Message from the President of Michigan State

MANY OF YOU look upon education as something offered by teachers and garnered from books and laboratory experiments; these elements are highly important, but learning to be a good citizen is important too. You who have been accepted as students at Michigan State University have an excellent opportunity to learn good citizenship by actual practice while you are here. One of the riches of Michigan State is the wide opportunity it offers for students to live and work together towards worthwhile goals. The student who fails to participate actively in the life of the campus community misses an important educational experience.

This handbook is published to enable you, who are now strangers in our community, to become part of it as quickly and as pleasantly as possible. It will help you to become familiar with the laws and customs of this community, which as good citizens you will want to obey and observe; it will help you to learn the names and responsibilities of your community's officials and organizations, the places to which you can turn for help if you should have personal difficulties, and the details of a wide variety of student activities in which you may participate.

This University exists for your benefit; its principal objective is to maintain a situation in which each student can grow and develop to the limits of his individual capacity. You will have access to great cultural and intellectual treasures; you will have the guidance of a distinguished faculty and the use of fine facilities; you will live and work in a congenial atmosphere. Everything that can be done to stimulate your growth and development will be done. What you make of your opportunities depends on you alone.

Your years on this campus can be happy and productive if you choose to make them so; it is my hope and belief that you will.

John A. Hannah, President
Michigan State University

Message from the President of Student Gov't

ON BEHALF OF THE STUDENT BODY, I would like to welcome you to Michigan State University.

Michigan State takes great pride in both its academic and extra-curricular achievements. We, as students, are provided with an environment that is conducive to the intellectual growth of each individual. This includes development in academic, cultural, athletic, and social areas.

Many students leave here with their degrees, their lives academically complete but empty of the other potential experiences present in college life. Others, by taking advantage of the opportunities to gain valuable leadership and citizenship experience, leave Michigan State as your adults, well-rounded and ready to accept not only vocational but community responsibilities.

It is up to you as new members of the college community to respond to the challenge which urges you to become an integral part of Michigan State. Only by carrying on the spirit and traditions, can both you and the college continue to grow.

It is such growth which makes a great university even greater!

Chuck Walther, President
All-University Student Government

6 THE HELOT

Chances are that you're thinking about your approaching trip to the campus and especially of what to include in your luggage. Although MSU has adequate closet space for each student, remember that there is no room for clothes you won't wear or items you won't use.

CHAPTER ONE

Welcome Week

YOU'LL BE ON YOUR WAY TO COLLEGE within a few weeks—on your way to East Lansing, Michigan, and the Michigan State University campus where you'll have some of the greatest experiences of your life.

Probably you've gone through your copy of the MSU Catalog several times and talked with everybody you know who has ever attended Michigan State. Chances are that you catch yourself trying to visualize what it'll be like living in a campus residence hall. Possibly you're already thinking about your approaching trip to the campus.

If so, and if you're having trouble shutting lids on suitcases, you're just one of thousands of others across Michigan, the whole United States, in fact, and some foreign lands, who are having the same experience right now.

In an effort to acquaint you with what's coming up during your first few days on campus, we've put together in this first chapter information from a good many sources. We hope it helps give you a glimpse of what to expect.

The first week of fall term at Michigan State has been designated as "Welcome Week" to convey to you, the new student, the spirit of welcome that awaits you when you arrive on campus. Both students and faculty have participated in planning a program of activities to help you become oriented to life at Michigan State.

Some of these activities, such as orientation meetings, tests and examinations, enrollment and registration, are designed to prepare you to enter your academic program as easily and efficiently as possible. A wide variety of other activities, including the "President's Welcome," meetings in residence halls, information meetings, and college open houses, seek to introduce you to campus life and to our university community. Many student groups have planned social events to express their welcome to you and to give you opportunities to become acquainted with them, as well as with other new students. Whatever methods we use, all of us — the students, the faculty, and the administration — say, "Welcome, Spartans!"

WHO PARTICIPATES IN WELCOME WEEK?

All new undergraduate students, freshmen and transfers, participate in the activities of Welcome Week. A most cordial invitation is also extended to the wife or husband of a married student to attend the social events, and nonrequired activities.

WHEN SHOULD I ARRIVE ON CAMPUS?

Welcome Week begins Sunday, September 21. Check-in at university residence halls begins at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and continues throughout the day.

The first activity required of all students is the "President's Welcome," Monday, September 22. All new students who live in university residence halls are expected to attend the residence hall meeting Sunday evening. If your parents accompany you to the campus, you will want to arrive so that they may attend the Parents' Convocation Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Better still, you will want to come early and visit the University Health Center and Hospital during its open house from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Following the Parents' Convocation, you and your parents will undoubtedly want to attend an open house at one of the campus religious centers. In short, plan to arrive early Sunday so that you and your parents may participate in all of the activities planned for you.

HOW DO I FIND MY RESIDENCE HALL?

If you have been notified of the name of the residence hall in which you will live, go directly there. On Sunday there will be students at information centers at all entrances to the campus to direct you to your hall.

If you have not received your housing assignment, go to the Housing Office, Room 259 in the Student Services Building. This office will be open Saturday, September 20, and Sunday, September 21, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. If you should arrive on campus after the Housing Office is closed, report to the resident adviser of any residence hall, and you will be assigned to temporary quarters for the night.

FOOD SERVICES

On Sunday, September 21, the University Food Services will provide special service for new students and their parents. A noon dinner will be served from 12 noon to 1:15 p.m. and a Sunday evening supper from 5 to 6 p.m. in all residence halls. This service is available to all new students and their parents, not only to those who are residents of these halls. The charge for the buffet dinner at noon is $1.50 per person and for the evening supper, $1 per person. Tickets may be purchased at the various residence halls.

In the Union Building the cafeteria will be open from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; the grill will be open from 9 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. At Kellogg Center, the State Room will serve breakfast from 8 to 11 a.m. and dinner from noon to 6 p.m.

Sunday, September 21

10 a.m. to noon OPEN HOUSE AT OLIN MEMORIAL HEALTH CENTER AND HOSPITAL. This open house provides both you and your parents with an opportunity to become acquainted with the services and facilities of the university hospital.

12 noon to 1:15 p.m. BUFFET DINNER IN THE RESIDENCE HALLS.

2:30 p.m. THE PRESIDENT'S CONVOCATION FOR PARENTS OF NEW STUDENTS. This meeting is planned for your parents while you are getting settled and becoming acquainted in your residence hall. Dr. John A. Hannah, President of Michigan State University, will be the principal speaker.

3:30 to 5 p.m. OPEN HOUSE AT CAMPUS RELIGIOUS CENTERS. After the Parents Convocation you will want to join your parents to attend an open house at one of the many religious centers for students. If you are a married student, you and your wife or husband will want to attend one of these open houses. These provide an opportunity to learn about the religious resources that are available to students at Michigan State and to meet the religious advisers.

5 to 6 p.m. SUNDAY EVENING SUPPER IN THE RESIDENCE HALLS.

7:30 p.m. ORIENTATION IN MEN'S RESIDENCE HALLS.

8:30 p.m. ORIENTATION IN WOMEN'S RESIDENCE HALLS.

At these orientation meetings you will be introduced to residence hall living. Since group living will be a new experience for most of you, you will find these meetings extremely helpful. In addition, you will meet the staff, the student officers, and the other personnel of the residence halls. Every new student — freshman or transfer — who will live in a university residence hall should not fail to arrive on campus in time for these meetings.

Monday, September 22

8 a.m. THE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME TO ALL NEW FRESHMEN. Please note that this meeting is scheduled at 8 a.m., not at 7:30 a.m. as stated on the yellow sheet, "Instructions and Information," mailed by the Office of the Registrar with your card of admission. At this meeting which is held in the university auditorium, President Hannah, Dean Tom King, and the President of Student Government will give you their personal welcome to Michigan State. The printed program of all Welcome Week activities will be distributed at this meeting. It is through this program that you will know where you are to be and when you must be there throughout the entire week. You will follow an alphabetical schedule, which is included in the program, to complete many of the required pre-registration activities. Since the meeting will begin promptly at 8 a.m., plan to arrive at the Auditorium somewhat earlier to secure your program and be directed to your seat by a member of the Association of Off-Campus Students who serve as ushers for all the convocations during Welcome Week.

9:15 a.m. THE BASIC COLLEGE CONVOCATION FOR NEW FRESHMEN. Dean Edward Carlin will give you information about the Basic College in which all new students are enrolled during the freshman and sophomore years. He will acquaint you with the Basic courses and your responsibilities as a Basic College student.

10:15 a.m. THE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME TO NEW TRANSFER STUDENTS. For most transfer students this convocation is the first activity scheduled on Monday. Some of you, however, whose last names begin with "Na" through "Sarn" will notice on a printed sheet of instructions sent with your card of admission that you are scheduled to report to room 128 in the Natural Science building for an orientation meeting at 8:45 a.m. This meeting will conclude in ample time for you to attend the "President's Welcome." Since many of the new students at Michigan State are transfer students, the President has scheduled this meeting especially for you.

ORIENTATION MEETING

This meeting with a member of the staff of the University Counseling Center is designed to acquaint you with the various activities which you are required to complete before you are eligible to register for the first time. Since each meeting includes a relatively small number of students, you will have an opportunity to ask any special questions that you may have. So that you may be given information which is of particular interest to you, there are separate groups for veterans and nonveterans, for freshmen and transfers. Since these meetings, like the other required pre-registration activities, are scheduled alphabetically in the Welcome Week program which you will receive at the "President's Welcome," some of you will be scheduled to attend an orientation meeting directly after the "President's Welcome."

Members of two sophomore honoraries, Tower Guard and Green Helmet, will staff the information tent throughout Welcome Week.

TESTS AND EXAMINATIONS

Throughout Welcome Week, tests and examinations which are required of all new undergraduate students are scheduled to follow the orientation meeting. Since you have already been officially admitted to Michigan State, these tests will have no effect upon your admission. Rather, they are designed primarily to determine whether you have any academic deficiencies or special competencies. Since limitations in English or arithmetic or speech problems may prove to be a handicap in academic success, the University provides Improvement Services for students who are in need of them. The results of these tests will be made immediately available to you so that you may be enrolled in an Improvement Service your first term in college if it seems necessary. If, on the other hand, you have special skills in English, or in some other specified academic areas, you may qualify through tests to enroll in honors sections. The results of a reading test and a scholastic ability test which you will also take will be made available to you later in the term.

CHEST X-RAY

You are required to have a chest X-ray for your own protection and that of your fellow students.

You will attend a pre-registration meeting at which you will be shown a series of slides to acquaint you with the process of registering for courses and paying fees.

SWIMMING TEST AND ROTC MEETING

These activities are for men only. If you have had 12 months or more of active military service or if you are a transfer student admitted to an upper college rather than to Basic College, you are not required to attend these events.

ENROLLMENT

About a day and a half after you attend the orientation meeting you will have completed the tests and examinations and will be ready to go to see your enrollment officer or academic adviser. It is with his assistance that you arrive at a selection of courses in which you wish to enroll during your first term at Michigan State. In some majors, such as engineering, your curriculum is prescribed for the first term, as you may note in the university catalog. Other curricula consist of both required and elective courses. It is in these curricula that your enrollment officer can be most helpful in assisting you to determine which courses are most appropriate. During the summer many of you will receive a letter notifying you of the name of your enrollment officer or of the office to which you report for enrollment. If you do not receive such a notice, it is not a matter of concern since you may secure this information when you arrive on campus.

PRE-REGISTRATION MEETING

After you have been enrolled, you will attend a pre-registration meeting. Here you will be shown a series of slides prepared by the Registrar's Office to acquaint you with the process of registering for courses and paying fees. Following the slide showing, a student guide will take you and a small group of other new students to the Auditorium. Here your guide will give you additional information which will assist you to register for your courses as quickly and efficiently as possible.

REGISTRATION AND PAYMENT OF FEES

This is the last step in the process of becoming a full-fledged Michigan State student. At the Auditorium you will determine the hours which you will attend class and you will pay your fees. These fees include your course fees, out-of-state tuition if you come from a state other than Michigan, room and board if you live in a university residence hall, and any special fees you may happen to have for courses such as music, as well as deposits for physical education and military science for men. When you leave the Auditorium, you will have your schedule of classes which will begin on the following Monday, September 29.

CAMPUS TOURS AND TOURS OF THE UNION

Welcome Week is more than a series of tests and examinations, enrollment, and registration. As soon as possible following the "President's Welcome," you will join a small group of other new students to take a tour of the campus and the Union with an upperclass student as your guide.

LIBRARY TOURS

Since assignments begin with the beginning of classes, it is important for every new student, freshman or transfer, to be familiar with the excellent library facilities our campus offers. Library staff members serve as guides for small groups of new students. Both the campus tours and the library tours are scheduled alphabetically in the Welcome Week program and will not conflict with any of the other activities which are scheduled for you.

COLLEGE OPEN HOUSES

Although your activities on Monday following the "President's Welcome" and the Basic College Convocation will depend upon the alphabetical schedule which you are following, all new students are invited to attend an open house which his respective college offers on Monday evening. Here you will have an opportunity to meet for the first time the Dean of the College in which you plan to major. Although each college determines the nature of its program, frequently there is a brief formal meeting followed by an informal period during which you may talk to the Dean and faculty members, raise questions that you may have, become acquainted with upperclass students in your major field, and often become acquainted with the facilities which your college offers its students.

Since your academic program represents the focus of your college experiences and your major purpose in attending college, it is appropriate that you should have this opportunity to become acquainted as soon as possible with representatives of your college. If you are married, your wife or husband is cordially invited to attend this event with you. If you are a "no preference" student, you are scheduled to attend a special convocation a half-hour prior to the college open houses. This meeting will adjourn in time for you to attend an open house of one or more of the colleges in which you think you may be interested in majoring.

Tuesday, September 23

Throughout the day you will follow the alphabetical schedule of required activities.

YMCA-YWCA NIGHT

You may wish to use Tuesday evening to continue your unpacking, to become acquainted with your classmates and upperclass students who live in your residence hall, to visit the music room or the art gallery in the Union, or just to relax after a busy day. For you who wish some organized activity for the evening, the University

YMCA-YWCA offer "Let's Get Acquainted Time," an opportunity to become acquainted with the program of the University Y's, student leaders of the YMCA and YWCA, and with other new students. Following this, the Y's sponsor a mixer dance in the Union Building.

Wednesday, September 24

Today, as every day throughout the remainder of the week, you will follow the alphabetical schedule appropriate for you to complete your required activities.

MEETING FOR SCHOLARSHIP STUDENTS

If you have been awarded a scholarship at Michigan State, you should plan to attend a special meeting Wednesday evening with the Director of Scholarships. The exact time and place of this meeting will be announced in the Welcome Week program.

RECEPTIONS AND PARTIES SPONSORED BY CAMPUS RELIGIOUS GROUPS

So that you may become acquainted with the members, the advisers, and the programs of the many student religious organizations available to Michigan State students, the various groups offer open houses and parties on Wednesday evening. These will be listed in the program so that you may select the group in which you are most interested.

ORIENTATION IN WOMEN'S RESIDENCE HALLS

A second orientation meeting for women students will be held in each of the halls after the closing of the receptions and parties of the campus religious groups.

Thursday, September 25

ORIENTATION MEETINGS FOR NEW MEN STUDENTS WHO DO NOT LIVE IN UNIVERSITY RESIDENCE HALLS

Since there is much about the university community and campus life that all new students need to know, these meetings have been planned for new men students who do not live in the university residence halls. Upperclass students and representatives of the Dean of Students Office will discuss university regulations and social, cultural, and recreational opportunities at Michigan State.

"WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S WHAT?"

Associated Women Students offers you the opportunity to become acquainted with members of the staff of the Dean of Students Office, student leaders, women's organizations on our campus, and the Judiciary and Activities Board of A.W.S. itself.

16 THE HELOT

Friday, September 26

By 5 o'clock Friday afternoon you will have completed all the required activities of Welcome Week. You will want to use the weekend to become more familiar with the campus and its many resources (the library, the museum, the art gallery, the music room and the recreational facilities of the Union, the resources of special buildings, and the natural beauty of the campus). The time may be used, too, to become better acquainted with other new students and upperclassmen, to participate in the social, athletic, and religious activities which are planned for you, and to relax after a strenuous week so that you will be ready to begin attending classes and preparing your first assignments on Monday.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB MEETING

More than 400 students from many lands outside the territorial United States come to Michigan State as students. You will have an opportunity to become acquainted with some of these students who will be living in your residence hall. The International Club is an organization of students from the United States and those from foreign countries. At the meetings and social events sponsored by this group of which you are eligible to become a member, foreign students and students from the United States may really get to know each other and to learn more about each other's country and way of life.

"COLLEGIATE KICKOFF"

Union Board, the group of students responsible for the activities which are carried on at the Union Building, sponsors this All-University dance as a part of your weekend recreation. This is a "get acquainted" dance for which "dates" are not necessary.

INTER-RESIDENCE HALL OPEN HOUSE

Women's Inter-Residence Council and Men's Halls Association sponsor this mixer dance for new students. Like the Union Board dance, this also is "stag or drag."

Saturday, September 27

CALIFORNIA-MICHIGAN STATE FOOTBALL GAME

This is the Spartans' opening game of the 1958 football season. A pep rally for all students will be held Thursday or Friday of Welcome Week.

"GETTING TO KNOW YOU"

The All-University Student Government sponsors this informal dance in the university auditorium for all Michigan State students, but particularly as a welcome to all new Michigan State students. New students may attend this dance with or without "dates," as is the custom in all Welcome Week social activities.

Sunday, September 28

Regular activities and, in some cases, special activities for new students, begin in the various churches and religious groups. All of these events will be listed in the Welcome Week program which you receive at the "President's Welcome."

FIRST WEEK OF CLASSES

Obviously, classes may not begin until you have completed all of the required pre-registration activities and registration itself. Welcome Week provides the time for these activities as well as a period during which you may begin to become familiar with the varied aspects of the university community in which you will live. It is, however, not a normal week in that you will not yet have begun your studies. Although some special activities for new students such as "Activities Carnival" and fraternity "rush" occur after Welcome Week, classes begin Monday morning, September 29.

In most cases, you will have purchased your books soon after you completed registration so that you will be ready to begin your academic work immediately. Instructors usually give first assignments and perhaps assignments for the term at the first meeting of the class so that you may begin to participate actively in the educational experiences which are the primary goal of a university student. Since Michigan State operates on a quarter system rather than a semester system, academic work proceeds at a rapid pace. In fact, you will have completed final examinations for fall term by December 15, less than three months from the time you arrive on the MSU campus. As you know, in college you must assume responsibility for getting your work done. This responsibility begins the first day of classes.

