inspire us by "appealing to many of the better things in us" and to encourage us to "live up to higher standards, scholastically, socially, morally, and spiritually in all of our affairs."

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctoral gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round, and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of the bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree (e.g., green and white for MSU). If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department of faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. Generally, the code for the velvet of the hood is the same as listed for tassels.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different areas of study by tassels of the official color as established by the Intercollegiate Code. Candidates graduating from the Honors College wear a white stole with the initials "HC." Candidates graduating "With Honor" or "With High Honor" wear a gold braid.

HONORARY DEGREES

Alumnus Eli Broad, for whom MSU's Eli Broad College of Business is named, is a renowned business leader who built two Fortune 500 companies from the ground up. Not only is he a successful entrepreneur, but Mr. Broad and his wife, Edythe, are engaged in many important philanthropic endeavors. In fall 2002, Michigan State University proudly awarded Mr. Broad an honorary doctorate of humanities.

Eli Broad and his wife, Edythe, with a total gift of $28 million, have made contemporary art available to the entire Michigan State University community and those who visit us from around the globe. The Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum officially opened November 10, 2012. The world-class art museum is designed by Pritzker Prize-winning architect Zaha Hadid. For information about the facility, exhibitions and programs, please visit www.broadmuseum.msu.edu.

We tell our graduates to "Come Home Often." We hope that you, and your family, will come home often and include a visit to the Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum. For more information, please visit broadmuseum.msu.edu.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

ROBERT GEORGE CLARK JR.

You are an educator, community leader, and legislator from the state of Mississippi, and over your remarkable career you have made a significant impact as an extraordinary Civil Rights advocate.

You were elected the Mississippi House of Representatives in 1967. You were the first African American to serve in that capacity since the Reconstruction era. In 1977 you were elected chair of the Education Committee, becoming the first African American to hold the position in the state's history. You then went on to become the Speaker Pro Tempore in 1992 and when you retired from the legislature in 2003 you were the longest-serving member of the Mississippi House of Representatives.

You supported desegregation in public schools after the Brown vs. Board decision and worked tirelessly to advance Civil Rights and education reform during your work, both inside and outside of state legislature. You served on the Policy and Steering Committee of the Education Commission of the States, and numerous other public policy boards and committees, in order to end desegregation, fight poverty, and bring equity in funding to the public education system. You take great pride in the passage of the Education Enhancement Act.

You received your degree in education from Jackson State University, where you were a student-athlete later inducted into the Alumni Hall of Fame. You attended Michigan State University, after learning of then President John Hannah's effort to recruit minority students from the South. You earned a master's degree in Administration and Educational Services at MSU. You then returned to your home state to become a public servant and initiate change and access to education.

For your unwavering commitment to Civil Rights, and your outstanding leadership in legislative service and public policy, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Michigan State University.

MICHAEL FRANCIS MOORE

You are one of America's best-known documentary filmmakers, having earned both critical acclaim and widespread popularity for your work over the past 25 years.

Your Emmy Award-winning 1989 film, Roger & Me, brought the plight of unemployed autoworkers in Flint, Michigan, to international attention and launched your career as a provocative social critic. You won the Hugh M. Hefner First Amendment Award in Arts and Entertainment as the executive producer and host of The Awful Truth, a television series that satirized big corporations and politicians.

As director and producer of the film Fahrenheit 9/11, you were awarded the prestigious Palme d'Or at the Cannes Film Festival in 2004. Fahrenheit 9/11 was also the highest-grossing documentary of all time. Your film Bowling for Columbine won the Academy Award for Documentary Feature, and that film and the film Sicko also placed in the top ten highest-grossing American documentaries.

Throughout your life, you have been a champion of active democracy, traveling throughout the country to exhort people—especially college students—to vote and participate in politics. You yourself provided a role model for being an active citizen, when in 1972 as a member of the Davidson, Michigan, school board, you became the youngest person in the United States to hold elected office.

For your civic courage and your use of your considerable creative abilities to question injustice and inequity in America, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

TERESA ANN SULLIVAN

You are the University of Virginia's eighth—and first woman—president, and a nationally renowned sociologist. Your ties to Michigan State University are strong, as a member of the first graduating class of James Madison College and as a valued speaker, guest, and donor during the years since your graduation.

You have reached the pinnacle of leadership in higher education, having served in senior leadership positions for some of the best public universities in the world, including as provost and executive vice president for academic affairs at the University of Michigan and as executive vice chancellor for academic affairs for the University of Texas System.

Your most recent research has focused on measuring productivity in higher education. As the author or coauthor of six books and many scholarly articles, you are a respected scholar in labor force demography. You are a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and serve as vice chair of the Council of Presidents for the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges. You also serve as the Association of American Universities (AAU) representative on the American Council on Education (ACE) Board of Directors.

You are well-known for your commitment to the idea of the university as a foundation for both education and democracy, exhorting the University of Virginia community to emulate founder Thomas Jefferson's best qualities as you enumerated them in your inaugural address as president of that university: "the insatiability of his inquiring mind; his restlessness with the status quo; his insistence on making knowledge useful; his dedication to the public good; his steadfast attention to the future."

For your own embodiment of these values, as well as your outstanding leadership in higher education, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Michigan State University.

KRISTIN CLARK TAYLOR

You are an award-winning author, veteran journalist, nationally-recognized communications and political strategist, and a former White House advisor.

You are a founding member of USA Today's original creation and launch team. You later accepted a position in the White House, where you worked as a communications strategist, press officer, and writer for Vice President George H. W. Bush. Immediately after winning the 1988 election, President Bush appointed you White House Director of Media Relations, making you the first African American woman in history to hold the post.

You have worked as a communications strategist and senior executive for two Fortune 500 corporations. Your work has appeared in The Washington Post, The Washington Times, USA Today, and many other publications. You have written seven books and collaborated with other authors on a wide-ranging variety of topics. You serve on several literary boards and you have appeared on Oprah, National Public Radio, and many other broadcasts.

A frequent lecturer, motivational speaker, and civic activist, you are deeply committed to helping others hone their writing and communications skills. You are the founder and facilitator of the Great Falls Writer's Group and you volunteer as a writing tutor for at-risk youth.

As an English graduate of Michigan State University, you recently received a Distinguished Alumni award from the College of Arts and Letters and in May 2014, you joined the MSU Alumni Board of Directors within the College of Arts and Letters.

For your passion, commitment and leadership in communications, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

JAMES EMERSON WALLIS

You are a New York Times best-selling author, public theologian, lecturer, preacher, and media commentator on ethics and society. You have been applying moral values to politics, economics and culture for over four decades. In 1979, Time magazine named you one of the "50 Faces for America's Future."

You live and work at the intersection of faith and public life. Your regular columns appear on Sojo.net, TIME.com, and The Huffington Post and you have also appeared in The New York Times, The Washington Post, the Los Angeles Times, Politico, and The Christian Post. You speak frequently in the United States and internationally and appear on numerous television and radio programs including Meet the Press, The O'Reilly Factor, and National Public Radio. You have written 11 books and your materials are read in 200 countries and territories around the world.

You spent your student years involved in Civil Rights and antiwar movements as an undergraduate in social science at Michigan State University and later as a graduate student at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School in Deerfield, Illinois. At Trinity you co-founded Sojourners, a magazine and community with a Christian commitment to social justice. More than 40 years later, Sojourners has grown into a national faith-based organization.

You continue to highlight global issues of violence, disease and poverty, and encourage active dialogue toward equitable solutions. You serve as an advisor to political leaders, including President Barack Obama, and work tirelessly to train and mentor young leaders so that they may take their place in society.

For your compassion towards and empowerment of vulnerable and disadvantaged citizens, your promotion of social justice, and your ability to motivate us to reexamine our values in society, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

GEORGE FREDERICK WILL

You are a Pulitzer Prize-winning newspaper columnist, journalist, and author. Your commentaries on the world's breaking news—from politics to baseball—have influenced American culture for more than four decades.

You have been a journalist with the nation's most well-known news organizations, including the National Review, The Washington Post Writers Group, Newsweek, and ABC, NBC and Fox television. You have received numerous awards for your conservative commentary, such as the Champion of Liberty Award from the Goldwater Institute and the Bradley Prize from the Bradley Foundation. At the same time, you have earned universal respect for your objectivity in criticizing conservative politicians.

You have written two bestselling books on the game of baseball, three books on political philosophy, and have published eleven compilations of your columns. You have also shared your views on political philosophy through your teaching at some of the world's top universities: the University of Toronto, Harvard University, and James Madison College at Michigan State University.

After receiving your undergraduate degree in religion from Trinity College, in Hartford, Connecticut, you went on to study Philosophy, Politics, and Economics at Magdalen College, University of Oxford, and received your master's and doctoral degrees in Politics from Princeton University.

For your outstanding contributions to American thought and your elevation of our political dialogue, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

HONORS

The University acknowledges candidates for the bachelor's degree who will graduate as Academic Scholars (A), from the Honors College (H), With Honor (*), or With High Honor (). Academic Scholars completed a two-year honors program including at least four honors-caliber courses. Honors College graduates are academically talented students who have participated in rigorous, highly individualized programs of study, including at least eight honors-caliber courses.

Graduation Honors: the current minimum grade point average for seniors graduating With Honor is 3.69 and those graduating With High Honor is 3.87 (which is approximately 20 percent of graduating seniors who have earned the highest grade point averages). Recognition of graduation honors in the commencement program is based on the grade point average of all work at MSU completed prior to the opening of the semester of graduation. To be eligible for graduation honors, transfer students must earn a minimum of 50 semester credits at MSU.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES AWARDS

Awards are made at fall and spring commencements to the six or more graduating seniors who achieved the highest cumulative scholarly records by the close of the preceding semester. At least three-fourths of the credits for the degree must be earned at Michigan State University with numerical grades by the close of the preceding semester. Fall, spring, and summer graduating seniors are eligible. The President of the University acts for the Board in determining the recipients of the awards.

"Until the moment degrees are conferred and diplomas presented, a university and its students are in a temporary relationship. Either can disclaim the other at any time before that final moment. But when commencement is concluded, Michigan State University places its stamp of approval upon you. You become part of this University . . . forever."

John A. Hannah (1902-1991)
 President, Michigan State University (1941-1969)
