Greeting

THE Young Men's Christian Association bids you welcome to the Michigan Agricultural College. This Hand Book has been prepared with the purpose of presenting to you a brief statement of the important features of the College and of acquainting you with the various phases of its life. We present this book with the hope that it will be useful to all, and as you use this little book, may it be a standing invitation to you to enter into larger usefulness and into a closer union with life and needs of Christian society; that this year's life at M. A. C. may contribute much to your progress and development; that your conception of life and its meaning may be enlarged, and your purpose may be made nobler and your ideal raised higher, is our most earnest wish.

College Song

BY A. M. B.

Close beside the winding Cedar's
Sloping banks of green
Spreads thy campus, Alma Mater,
Fairest ever seen.

Chorus—

Swell the chorus! Let it echo
Over hill and vale;
Hail to thee, our loving mother,
M. A. C., all hail.

First of all thy race, fond mother,
Thus we greet thee now,
While with loving hands the laurel
Twine we o'er thy brow.

Backward through the hazy distance
Troop the days of yore,
Scenes and faces float before us,
Cherished more and more.

College Hall and Wells and Williams,
Abbot and the rest,
Halcyon days were those spent with you,
Days of all the best.

Fold us fondly to your bosom,
Alma Mater, dear,
Sing we now thy endless praises,
Sounding cheer on cheer.

Some Timely Suggestions

Do not be afraid to ask questions; remember that you are no "newer" than all of us were once.

Don't study on Sunday; you can study enough during the other six days.

Write home often; but not too often (for money). Keep an account of your expenditures in this book.

Join a Bible class. Over 30,000 American college students did so last year.

Do something in athletics. Keep account of the foot ball games in this book.

Don't be afraid to bother the General Secretary; he is here to help you.

Learn the college song and yells.

Don't neglect your social life; but be careful of your friendships.

Attend the lecture course.

Join the Y. M. C. A., and take an active interest in its work.

Be honest in the class room.

Don't loiter on the dormitory steps; unexpected cloud bursts occur there.

Profanity is not a distinctive property of a gentleman.

Stand for clean sport.

Chapel 9:55 to 10:10; attend.

Don't spend all your time with a few friends.

You won't make friends or gain respect by foul talk.

Attend the Thursday evening Y. M. C. A. meetings, also the Sunday evening union meetings, for what you can derive from them.

M. A. C. gives you her name; don't disgrace it.

Take this book as a guide when going down town to make purchases, and say "I saw your ad. in the Hand Book."

Respect yourself, have regard for the rights of others, and do nothing you would not have your parents know.

Y. M. C. A.

Every man that comes to college comes with the hope of winning success for himself, and for true success in life he needs the broadest development. His regular college work will make him strong in mind; his athletics will build up his physical strength and control; and the Y. M. C. A. will develop him morally and spiritually. The student department of the Y. M. C. A. is the largest inter-collegiate organization in existence. There are 730 student associations in the colleges and universities of North America, with a membership of 47,000. The Y. M. C. A. of North America is affiliated with the student organizations of other lands, in one gigantic world-embracing student federation. Thus one in allying himself with this body is not only joining himself to a local organization, but he becomes a part of a great world-wide movement, far-reaching in its effect.

The local association employs a General Secretary, whose entire time is devoted to superintending and directing the different activities of the association. The Y. M. C. A. has well-furnished, pleasant room in the north end of Williams Hall. The room is provided with games and reading matter, and is the headquarters of the General Secretary. You are most cordially welcome to make this room your headquarters.

The association is opened to all men of good, moral character who are desirous of allying themselves with some Christian organization. You will be asked to join either as an active or associate member. If in any way you have been overlooked in the matter, feel free to ask the General Secretary for an application blank. The association stands for cleanness in athletics, honesty in study, and a general high standard of character.

BIBLE STUDY.

The association has various phases of activity, but it lays special emphasis upon Bible study and the meetings. It believes that a practical knowledge of the Bible is a necessary part of a student's education, as well as a source of moral and spiritual development. There will be several courses taught this year, courses which make an especial appeal to the college man. There were thirteen classes last year; the aim is to have as many or more this year. An opportunity will be given you to join a class. Be sure and avail yourself of it.

MEETINGS.

The regular Y. M. C. A. meetings are held every Thursday evening during the college year in the association room. The meetings are held immediately after supper, and are very effective in inspiring those who attend to a cleaner and better life. The meetings held Sunday nights in conjunction with the Y. W. C.

Shoes from $1.50 to $5.00, Woodworth & Sons, 115 Washington Ave. N.

A. are of special benefit. Here one hears addresses from various members of the faculty and many good speakers from outside. The aim is to make these meetings as popular as possible, and at the same time be of definite help to those who attend.

MISSIONS.

The missionary committee aims to arouse among the students an intelligent and active interest in the social and religious life of the countries of the orient, and to show the students their responsibility in helping to better these conditions.

SOCIAL.

The Y. M. C. A. seeks to develop the social side of the students. Socials and receptions are held throughout the year, one or two for the new men of the college, and as many are held in conjunction with the young ladies at the Women's Building.