STUDENT EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON ORIENTATION

Throughout the year members of the Student Executive Committee on Orientation plan for the orientation of new students. Every student organization or group which participates in orientation activities appoints a representative to serve on this committee of which the Student Director of Orientation is chairman. Throughout the week you will become increasingly aware of how much Michigan State students are doing to assist you, to acquaint you with our campus and its varied activities, to provide opportunities for you to become acquainted with each other and with Michigan State upperclassmen, and, in general, to begin to feel at home. Members of two sophomore honoraries, Tower Guard and Green Helmet, staff the information tent throughout the week and also provide assistance upon the floor of the Auditorium during the registration period. Members of the Men's Halls Association provide the information tents at the men's residence halls on Sunday of Welcome Week and are co-sponsors with members of the Women's Inter-Residence Council of the dance on Friday evening. Both of these groups participate in the special orientation programs in the residence halls. Students from the Association of Off-Campus students serve as ushers at all the special convocations for new students and their parents. The student guides who conduct the campus tours and the tours to the balcony of the auditorium prior to registration are selected from the student body as a whole. Members of Frosh-Soph Council give assistance in preparing trial schedules. Union Board members conduct tours of the Union during Welcome Week and sponsor "Collegiate Kickoff" on Friday evening. Members of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary, provide the booklets on study methods for you. Upperclass students join the faculty and deans of the various colleges to welcome you to the college open houses.

Associated Women Students make it possible for all women's organizations on the campus to introduce you to their activities at the Thursday evening meeting, "Who's Who and What's What?" Executives from student government and the Association of Off-Campus Students join a representative of the Dean of Students Office to present the special meeting for off-campus men on Thursday evening. Students from the university YMCA and YWCA sponsor the mixer dance on Tuesday evening and join with the International Club to provide special orientation activities for foreign students. Two campus service organizations, Spartan's Women League and Alpha Phi Omega, provide orientation meetings for women transfer students and a coffee hour designed for both men and women transfer students so that they may meet each other and campus leaders. All-University Student Government plays an exceedingly active role in orientation. Student Government President Charles Walther will be among the first to welcome you when he participates in the program on Monday morning. The Student Director of Orientation, Jean Juday, is a member of the Executive Board of Student Government by virtue of her appointment as Student Director. Student Government also sponsors the All-University dance on Saturday evening and its executives participate in other programs during the week.

Student Government's "Spartan Spirit" Committee cooperates with Varsity Club, the Director of Athletics, and the coaches and team members in presenting a pep rally prior to the first football game.

WELCOME TO MICHIGAN STATE

It is obvious that the students of Michigan State and the members of the faculty who serve as advisers to the various student groups are looking forward to your arrival on campus. Welcome Week is indeed a joint endeavor of students, administration, and faculty. All anticipate with pleasure your arrival on campus. Again we say, "Welcome, Spartans!"

CHAPTER TWO

Where You'll Live

YOU WILL FIND that student housing at Michigan State is designed to give you the greatest possible experience in group living, self-discipline and development of good taste and social manners. As you live in university housing, you will learn that there are really very few rules that restrict you. Most of the rules are designed so that you and your fellow students may live harmoniously and efficiently. It's up to you, the resident, to make the most of the advantages which campus housing offers you.

REQUIRED RESIDENCE

University housing is available to single men, single women, and married students. Because residence hall life is of great value in becoming adjusted to new college experiences, all you freshmen and transfer students are required to live in a University residence hall for your first year at MSU.

Exceptions to this rule are students who live at home or with close relatives, married students, and veterans of the armed forces who live in off-campus, University-approved housing. All exceptions must be approved by the Housing Director. Undergraduate men under 22 years of age permitted to live off-campus must reside in University-approved housing. Men 22 years of age and over with a cumulative grade-point average of 2.2 or above, are permitted to live in unapproved housing. Women are required to live in University-approved housing unless 25 years of age or over.

RESIDENCE HALL ASSIGNMENTS

Your assignment to a residence hall is made by the Office of the Housing Director upon receiving from you an approval-for-admission slip. Residence hall assignments are made by the Housing Director on the basis of the date of receipt of your application. Accompanying the application must be a $25 deposit which will be refunded to you when you leave the hall provided there are no deductions for breakage, replacement or forfeiture for failing to notify the University of withdrawal from school.

22 THE HELOT

CONTRACTS

When you are assigned to a hall you must sign a contract for the entire school year for both room and board. If you leave school, the contract is automatically terminated; however, the contract is still in force should you return during that school year. If you wish to obtain a release from your contract for any other reason, you must file a written request on a form secured from your resident adviser. This request is submitted to the Contract Committee whose decisions are final. There are not many reasons warranting a release from your housing contract.

MEAL TICKETS

Board and room payments fixed under the contract are not subject to refunds in case of missed meals. In establishing rates, a certain amount of absenteeism is expected and planned for. Therefore, the residence hall cannot reimburse you if you miss some meals. Likewise, if you are going to be away, you cannot arrange for another person to take your meals. Meal tickets, consequently, are not transferable.

ROOM AND BOARD

It is a University policy that residents pay in advance for room and board. However, because some students would have difficulty doing this, a payment schedule has been devised which is sent to all new students and posted in the residence hall. A certain minimum amount must be paid at registration and two other installments are paid over the quarter. If a student fails to meet an installment, dining privileges may be withheld but he is still responsible for the full term's charges. It is possible under certain circumstances to receive an extension of payment from the Room and Board Office in the Administration Building.

RE-REGISTRATION

During Spring term, room reservations for the next year may be made. If you wish to return to the same room or to change rooms or halls, you should make this known to the manager of the hall where you'd like to reserve a room, who will hold over your deposit for you. If you do not intend to return to campus housing the next year, you should make arrangements for the refunding of your deposit.

MEN'S RESIDENCE HALLS

Michigan State University has an extensive building program that is self-liquidating through payments out of net earnings. Shaw Hall is the largest residence hall of its type in the world. Recently built are the Brody group residence halls which includes Butterfield, Bryan, Rather, Armstrong, Emmons, and Bailey. Brody Hall is centrally located and furnishes dining and recreational facilities for these halls. Almost all of the rooms were designed for double occupancy.

A resident adviser lives in each residence hall to advise and assist residents. He's usually a man completing his doctorate in the personnel and guidance area. The resident adviser's office is centrally located and always accessible to his students. In addition, each head resident adviser has two graduate students assisting him.

Each hall is divided into precincts and there is a resident assistant for each one. The "RA" is a student, usually an upperclassman, who helps students in his precinct over any rough spots they may encounter. He also supervises organization of precinct athletic teams, parties, exchange dinners, other social activities, and general precinct decorum.

The University furnishes the rooms with beds, inner-spring mattresses, pillows, dressers, study desks, chairs, waste baskets, window drapes and, in the Brody group, study lamps. Students must supply their own linen, blankets and towels.

Electrical circuits are of limited capacity and students may not have electrical appliances other than shavers and radios in their rooms. Radio permits are obtained from the "RA."

Each occupant is given a key to his room upon checking into the hall. Lost keys should be reported to the residence hall manager, who will replace them at minimum cost. Unauthorized duplication of MSU keys is subject to penalty.

Room and closet space is limited and residents are encouraged to bring only seasonal attire that will be used. Trunks and foot lockers are not allowed in the rooms; they are to be taken to the storage room and left there until time to leave.

You will be responsible for the appearance of your own rooms. They should be kept presentable at all times and all items should be removed from the floor on the days when a building custodian comes to vacuum. Needed repairs should be reported at once to the "RA."

Meals are served cafeteria in centrally located dining rooms. Preparation of food is under close supervision of a group of trained dietitians; menus are planned by a committee of food supervisors. Menus and hours are posted on the residence hall bulletin board.

Proper attire in the dining rooms is coat, dress pants, shirt, and tie for evening and Sunday noon meals, with ordinary class garb at others. Usually in late spring these rules are somewhat relaxed. Dinner guests may be taken into the residence hall dining room after they have obtained a meal ticket at the switchboard located in each hall. Women are allowed to visit the hall for meals only at certain times.

24 THE HELOT

In each residence is a valet room with equipment for washing, drying, and ironing clothes. There is also a mail room in the first floor lobby. Newspapers, magazines, and recreational equipment such as footballs, billiard cues, and so forth, also may be obtained there.

The switchboard is located in the mail room. When a call is received, the student is buzzed in his room. He returns the buzz and answers the phone in the nearest available phone booth. Long distance calls, even if collect, must be made on the pay phones.

Each residence hall has a grill at which students can obtain coffee, hamburgers and other snacks as well as shaving supplies, toothpaste, cigarettes and candy.

Only female guests allowed in student rooms are mothers. Girls may be brought into the residence hall at certain times but must stay on the first floor. Overnight guests are permitted when there is an empty bed for them. The host is responsible for his guest's conduct while there.

Smoking is permitted anywhere in the unit unless a sign says otherwise. Certain University rules apply to residence halls: no liquor is to be brought in; only campus event solicitations are allowed and then only with permission of the Office of the Dean of Students; explosives, including guns, are never to be brought into the residence halls, and quiet hours established there must be observed.

Each residence hall has a hall council, composed of representatives from each precinct, which is the legislative body of the hall and sponsors other residence hall events. It is financed by a small dues assessment collected from each student in the fall term. Social activities include frequent record dances, exchange dinners with women's groups, term parties and precinct dinners.

Residence halls also take part in various All-University activities, including Spartacade, Water Carnival and Junior 500.

An ever popular place for more casual socializing is the recreation room in the basement where students may play ping pong and billiards.

WOMEN'S RESIDENCE HALLS

Women's Residence Halls, in their endeavor to provide comfortable, congenial surroundings for Michigan State coeds, provide a chance for you girls to practice group living and participation.

Unless you live with parents or close relatives, you are expected to live in University housing. There are several residence halls for undergraduate women: Mayo, Williams, Campbell, Landon, Yakeley, Gilchrist, Mason, Abbot, Snyder-Phillips and Van Hoosen.

Rooms in the residence halls are designed to accommodate two girls. Room furnishings include beds, mattresses, chests, mirrors, study desks and chairs, drapes of a neutral shade, and an easy chair. Coeds are to bring their own linen, blankets, pillows, towels, dresser scarves and study lamps. Coeds may also bring small rugs and wall hangings, but space limits prohibit additional furniture.

Radios may be brought into rooms, but they must be used with consideration for your neighbors. Trunks are not allowed in the rooms; they are to be stored in a luggage room on the ground floor.

Personal laundry facilities, including electric irons and dryers, are available in each residence hall, along with hair dryers. In order that as many girls as possible may use the facilities, coeds are asked to take no more time with them than necessary.

For late snacks, kitchenettes are located throughout the residence halls. Here coeds may brew coffee, make toast and fix sandwiches. Under no circumstances are girls to cook in their rooms as the electric circuits are not made to take the extra load.

Cleaning equipment is provided on each floor. It is fine to use it frequently, but it should always be returned promptly after use. Notices of burned out light bulbs and needed repairs should be left in the front office for the custodian.

A central switchboard is open in each residence hall from 7:45 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily. While long distance calls are to be made from pay phones, local calls go through the switchboard. Each girl will have a room buzzer which lets her know she is wanted on the phone. She takes the call in a booth in the hall. Coeds are asked to limit their phone conversation to five minutes, especially in the evening.

Mailboxes are located in the lobby next to the switchboard office. Each room has a mailbox. No mail is handed over the counter, except that which is too large for the box and special delivery and registered letters, all of which must be signed for when picked up.

Meal tickets for guests may be obtained at the switchboard office.

Parlors are for relaxation and for entertaining dates and other guests. To keep rooms looking attractive, girls are prohibited from bringing overcoats or overshoes to the lounges with them. Books, knitting, and other personal belongings are left upstairs.

The dining room is supposed to be a pleasant place to enjoy three meals a day under relaxing circumstances. Street dress is proper attire always except for times indicated by A.W.S. Food is not to be carried from the room except on a tray for a sick roommate upstairs, for which arrangements have been made with the residence adviser.

The recreation room in the basement of each hall is a pleasant place to have meetings, play cards, or just sit and talk. Most residence halls also have a TV set installed.

26 THE HELOT

An important rule is that girls are never to open outside doors which have been locked. It is an important, if simple, safety precaution in order to keep out persons who do not belong in the building.

Managers of residence halls are expertly trained and able to plan meals from both nutritional and appetizing standpoints. Special diets cannot possibly be undertaken. Best way to reduce the waistline is through participation in the hall intramural program in sports competing with other women's halls. If you have a serious weight problem, consult the head of the foods and nutrition department for possible participation in weight reduction research.

Guidance of students is entrusted to the resident assistants in each precinct. The residence adviser, more commonly known as the housemother, is the person to see whenever you have a social, academic or personal problem so that she may refer you to the appropriate agency on campus which can be of most help to you. Misunderstandings are easily solved with the help of the resident assistant, an undergraduate chosen for her ability to lead and get along with the girls. She knows the resources of the University and can be a helpful friend.

Each residence hall has its own government, officers and a house council. Programs under their supervision include social events and participation in All-University activities as well as intra-hall affairs. Several committees also operate in the residence hall. The standards committee, which sets standards and goals of scholarship and general conduct; the social committee which plans exchanges and parties and the sports committee which directs participation in intramurals are three typical examples.

Residence halls also serve as election districts in selections of A.W.S. Judiciary and Activity Board members and Women's Inter-residence Council representatives.

APARTMENT RESIDENCE HALL FOR WOMEN

Recently completed is the new Van Hoosen residence hall for women. It contains 32 apartments, each accommodating four to six women. Each apartment has a bedroom, bath, living-study room, and kitchen-dining area. It is located east of Shaw Hall along the Red Cedar river.

The students in each unit share the cooking and cleaning in their unit and pay for their own telephone. In addition, they staff the reception desk in the lobby of the hall for approximately four hours a month.

Women must have at least a sophomore standing and recommendations from two persons. They must have a 2.2 all-university academic record.

The general hall governmental organization and program is similar to that of other halls with representation on A.W.S. and the Women's Inter-Residence Council.

MEN'S CO-OPERATIVES

Men's Co-operatives are made up of men students who live and work together, owning and operating their own houses. The men themselves manage their houses, buy supplies, cook and serve meals, make repairs and do everything necessary in a smooth running organization. The Co-operatives carry out these functions under rules and regulations of the University under supervision of an assistant to the Dean of Students.

By living in a Co-operative, a student can save from $200 to $210 a year as compared with rooming and boarding elsewhere. In addition, he gains experience in the operation of both a business and a home.

Co-op members give their time, energy, ideas and spirit to working and living together. They usually pay a membership fee of $5 to $10 and pay a loan to their house of $20 to $150 which is returned when they leave the group. They pay for room and board at a rate considerably below that of the residence halls and put in four to six hours work a week, plus extra work for special repairs and painting.

To apply for membership in a Men's Co-operative, a student may submit his name to the house in which he is interested or place his name on file with the assistant to the Dean of Students in charge of them. Men's Co-operatives at Michigan State are Beal House, Bower House, Elsworth House, Hedrick House, Howland House, Motts House and Ulrey House.

Not by any means all-work-and-no-play boys, men from the Co-ops have sent some formidable athletic teams into the intramural program. Dances, exchanges, Spartacade, Water Carnival, Junior 500, and many other University activities draw representation from the Cooperatives.

Through meetings of the Inter-Cooperative Council, these houses promote their activities and discuss common problems.

MARRIED HOUSING

Cherry Lane Apartments, University Village, and Spartan Village, all in the southwest section of the campus, provide 1,940 modern apartments for married students.

These furnished apartments have wall-to-wall carpeting, venetian blinds, two lounge chairs, a lounge (may be converted to a bed), desk, and dinette with four matching chairs. The master bedroom has a double bed, chest of drawers, and a mirror. In the two-bedroom apartments, the second bedroom has only a chest of drawers.

In addition to these projects, the University owns and maintains 416 barrack-type apartments south of the main part of the campus.

Barrack-type apartments are of two types: one bedroom, and two bedrooms. Each apartment is furnished with an oil space heater, gas hot water heater, gas range, and bathroom. A limited quantity of cots, mattresses, tables and chairs are available at the Married Housing office. Laundry facilities are located in a central building.

Application for assignment to a married housing unit is made at the Housing Office, Room 259, Student Services Building. Because of the demand for this type of housing, a three to nine month waiting period should be anticipated. All residents must continue to carry 12 credits each term they are in school.

A resident may be out of school for one quarter in four and remain in his dwelling unit provided that return to school the following term is contemplated and that arrangements are made in the married housing office. All units are to be occupied by one family except for temporary guests.

Married students may send their children to public or parochial schools in East Lansing. Pre-school children may be sent to the University-operated nursery. A co-operative grocery store is available to all residents in the immediate vicinity of the barrack apartment area.

OFF-CAMPUS HOUSING

All first year nonveteran students are required to live in University residence halls their first year. (Those students serving under the six months' training program are not considered veterans.) Other students may live off-campus and all male students 21 years or under must live in University-approved housing. Coeds over 25 years of age may live in any housing of their choice. A list of these rooms may be secured at the Office of the Housing Director. It is up to the individual to find his own room. He must sign a contract with the householder which is binding for one term. It may be broken only with the consent and approval of the Housing Director. Should the student leave the room for which he has contracted before the term is over, he may be liable for the room rent for the entire term. Overnight guests are permitted only if the householder approves. The householder may charge for this privilege. Women guests are never allowed to stay in students rooms. Intoxicants and gambling are not permitted in approved housing which comes under the general University regulations concerning these misconducts.

The cost of off-campus housing varies with the facilities. Usually double rooms range from $6 to $8 per person, and single rooms from $7 to $10.

All approved off-campus housing has been carefully inspected by both the Housing Office and the City of East Lansing. However, the student should report to the Housing Director any conditions which are unsatisfactory.

Remember that you are a paying guest and do not have all the privileges that you would have in your own home.

GREEK LIVING

The essence of Greek living is close friendship with a group of young people of your own choice. The advantages of small-group living, fine food, and a full program of activities also feature Greek life. The guidance and companionship which you gain through membership will do much to help you adjust quickly at Michigan State. You will receive advice on studies, courses, social life and activities. But most important, you will have a group of close friends whose fellowship you can enjoy.

Fraternities and sororities also have much to offer their members in the way of the development of leadership ability, social maturity, and the give-and-take life that must take place in daily living. The social activities of fraternities and sororities include intramural athletic competition, term parties, dances and parties, living unit display competition, community service projects, and Greek Week.

At MSU there are 20 sororities and 30 fraternities. Almost all these organizations maintain chapter houses in East Lansing and each has a housemother who acts as hostess and counselor. She has her own apartment in the chapter house and is on call at any time to help members with their problems.

Of course, both sororities and fraternities are under University supervision. Women living in chapter houses must observe the same A.W.S. and University regulations as followed by students living in residence halls. Sororities also send representatives to A.W.S. Activities and Judiciary Boards.

Activities of the fraternities are governed by the Interfraternity Council, which is composed of three divisions. The Presidents' Assembly is the legislative body; the Executive Council is the coordinating body, and the standing committees make up the administrative body. I.F.C. promotes harmony among the various houses and coordinates fraternity activities. In addition, I.F.C. supervises fraternity rushing and co-sponsors the fraternity intramural program and Fraternity Sing. It promotes such all-university activities as the I.F.C.-Pan-Hel Ball, Greek Feast and Homecoming display competition. I.F.C. also sponsors several service projects which are supported by the individual houses.

30 THE HELOT

Sororities are under the student supervision of the Panhellenic Council. Two members are elected from each chapter to represent their sorority on the Council. This group supervises rushing and tries to make it as easy as possible. The Council also assists in sponsoring Sorority Sing, Homecoming display competition, Greek Week, and Greek community projects.

The Sorority Presidents' Association also is a part of Pan-Hel. Its main aim is to coordinate the activities and establish better relations among the individual chapters.

For many students affiliation with a Greek letter organization leads to a fuller University life and experience. Whether the student is predisposed to go through rushing or not, he is wise to recognize the important part fraternities and sororities play in MSU life.

SORORITIES

Fall term coeds find themselves faced with the decision of whether or not to join a sorority. New girls are usually confused by the whole system, and realizing this, the Panhellenic Council, governing body for all sororities, has set up a program to acquaint girls with the rushing system. Michigan State University uses what is known as deferred rushing.

In late October, all those interested in rushing attend a convocation in the Music Auditorium where Panhellenic members answer any questions on sorority life in addition to explaining rush. Slides are shown of the different houses and booklets are given out describing each sorority and containing a schedule of teas. These teas are of an open-house nature and serve as an introduction to sorority life. Each girl then is assigned a counselor who meets with her group and gives them further orientation.

Upon returning for winter term, coeds attend another Panhellenic convocation which gives all rushees a preview of the parties to be held the following two weeks. To be eligible to rush, a coed must have an all-university C average the term previous to the one in which she rushes, and she must have been enrolled at Michigan State the previous term. After each informal rush party, the rushee picks up her bids which she has received in a sealed envelope at the Pan-Hel post office. She indicates from the bids she receives, the parties she would like to attend at the next stage. The parties are climaxed by a formal dessert that the rushee attends by mutual choice at only one house.

All during rush, the Pan-Hel post office is open for the rushees. Those having particular problems are encouraged to schedule conferences with their counselors who are impartial and eager to help rushees in every way possible.

After the last stage formal dessert, rushees go to the Pan-Hel post office for the last time and pick up their bids from sororities asking them to pledge. Formal initiation is the next day.

It is a regulation of the National Panhellenic Council that once a coed pledges a sorority and then finds that she has made a mistake and wishes to depledge, she must wait one year before she may pledge another sorority. If a coed should become an active member of a sorority and for some reason decides to resign, she can never join another Panhellenic sorority. So a girl should be sure she is making a wise decision when she selects a particular sorority.

As new pledges, coeds find themselves being drawn into the close harmony of sorority life. Saturday mornings are spent doing pledge duties at the house to become better acquainted with the active members. Sororities have done away with hell week and extreme initiations. Instead, they have their pledges engage in projects which will benefit the community and the sorority house.

In the middle of spring term pledging comes to an end with a very moving and impressive ceremony as the pledge becomes an active sorority member.

FRATERNITIES

The Greek letter social fraternity program at Michigan State is somewhat unique. Criticism often attributed to fraternities in general are for the most part absent.

Hazing, paddling, midnight trips, missions, and degrading practices have been removed from the program. Definite programs and practices are followed to help each brother exploit his abilities in areas of scholarship, leadership, athletics, and activities. As is the case for all student organizations, the use of alcoholic beverages at fraternity affairs is strictly prohibited; also, all social functions at which girls are present must be chaperoned.

Each fraternity selects a housemother who resides in the fraternity house and is available for help and guidance at all times. Each fraternity has two male advisers—one a member of the faculty and the other a businessman. These men provide guidance and direction for the fraternity in the numerous aspects of its program and operation. Since each fraternity seems to have its individual personality, rushees are encouraged to carefully scrutinize each fraternity so that they can make a wiser preference.

The best way to begin learning about fraternities is to attend the Interfraternity presentation during Welcome Week.

Next step is to go through rushing, which begins with an open "smoker" sponsored by the Interfraternity Council during the first week of classes. As part of the smoker, prospective rushees have an opportunity to visit booths set up by the various fraternities on the campus.

During the second week of classes in fall term, open houses are held at all of the fraternity houses. The houses on each side of the campus have these smokers on alternate evenings so as to allow rushees time to visit all the chapters. A rushee may attend as many of these smokers as he wishes since invitations are not issued.

Closed smokers are held the following week. In order to attend any of them, the rushee must have received an invitation. It depends on the individual policies of the various fraternities as to how many closed smokers the rushee must attend before being asked to pledge. Rules of the I.F.C. limit this freedom to some extent, making it illegal to pledge anyone before noon of the third Sunday following the first day of Orientation Week. At the other end, all pledging must cease until winter term after the first eight weeks of fall term have expired. Pledging then begins all over again, with the same limitations, in both winter and spring terms. No student dropped from pledge roll of any fraternity may be pledged to any other fraternity without written consent of the releasing house or until six months after his release has passed.

To be eligible for rushing, a student must have an all-university C average. This does not apply to freshmen just beginning their first term of school. However, to become an active member of the fraternity he must have a 2.2 all-university average and a 2.2 average during the term in which he served his pledgeship. Some fraternities have higher grade average requirements than those mentioned here, but none may have lower.

Once a student is formally pledged in a ceremony at the chapter house, his work begins for one term. Most houses have abandoned the practice of subjecting their pledges to excessive and non-productive tasks, but most houses pride themselves on putting their pledges through a tough but constructive program, during which they must study and pass examinations on fraternity history and traditions, organizations and parliamentary procedure and do the more menial tasks related to upkeep of the chapter property.

Pledgeship may be climaxed by the new concept of Help Week. Help Week discards excessive and non-productive demands on pledges in favor of a strenuous, but useful, program of public service and/or work on the chapter house and grounds.

Pledging is a probationary period for the pledges, but it works in both directions. While the actives put the pledges to the test, the pledges have a chance to observe for the first time the true nature of the organization with which they have affiliated. Then comes attainment of the three-months goal—initiation.

CHAPTER THREE

Rules and Regulations

BECOMING A MEMBER of the Michigan State student body, you will find yourself in a group living situation which provides opportunities for the acceptance of personal responsibility and for the setting and maintaining of group standards which experience has shown are necessary for both individual and group welfare.

The ultimate goal for rules, of course, is to encourage students to pattern their daily living by those standards which are achieved through the exercising of good taste, discretion, consideration for the rights of others, self-discipline and honesty.

LIQUOR

The policy on liquor at Michigan State is one of the most clearly defined of the lot. Whether over 21 or under, no student may bring any form of alcoholic beverage on the campus at any time. A State Board of Agriculture ruling provides automatic suspension for any student violating this policy — with no exceptions.

Drinking in off-campus housing is subject to exactly the same restrictions.

Michigan statute prohibits open bottles of alcoholic beverages in automobiles and minors may not transport alcoholic beverages, open or sealed, in their cars at any time regardless of who bought them.

Minors, of course, are not permitted to purchase or accept alcoholic beverages anywhere in the state. Students caught violating this law are subject not only to University action, in the likely event that state authorities report them, but to criminal prosecution as well.

Students over 21 are subject to exactly the same campus restrictions, but when off campus they are on their own and may drink legally. Excessive drinking, however, is considered strictly in bad taste by both students and the University and disciplinary action is likely to follow immature lack of judgment.

34 THE HELOT

EXCERPTS FROM THE STATE LIQUOR LAWS

436-33 AGE OF PURCHASER — Section 33. No alcoholic liquor shall be sold to any person unless he shall have attained the age of 21 years.

750-141C MINOR FALSELY REPRESENTING AGE IN LIQUOR PURCHASE — Any person under the age of 21 years who shall by documentary evidence falsely represent himself to be 21 years of age or over, for the purpose of purchasing or attempting to purchase any alcoholic liquor, or who shall give any such false information regarding his age to any person selling alcoholic liquor, for the purpose of securing sale thereof to himself or to any person under the age of 21 years, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

750-141A FURNISHING LIQUOR TO A MINOR — Any person who willfully gives or furnishes any alcoholic beverage to a minor (under 21) except on authority of and pursuant to a prescription of a duly licensed physician, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

AUTOMOBILES AND PARKING

A complete set of the Motor Vehicle Regulations should be acquired by each student driver at registration. It is also available at the Department of Public Service headquarters. Student drivers should obtain these regulations and study them carefully, since they are held responsible for all rules and provisions which the regulations contain.

Before any student can have a car in the Michigan State area he must register it with the Department of Public Safety. Any student driver under 21 years of age must bring a letter of consent from his parents or the registered owner of the automobile. Students must have sophomore standing before they can have a car registered on campus.

Student "S" permits are issued to regular students, while special "SP" permits are given to paraplegics and graduate assistants. Parking lots are provided for all student cars south of the Red Cedar river, but "SP" permits may park on North Campus in certain areas.

Fines for violations of the rules are extremely high and infractions of the regulations are considered very serious by the University. Students may appeal to the Student Traffic Appeal Court, if they feel the ticket is unjust.

SOCIAL RULES

The Student-Faculty Social Committee has established a set of rules to govern mixed social activities at Michigan State.

All events involving mixed groups must be registered unless they are strictly for business purposes. Social activities and their chaperones must be registered together before 4:45 p.m. on the Tuesday of the week in which the event is scheduled to take place, at the Women's Division, Dean of Students Office.

All facilities and places used for social activities must be approved by the Social Committee. It is recommended that requests for facilities and sites used be limited to the area within fifteen miles of the University. Two couples or one couple and a resident hostess are required to properly chaperone all social activities.

There is to be no drinking of intoxicating beverages at any time in student residences nor during any social activity whether the activity is on the campus or off. Social activities must be terminated by 12:45 a.m. and dancing must end by 12 midnight on Saturdays.

According to a Student Government ruling, there is a ban on flowers for open University social events, and they are anything but customary at smaller parties in the residences.

At social activities, dates are not permitted to enter sleeping quarters except in cases when such space is set aside for wraps. No permission will be given for overnight social affairs, and the committee has decided there shall be no approved social activities Monday through Thursday, except exchange dinners, desserts, picnics and banquets, in addition to spring term senior dances.

In case of any alleged violations of these and other rules, social restrictions often will be recommended by the social committee.

ELIGIBILITY AND ELECTIONS

For those who tire of studying all the time there is no shortage of extracurricular activity at Michigan State. Student Government, itself a giant employer of student talent, has in its files records of well over 150 campus clubs and organizations.

If none of these suit you, you can always start your own. To bring a new organization into the MSU world, one simply has to submit a list of the proposed organization's members and copies of its constitution. From there Student Government takes over, investigating the nature of the club and its members. If everything seems to be on the up and up, the club is granted a probationary charter for a year. At the end of the year another careful check is made on the manners and morals of the club as Congress debates the advisability of granting a permanent charter. Once your club is going, you must submit each year eligibility lists and officers' names to Student Government so they can check growth and scholastic standing.

Running for office once again brings you in contact with the powers and controls of Student Government, ever watchful lest someone conduct his campaign in anything but the most Simon pure tradition. After demonstrating your ability to maintain a C average, you may find yourself called upon to answer illegal campaigning charges.

So it generally pays to become thoroughly acquainted with the pretentious Student Government election ordinance, which covers nearly every conceivable facet of election procedure and eligibility.

Freshman elections ordinarily fall in the middle of fall term, and copies of the governing ordinance are available for the asking at the Student Government office.

STUDENT CONDUCT

Violation of University rules and regulations leads the student to answer for his action.

While there is no mysterious figure lurking about the campus, cloak and dagger fashion, the University does feel that there is little excuse for students failing to comply with University laws. When a student elects to enroll at Michigan State, he accepts not only the benefits but also the responsibilities, just as in joining any organization. He signs no contract, but he enters a moral agreement with the University.

Student conduct courts, in turn, do not feel they exist merely to punish violators, but more important to return them to and keep them on the right track. Instead of a very formal system of rigid discipline, Michigan State's policy is keynoted with cooperation and mutual responsibility.

This is not to say students can get away with murder. The system has not degenerated into mere wishy-washy acquiescence, and penalties for violations of the rules can be expected by the violator.

In short, students are expected to act their age. Ninety-nine per cent of the students need only to be told the rules and the reasons for them and they will understand their importance, but for those who are inclined to learn the hard way this section is written.

A.W.S. REGULATIONS

Hold it men! Don't pass up this section, it's important that every fellow know the rules and regulations by which coeds must abide.

HOURS — All women's residences close at 10:30 p.m. on Monday through Thursday evening (Freshmen must be in at 10 p.m. until they establish a 2.00 average.), 1 a.m. on Friday and Saturday, and 11 p.m. on Sunday. Fellows may call at women's residence halls after 10 a.m. on Sunday or 11 a.m. Monday through Saturday. If they must call before this, they may only stay in the hall five minutes. Earliest calling hours for off-campus approved houses are 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Coeds may entertain their dates in the hall recreation rooms from 9 p.m. to 12:45 a.m., Friday and Saturday nights and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Women students may visit only those men's residences where an official housemother is present. They may not go above the ground floor nor visit during morning hours. They may not remain in the men's residences beyond the closing hours of women's residences.

SIGNING OUT FOR THE EVENING — Coeds planning to be out of their residences after 8 p.m. must sign a daily "sign-out" sheet. They must include their exact destination so they may be contacted in case of an emergency. Expected time of return, which should be the latest possible, also must be given. Upon returning, the girls must record the time.

For attending all-university functions, coeds are permitted a "10:00 plus" which requires they be in half an hour after the function ends. Girls who have jobs that keep them out after closing hours must get a permit from the A.W.S. adviser in the office of the Dean of Students and submit it to the Judiciary-Legislative Board for approval. She must have a 2.0 all-university scholastic average, and the latest she can stay out is midnight on Sunday through Thursday and 1:30 on Friday and Saturday nights. When she signs out, she must give the name, address and telephone number of her employer.

LATE PERMISSIONS — Late permissions of an hour and a half are granted to all coeds with an all-university 2.0 average. Six "late pers" are given to all girls except first term freshmen who are given only three until they establish an all-university 2.0 average.

These permissions enable coeds to stay out until 11:30 p.m. on week nights and until midnight on Sunday. No late permissions are given on Friday and Saturday nights. Arrangements for using a late per must be made with the housemother before closing hours by signing directly with the housemother on a special sheet as well as noting "late permission" on the regular signout sheet. If a girl has forgotten to sign out or decides to use a late per while she is out, she must personally telephone her housemother before her expected time of return. When calling for a late per, the call must be made at least 15 minutes before regular closing hours.

OVERNIGHT ABSENCES — A girl must sign herself out for an overnight or weekend absence before 10 p.m. on a special signout sheet, the overnight absence sheet. She must leave her residence before closing hours on the night of her departure. She must give the name, address and phone number of the person with whom she plans to stay. She must sign in as soon as she returns. If she expects to be late, she must call her housemother in advance.

Permission to stay in an out-of-town hotel must be sent directly from parents to housemother each time. A student is permitted to remain overnight in a Lansing hotel only with her parents and then only if her parents talk to the housemother directly. Each student may have one overnight permission in either Lansing or East Lansing each term. Two overnight permissions in other college residences are granted each term. No overnights after a dance or registered party may be taken without specific written permission from home in advance.

GUESTS — Coeds may have weekend guests three times during the term. They must be signed in with the housemother before 10 p.m. and also on the regular sign-out sheet. Guests must observe all the rules and regulations of the living unit. Any late minutes incurred by the guest are applied to her hostess.

Guests are allowed only on Friday and Saturday nights and may not stay overnight during final examination week or the weekend before.

GENERAL RULES — A system of quiet hours is enforced in women's living units to encourage effective study. These may be slightly altered by a vote of the hall council. During the final week these quiet hours are continuous. Hours are set aside for showers and typing so studying won't be disturbed.

Smoking is permitted in student rooms, hallways, kitchenettes, recreation rooms, lobbies, study rooms, phone booths, lavatories, and laundries. It is not permitted in the living rooms, sun rooms, dining rooms, and staircases. Consideration should be shown for a roommate who does not smoke.

Bermuda shorts and slacks may be worn to breakfast every day and to lunch on Saturday. Blue jeans may be worn to breakfast and lunch on Saturday only, except for final exam week when they can be worn at every breakfast and lunch except Sunday. Shorts must never be worn in the dining room. Jeans, shorts or Bermudas may not be worn in the living rooms, to classes nor in the Union.

RESIDENCE PENALTIES — Breaking any of the rules that have been discussed brings a penalty of late minutes. A record of these late minutes is kept by the housemother. An accumulation of 15 during the term requires that the girl be automatically "campused" for one weekend night within the following two weekends. The second accumulation of 15 late minutes in a term brings a complete weekend camping (Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights) within the following two weekends. The third 15 late minutes will require a full week of camping to begin immediately.

When a girl is campused, she must remain in her room after 8 p.m. until the next morning at 5:30. She may have one recess of 15 minutes, but she may not leave the living unit during this time. She must notify the housemother and counselor in person at 8 p.m. of the night she plans to take her camping. She may not make or receive phone calls or callers during her camping. She may not receive callers in her room. If a girl is unable to complete her campusing before a vacation, the penalty will be carried over to the next term.

A.W.S. has been delegated the responsibility of controlling and enforcing these and other rules by the administration. Infractions of regulations are dealt with by the A.W.S. Judiciary-Legislative Board. A girl who has a legitimate excuse for breaking one of the rules has the privilege of submitting a petition obtained from the housemother, to the Women's Division of the Dean of Students Office before Tuesday noon following the offense. If it is late, there is a penalty. The petition is referred to the Board which uses its discretion in trying any case and deciding the penalty. A girl may appear before the board in person. If dissatisfied with the judgment, she may reappeal to the Board. Final jurisdiction ordinarily is that of the all-university judiciary, but with permission of an Assistant to the Dean she may further appeal her case to the Dean of Students for Women.

Cleanliness and neatness in dress are considered important by the MSU students.

CHAPTER FOUR

Your Appearance

YOUR APPEARANCE on the Michigan State campus will depend partly on what you wear.

You'll find that MSU fashion emphasizes comfort tempered with good taste. Simplicity is the keynote. Above all, cleanliness and neatness in dress are considered important if you are to have the well-groomed MSU look.

In getting ready to come to the campus, remember that you don't have to rush out and buy a lot of clothes. Use as much of your present wardrobe as possible; it will be new at Michigan State.

Another suggestion: it is not necessary to have an extensive number of clothes. Though Michigan State has most adequate closet space in comparison with other colleges and universities, there is still no room for clothes you do not wear.

Don't worry about getting everything before coming to the campus. You'll find that East Lansing has some fine stores to supply your needs. In case you are making some new selections, keep in mind the climate and location of the University, the activities in which you plan to participate, and the general considerations of style and good taste.

For semi-formal term parties, street length cocktail dresses are worn. The MSU coed at left has chosen a dress with a chemise back, the girl in the center a straight lace sheath, and the girl at right a full-skirted dress.

For the girls, MSU classroom wear generally includes sweaters and skirts, bobby sox and comfortable shoes. White blazers are a campus tradition and MSU women find knee sox practical. About the only departure from usual campus attire is that, for some impractical reason or other, girls at Michigan State don't carry purses on campus, preferring instead to transport wallets, combs, cigarettes, hankies, ad infinitum, in their pockets and notebooks.

Formal and semi-formal wear at MSU means formal or cocktail dresses while informal requests usually more casual wear, depending upon the time or occasion.

On campus you'll see skirts and sweaters or blouses, bobby sox and casual shoes. The coed at left has selected a blouse and skirt with matching cardigan. The girl in the middle wears one of the popular tennis sweaters, while the coed at right prefers a bulky-knit sweater.

Wool dresses, heels and gloves are worn to lectures, concerts and plays. The chemise at left or the wool sheath on the right would be fine.

Three proper outfits for church: knit suit, chemise, or wool suit. Hats, heels, purses, and gloves complete the ensembles.

Pedal pushers or bermudas, bobby sox, and casual shoes find favor with canoers along the Red Cedar. A crew-neck sweater tops plaid bermudas at left, while at right you see a blazer, blouse and bermudas.

All set for the first football game of the fall, this foursome likes a matching skirt and sweater with striped blazer, a bulky knit sweater atop a plaid skirt, a crew-neck sweater over a white blouse, and a man-tailored shirt with shetland sweater.

Ready for the big game.

At the fraternity smokers you'll find the men dressed like this.

You'll see this scene many times in the spring.

On campus and in the Union grill you'll find open white shirt collars, conservative sport jackets and slacks.

MSU men prefer conservative clothes. This doesn't mean you must look like a fugitive from the Ivy League — there is a certain amount of radicalism even in ultra-conservative clothing — but the so-called Eastern style is rapidly becoming the thing. For kicking around campus — to classes and on the most casual of dates — sun tans have become popular, but slacks still are more common.

Those who object to straight-laced dress will be pleased to know that the tuxedo is as formal attire as you will ever have to wear, and then only on those special occasions termed formal. Semi-formal means suits, and casual or informal means suits or sport coats.

MSU students study in a new $4,000,000 library with volume holdings of more than 800,000.

CHAPTER FIVE

The Academic Side

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY recognizes you as an individual with talents and potentialities of your own.

The courses you will take while you are at MSU have as their most important objectives helping you gain an insight into what these potentialities are and helping you in attaining them.

Certainly no course is successful unless it helps you to build new understandings, attitudes and skills. Therefore, it is hoped that you will not limit yourself to courses in fields you have already sampled. Instead, you can find in the instructional program a chance to explore new and different areas of knowledge.

BASIC COLLEGE

Every student, regardless of his intended major field of study, is enrolled in the Basic College during his freshman and sophomore years. An important feature of Michigan State's educational program, the Basic College offers its students a general educational background, valuable not only for its own sake, but also for the perspective it lends to more specialized endeavors.

CURRICULUM — The Basic College curriculum requires that each student complete each of four comprehensive "core" courses: Communication Skills, Natural Science, Social Science and Humanities. These courses are composed of carefully selected subject matter, and emphasis is laid upon the relationships among the contributions of each.

Communication Skills, studied during the freshman year, involves concentration on effective use of living English, both in expression and interpretation. Writing essays, giving speeches, and critically appraising professional and student essays and speeches occupy the student in this course.

Natural Science, usually studied in the freshman year, introduces the student to the methods of science. General understanding and application of principles common to all sciences are stressed, but students have the opportunity to work more particularly in the fields of chemistry, physics, geology, botany and zoology. Both lecture and laboratory sessions are included in this course.

Social Science, usually studied in the sophomore year, is key-noted by integration. Instead of spending a few weeks on each of the many social sciences, students draw from all of them as they investigate three general fields of inquiry: orientation of man in his social environment, gratification of human needs and wants, and regulations of human behavior.

Humanities, also a sophomore course, studies man as a specially endowed being, capable of creative thought and action. Humanities introduces the student to the studies of art, literature, philosophy and history.

Basic College students also are required to take two years of courses in physical education, including one term of swimming, and for the men, two years of Military or Air Science.

CREDIT AND EXAMINATION — Credit in the Basic College may be earned by special examination as well as by enrollment and completion of a course.

In order to take an examination for credit, the student must first request permission from the head of the department in charge of the course in which he hopes to obtain advanced credit. If the department head or Dean of the Basic College judges the student to be qualified on the basis of past performance, independent study of other evidence, he is encouraged to attempt the examination. He must score an A or B on the test in order to pass a course this way.

For the ordinary student, course grades are determined by two-hour examinations at the end of each term together with the instructors' evaluation of the student's class work throughout the term. The two-hour exams, prepared and administered cooperatively by the department and the Office of Evaluative Services, are cumulative, including material from the past term or terms as well as the current one.

MAJOR PREFERENCE — A student who enters the University undecided as to what subject he will elect as his major is classified as a "no-preference student" and has the opportunity to survey a wide range of subject matter and receive expert counseling and guidance before settling on one field of concentration. His enrollment officer will be a member of the Basic College staff and will encourage him to survey carefully as many fields as possible before he makes his final decision.

A student who wishes to identify himself at the outset with a major field is assigned an enrollment officer from the college in which he plans to do his specialization. With the aid of his enrollment officer, he will supplement his core courses with studies prerequisite for entrance into the upper school of his choice and will be encouraged to survey more directly related fields.

PREFERENCE CHANGES — Changes from no-preference to a definite curriculum preference or from one preference to another are implemented through the Counseling Center. If such a change is made within the College of Arts and Sciences, it may be done during registration week through the regular enrollment officer. All other changes must be made in advance of the term in which the change is to become effective so that a new enrollment officer may be assigned.

TRANSFER TO UPPER SCHOOL — When a student has completed his Basic College requirements and has attained 92 hours of credit with an all-university average of C he is transferred to the college of his choice. Failure to present a C average at this time means the student will be dropped from the University unless the Dean of the Basic College grants him an extra term in which to make up the grade deficiency. If at the end of the extra term the student still is deficient but has materially reduced his deficiency, he may be granted one more term in which to put himself in good standing. At the end of the second probationary period, he will be dropped unless he has satisfied the transfer requirements in full.

TERMINAL PROGRAMS — For those who do not need or do not desire a four-year education, Michigan State has established the two-year terminal curricula. Upon the completion of 92 credits, including the basic courses, the terminal student receives appropriate certification.

Terminal courses offered include Agriculture, Insurance, Retail Merchandising, Secretarial Science, Building Construction, Engineering Drawing, Home Economics and Science and Arts. Anyone who wishes to investigate further opportunities in these curricula should consult the University Catalog and his enrollment officer.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

The College of Agriculture, the oldest division of Michigan State University, is also the oldest agricultural college of its kind in the nation. Curricula within the college are planned to give the student an education for a career in modern agriculture which encompasses a wide range of opportunities.

Students entering the College may choose one of the following curricula: Agricultural Business, Agricultural Science, Agricultural Engineering, Fisheries and Wildlife, Forestry, General Agriculture, Lumber and Building Materials Merchandising, Mobile Homes, Packaging, Park Management, Residential Building or Wood Processing and Technology. Students choosing Agricultural Business, Agricultural Science or General Agriculture may select a field of specialization within the following areas or departments: Agricultural Economics, Agricultural Engineering, Agricultural Education, Agricultural Journalism, Animal Husbandry, Dairy, Farm Crops, Food Technology, Horticulture, Poultry, Resource Development or Soil Science.

52 THE HELOT

A terminal course is offered to students who will attend college for only two years.

T. K. Cowden is Dean of the College. Offices are located in 104 Agricultural Hall.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND PUBLIC SERVICE

The largest college on the campus, the College of Business and Public Service maintains curricula to train for leadership and competence in industry, government, or other fields of administration and research.

The College is divided into two research bureaus and eleven departments which include: Political Science, School of Police Administration and Public Safety, School of Social Work, Economics, Accounting and Financial Administration, Personnel and Production Administration, Insurance Law and Real Estate Administration, Business Education and Office Administration, School of Hotel Restaurant and Institutional Management, and Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture. The School of Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management offers courses in those fields, employing the facilities of Kellogg Center as a laboratory. The departments of the College of Business and Public Service all offer curricula leading to degrees in addition to offering elective courses for students of other Colleges.

Dr. Alfred L. Seelye is Dean of the College. Offices are located in 114 Morrill Hall.

COLLEGE OF COMMUNICATION ARTS

Students planning to enter the communications field will find the Department of Speech and the School of Journalism brought together in the College of Communication Arts to offer training and background in their chosen vocation.

The Speech major may concentrate his work in any of these areas: Rhetoric and Public Address, Speech and Hearing Therapy, Theater and Interpretation, Radio and Television, and Speech Education.

In Journalism, the student may major in advertising or news-editorial.

The College offers combination majors for those desiring a broad background or having an interest in the over-all area of communication arts. A broad, general background in the social sciences is stressed for all students.

Gordon A. Sabine is Dean of the College. The Communication Arts office is in 204 Journalism Building.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

The College of Education offers programs leading to degrees and certification in elementary, secondary and college teaching. Areas of specialization which may be elected by education majors include industrial arts, vocational agriculture, trade and industry, home economics education, physical education, health, recreation, administration and supervision, counseling and guidance, educational psychology, and adult education.

Teaching certificates, issued upon completion of the required curriculum, enable graduates to teach in public schools in most states depending on their various requirements. Teaching certificates may be earned by students other than education majors upon completion of a number of education courses.

Student teaching is required of all candidates for the teaching certificate. This internship is carried out in nearby public schools.

C. E. Erickson is Dean of the College of Education. Education offices is in the College of Education Building.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

The College of Engineering has established various curricula to prepare students for entrance into any of several fields. These programs are as broad as possible while still offering a high degree of specialization.

Engineering students are especially trained in practice and application of scientific method, engineering procedures and experimental work in engineering problems.

College of Engineering curricula which may be entered include agricultural, chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical, metallurgical and sanitary engineering and construction, hydraulics and hydrology, soils, structures, surveying and transportation.

J. D. Ryder is Dean of Engineering at MSU. Offices of the College of Engineering are located in 101 Olds Hall.

COLLEGE OF HOME ECONOMICS

Students in the College of Home Economics are educated in the science and art of home living and are prepared for careers in home economics.

The College offers professional training in general home economics, foods and nutrition, child development, clothing and textiles and home furnishings.

54 THE HELOT

Elective courses are offered to students majoring in other fields and a two-year terminal course is offered in cooperation with the Basic College.

Thelma Porter is Home Economics Dean. Home Economics offices are located in 7 Home Economics Building.

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND ARTS

Employing the largest teaching staff of any college at the University, the College of Science and Arts attempts to provide a liberal education for all students and encourages students in specialized curricula to take advantage of its courses.

Science and Arts majors identify themselves with any one of five divisions wherein their major program lies. These divisions include Biological Science, offering training in bacteriology, botany, zoology and nursing education; Fine Arts, including art, dramatics and music; Languages and Literature, containing departments of foreign languages; Mathematical and Physical Sciences, including chemistry, physics, mathematics and geology, and Social Sciences, composed of departments of history, philosophy, psychology and sociology.

Milton E. Muelder is Dean of the College of Science and Arts. Science and Arts officers are in 101 Natural Science Building.

COLLEGE OF VETERINARY MEDICINE

The College of Veterinary Medicine offers two main curricula, one in veterinary medicine, leading to a bachelor's degree in four years or a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree in six, the other in medical technology, leading to a bachelor's degree.

Admissions to the veterinary medicine program are limited to 64 per year, with students from Michigan given first preference and students from states not maintaining a veterinary school given second. A board of selection reviews all applications and admissions are judged within the above requirements, on the student's pre-professional record in the Basic College.

The medical technology curriculum, leading to the Bachelor of Science degree, is designed to train students for laboratory work in bacteriology, pathology and biochemistry. During the senior year in the program, students gain experience as interns in the laboratories of the Michigan Department of Health.

W. A. Armistead is Dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine. Offices are in Giltner Hall, veterinary medicine in room 103 and medical technology in room 100.

SCHOOL FOR ADVANCED GRADUATE STUDIES

A student may apply to be admitted to this school (a) when he shall have completed the master's degree or (b) when he shall have earned at least 45 graduate credits beyond the bachelor's degree at Michigan State University or some other university. It is usually desirable but not mandatory that a student earn a master's degree before proceeding toward a higher degree.

Three types of advanced degrees are offered by this school: Doctor of Philosophy; Doctor of Philosophy for College Teachers; Doctor of Education.

The School for Advanced Graduate Studies acts as a coordinating agency for programs leading to master's degrees, which are administered by the deans of the various colleges.

Thomas H. Osgood is Dean of the School for Advanced Graduate Studies. Office of the School for Advanced Graduate Studies is located in 112 Morrill Hall.

HONORS COLLEGE

The Honors College provides a situation in which students of high ability are constantly challenged by the most advanced work for which each is ready. It also offers flexibility in the program of students who have special educational goals.

All students who have finished their freshman year at Michigan State with a "B plus" average are given the option of entering the Honors College. Transfer students from other universities and from junior colleges are given the same option if their records warrant it.

The Honors College scholar is assigned an adviser in the field of his or her major interest; the adviser and the student then work out a program of study that seems appropriate for the individual. Except for the total number of hours, all course requirements for graduation are waived. Permission may be granted to take advanced undergraduate or graduate courses regardless of usual course prerequisites.

The program may include independent study under a faculty member, course credit by examination, or interdisciplinary study suited to the individual's needs or talents. In short, the students in the Honors College are allowed and encouraged to take more advanced work in their chosen field, or related fields, just as soon as they are ready for it.

In addition, seminars, colloquia and other co-curricular functions are arranged for Honors College students. Members of the College are granted graduate student privileges in the university library.

When the baccalaureate degree is conferred, it will be noted in the diploma that the student is an Honors College graduate.

The Alumni Memorial Chapel is open to all persons of race or religion. Sunday afternoon vesper services in the chapel are sponsored by many campus groups.

CHAPTER SIX

Religious Life

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY recognizes that religious values have a vital place in your present and future life.

While no two of you will probably embark on exactly the same program of courses at Michigan State, all of you will share one common objective — the attainment of a sound philosophy of life.

All aspects of your experience at MSU will have some contribution to your own pattern of living; the various religious student centers near the campus will seek to relate these aspects to the ultimate reality called God and His will for you in your life.

While at Michigan State you will not be pressed to adopt the creed of any other church than your own. You'll find there is respect for the convictions of each individual. There is recognition that there are many approaches to spiritual maturity. You'll be free to develop your own personal insights.

You'll find religious student centers in East Lansing devoting their facilities to the meeting of student needs. These units have staffs of trained ministers, priests, rabbis, and directors of student activities. The groups provide Michigan State students with the chance for participation in programs of religious worship and the opportunity to meet other students through well-planned social activities. If you're interested in a balanced extracurricular program, you may find participation in a religious group a tremendous asset as you prepare for life after graduation.

ALUMNI MEMORIAL CHAPEL

Alumni Memorial Chapel was erected in memory of over 400 students who sacrificed their lives in the armed forces of the United States.

Alumni Chapel was dedicated June 7, 1952, as an inter-faith institution for use by all students and alumni of Michigan State University. The chapel seats 250 persons and frequently is used for many different religious programs as well as private meditation and worship. All faiths are invited to use the Chapel, but each must supply its own minister or leader, as well as its own organist.

Chapel hours for visitors and private meditation and prayer are Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday from 1:30 to 5 p.m.

ASHER STUDENT FOUNDATION

Asher Student Foundation for Men and Asher Student Foundation for Women are privately sponsored residences for Christian Science students at Michigan State University. The purpose of each is to provide an environment conducive to the study and practice of the students' religion and to promote academic progress and participation in student activities.

The men's residence is at 215 Evergreen Avenue and the women's house is located at 207 Bogue Street.

B'NAI B'RITH HILLEL FOUNDATION

The Hillel Foundation at 319 Hillcrest Avenue is designed primarily to give Jewish students a deeper and more significant understanding of their religious and cultural heritage.

The program includes Religious Services on the Holidays and Sabbath evenings followed by Oneg Shabat Socials; Forums, discussion and study groups; Sunday evening Supper Clubs and Kosher Kitchens followed by discussions of timely topics.

Highlights also include Passover Seder, "Hillel's-a-poppin," picnic, and Hillel Awards Supper. Students are invited to use the facilities of the Center.

Foundation Director is Rabbi Abraham Zemach. Sabbath evening services are Friday, 7:30 p.m. and Supper Clubs are held Sunday at 6:00 p.m.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Canterbury Club is the officially recognized Episcopal student organization on the campus. Its purpose is four-fold: worship, study, service and recreation.

Canterbury Club meets every Sunday evening at 6:30 in the All Saints Episcopal Church, 800 Abbott Road, and during the week for special activities that relate to any area of the purpose.

Director of Canterbury Club is the Rev. John Porter who has offices in the All Saints Episcopal Church. Services are held Sunday at 9:30 and 11 a.m., preceded by Holy Communion at 8.

Episcopal students are also invited to Communion and breakfast each Wednesday morning at 7 in the University Episcopal Center at 800 Abbott Road.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

The Christian Science Organization is composed of Michigan State students who indicate a preference for Christian Science when entering the University. Membership is gained upon application and interview. All students, alumni, faculty members and their friends are welcome at the weekly meetings, conducted by students, held at 7:15 p.m. each Tuesday during the academic year in the Chapel of the Peoples Church. These meetings include readings from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, testimonies of healing and experiences and remarks on Christian Science.

Faculty advisers are Dr. Mary Gephart, 427 Grove Street, and Dr. Frederick Alexander, 320 Ann Street.

CHRISTIAN STUDENT FOUNDATION

The Christian Student Foundation is the official interdenominational student organization at Michigan State for BAPTIST, CONGREGATIONAL, DISCIPLES, EVANGELICAL AND REFORMED, EVANGELICAL UNITED BRETHREN, and PEOPLES CHURCH.

Students of these denominations are united in a program which offers creative relationships with others who are seeking to understand and striving to practice the basic tenets of the Christian Faith. Through forum and study groups there is opportunity to discuss topics which are vital in the areas of faith and life. Worship, deputations and service projects offer opportunity for growth and personal enrichment.

Rev. Joseph A. Porter is Director of CSF and is available for personal conferences.

Worship services are held at Peoples Church at 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. Campus Vespers meet at 7 p.m. each Sunday.

FELLOWSHIP OF RELIGIOUS LIBERALS

The Fellowship of Religious Liberals is a Unitarian-Universalist student organization affiliated with the International Religious Fellowship and the continental Liberal Religious Youth.

The FRL has chosen the approach of liberal religion: freedom and responsibility of belief, the use of reason, readiness to accept new ideas and respect for the dignity of all mankind.

Meetings are held Sunday evening at 6:30 in the Union. Programs consist of discussions, forums on ethical, philosophical and religious subjects, and recreation.

INTER-VARSITY SPARTAN CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

The Spartan Christian Fellowship is the new chapter of the National Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship and has a two-fold purpose in examining the claims of Christ on the MSU campus: to provide fellowship for Christian students and to present the claims of Christ found in the New Testament as they pertain to the college student.

Activities include Fall and Spring conferences, campus, programs and various social activities.

Advisers are Mr. and Mrs. Paul DeKoning. Daily Prayer meetings are held at Bethel Manor and the Union Building and informal lecture-type programs are presented Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. in Bethel Manor.

MISSOURI SYNOD MARTIN LUTHER CHAPEL

Location of the Student Center is at 444 Abbott Road. Gamma Delta, the organization of Lutheran Students of the Synodical Conference, meets every Sunday evening at 6 for cost supper and fellowship. The Chapel is open daily from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Dr. Gernard H. Mundinger is the chaplain. Sunday morning worship services are at 9:30 and 11 a.m. and vespers at 8:15 p.m.

NATIONAL LUTHERAN COUNCIL — UNIVERSITY LUTHERAN CHURCH

The Lutheran Student Association meets every Sunday evening at 7. Student members of the congregation sponsor socials and discussions, sing in the choir, usher, teach, and serve on the Church Council. The student lounge is open daily from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. for study and recreation. The church is open at all hours for prayer and meditation.

Services are held Sundays at 9, 10:15 and 11:30 a.m. Student classes are held Sundays at 11:15 a.m. Holy Communion is celebrated on all church festivals and Wednesdays at 7 a.m., followed by breakfast at 7:30.

NEWMAN CLUB

Newman Club, under faculty and chaplain direction, endeavors to contribute to the spiritual, educational and social growth of the Michigan State Catholic student.

Club activities include Sunday Communion breakfasts, biweekly informal hours, daily rosary novena, lectures, picnics, term dances, discussion, retreat and student mission.

Four Masses are offered daily at the Catholic Student Chapel, and facilities of Newman Club are always available. Two priests are in residence at the Rectory, 327 M.A.C., and are available for private and group conference. Pastors are the Rev. Robert E. Kavanaugh and the Rev. Francis Zippel.

Sunday Masses are at 7:30, 8:45, 10 and 11:30 a.m.; Weekday Masses are at 6:45 and 8 a.m.; Holy Days of Obligation Masses are at 7:30, 8:45, 10 and 11:30 a.m. Novena: Miraculous Medal is Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Rosary is daily at 5 p.m. Confessions are Saturday between 4 and 5:30 and between 7:30 and 9 p.m., daily at 5:15 p.m., and before and after Mass.

PAN-ORTHODOX STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Pan-Orthodox Student Association of Michigan State University was formed in January, 1952.

Membership is open to all Eastern Orthodox students at MSU, regardless of national background.

Chaplain and religious adviser is the Rev. Dr. Francis M. Donahue, 1530 Melrose Avenue, East Lansing. The Association encourages students to attend the Divine Liturgy at either of Lansing's two Eastern Orthodox parishes: St. Andrew's at 2721 North East Street, where Divine Liturgy is celebrated at 10 a.m. on Sundays; or at Holy Trinity (Hellenic) parish at 109 East Elm Street and South Washington Avenue, where Liturgy is celebrated at 10:30 a.m. on each Sunday. Confessions are heard in both parishes at times appointed by the pastors. Students may consult Dr. Donahue by calling ED 2-5539.

PRESBYTERIAN CAMPUS CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Uniting all Presbyterians on campus is the purpose of this group. Its purpose is three-fold: worship, fellowship and service. A Sunday evening program with supper at 6:30 followed by discussion and worship is held each week at the Presbyterian Campus Center. Campus pastor is the Rev. Jack Harrison, 131 Albert Street.

RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS

Friends, or Quakers, meet each Sunday at 11:30 a.m. at College House, 148 Grand River, for the purpose of waiting upon God in fellowship. Meetings for public worship are grounded in silence, without program and without the meditation of an individual between the worshiper and God.

Through our American Friends Service Committee and the Friends' Committee on National Legislation we work for the assistance of those in need, for the abolition of discrimination of race, creed or class, for removal of the causes of war and development of institutions of peace.

Meetings for business, discussion groups and work projects are scheduled throughout the year. Sunday School for children is held in the basement concurrently with the meeting for worship. Pot-luck dinner follows worship on the first Sunday of each month.

STUDENT INTER-RELIGIOUS COUNCIL

The Student Inter-Religious Council is a body composed of the presidents and representatives of the religious organizations which serve the Michigan State University student body. The Council serves as a means of communication, and cooperation between the religious groups.

TRINITY COLLEGIATE FELLOWSHIP

Trinity Collegiate Fellowship, a Christ centered, undenominational student organization, is designed to deepen and strengthen the spiritual life of the MSU student. Primary activities include encouragement of regular Bible study, cultivation of prayerful life and promotion of a sane, Scriptural evangelism.

Weekly meetings of Trinity Collegiate Fellowship are held at 6:30 p.m. on Sundays in the Educational Building of Trinity Church.

Pastor is the Rev. E. Eugene Williams of 343 Division Street. Services are held in East Lansing Trinity Church, 120 Spartan Avenue, at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday School convenes at 9:45 a.m. and prayer and Bible study meetings are held on Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m.

UNIVERSITY YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The University YMCA, active on the MSU campus since 1881, seeks to provide a center for growth and fellowship through searching, discussion, and service for student and faculty men who are concerned to give an expression to the Christian religion which is intellectually mature, emotionally satisfying and socially adequate today and in the future.

Membership meetings are held every alternate Wednesday night at 7:30.

Membership in the YMCA is open to any student who is in sympathy with the purpose and program. Membership does not imply the holding of any prescribed set of religious convictions.

The YMCA is located at 314 Evergreen, East Lansing. Robert M. Walker is the executive secretary and Helen Brugman is the program assistant.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Planned and directed by students, the program of the College YWCA emphasizes the application of the Christian faith through experience in human relations and leadership training for each of its members.

Membership in the YWCA is open to any woman student wishing to explore the Association's purpose of uniting in the desire to realize a full and creative life through gaining knowledge of God, to have a part in making this life possible for all people and to seek to understand Jesus and follow Him.

Membership is divided into small groups, each working on projects in which they have a special interest. General membership meetings are held the first Saturday of every month.

Director is Mildred Kirwin, 314 Evergreen.

The new Student Services Building

CHAPTER SEVEN

Services and Facilities

MANY SERVICES AND FACILITIES will be available to you as a Michigan State student. Take advantage of your opportunities to call upon the services and to use the facilities. They are intended to help make your stay at Michigan State an enjoyable, meaningful one.

LIBRARY

MSU's new $4,000,000 library has total volume holdings of more than 800,000, a volume capacity of more than 1,000,000, a seating capacity of 2,500, and a full-time staff of more than 80 persons.

Students now have the convenience of open book shelves in spacious multiple study areas. To obtain your material in the shortest time, a working knowledge of the library's divisions and procedures is important.

The ground floor of the building provides space for assigned reading, biography, fiction, and documents.

The first floor contains the Social Science and Literature room, which has material relating to philosophy, sociology, history, and English, American, German, and French literature. The card catalogs, location directory, circulation and reference desks are located in the lobby.

Divisional rooms on the second floor contain the College of Business and Public Service, the College of Education, and a Fine Arts room.

The third floor has divisional rooms for Physical Science and Engineering, and Biological and Applied Science, which includes agriculture, home economics, and veterinary medicine.

Your first stop when looking for your book should be the card catalogs and the location directory on the first floor. Then, if your book is in the stacks, present your card at the circulation desk. If the book is not in the closed stacks, the directory will give you the exact location in the open stacks rooms.

64 THE HELOT

Information about periodicals may be obtained from the Central Serials Record adjoining the circulation desk. Periodicals, both current issues and bound volumes, are located with the books covering the same subjects.

Books, pamphlets, periodicals, and documents assigned by instructors must be used in the library only, unless they are on a one or three-day reserve.

These reserved books are due at 10 a.m. on the date due, excepting Sunday, when the time is 2 p.m. A fine of 25 cents per day is charged for each day overdue.

Books may be checked out overnight from the assigned reading room between 9 p.m. and 11 p.m. every day except Saturday, when the hours are 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. Books are due the following morning by 8:10 except Sunday, when they may be kept until 2:15 p.m. A book may be reserved for overnight use by filling out a reserve slip at the desk. Only one book per course may be taken out overnight.

No book may be obtained at the library unless the student presents his identification card.

Books from the divisional reading rooms may be charged out for two weeks with the privilege of renewal if not reserved for another borrower. If a book is returned late, the student is charged five cents per day for each day overdue. In case the book is lost, the borrower must pay the fine as well as the cost of the book.

The library is open on weekdays from 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m., Saturdays from 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m., and Sundays from 2 p.m. to 11 p.m.

UNION BUILDING

The hub of most student activities at Michigan State is the Union Building. Activities within the building are planned and carried out by a student Union Board, whose office is located on the second floor.

The Union is the center of student recreation and relaxation for freshmen as well as upperclassmen. Its functional and attractive facilities are designed to enrich college education and supplement academic accommodations and services.

Probably the most populated spot in the Union is the grill. Off the north wing of the grill is Old College Hall, a room traditionally reserved for seniors. On the ground floor below the grill is the cafeteria. With seating capacity of more than 450, it is an ideal place to take guests for dinner.

In the first floor concourse is the main desk, which serves as an information center for visitors and students, a cigar and cigarette counter, news stand, and the office for tickets to All-University activities except athletics.

Lost and Found, where articles picked up from all over the campus are deposited, is located in the first floor checkroom in the concourse. Articles are kept for a maximum period of 90 days and then turned over to charitable organizations.

For relaxation there is a spacious mixed lounge as well as a women's lounge and a men's lounge. Among the recreational facilities are 16 modern bowling alleys with automatic pinsetters and 14 billiard tables located in the Union basement.

Also located in the Union are a barber shop, a browsing room, a telephone room, an art room which displays the works of students and faculty members in addition to collections from famous art museums, and a music room where students may listen to all kinds of phonograph recordings, from popular to classical.

During Welcome Week the busiest place in the Union is the bookstore where books, supplies, and MSU souvenirs may be purchased.

The second floor ballroom, with a capacity of 300 couples, is used for record and band dances. Dances occasionally are held in the parlors across the second floor concourse. Also found on this floor are private dining rooms and the Union business office.

Meeting rooms in the Union are available for any organization by reservations made through the Union manager's office.

A table tennis room is located on the fourth floor. Paddles can be checked out at the first floor checkroom. Across from the table tennis room is a card room equipped with card tables and chairs. Cards may be secured at the first floor checkroom.

Building rules have been kept to a minimum, but a few are necessary for the benefit of the entire student body. Food is not to be taken from the grill to another part of the building. No pictures, furniture, or other equipment is to be moved from one room to another or from the building. All decorations, posters, stunts, showcase and union desk displays must be approved beforehand by petitioning the Union Board. A detailed list of building rules is available in the Union Board offices on the second floor.

KELLOGG CENTER

Kellogg Center for Continuing Education is headquarters for all extension programs. Built with funds from the Kellogg Foundation for the promotion of the health, education and welfare of mankind, without regard to sex, race, creed or nationality, the Kellogg Center each year serves as host to hundreds of conferences.

66 THE HELOT

The building also provides training facilities for hotel, restaurant management and institutional management students. Its facilities include 21 conference rooms, several dining rooms, a banquet hall and ballroom and 193 twin-bed rooms.

Parents of students, alumni, visiting athletic teams, Lecture-Concert Series performers and college business visitors are welcome to make use of the Kellogg Center facilities.

INTERNATIONAL CENTER

A home away from home for all State students is the International Center, located on Circle Drive directly across from President Hannah's home. The Center provides an opportunity to become acquainted with students from countries all over the world and observe their customs. All students are invited to use the Center's recreational facilities. Any campus organization may use the International Center for its meetings and parties.

Student Government and the International Club sponsor the annual International Festival spring term which presents exhibits from many foreign countries.

The house is open from 9 a.m. to 9:45 p.m. Monday through Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 11:45 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from 1 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. on Sunday.

WKAR and WKAR-TV

WKAR-TV, the campus television station, carries both educational and feature programs. Departments of the University as well as outside agencies supply material and personnel for the shows. WKAR-TV broadcasts certain athletic events, classroom activities and serves as a training aid in teaching students TV techniques.

The campus radio station, WKAR, AM and FM, is the third oldest station in Michigan. The station carries educational shows and local programs which originate in the studios of the Auditorium.

Over 30 students are employed as announcers, technicians and clerical help. Those students interested in such work should contact the station.

HEALTH CENTER

Michigan State maintains a complete medical and hospital service for students at the Olin Memorial Health Center. The Health Center protects the health of the students and enables them to return to classes as soon as possible after illness. All students enrolled for more than 10 credits are considered full-time students and are eligible for health service.

Regular office hours Monday through Friday are: 8:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. For service during these hours there is a fee of 25 cents per visit. The Center is open on Saturday and Sunday by appointment. For service after 7:00 p.m. there is a dollar charge.

There is no limit to the number of visits students may make to the Health Center. Routine medical supplies are dispensed without charge and drugs are furnished at cost plus a small handling fee. Students may be hospitalized in the clinic up to 40 days per college year without charge. After that, there is a flat rate of $12 per day. Except for students who sustain injuries while participating in classroom activities or employment and are unable to make their way to the hospital, a charge is made for ambulance service.

Students admitted to the hospital are under the care of the University staff except for minor surgery which is referred to outside surgeons and paid for by the students. In the event of emergency surgery, an immediate effort is made to contact the parents by phone. Students under 21 must have parental permission for major surgery.

Last fall term the Health Center was enlarged from a 72 bed capacity to 142 beds. Another new policy will enable students to have a pre-entrance physical examination by their family doctor and turn the results over to the Health Center.

COUNSELING CENTER

Many new students need help in adjusting to their university environment. Some may be concerned about choosing a vocation or selecting a particular major; some may discover that they are having difficulty with their course work; and some may have personal problems.

The Counseling Center has been established to give assistance to students with problems such as these. In a permissive atmosphere in which he may express his feelings and thoughts, the student is helped by the counselor to gain new insight into his problems and possible solutions.

A complete testing service is maintained, and when it is appropriate, the counselor and the student may select tests to appraise the student's abilities, interests, or personality characteristics. Students also frequently make use of the files of occupational information which the Center makes available to them.

Counseling is usually initiated by the student. A student desiring to consult a counselor about a problem should make an appointment with a counselor of his choice at the Counseling Center, Room 207, Student Services Building. The Center is open from 8 to 11:45 a.m. and from 1 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday each week.

PLACEMENT BUREAU

The Placement Bureau, in the new Student Services Building, is one of the outstanding centralized placement operations in the country, serving students, and alumni. The Placement operation is the result of the administration's philosophy, "that the university not only has an obligation to educate its students but also a responsibility of helping these same students find the right job after their formal training." Its main service is to graduates who are seeking jobs in their specialized fields.

The Bureau serves seniors in securing jobs after graduation by arranging interviews with interested companies, by keeping up-to-date records of job opportunities, holding an annual Career Carnival and sponsoring career conferences.

A service to students seeking part-time employment while attending school is also maintained by the Bureau. Employers on and off campus list job opportunities with the Bureau and these in turn are posted on the Student Employment Service bulletin board. Students possessing certain skills that are in demand by employers are registered by the Bureau and referred to positions as they are listed. For on-campus jobs, full-time students are permitted to work up to 20 hours per week. To work more hours a high grade point average is necessary and written permission from the Dean of Students is required. First term freshmen are advised not to work until they are certain that they have the time to work without interfering with their studies. Types of jobs that are available through the Placement Bureau include janitorial work, office work, sales, housework, tutoring, waiting tables, yard jobs and work in the skilled trades plus others.

The Placement Bureau also arranges contacts for summer employment for students. Job opportunities are solicited from prospective employers and then listed in the summer catalog according to the type of job. Opportunities are listed in fields of business, industry, hotel management, packaging, recreation, food service, construction and many other areas.

Annually, the Placement Bureau sponsors the Career Carnival. This event is designed to give vocational information to the entire student body. Its success can be measured by the multitude of companies who return to the campus year after year to be represented. This, plus the enthusiasm of the student body who have thronged to the Carnival since its inception show that it is now one of the key events of the school year at Michigan State.

IMPROVEMENT SERVICES

The Basic College has established five improvement services to correct weaknesses in reading, writing, speaking and arithmetic skills.

Enrollment in the arithmetic, speech and writing improvement services is based on the results of orientation tests given to all new students. Those who fail to pass are required to enroll in these services without receiving college credit.

Enrollment in the reading improvement service is optional and enrollment in English as a foreign language, a course designed for students whose native language is not English, is also optional for freshmen. Any upperclassman may enroll in any of the improvement services if he feels it will be helpful.

The office of Improvement Services is located in Building A-3 on South Campus. Enrollment is done during registration in the same manner as in regular courses. All of the improvement services, except English as a foreign language, meet two hours per week. They are non-credit courses and are given at no additional cost to the student. The work is usually carried in addition to regular studies and a grade is given upon completion.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The scholarship program at Michigan State is administered through the Scholarship Office in the Student Services Building. Most scholarships available are those established and maintained by the State Board of Agriculture from the General Fund. There are also scholarships which have been established for students in particular fields.

A faculty committee on scholarships reviews all applications. The Entrance Scholarship is awarded to qualified high school seniors of Michigan who have demonstrated ability in scholastic performance, citizenship and extra-curricular activities. These scholarships are granted for one year, and if the student's point average is 2.6 or higher at the end of that time, his scholarship will be extended on a yearly basis.

Students who have completed three terms or fifty credit hours, regardless of school or residence, may apply for scholarships if they exhibit an outstanding academic record, leadership ability and financial need. Transfer students may qualify for these awards after they have completed one term. There are certain scholarship aids to be granted under conditions prescribed by the donor. These endowment scholarships are used generally as grants-in-aid and the Scholarship Committee requires that the student be enrolled for one year and show academic ability as well as financial need to the point that the applicant could not remain in school without this aid.

LOANS

A university loan service is set up to aid deserving students who need assistance in meeting payments for tuition or board and room. Three general qualifications are required for any type of loan: evidence of need, an All-University C-average and a satisfactory university citizenship record.

Any student, except first term freshmen, is eligible for a short term loan which is limited to $150. These must be repaid within six months. There is no interest charge but there is a one-day wait while the loan is processed. Occasionally, loans up to $300 are made to upper classmen who show exceptional need. These are without interest while the student is in school.

Men make applications for loans at the Men's Division of the Dean of Students' Office. Women apply at Women's Division. Loans are repaid at the cashier's window on the first floor of the Administration Building.

LECTURE-CONCERT SERIES

Michigan State presents a Lecture-Concert Series which offers a varied program to the students and the general public.

The series serves both educational and entertainment purposes, and most students include it as an important part of their college life. Full-time students are admitted to all regularly scheduled programs without charge. The State News announces ticket distribution dates for the programs.

Coupons in your activity distribution may be exchanged for the tickets.

CHAPTER EIGHT

Student Government

AND OTHER GOVERNING BODIES

ON MARCH 20, 1908, the student body of what was then Michigan Agricultural College held a mass meeting at which they passed the following resolution: "For the future settlement of all class matters and the maintenance of the college traditions and customs, a 'Student Council' shall be formed."

This was the beginning of student self-government on our campus. Today, 50 years later, this "Student Council" has developed into what has been termed one of the three best student government structures in the country — your All-University Student Government.

There are many factors that have caused the growth of A.U.S.G. The administration at Michigan State has been a leader in the field of giving students increased voice and responsibility in their own affairs. The students have taken this responsibility well and have more than justified the administration's confidence.

Finance, usually a big problem with student governments, is no problem at MSU. Student Government is financed by a tax on the students which is collected at registration. This revenue allows A.U.S.G. to carry on its various activities.

When the Student Services Building was completed in the fall of 1957, Student Government, along with many organizations, found a new home. Student Government is now housed in 12 offices on the third floor. In addition to these offices, there are several conference rooms where meetings may be held. These new physical facilities have done much to increase the efficiency of Student Government.

In 1951, Michigan State students voted a new constitution for Student Government. In place of the one-branch system of government formerly used, the new constitution established the present three-branch federal system. This new system has proven extremely successful. The A.U.S.G. is divided into three main branches: executive, legislative, and judicial.

Executive Branch

PRESIDENT

The president of A.U.S.G. is the representative and leader of the student body. In addition to this, he is head of the executive branch. He is responsible for the smooth running of A.U.S.G. and its activities. The president is elected in a campus-wide election during spring term.

ADMINISTRATIVE VICE PRESIDENT

The administrative vice president is the "right-hand man" of the president. He tries to take much of the administrative load off the president.

TREASURER

The treasurer is often considered the most important person in Student Government. He is responsible for the control and allocation of money. Success or failure of an administration often depends upon the treasurer and his handling of the money.

CAMPUS CHEST

Campus Chest is the only legal money-raising body on campus. Its purpose is similar to that of a community chest. The money raised by Campus Chest is given to many charities such as the World University Services and the Y.M.-Y.W.C.A.

In the fall term, Campus Chest has its annual fund drive. It is from this drive that it gets most of its money. Winter term Campus Chest puts on Michigan State's famous winter carnival, Spartacade. Other events such as Penny Nights and balloon sales complete Campus Chest's activities.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Government charters nearly 200 campus organizations. Organizations Bureau is responsible for co-ordinating the activities of these organizations. It provides organizations with services such as silk screening and mimeographing. The bureau puts out Sparta-Guide, Student Organizations Directory, and newsletters to assist the organizations. It is also responsible for chartering new organizations.

SPARTAN SPIRIT

Michigan State's highly successful pep rallies are put on by the Spartan Spirit Commission. These pep rallies are the highlights of Student Government activities during fall term. Spartan Spirit also sponsors football train trips, and when MSU has gone to the Rose Bowl, it has co-sponsored a Rose Bowl trip by students.

ELECTIONS

Freshmen have their first chance to enter into campus politics in the fall term. This is when their class officers are elected. During spring term the A.U.S.G. president, student congress members, and other class officers are elected. It is the responsibility of the Elections Commission to run these elections successfully. In addition to administering the election laws, the commission works with candidates by giving them advice and answering their questions.

ORIENTATION

Every student who enters Michigan State comes in contact with the orientation program. The director of orientation is chairman of the Student Executive Committee on Orientation. This committee is responsible for carrying out much of the orientation program.

ACADEMIC BENEFITS

Academic Benefits tries to make students aware of the many cultural and intellectual opportunities available at Michigan State. Politics 1958, a series of famous political speakers, is sponsored by Academic Benefits.

JUNIOR COLLEGE RELATIONS

Encouraging junior college graduates to come to Michigan State is the job of Junior College Relations. This is accomplished through sending to the "J.C.'s" literature on MSU and by inviting J.C. students up for weekends to see the campus.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Public Relations Department has the job of making Student Government and its activities more well known to the students, administration, community, and other schools.

PERSONNEL

The Personnel Bureau is responsible for finding and placing interested and effective people in Student Government. It welcomes anyone who shows genuine interest and a willingness to work.

THE PRESIDENT'S CABINET

The director of each of the foregoing bureaus is a member of the President's Cabinet. This cabinet acts as a co-ordinating body for Student Government.

NATIONAL STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

Michigan State has just recently joined N.S.A. It is a confederation of more than 360 schools throughout the nation representing nearly a million students.

Legislative Branch

Student Congress is the legislative branch of the Student Government. All living units, including fraternities, sororities, residence halls, married housing, and off-campus housing, are represented.

After spring elections when the 54 congressmen are elected, the new congress meets to elect new officers and adopt rules of procedure.

The speaker of congress is the leader of Student Congress. He sits on the President's Cabinet and represents congress on the Spartan Roundtable. The secretary keeps the minutes and the clerk keeps track of bills and resolutions.

Student Congress has the responsibility of appropriating money for the operation of Student Government. It charters organizations, sets up election rules, establishes eligibility rules, establishes executive branch departments, works on the motor vehicle regulations, and passes other legislation which will be of benefit to the students.

When a bill is introduced, it is referred to a committee. There are six committees: Organizations, Elections, Finance, Student Rights and Welfare, Congress Business and State Affairs, and Traffic Court. After it has been discussed in committee, it is returned to congress and a vote is taken. If it passes, then it becomes an ordinance.

When students are faced with a problem, they can go to their congressman who can take it up in Student Congress. Congress has done much to work out campus problems through its bills and resolutions.

Judicial Branch

In 1956, the judicial reorganization amendment to the constitution was passed by the students. This amendment established the All-University Judiciary, the Student Traffic Appeal Court, and other special courts. The justices are appointed by the president with the approval of Student Congress.

ALL-UNIVERSITY JUDICIARY

All-University Judiciary decides whether enactments made by Student Congress are constitutional. This branch of the Student Government rules on the actions of the congress and the executive. It hears appeals from the men's and women's judiciaries and the election reviewing board. It also hears student disciplinary cases.

All-University Judiciary is comprised of a chief justice and eight justices, which includes six students, a graduate student, and a representative from the offices of the Dean of Men and Women. All nine are voting members of the court, and five constitute a quorum.

All disciplinary cases, except those involving remedial or medical treatment, are referred to the Student Judiciary. This highest of all courts handles cases which are appealed to it from the lower courts, such as residence halls, fraternities, sororities, Associated Women Students, and the election reviewing board.

All decisions reached by this court are subject to review by the Dean of Students, but in the long history of the court, a decision has never been reversed.

The Judiciary determines its own rules of procedure and the justices may be reappointed for a 12-month period. This branch of Student Government meets in special session upon 24-hour notice at the call of the chief justice when a case arises in which immediate consideration is requested.

STUDENT TRAFFIC APPEAL COURT

The Student Traffic Appeal Court meets with students who are appealing campus traffic tickets in private sessions, and if it decides in favor of the student he is not compelled to pay the fine. The seven-man tribunal is the highest court you can appeal to regarding driving and parking violation tickets.

Other Benefits to the Student

Besides the many activities and services already mentioned, A.U.S.G. provides other benefits.

STUDENT INSURANCE

42.6 per cent of the student body is enrolled in the student insurance program sponsored by A.U.S.G. This program has extensive year 'round health benefits, and an accidental death clause is available.

STUDENT LOANS

Student Government provides a small loans bureau for students. Up to $10 may be borrowed by students short of cash.

TRAVEL ABROAD

When Michigan State joined N.S.A., it made available to MSU students the N.S.A.-sponsored World Travel Program. This program gives students a wonderful opportunity to see the world at greatly reduced prices.

ACTIVITIES CARNIVAL

In 1949, A.U.S.G. passed an ordinance asking A.W.S. and Men's Council to maintain an Activities Carnival. A.U.S.G. has always supported Activities Carnival and in the last few years has paid a major portion of the Carnival expenses.

76 THE HELOT

SALK POLIO AND ASIATIC FLU SHOTS

A.U.S.G. administered the Salk Polio Vaccine and Asiatic Flu Shots which were made available to all students.

A Proud Past

A.U.S.G. has undertaken many special projects in the past which have contributed much to Michigan State University.

NAME CHANGE

The pressure constantly kept up by A.U.S.G. helped change the name of Michigan State College to Michigan State University. Petitions signed by thousands of students, debates with students of the University of Michigan, and a general information program, contributed greatly in obtaining the name change.

MSU LIBRARY

As the student population grew, the old library became more and more inadequate. However, there seemed to be no action by the legislature for a new library. Finally, A.U.S.G. set up an extensive program to obtain funds for a new library. Among other things, thousands of letters were sent to parents urging them to write their legislators urging a new library for Michigan State University. The legislature responded and the new library was built. It would have been built eventually, but A.U.S.G. was instrumental in obtaining the library so early.

HUNGARIAN RELIEF DRIVE

When the Hungarian revolt took place, A.U.S.G. responded with a clothing and fund-raising drive for Hungarian refugees. The drive was a tremendous success. Tons of clothes were obtained and MSU contributed more money to the national drive than any other school in the country.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND

In 1957, A.U.S.G. held an ice show, Silver Blades. The proceeds were placed in a scholarship fund. This became the first student-financed, student-administered scholarship fund in the country.

BIG TEN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

When the Big Ten Student Association was formed, MSU provided it a home and contributed greatly through leadership. The Big Ten Presidents' Association eventually replaced the activities of the Student Association, but even then MSU played a prominent role in its affairs.

Whether it is an ice show, Rose Bowl trip, pep rally, name change, or a new library, A.U.S.G. has established a record that is looked up to by student governments throughout the country.

Participation

A.U.S.G. is only as good as the student who participates in it. It is constantly looking for interested students for work. There are several ways an interested student can get into A.U.S.G. The Personnel Bureau has "rushes" at which students are interviewed. These are announced in the State News. Students can also make personal appointments with the personnel director for an interview. Activities Carnival affords another opportunity for students to sign for an interview. Running for Student Congress is an extremely effective way of becoming involved in A.U.S.G.

Regardless of how a person joins A.U.S.G., he will find the experience rewarding. The chance of meeting people, the opportunity to become acquainted with all aspects of the University, and the opportunity to create and carry out new projects are just some of the benefits of working in A.U.S.G.

OTHER GOVERNING BODIES

MEN'S ACTIVITY COUNCIL

Men's Activity Council was formed with the purpose of uniting all male students to provide such services as would be advantageous to the whole student body. A.W.S. and Men's Council sponsor the annual Activities Carnival, STUN and the winter blood drive. The Council is represented on the Executive Board of Student government, Student Faculty Social Committee, Student Guide Program, and the Elections Review Board. Rush is open fall term by petition to all full-time students (12 or more credits) with a 2.0 all-university average.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Interfraternity Council governs the 30 social fraternities on campus. Three divisions, the President's Assembly, Executive Council and five standing committees are set up under the new IFC constitution. IFC sponsors rush smokers and open houses and awards scholarship trophies each term. Purpose of the Council is to assist the fraternities in maintaining a high level of campus citizenship and in developing a well-rounded program of participation in all worthwhile campus activities.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Panhellenic Council is composed of two representatives from each of State's 20 national sororities. Its purpose is to maintain high standards in sorority life and to govern sorority relations with the University and among themselves.

78 THE HELOT

Pan-Hel sponsors the Sorority Sing, supervises rushing for women, supports a student from India by paying room and board for her and provides for entertaining foreign students in its various chapter houses, and its members perform daily hospital duties at the Health Center. The Council also assists IFC with preparations for Greek Week and the IFC-Pan-Hel Dance.

WOMEN'S INTER-RESIDENCE HALL COUNCIL

This is a coordinating body for the women's residence halls. It consists of one member from each hall except Mason, which is allowed two representatives because of its size. Purpose of the Council is to stimulate interest in activities within the halls, create among the girls a feeling of belonging, develop strong friendship and inspire wholesome attitudes and ideals. The Council sponsors the annual Homecoming Display Contest, Women's Inter-Dorm Sing, Officers' Banquet and an all-university dance.

WOMEN'S RESIDENCE HALL PRESIDENTS COUNCIL

This group meets weekly to discuss matters that living units have in common. It makes for better communication and sharing of solutions to problems on the part of all residence hall councils.

MEN'S INTER-RESIDENCE HALL COUNCIL

This consists of the president, secretary, treasurer-vice president, two elected representatives from each dormitory and the presidents of each men's residence hall. Each member serves for one year. Purpose of the Council is to develop residence hall spirit, foster inter-dorm activities and strengthen residence hall relations, encourage participation in sports and social and school activities and serve as a coordinator for members of the halls. To fulfill its aims, the Council sponsors the laundry facilities in cooperation with the Foods Department, the Inter-Dorm Dance, the Big Ten Inter-Dorm Conference and an Athletic Banquet at which trophies for all inter-dorm activities are awarded.

SENIOR COUNCIL

This is the legislative body of the Senior Class. It is composed of the four elected officers of the class and from eight to fifteen representatives chosen by the officers. Each representative on the Council has a chairman position for one senior event. These events include Commencement, Senior Ball, Senior of the Week, Senior Swingout, and numerous social functions. The major event sponsored by the class is the traditional Water Carnival, held for three continuous nights near the end of spring term.

MEN'S INTER-COOP COUNCIL

The ICC is composed of 21 representatives chosen from the membership of each of the seven men's co-ops. They are elected by their houses for three, two, and one term durations. The Council serves as clearing house for different problems facing the co-ops, pools valuable ideas and presents a unified organization for situations that require one. The ICC also sponsors social functions for the co-ops.

CLASS GOVERNMENTS

Any student is eligible to run for a class office provided he has conformed with the Student Government eligibility ordinance. To be placed on the ballot, each candidate must petition. Primaries for senior, junior, and sophomore officers are held on the first Thursday in May. At this time candidates are eliminated, leaving two per office. Final elections are then held the following Thursday.

Newly elected officers take office fall term. The same procedure is followed for freshmen except elections are held the fifth and sixth Thursdays in fall term. In all classes election is determined by a simple majority of the votes cast.

Officers of the freshman and sophomore classes make up the executive branch of the Frosh-Soph Council. Other members are one from each class from each of the residence halls, one from each class in the East Lansing area and two from each class from the Lansing area. These representatives are elected by the same procedure and at the same time as are the class officers.

Both the junior and senior classes have similar councils. The officers make up the executive board which works with a general board of 10 members who have been chosen on a petitioning basis.

UNION BOARD

Union Board supervises all student activities taking place in the Union Building—everything from weekly dances to educational and cultural programs designed to be broadening and at the same time entertaining.

Some of the events which the Union Board currently sponsors include: bridge and dance instruction; chess, bowling and bridge tournaments; weekly MSU football movies; theatre trips to Detroit; a talent bureau; weekly dances, and a file for students needing rides home. During fall term a Creative Arts Festival is put on which exhibits student talent in the forms of art, dance, music and drama. The climax of the year's activities is Union Board Week. During this week a Jazz Show, an Art Exhibit, a Talent Show, a Dance Marathon, and a Style Show, as well as many unusual displays, are put on for student entertainment and enjoyment.

The organization is governed by a student Board of Directors. The Board is composed of nine committee chairmen who direct functions, two members at large and three officers.

Any student may petition for membership on Union Board. Rush smokers are held at the end of winter term and all who petition are invited to attend. New members are assigned to one of the following committees: Fine Arts, Social, All Board Affairs, Student Services, Publicity, Tournaments, Special Events or Publications.

STUDENT-FACULTY SOCIAL COMMITTEE

This committee, appointed by President Hannah, is composed of six students and six representatives of the administration. Student members include representatives from Student Government, Women's Residence Halls, Men's Residence Halls, Panhellenic Council, Interfraternity Council, and Married Housing. Faculty members include the Dean of Students, the committee's chairman, and assistant to the Dean from the men's division, assistant to the Dean from the women's division and three other members.

The committee has the responsibility to administer social rules, approve facilities at which social gatherings may be held, act upon requests for social activities, supervise social registration and review infractions of social rules and recommend action. It is a University rule that all events involving mixed groups must be registered, unless they are meeting strictly for business purposes.

All social activities and their chaperones must be registered not later than 11:45 a.m. on the Tuesday of the week of the event. For exchange dinners, picnics, hayrides, and similar events, the registration need not be done until two days before the event. If the event has not been registered, it must be cancelled.

Available in the Dean's office is a list of approved places at which parties may be held. These have all been carefully inspected. Social functions are not allowed at any other place unless an approval is given beforehand.

Two couples or one couple plus a residence hostess are required as chaperones for all social activities, except for an exchange dinner when only the resident hostess is required to attend. A chaperone must be a full-time member of the teaching staff with the rank of instructor, assistant professor, associate professor or professor, or must have administrative rank, such as Director, Registrar or anyone who has an administrative appointment. An unmarried chaperone must be accompanied by a guest.

The all-university social calendar is planned in May. The basis for determining precedence in choosing dates is the number of students represented by the organization. Any organization interested in sponsoring social activities should be represented at this meeting.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Every coed on campus automatically becomes a member of Associated Women Students when she registers for the first time. This organization is divided into the Activities Board and Judiciary-Legislative Board. Board members are girls who have petitioned and then been elected as representatives of their living units. Elections are held winter term and members serve for one year.

Representation on the Judiciary-Legislative Board consists of one member from each dormitory, cooperative house and off-campus house and three from sororities. In addition to these members, the Activities Board has representatives from Spartan Women's League, YWCA, WAA, Tower Guard, Mortar Board, Pan-Hellenic Council, Alpha Lambda Delta, Inter-Residence Hall Council, Off-Campus Students, Sno Caps, and Home Economics Club.

The president and vice president of each board are chosen in an election by all the women on the campus at the same time as are the members. Other officers are chosen by members of their respective boards. Each board meets on Tuesday evenings.

Purpose of the Activities Board is to act as a coordinator for all women activities. They strive to promote interest and cooperation by sponsoring several projects. These include STUN, Big Sister Program, Activities Carnival and Leadership Training.

It is the duty of the Judiciary-Legislative Board to hear and judge disciplinary cases against coeds and to have jurisdiction over house rules in addition to interpreting revisions in AWS rules.

Although the two boards operate separately, their main aims and purposes are the same: to provide for a representative form of government which will work for the students' interests, both social and academic.

CHAPTER NINE

Sports at MSU

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY has one of the nation's finest intercollegiate athletic programs, with Spartan squads competing in 14 sports at the varsity level.

Approximately 400 young men comprise the rosters of the various teams during the school year. They perform before thousands of fans in one of the outstanding athletic plants in collegiate sports circles.

By seasons, MSU's varsity sports are: fall — football, cross country, soccer; winter — basketball, fencing, gymnastics, hockey, indoor track, swimming, wrestling; spring — baseball, golf, outdoor track, tennis.

Any male student may go out for any varsity activity. And all students may attend varsity athletic contests, with the exception of ice hockey, by using their activity books and identification cards. For admission to hockey games, an activity coupon must be exchanged along with an admission charge of 25 cents. For home football games and for the Michigan State Track Relays, students can exchange a coupon from their activity books for reserved seats.

Among the athletic facilities you'll become familiar with during your stay at Michigan State are these: Spartan Stadium, with seats for 76,000 for football; Jenison Field House, with seats for 12,500 for basketball, and 4,000 for indoor track; Men's Intramural Building, which contains a swimming pool and seats for 3,000 for meets, and an arena for gymnastics, fencing, and wrestling, seating 2,000; Old College Field, seating 4,000 for baseball; the Ice Arena, seating 3,000 for hockey, and Ralph Young Field, seating 1,500 for outdoor track. Spectators are welcome to the golf course and to the tennis court area and can watch cross country from vantage points around Old College Field. Soccer is played on the field south of Spartan Stadium.

During the 1957-58 school year, Michigan State teams turned in the best over-all performance in Big Ten competition of any league school. And on the national scene, the Spartans finished near the top in several championship meets and in nation-wide rankings.

Here is a brief rundown on the Spartan athletic picture as you will find it by seasons.

Spartan football followers bask in the sun at Spartan Stadium as they watch their favorites perform on the turf.

Fall

FOOTBALL

The pigskin sport is king in the fall. The principal student pastime on Saturday afternoons is a walk to Spartan Stadium to see State in action. MSU football teams need little introduction, for they've been outstanding on the national scene for the last 10 years. The last edition (1957) finished second in the Big Ten standings and with its over-all 8-1 record was ranked third in the national wire service polls.

This fall, there'll be three successive early opportunities to watch the Spartans do battle. California comes in Sept. 27, followed by Michigan on Oct. 4, and Pittsburgh on Oct. 11. Later on come encounters with Wisconsin (Homecoming Day on Nov. 1) and Kansas State (Nov. 22).

CROSS COUNTRY

The hill-and-dale sport is a traditional fall activity. And at Michigan State, it is the biggest winner in the entire athletic program. MSU harriers have won more national titles — six — than any other college or university, and more Big Ten team championships — six — than any sport on campus. Team members run the four-mile race on a course that starts and finishes at Old College Field. Highlight of the season is the run for NCAA honors, usually the third week in November. The meet has been held here since its inception in 1938.

SOCCER

Newest of the 14 sports on the athletic program is soccer, ready to start its third season this fall. The MSU booters own an unusual record — they've never lost a match since the sport attained varsity level two years ago. This fall's edition should be another good one. It will be worth a stroll out to the soccer field south of Spartan Stadium on Saturday mornings for a look at this great international sport.

Winter

BASKETBALL

King of winter sports activity is basketball, interest in which is at an all-time high around these parts. Spartan basketball teams have been in the thick of the Big Ten races the last two seasons and this year's club figures to follow the same script. At five of the 10 home games last season, the attendance was over 12,000. You'll want to make a date for all Spartan home games for the finest of midwestern cage entertainment. Most games come on Saturday nights.

FENCING

A well-established sport on the winter calendar is fencing, which will be contested in the new IM arena this year. This sport is a highly-specialized activity requiring great poise and concentration. Last year's MSU squad was fourth in the Big Ten. You can see competition at its best by watching the Spartans go through their paces. Most contests are slated for Saturdays.

GYMNASTICS

Considered one of the most difficult and thrilling of the varsity sports is gymnastics, which reached its top ranking here last season as State shared the NCAA championship with Illinois. The Spartans figure to be definite national contenders again as they work with the side horse, parallel bars, still rings and other gym equipment in the new IM arena. Varsity action usually is set for Friday nights and Saturday afternoons.

HOCKEY

Hockey is often referred to as the fastest of sports. And at Michigan State the sport is speeding up rapidly after last year's record of 11 wins and 11 losses, tops since the Spartans started to skate back in 1949. It is a thrilling spectacle with lots of action. Most of the games are played on Friday and Saturday nights at the Ice Arena.

INDOOR TRACK

Indoor track activity centers in Jenison Field House where Spartan runners perform on a 220-yard clay track, recognized as one of the best indoor ovals in the nation. The major indoor meet is the running of the Michigan State Relays the first weekend in February. At this gathering, upwards of 400 of the midwest's top performers come in for the 19-event program. Several dual meets also are run off during the winter.

WRESTLING

Collegiate wrestling at its finest can be found around the IM Arena during the winter as Spartan grapplers go at it. Last year's State team was third in the Big Ten and fourth in the NCAA meet. Many members of that outfit return and give promise of another standout year of mat activity. Most of the meets are scheduled for Saturday afternoons.

SWIMMING

The tank sport, at the peak of its greatest era at State, moves into a new phase with the opening this year of the new indoor pool in IM Building. This facility is the last word in swimming pools with seating for nearly 3,000 persons. It features a diving tank adjacent to the main pool. Meets usually are scheduled on Saturday afternoons. State's swimmers were second in the Big Ten and third in the nationals last year. Five individual NCAA winners return to form an outstanding team nucleus.

Spring

BASEBALL

Chief spectator sport during the spring term is baseball, and fans can see the class of the collegiate variety at Old College Field. It is a favorite pastime of students to loll in the sun around the diamond on Friday and Saturday afternoons, when most of the contests are played. Last year's MSU nine was one of the midwest's top squads, and just missed the Big Ten title by one game on the final weekend of play.

OUTDOOR TRACK

The first clear and warm day of spring will find Michigan State's outdoor track squad working on Ralph Young Field, which is located just west of Spartan Stadium. State's track teams have consistently made national headlines and fans can see them in dual meet action against league and major independent opponents on Saturday afternoons.

GOLF

The opening of Michigan State's new 18-hole golf course last spring gave considerable boost to the Spartan varsity team. You can expect an upsurge in the fortunes of the linkmen, who were sixth in the Big Ten's 1958 championship meet. The season marked the first time the golfers had a course of their own to play on. Friday and Saturday are the favorite match dates.

TENNIS

Tennis goes full tilt all spring with play on the varsity courts south of Spartan Stadium. Last year's MSU squad was sixth in the Big Ten championship meet. Most of the unit returns and there's hope for improvement in the conference picture. The netmen often play varsity matches on weekday afternoons and occasionally are in action Saturday mornings.

MSU's Intramural Program

Michigan State University supports a broad program of intramural activities in which every student may participate. The sports available each year include such team activities as touch football, basketball, softball, ice hockey, bowling, tennis, golf, fencing, and swimming for men; basketball, softball, field hockey, swimming, and tennis for women.

The keen interest in the intramural program is indicated by the student turn-out in 1957-58. Total participation in touch football included 1,974 players on 141 teams. Basketball produced 171 teams with 1,710 competing students, and almost 2,000 students played for 139 softball teams.

In the men's IM program, competition in the team sports is conducted on a block round robin system. The three leagues — Dormitory, Fraternity, and Independent — arrange four or five teams to a block to play the regular season. Winners of each block play a single elimination tournament to determine the winner of each league. The league champions meet in a single elimination tournament to determine the All-University champion of that particular team sport.

An All-Sports Champion also is determined in each league. A scoring system is planned in which points are awarded for each team sport. The dormitory, fraternity and independent team that compiles the most points during the year is named All-Dormitory, All-Fraternity, or All-Independent Champion, respectively.

Individual medals are given to each member of the winning and runner-up teams in each league — gold to the winners, silver to the runners-up. The team receives a trophy depicting that particular sport. Intramural sweaters are given to members of the All-University championship team.

Competition in the individual sports such as boxing, swimming, and fencing is conducted on a single elimination basis. Men who sign up to compete draw for their positions in the tournament. Winners of each sport receive a gold medal; runner-up, silver; third, bronze.

All regularly enrolled undergraduate men are eligible to compete in the IM program except varsity lettermen.

A health examination from the University Health Clinic is required to compete in boxing, wrestling, turkey trot, weightlifting, or track and field.

The new Men's IM Building, due to be open in the 1958-59 school year, will provide facilities for an even larger IM program. Courts for handball, squash, basketball, badminton, tennis, and volleyball will be available, as well as indoor and outdoor swimming pools and individual rooms for such sports as archery and weightlifting. Some 15 activities can go on simultaneously, involving about 600 students per hour.

In the women's IM program, competition is also conducted on a block round robin system. Women's residence halls, sororities, and students living off campus enter teams that are put in blocks. A tournament is played within each block to determine the winner. The winners of each block play off to determine the champion.

In the new Women's IM Building, scheduled to open this year, three gymnasiums will contain room for basketball, badminton, volleyball, and tennis courts. Two swimming pools and an activity room for gymnastics and dancing also will be available. Fifteen different events can be conducted simultaneously involving 500 students.

Capsule View of IM Athletics

TOUCH FOOTBALL

The most popular IM sport fall term. Games are played under the lights on the IM touch football fields Monday through Thursday. Teams consist of seven players but many more are carried on each roster since "two platooning" is popular. In 1957 the Dormitory League champion was East Shaw. Alpha Tau Omega was the fraternity champion and the Vets won the Independent League trophy. West Shaw 2 won the All-University championship.

BASKETBALL

Winter term's most popular IM sport. Games are played at night in Jenison Gymnasium. Except for the length of the games, official high school rules are used. The new Men's IM Building will provide seven new courts. Four new courts will be available in the new Women's IM Building. In 1958, East Shaw was the dormitory champion and Sigma Chi won the fraternity title. The Dishwashers took the Independent League crown and also the All-University championship.

SOFTBALL

Of the many IM activities during spring term this has the biggest turn-out. Games are played on 12 diamonds. Under the expanding IM program more fields, including some equipped for night games, are proposed to be added. West Shaw won the dormitory title in the men's competition in 1958 and Lambda Chi Alpha took the fraternity championship. The Ancients captured the independent crown and also the All-University title. Off-Campus Girls won the women's competition.

BOWLING

This activity is available all three terms. Matches are held in the Student Union Bowling Alleys. The three-term totals for men in 1957-58 were 116 teams composed of 812 members. West Shaw was the dormitory champion and Delta Sigma Pi won the fraternity title. Coral Gables Vets topped the independent entries, and Alpha Xi Delta won in the women's division.

VOLLEYBALL

The second most popular IM sport spring term. In 1958 total participation in the men's division numbered 380 players on 38 teams. In the women's division there were 35 teams entered with 350 members. Games are played on eight volleyball courts. The new Men's IM Building will provide eight. The men's All-University champion in 1958 was Volleyball Club #1 and East Yakeley won the women's title.

TURKEY TROT

A cross country-type run fall term. Approximately one mile long, it is run around Old College Field. In 1957 there were 240 runners entered. West Shaw compiled the most points among the dormitories and Alpha Tau Omega topped the fraternities. Robert Block, who was the individual winner, led Evan's Scholars over the independent entries.

HOCKEY

Held winter term with games played on the University's ice rink. In 1958 there were 300 players on 30 teams entered. Competition is in an open hockey league. The 1958 All-University championship was won by The Chiefs representing the independent league.

TENNIS

This IM spring sport is played on the 30 varsity courts. Teams consist of four players — two singles and one doubles team. A total of 76 men and 75 women competed in 1958. The new Men's IM

Building will contain eight indoor courts and the Women's IM Building will have two. In 1958 West Shaw won the dormitory championship and Sigma Nu won over the fraternities. The Vets took the independent crown and North Williams won the women's title.

GOLF

Just brought into the IM program, this spring sport is played on the new 18-hole University golf course. The event is 18 holes medal play. In 1958 East Shaw won the dormitory title and Sigma Nu topped the fraternities. The vets were the independent winners and Alpha Chi Omega sorority won in the women's division.

TRACK

A 10-event meet is held during spring term. Each team may enter two men per event, but only one relay team. The 1958 Track and Field championships had 160 individual entries and 18 teams. Emmons captured the dormitory title and Alpha Tau Omega won over the fraternities.

SWIMMING

Men's competition is held during the fall and winter terms and women's during the spring. In the men's division East Shaw took the dormitory championship and Delta Tau Delta captured the fraternity crown. Delta Delta Delta sorority won the women's title.

MSU's Recreation Facilities

For the Spartan student interested in individual recreation, the Michigan State campus offers a wide variety of activities for both men and women each term.

The range extends from canoeing up the winding Red Cedar river in the spring and fall to bowling or playing billiards in the Union, which is open all year 'round.

Indoor skating on the University's ice rink is popular during the fall and winter terms and both the men's and women's gymnasiums have swimming pools which are open the year 'round.

Rifle shooting is offered all three terms and in the spring archery ranges are provided.

Golfing on the University's new 18-hole golf course and tennis on over 30 tennis courts, draws large participation spring term. Bicycle riding also is another popular spring term activity.

Fencing and gymnastics are offered each term to men and women interested in an activity dealing with precise timing and co-ordination.

In the men's gym special areas provide for handball and weight-lifting.

CHAPTER TEN

Extracurricular Activities

YOU'LL HAVE A CHANCE to enjoy many extracurricular activities at Michigan State. From earlier chapters you have learned about sports, both varsity and intramural, Student Government, and student religious groups. To give you an even better idea of the activities of the MSU campus, we've assembled the following information relating to some of the traditional events of the year and to many of the honoraries, clubs, and interest groups you'll find on campus.

TRADITIONAL EVENTS OF THE YEAR

ACTIVITIES CARNIVAL, sponsored by A.W.S. and Men's Council to acquaint you with campus organizations. . . . CAREER CARNIVAL, to which major corporations and other employers send representatives and displays to inform students of job opportunities.

CORONATION BALL, an all-university, semi-formal dance sponsored by the Army and Air Force ROTC units, held each December in the Auditorium. . . . BLOCK S, Michigan State's flash card section. Stadium spectators and TV viewers enjoy the synchronized cheering sections at all home football games. Students wishing to participate sign up at registration.

FROSH-SOPH DAY, which climaxes friendly rivalry between the two classes with contests, races, and a tug of war. The day's activities are concluded with a dance in Kellogg Center. The winning class is awarded the "Little Brown Jug." . . . GREEK FEAST, a spring picnic sponsored by Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic. . . . GREEN SPLASH, an annual water show presented by the women's swimming honorary. . . . HARVEST BALL, the first all-university, semi-formal dance of the year.

HOMECOMING, a fall weekend filled with activities honoring returning alumni. Displays decorate the living units and winners are announced at the football game. Festivities are concluded with an all-university dance at which a Homecoming Queen and her court preside.

J-HOP, a February dance sponsored by the Junior Class. . . . JUNIOR 500, a push cart race around West Circle drive sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Men's and women's living units enter racing and humorous carts, and trophies are awarded in each division.

LANTERN NIGHT, a traditional event honoring senior women. It symbolizes the passing of responsibility from class to class as the seniors present lighted lanterns to underclassmen. . . . MAY MORNING SING, an impressive ceremony the first Saturday of May at Beaumont Tower at which members of Mortar Board and Tower Guard are tapped. Freshman and senior honoraries select their initiates on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service to the university.

PARENTS WEEKEND, a May weekend when tours of the campus, sporting events and open houses are presented for parents visiting the campus. . . . PORPOISE SHOW, an annual water show presented by the men's swimming honorary. . . . SENIOR BALL, an all-university dance, the last MSU semi-formal dance for seniors, usually featuring a name band. . . . SENIOR SWING-OUT, an event just prior to graduation when the Senior Class, led by its president, parades to the Auditorium. As the line moves toward the Aud, seniors who have been waiting in front of their respective schools, join the parade.

SORORITY SING, held in May, at which 30 members of each sorority compete for trophies. . . . SPINSTERS SPIN, a semi-formal dance sponsored by Tower Guard, Mortar Board, and Spartan Women's League. The coeds do the inviting, foot the bill and make their date's corsages.

UMOC, a contest for the Ugliest Man on Campus. Women's living units select a well-known man on campus and campaign for him. Each penny collected for a candidate counts as a vote. Results are announced at the King's Coronation Dance. Money goes to Campus Chest. . . . WATER CARNIVAL, a show on the Red Cedar river held three consecutive nights in June. Displays, sponsored by living units, are floated down the river. Trophies are awarded to the floats which have best carried out the theme of the carnival.

MSU HONORARIES

EXCALIBUR, senior men's honorary, represents one of the highest honors an MSU man can receive. Excalibur is composed of 13 outstanding seniors. Members are chosen on the basis of extracurricular activities, outstanding leadership, scholarship, character, and service to the university.

MORTAR BOARD is the national senior women's honorary. Members, chosen on the basis of outstanding scholarship, leadership, and service, are tapped at May Morning Sing.

BLUE KEY, national honor fraternity, is a service-minded organization for junior and senior men established among student leaders in American colleges and universities. Each year 22 seniors are tapped at the Coronation Ball and eight juniors are selected the following term and announced during J-Hop intermission.

TOWER GUARD is the sophomore women's honorary. Thirty-five freshman women are selected each spring on the basis of outstanding qualities, scholarship, potential leadership and service.

PHI ETA SIGMA is a national honor society for freshman men who have demonstrated high scholarship and leadership ability. Members are chosen at the end of their freshman year on the basis of that year's record.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA is a national honor society for freshman women who have attained at least a 3.5 average for their last two terms of academic work.

GREEN HELMET is the sophomore men's honorary. Spring term between 25 and 36 freshman men are tapped for achieving a 3.2 average, and for their potential leadership and participation in extracurricular activities.

Many other honoraries on campus relate to specialized areas: ALPHA DELTA SIGMA (Advertising), ALPHA DELTA THETA (Medical Technology), ALPHA EPSILON RHO (Radio and Television), ALPHA PHI SIGMA (Police Administration), ALPHA ZETA (Agriculture).

BETA ALPHA PSI (Accounting), BETA BETA BETA (Biology), BETA GAMMA SIGMA (Commerce), CHI EPSILON (Civil Engineering), DELTA OMICRON (Women's Music), DELTA PHI DELTA (Art), DELTA PSI KAPPA (Women's Physical Education), ETA KAPPA NU (Electrical Engineering), GREEN SPLASH (Women's Swimming), KAPPA ALPHA MU (Photojournalism), KAPPA DELTA PI (Education), KNIGHTS OF ST. PATRICK (Engineering), OMICRON NU (Home Economics), ORCHESTRIS (Contemporary Dance).

PHI LAMBDA TAU (Engineering), PHI MU ALPHA (Men's Music), PI ALPHA MU (History), PI MU EPSILON (Mathematics), PI OMEGA PI (Business Education), PI TAU SIGMA (Mechanical Engineering), PORPOISE (Men's Swimming), SCABBARD AND BLADE (Army and Air Force ROTC), SIGMA LAMBDA CHI (Light Construction and Lumber Merchandising), SIGMA PI ETA (Hotel Administration), TAU BETA PI (Engineering), TAU SIGMA (Science and Arts, and Business and Public Service), THETA ALPHA PHI (Dramatics), VARSITY CLUB (Athletics), and XI SIGMA PI (Forestry).

AGRICULTURAL ORGANIZATIONS

Among special interest groups and clubs on campus are: AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS CLUB, AMERICAN SOCIETY OF AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS, AGRONOMY CLUB, DAIRY CLUB, COOPERATIVE EXTENSION CLUB, FISHERIES AND WILDLIFE CLUB, FLORICULTURE CLUB, FORESTRY CLUB, CAMPUS 4-H CLUB, LIGHT CONSTRUCTION AND LUMBER MERCHANDISING CLUB, LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE AND URBAN PLANNING CLUB, NURSERY AND LANDSCAPE FORUM, PACKAGING TECHNOLOGY CLUB and POULTRY SCIENCE CLUB. BLOCK AND BRIDLE CLUB is a recreational and service organization to promote interest in animal husbandry. PROMOLER FORUM is for those students interested in fruits. All of these organizations carry on active programs and projects to better acquaint their members with opportunities in their particular fields.

BIOLOGICAL AND PHYSICAL SCIENCE ORGANIZATIONS

Biological and Physical Science organizations on campus include: a chapter of the AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY which promotes interest in the fields of chemical engineering and chemistry, a chapter of the AMERICAN VETERINARIAN MEDICINE ASSOCIATION, PRE-MED CLUB, PRE-VET CLUB, and SNO-CAPS, an organization of students majoring in Nursing Education.

BUSINESS AND PUBLIC SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

Interest groups and clubs on campus in this area include: ACCOUNTING CLUB, AMERICAN FINANCE ASSOCIATION, BUSINESS EDUCATION CLUB, FOOD DISTRIBUTION CLUB, HOTEL ASSOCIATION, LES GOURMETS, SOCIETY FOR ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT, and a professional sorority for women in Business Administration, PHI GAMMA NU.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION ORGANIZATIONS

Clubs and interest groups in Physical Education include: ACROBAT CLUB, PISTOL CLUB, RIFLE CLUB, SAILING CLUB, SKI CLUB, SPARTAN WEIGHTLIFTING CLUB, and the MSU PROMENADERS, a social organization open to all students interested in promoting folk and square dancing. Other groups include the WINGED SPARTANS, a flying club which gives students an opportunity to learn and practice flying; WOMEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB, a social organization whose members are coeds majoring or minoring in physical education; WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, which sponsors an extracurricular program of team and individual sports for women; and PHI EPSILON KAPPA, a national professional men's physical education fraternity.

EDUCATION ORGANIZATION

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION CLUB, an organization of students preparing to be elementary teachers.

ENGINEERING ORGANIZATIONS

Professional organizations and interest groups in Engineering include: AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERS, AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS AND THE INSTITUTE OF RADIO ENGINEERS, AMERICAN FOUNDRYMEN'S SOCIETY, AMERICAN SOCIETY OF METALS, AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS, AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS, MICHIGAN STATE AMATEUR RADIO CLUB, SOCIETY OF AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEERS.

HOME ECONOMICS ORGANIZATIONS

The HOME ECONOMICS CLUB is divided into seven major fields: Foods and Nutrition, Retailing, Child Development, Related Arts, Teaching Majors, Institutional Management, and the Freshman-Sophomore group. Joint meetings are occasionally held, but individual groups pursue their own interests.

SCIENCE AND ARTS ORGANIZATIONS

Among the organizations in this area are: DELTA PHI EPSILON, whose members are usually studying to go into foreign service; HISTORY CLUB; PHILOSOPHY CLUB; SIGMA DELTA PI, a national organization designed to foster friendly relations between Hispanic and English-speaking countries; SOCIAL WORK CLUB.

MUSIC ORGANIZATIONS

Band, orchestra, and various instrumental groups are active in this area. In addition, MEN'S GLEE CLUB, WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB, and the BELL-RINGERS, an organization of students interested in learning to play the bells, are active on the campus.

MILITARY SCIENCE ORGANIZATIONS

Military Science groups include: PERSHING RIFLES, ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY, ROTC CADET OFFICER'S CLUB.

POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The YOUNG REPUBLICANS and the YOUNG DEMOCRATS are both active on the MSU campus.

COMMUNICATION ARTS ORGANIZATIONS

Among the Communication Arts organizations are: SIGMA DELTA CHI, professional Journalism fraternity for men; THETA SIGMA PHI, professional journalism fraternity for women, and STUDIO THEATER GROUP, open to freshmen and sophomores or those not active members of THETA ALPHA PHI, Dramatics honorary.

FORENSICS AT MSU

The MSU forensics program includes extracurricular debate, discussion, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and oral interpretation of literature. Special achievement in forensics is recognized by membership in Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary society.

During a typical season, more than 60 students represent the university in 300 or more debates and a great variety of individual speaking events. One of the most interesting aspects of the forensics program is CONTROVERSY, the only weekly television debate originating from a college campus.

Freshmen are especially welcome to participate in the forensics program to the limit of their time and interest. Each year's schedule includes four or more tournaments for beginners in college forensics. Outstanding freshmen also represent MSU in a limited number of varsity activities. Interested students should contact the Director of Forensics, 139 Auditorium.

PUBLICATION STAFF OPPORTUNITIES

THE MICHIGAN STATE NEWS, a daily student publication which keeps students, faculty and guests informed of all university events as well as national, international and local news. The staff is entirely students. Those interested should stop by State News offices in the Student Services Building. . . . SPARTAN, the MSU humor magazine, published monthly by a student staff. Anyone with interest in the fields of humor, fiction, art, photography, business, circulation, or advertising, is welcomed to the staff. . . . WOLVERINE, Michigan State's year-book, published by a student staff. Work on the book begins the spring term before the book is to be published. The Wolverine is made up of students who have interests in art, photography, writing, advertising, and business affairs. . . . MSU VETERINARIAN, a technical magazine published quarterly by the students in veterinary medicine. . . . SPARTAN ENGINEER, published in November, January, March, and May by students, most of whom are engineering majors.

SERVICE AND SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Among the service and social organizations on campus are: ALPHA PHI OMEGA, national service fraternity of former Boy Scouts; ASSOCIATION OF OFF-CAMPUS STUDENTS; SPARTAN WOMEN'S LEAGUE, a service organization dedicated to building a close bond of friendship and developing leadership; VETERANS ASSOCIATION, which assists veterans with their relations with the VA and holds social functions for members; SPARTAN WIVES, who meet for social activities and projects; and INTERNATIONAL CLUB, which encourages friendliness among foreign and American students. Membership in International Club is open to all students. The presence of many foreign students at MSU has also given rise to a number of clubs such as the INDIAN STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, CHINESE STUDENT CLUB, VIETNAM CLUB, SPANISH CLUB, GERMAN CLUB, AND HAWAIIAN CLUB.

ROTC PROGRAM

The military program consists of courses in the Senior Division of Army and Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, established by the National Defense Act.

Unless a student is an alien, a veteran, enrolled in short course, physically unfit or over twenty-three years of age, he must enroll during his first two college years in either Army or Air Force ROTC.

Courses in the two years of Basic ROTC require three hours a week plus weekly parades during Spring term.

Choice of Army or Air Force ROTC is left to the student, with the reservation that the Military and Air Force Science departments each will enroll approximately 50 percent of registering students.

Upon successful completion of the Basic Course, a student is eligible to apply for admission to the Advanced Course. Minimum requirements for acceptance are U.S. citizenship, good moral character, age 25 for the Air Force and for the Army, an age which will permit the applicant to earn a commission before reaching his 28th birthday, passage of a physical examination, sufficient time remaining in the University to complete the course, an all-University C average and passage of a screening test.

The Advanced Course counts for elective credit and requires five hours per week in addition to attendance between the junior and senior year at ROTC summer camp. Students who successfully complete the Advanced course and earn their academic degree are eligible for commissioning as Reserve Second Lieutenants in the United States Army or United States Air Force.

Students enrolled in the Advanced Course sign a contract with the government. This contract requires the student to complete Advanced Course training, attend six-weeks summer camp and accept a commission if tendered. The active duty requirement for Army ROTC officers is six months active duty for training plus seven and one-half years in the Reserve, or two years active duty and three years in the reserve. Each individual selects the active duty plan he desires, although in some cases the needs of the Army will take precedence. In return the student is granted deferment from Selective Service, subsistence allowance of 90c a day (maximum two year total: $535.50) and $78 per month plus board and housing while at summer camp. The contract remains in effect until such time as the student may withdraw from school or is dropped from the Advanced Course.

ARMY ROTC

The objective of Army ROTC is threefold: to train officers for the Army Reserve, to qualify interested students for commissions in the Regular Army, and through the two-year basic course, to develop men capable of becoming non-commissioned officers. Completion of the two-year Army ROTC course enables a student to enlist in the third pay-grade, rather than the first.

During the first two years of Army ROTC, cadets receive instruction in the military fundamentals, including military history, weapons and marksmanship, map reading, and other basic subjects.

Those cadets who qualify for entrance into the advanced program receive instruction in subjects common to all branches of the Army, the cadet attending summer camp between the junior and senior year. Early in the cadet's senior year, he is classified into one of fifteen branches of the army. Consideration is given to the cadet's branch preference, and his University major and minors.

Upon completion of the program the cadet is commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve. He then is eligible to be called to active duty for six months or two years. The call to active duty may be delayed as long as three years for students who are studying for advanced degrees.

AIR FORCE ROTC

The freshman year of Air Force ROTC is directed primarily to the study of Air Power and its relation to national policy. The cadet is also given an opportunity to visit Air Force bases, to fly in light aircraft and to make model aircraft.

The sophomore year of the Air Force program is spent learning tactics of aerial warfare. Also included is a leadership training laboratory, giving the student experience in leading small units.

During the junior and senior years, the Air Force cadet studies the management and organization of the Air Force, military aviation, and the art of war.

As in the Army program, an Air Force selection board reviews cadets during their junior and senior years to determine what job they will be best fitted for in the Air Force. Although office procurement is centered on pilots and navigators, there are an increasing number of openings for engineers, weather officers and other non-flying officers.

ROTC SUMMER CAMP

Between the junior and senior years, all Advanced Course Army and Air Force students attend summer camp at various locations in the country. Here the cadet has the opportunity to put to use many of the things he has been taught in the classroom.

Early reveilles, mess calls, hikes, bivouacs, marches, demonstrations by units of the Regular Army, tours of technical, military and industrial installations when practical, and of course, athletics and social events introduce cadets to life in the armed forces.

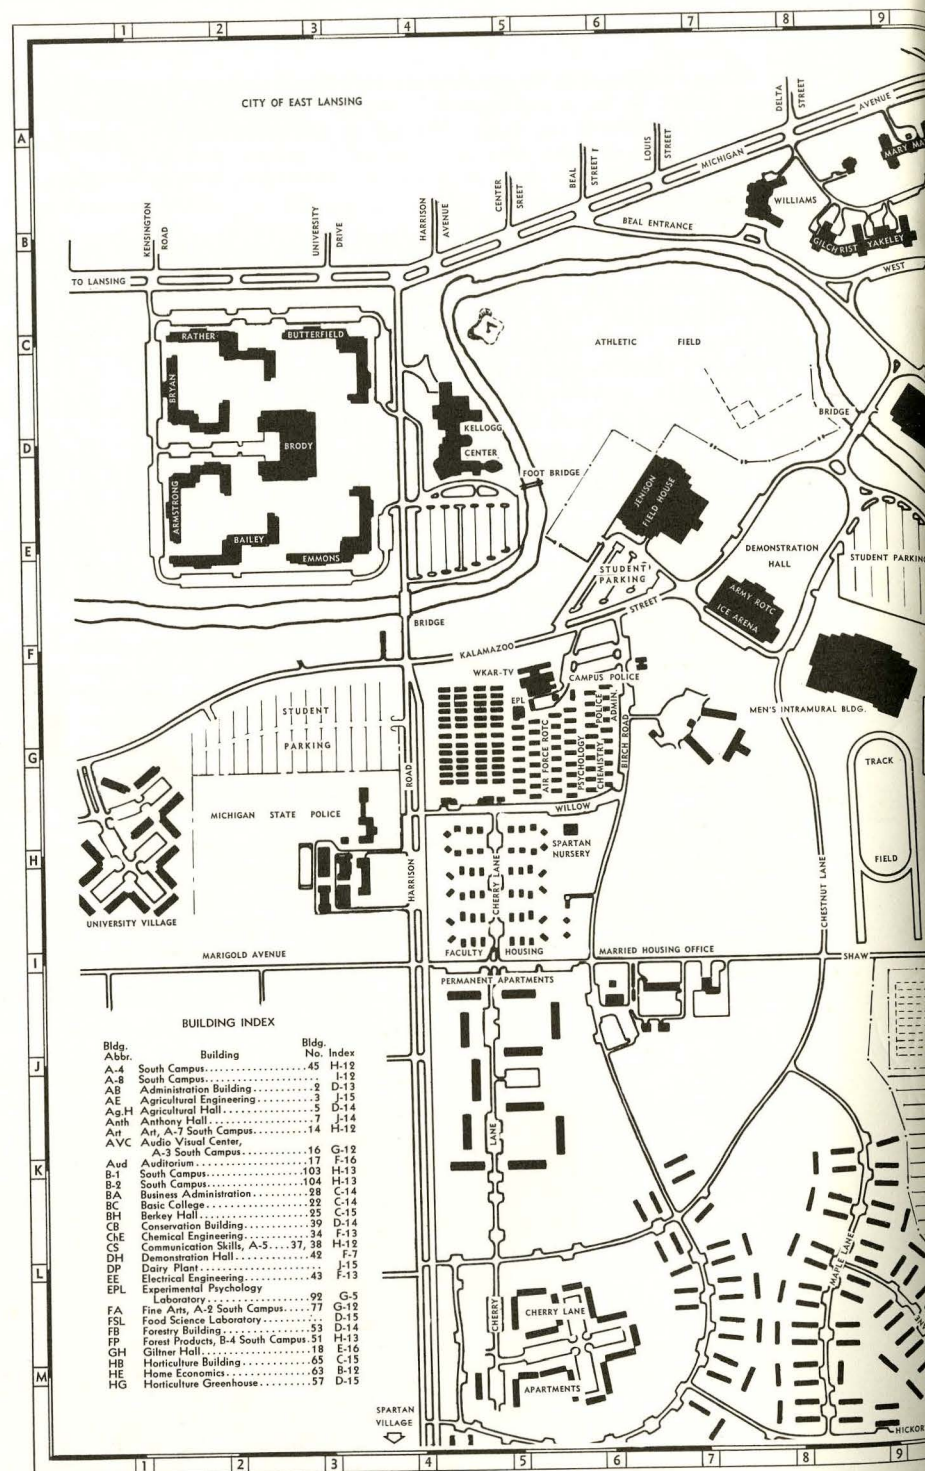

Cadets are rated on their performance in this challenging experience, and their records are sent back to their units at the University.

Students are paid about $78 a month, in addition to travel expenses and free housing and board, during their stay at camp. Army cadets attend for six weeks while Air Force Cadets attend for four. All MSU Army Cadets are sent to the same camp; Air Force cadets were sent to several different ones.

Army ROTC Cadets pass in review.
