12. Full reports of the names of the candidates received or rejected with all conditions and recommendations, shall be made by the Committee to the Faculty and these, as finally adopted, shall be spread upon the faculty records.

CLASS STANDING AND EXAMINATION.

13. A record of each class shall be kept by the instructor, in which shall appear by distinct marks, opposite each student's name, any absence excused or unexcused, any tardiness, an estimate upon a scale of 10 for perfect of each class exercise, and the date of entering and of leaving.

14. At or before each regular meeting of the Faculty a report shall be made by each officer to the President, of all unexcused absences from his exercises during the week closing on the Saturday previous. Students reported as absent shall be notified by the President the same week, and if such absences are still unexcused at the next regular meeting of the Faculty, they shall be reported to the Faculty for record as misdemeanors and shall be recorded as failures in making up the average of class exercises. A tardiness shall be counted one-half an absence.

15. On the first regular meeting of the Faculty in each month, a report shall be made to the President of students failing to maintain a standing above 6, the exact average being given in each case.

16. An examination shall follow the completion of each particular course of study, at such time as the Faculty may direct; and any student who has been present at four-fifths of the class exercises, and whose average class mark together with his examination mark equals or exceeds 14 shall be passed in that study.

17. Students present at less than four-fifths of the class exercises in any study must pass a more extensive examination than the general one, with a mark of at least 7, and no class mark shall be reported.

18. Students pursuing any study with a class here shall in no case be examined before the final examination of the class.

21. In each case of special examination (except for admission to College) the student must pay to the Secretary a fee of 50 cents, which fee shall be devoted to the purchase of books for the College Library.

22. Every examination, general or special, shall be in writing under the direct supervision of the instructor who shall prepare the topics and decide upon the merits of the papers presented; but any student failing in his examination shall upon his request receive a special examination, in which the President shall assist the instructor.

23. The topics for examination shall be arranged in groups of nearly equal importance and the answers to each group marked on a scale of 10 for perfect, and an average of the marks given upon the several groups of answers made by any student, shall be the examination mark of that student.

24. It shall be the duty of the instructor upon discovering that a student fails to pass in any study, to notify both the student so failing and the President; but the standing of no student shall be divulged before the general examination.

25. As soon as convenient after each general examination the instructor shall report to the Faculty, upon blanks prepared for the purpose, the whole number of class exercises, and opposite the name of each student examined an average of his class marks (if he has been present at four-fifths of the exercises), his examination mark and the sum of the two, the number of absences excused and unexcused, his class department marked upon a scale of 10 for perfect, and lateness of entering.

This report shall be accompanied by a copy of topics used in the examination, and shall be filed in the Secretary's office after having been entered by items in the Students' Record. At the same time a separate report shall contain the record as above of students enrolled in the class, but not present at the final examination; but this report shall be kept on private file in the Secretary's office, to be used for record only when a student has passed his examination according to rule nineteenth.

26. The instructor conducting a special examination shall write upon the face of the Secretary's receipt for the fee, his own name with the date of the examination, and shall report to the Faculty and for the Students' Record the mark given and the reason for giving the examination.