NIAGARA SUMMER CONFERENCE.

Situated at the mouth of the Niagara river is the beautiful spot of Niagara - on - the - Lake. Here is held each year a ten-day conference for the students from the states of Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia, Western Pennsylvania, Western New York, and the Province of Ontario. Something like three hundred students attended this memorable conference. M. A. C. had a good delegation there last year and the inspiration derived will last through a life time.

MANAGEMENT.

The supervision of the finances of the association are under the control of an Advisory Board composed of three student members of the Y. M. C. A. and two members of the Faculty, appointed by the President of the college. The Y. M. C. A. is supported by subscriptions from the faculty and students and from the regular membership dues. Prof. W. G. Sackett, President, Dr. W. S. Fletcher, Mr. F. M. Barden, Mr. J. R. Dice, Mr. L. B. Westerman are the members of the Advisory Board.

The officers of the association for the year are:

President—F. M. Barden.

Vice President—W. D. Frazer.

Recording Secretary—R. G. Carr.

Corresponding Sec'y—M. B. Ashley.

Treasurer—J. A. Cavanaugh.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Young Women's Christian Association of M. A. C. welcomes all new students. In the seeking of knowledge, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." The devotional meetings are held on every Thursday evening, at which helpful thoughts are given to send us on life's pathway better fitted for its duties.

The Bible study classes afford an excellent opportunity for all to study the life of Christ in a systematic way. The work is very interesting and beneficial, and should be embraced by every student.

LAKE GENEVA SUMMER CONFERENCE.

The Y. W. C. A. conference for students will be held this summer from August 30 to September 10, at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Representatives sent to this conference are brought into direct contact with the most enthusiastic and leading Y. W. C. A. women, and the helpfulness gained cannot be over estimated.

Literary Societies

Although M. A. C. is a technical school, yet the literary side of an education is by no means neglected, and, aside from the courses in the curriculum, there are various literary societies in the college whose purpose is to stimulate literary and moral development as well as social fellowship among the members,

The Phi Delta Society is the oldest society on the grounds, being formed in 1873. This is a men's society, The society has a house in Oakwood, as headquarters.

In 1876 the Union Literary Society was organized, This society has a building for its exclusive use. It is the only society having a building on the campus.

The Eclectic Society was formed in 1877. This society has recently completed a handsome new society house in Oakwood.

The Olympic Society was organized in 1885. It has pleasant quarters on the fourth floor of Williams Hall.

The Hesperian Society was organized in 1890. This society occupies a house just off the college campus on the North Lansing road.

The Columbian Society was organized in 1894. It occupies very comfortable quarters on the fourth floor of Williams Hall.

The Eunomian Society was organized

Shoes from $1.50 to $6.00, Woodworth & Sons, 115 Washington Ave. N.

in 1903. It also occupies quarters in Williams Hall.

The Aurorian Society is the youngest society on the campus, being formed in 1905. This society has rooms on the fourth floor of ward E, Wells Hall.

As soon as the women's department was added, literary societies were organized from time to time. The following are the names of these societies:

Feronian Society, organized in 1890.

Themian Society, organized in 1898.

Sororian Society, organized in 1902.

Ero Alphian Society, organized in 1904.

These societies together form the Oratorical Association. An annual oratorical contest is held by representatives of each society. The winner of this contest receives a gold medal and is also the college representative at the state contest.

YPSILANTI-M. A. C. DEBATE.

For the past six years debates have been held with Ypsilanti Normal. Of these debates Ypsilanti has won four and M. A. C. two.

CLUBS.

There are various clubs on the campus for the advancement of special lines of work, such as the Farmer's Club, Horticultural Club, Nature Study Club, and Senior Engineering Society.

PROHIBITION LEAGUE.

This is an organization for the purpose of studying the saloon question from an economic standpoint. The plans are to have the State Prohibition League oratorical contest here this year and also to have various speakers throughout the year.

FRATERNITIES.

There are two fraternities in the college, the Alpha Zeta Fraternity for the agricultural students and the Tau Beta Pi for the engineering students. Admission to membership is based on scholarship, so every student can try for membership to these fraternities.

Athletics

The Athletic Association is a students' organization, having complete control over all athletics of the college, and every student and officer of M. A. C. is a member. The board under whose direction the financial matters are conducted is composed of two members of the alumni, two from each class, and two from the faculty. There are no dues and the only means of revenue is from the gate receipts, so it is incumbent on every student to lend his efforts to M. A. C.'s athletics. Mr. J. V. Gongwer is president of the Athletic Association, and will be glad to give you any information you may want in regard to it.

INTERCOLLEGIATE.

M. A. C. is a member of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association, which is composed of six Michigan colleges, Albion, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo, M. A. C. Olivet and Alma. A championship series is played every year in foot ball and base ball, and in June an Intercollegiate Field Meet is held, in which all six colleges compete. M. A. C. has held her own in all these events, winning the Field Meet for several years without exception. The following is the athletic record for M. A. C. during the past year:
