M. A. C.—DE PAUW GAME.

In another part of this paper will be found an article dealing with the merits of football. The article was written several days ago, and the successful mass meeting of last week and the large attendance at Saturday's game could not be taken into account. Nevertheless it is still highly probable that the comments are pertinent.

There is no use denying the fact that the support of inter-collegiate contests at M. A. C. is spasmodic. Not all the students and teaching force were in attendance at Saturday's game. The question is, What important business was keeping those away who should have been at the game.

The large attendance was due in part to the presence of Lansing people. In the Chicago Record-Herald for Saturday, the paper announced as one of the big western games M. A. C. vs. DePauw at Lansing. This shows that M. A. C. is getting into class. It means something to belong to the M. A. C. team. It means just as much to be connected with a college which has such a team. Furthermore, there are some men on the team who, for various reasons, do not feel that they can afford to do so, and are playing from a sense of duty to the College.

A few general comments may not be out of place. During the first few minutes of play Saturday, there was probably no one on the side lines who did not feel that DePauw was going to run up a large score. When M. A. C. began to hold DePauw for downs the confidence of the crowd in M. A. C. returned, and this had some effect on the M. A. C. team. After the first ten minutes of play DePauw was outplayed. There is absolutely no reason why M. A. C. should lose another game this year, provided the College community can unite in the belief that M. A. C. must win. There are only two games away from home. What is the reason M. A. C. cannot send large crowds to these games to help M. A. C. pile up a large score?

During the latter part of the game there was some wrangling, which is to be regretted. We do not care to discuss the merits of the case, and will let the matter pass. The only way to avoid such unsports-man-like conduct is to have disinterested officials.

At 2:55 p. m. M. A. C. took the east goal; DePauw kicked off to Childs, who returned 20 yds. DePauw outweighed M. A. C. ten pounds to the man, and seemed fully as fast as the home team. The odds were apparently against M. A. C., and the results of the first few minutes of play seemed to prove this.

On the first line-up Meek was given the ball, and took it 3 and 2 yds. Then M. A. C. made 4 yds. and 1 respectively. DePauw held for downs and took the ball.

The visitors immediately got into the game, and on successive mass plays worked the ball down toward the M. A. C. goal line. On its own 7-yd. line M. A. C. made a magnificent stand, holding DePauw for downs.

M. A. C. failed to gain much ground on two trials and a punt was called for. The position was bad because of the proximity of the teams to the goal posts. The ball failed to get away and DePauw took the ball and after hard work made a touchdown and kicked a goal.

Childs kicked off 45 yds. DePauw returned 10. On three plays DePauw took the ball 4, 3 and 2 yds. The visitors essayed a run around left end but Peters broke up the interference and downed the runner with no gain. DePauw made steady gains, one of 15 yds., when Kratz tackled for a loss. On its own 10-yd. line M. A. C. held for downs.

M. A. C. fumbled but retained the ball. On the next play Childs punted 25 yds. The visitors again worked the ball down the field for a touchdown and goal, being frequently tackled for losses.

Childs kicked off and the ball rolled behind the goal line. DePauw kicked from its 20-yd. line and M. A. C. took the ball at the center of the field. The M. A. C. backs got into the game and made long plunges through the DePauw line. On DePauw's 25-yd. line M. A. C. tried a place kick which failed. DePauw was off-side on the play so M. A. C. took the ball. The half ended with M. A. C. making steady gains, the ball being on DePauw's 6-yd. line when time was called.

At 4:15 the second half began, Strand taking Agnew's place at full. Childs kicked off and DePauw made a few gains when M. A. C. held on its own 50-yd. line. Smith, Childs and Strand made the necessary distance twice, then Childs took the ball and with fine interference circled the end for 40 yds. being downed on the visitors 3-yd. line. On the next play Meek planted the ball 3 yds. behind DePauw's goal line. Goal was easily kicked.

DePauw kicked off to Cortright who returned 7 yds. DePauw soon took the ball for holding. The visitors made short gains when Cortright got the ball on a fumble. Failing to gain much ground, M. A.

C. attempted to punt but Davidson, DePauw's star player, blocked the kick and rushed the ball over for a touchdown. The attempt at goal failed.

After this the playing was all in favor of M. A. C. Childs kicked off and M. A. C. soon held the visitors and took the ball. On the first play Smith bucked through the DePauw line, and H. Childs pulled him onto his feet the former running 65 yds. for a touchdown. Goal was easily kicked.

DePauw could do nothing with M. A. C., and the game ended at a quarter to five with the ball on the visitors' 12-yd. line. Final score, DePauw 17, M. A. C. 12.

RESERVES VICTORIOUS.

Preceding the M. A. C.—DePauw game Saturday, the M. A. C. reserves played the Charlotte high school, beating the visitors 12 to 5. The reserves outplayed Charlotte throughout the game, the score at the end standing 12 to 5 in favor of M. A. C. Overmeyer for Charlotte got away once for a 35-yd. run and touchdown, but this was all the visitors could do.

DEBATING CLUB.

At the meeting of the College Debating Club on last Thursday evening, the subject, "Resolved, that government ownership and operation of railroads in the United States is desirable," was debated.

Messrs. Hogansen and A. C. Miller upheld the affirmative. Howard L. Severance and Dr. Edwards supported the negative.

The judges decided in favor of the affirmative.

The attendance was very satisfactory. We hope to have as large a number at every meeting.

ALUMNI.

'63. Married at the bride's residence in Charleston, Mich., Oct. 15th, Miss Jennie A. Dickle to Mr. Francis Hodgman, '63.

'79. Orrin P. Gulley has been nominated by republicans of Wayne County as Register of Deeds.

'83. A. C. Bird, '83, R. L. Cleland, '89, and Joseph Foster, '90, were members of a class of fifty-five upon whom was conferred the honorary Masonic degree of the order of the Mystic Shrine by Moslem Shrine Detroit, last Friday night. The pilgrimage represented the largest gathering of Shriners ever held in Michigan, representations being from San Francisco, Denver, Chicago, Philadelphia and New York. A feature of the occasion was the presentation from their Masonic friends beautiful Oriental rings to four of the candidates among whom was Mr. Bird. A banquet and speeches followed the mystic ceremonies.

'84. Charles McDiarmid has been nominated by the Socialist party for surveyor at Hemet, Cal.

'86-'88. Paul Woodworth is the Republican nominee for prosecuting attorney in his county (Huron).

'90m. Prof. C. E. Ferris, who has been Professor of Drawing in the University of Tennessee for the past ten years, has been elected to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. McCall. Professor Ferris is one of the strongest men on the University faculty, and the department will not suffer from the loss of Prof. McCall.

'91. Kenyon L. Butterfield is teaching this semester a new course at the State University. It is announced as an additional course in sociology under the general department of Political Economy and Sociology.

The general point of view of the course is that the rural classes, who comprise about half the population of the United States and who are an integral part of our industrial and social structure, have problems distinct in many particulars from the social questions that arise in urban communities. It is believed that these rural problems are of sufficient importance to warrant the attention of all educated people, and especially of those whose professional work will bring them into contact with the questions involved. The course is therefore designed to interest students wishing to secure a complete view of sociological problems. It is also intended to be of especial value to students preparing for teaching, for the ministry, and for journalism, whether or not their immediate field is to be in rural communities. Some of the topics treated will be the agricultural industry, the rural population, rural communication, farmers' organizations, business co-operation in agriculture, the rural school, the country church, agricultural educa-

TUESDAY, OCT. 28, 1902.

THOSE who have opinions with regard to the game of football, broadly speaking, can be put in one of two classes, those opposed to the game, and those with whom the game finds favor. There is very little compromise or middle ground. The class opposed to the game is, for the most part, composed of the older generation, particularly many parents who have sons available as players. The second class will include nearly all college students. As the danger element in football is the objectionable feature to some, so is it one of the attractive features to others; and because this element is so often the theme of written discussion upon the subject, is the real significance of the game much obscured.

Football is the logical evolution of the forces that have been at work in college life for the past two decades. If, in objection to the game, it is urged that players are often seriously injured, it can likewise be urged that the demands made by educational institutions upon the mental capacity of students often prove harmful and the occasional nervous breakdown of a student shows the reasonableness of the latter statement. The times are as they are, strenuous in every aspect and the need for reform in methods of mental training is probably as great as is the need for reform in methods of physical training. It cannot be truthfully said that football represents an extreme which has nothing to correspond with it on the mental side of college life.

As regards the individual player, the game has many redeeming qualities. It trains the eye in quickness, teaches one to restrain the temper under trying circumstances and to work in harmony with others. It is also an aid to memory. No numbskull can play the highest quality of football. But beyond all this there is a more important consideration. The game affords an opportunity for the expression of what may be termed the social emotion, a very important factor in college life of the present day. When properly regulated, the game centralizes by unification those tendencies which, if not so centralized, lead away to faction and strife.

The College environment should represent a social unit and it is wrong for any individual in this environment to appropriate continually individual gain without ever making a contribution. All the members of the faculty; every student at the College and all the Lansing alumni should patronize the home games. A large and appreciative crowd of spectators is an absolute necessity for the success of a game. We have an example worthy of imitation from the large Universities in many of which faculties and students turn out en masse for intercollegiate contests. Why can this not be the condition at M. A. C.?

Beloit and Notre Dame are rated in athletics above M. A. C. and this is so only because there is a stronger college spirit in both of these institutions. The only way intercollegiate contests can be successful is for each one to show a real interest in them. The plea made at M. A. C. that one does not have time and money to attend such contests will not, when analyzed, stand a moment. One of the most distinguished University presidents in the middle west said several years ago in a public address that as a student he never failed to attend intercollegiate contests of any kind whatsoever, and this from a man who in his six years of college life had to work his way into football games by marking out the five-yard lines, and who gained admission to intercollegiate debates by distributing the hand bills. The attendance at the coming games of each individual connected with M. A. C., will in the long run repay that individual in dollars and cents, even to put the matter on so low a plane. If M. A. C. would support its representatives in intercollegiate contests, there is no reason why we could not compete successfully with many of the larger institutions in the middle west.

tion, social phases of agricultural problems, the psychology of farm life.

The Michigan School Moderator in commenting on the work says: "This is a new line of study, there being, so far as is known, but one other course in any American college that so fully discusses rural problems from the social point of view. It would seem as if such a course should be found in all the agricultural colleges, as well as in the universities, normal schools and theological seminaries.

'92-'94. Geo. Baker has been nominated as State Senator of Twelfth District.

'95. Guy L. Stewart is in charge of agricultural interests in the office of Industrial Agent Baltimore & Ohio R. R., with headquarters at Baltimore. He has succeeded this summer in localizing about two thousand acres of apple orchards, all in large tracts. He is also instrumental in encouraging farmers along the B. & O. line to produce crops adapted to the soil. As a result, fifty thousand trees have been set under his direction. The fruit from one of the large orchards is to have a decided innovation in the handling. Two large automobile wagons to carry 1600 lbs. each have been contracted for and will convey the fruit to the railroad, nine miles distant. Mr. Stewart speaks at many farmers' institutes in connection with his work.

'01. C. A. McCue is spending a few days at the College.

'01. Gordon Tower has been at M. A. C. since last week. He is on his way to Washington, D. C., having spent the summer in forestry work in Oregon.

Y. W. C. A. CONVENTION.

On Friday morning, October 17, a party of delegates from the Young Women's Christian Association, accompanied by Mrs. Haner, left the college for Ypsilanti to attend the state convention of the association. After a very pleasant trip by way of Ann Arbor and the electric line, we arrived in Ypsilanti about one o'clock in the afternoon. The entertainment committee of that place had everything pleasantly arranged, and we were assigned rooms and boarding places without delay.

The first meeting we attended was a college conference led by Miss Simms, our own state secretary. It would be impossible to tell about the many good things we received, or of all the meetings we attended. Each day three sessions were held, in the morning, afternoon and evening, and each one was an inspiration in itself.

The most prominent speaker of the convention was Miss Emma Silver, a missionary in Shanghai, China. This is Miss Silver's first visit to the United States since going to China, seven years ago. She is a woman of remarkable strength and beauty of character, refined, gentle, and womanly in every sense of the word. The brightness of her consecrated life shines from her face, and just to see her is to know that hers is no lip service for the master, but one of daily kind acts and purity. Saturday evening she told of the bitter lives of the Chinese women among whom she works—of the millions of girls there who differ from American girls only because they do not know Christ. Miss Silver feels, very deeply, the needs of these women and ably pleaded their cause.

Another very helpful speaker was Dr. Scott, who had charge of the Bible hour each day. We could imagine what good might be gained from a weekly Bible lesson with such a teacher. The only other gentleman on the program was Rev.

Ninde of Ann Arbor, who gave a very helpful sermon on the call of God to the women of today.

Miss Barnes, chairman of the finance committee, Miss Angevine and Miss Stewart, chairman of the State committee, all gave us inspiration for a better work at M. A. C. There is little one can tell about such a convention, but much that one can feel. We hope that, in this year's service, we may be able to do better, stronger, and more consecrated work for having been there.

MILWAUKEE CONVENTION.

Two thousand butter-makers, butter dealers, and creamery supply men assembled in convention in Milwaukee last week to discuss the present and future needs of the butter industry of this country. It was a meeting of the National Creamery Buttermakers' Association, and nearly all the States in the Union were represented.

Michigan was represented by a large delegation, which easily ranked fourth in point of numbers.

One of the chief features of the convention was the elaborate program that had been prepared for this occasion. Among other speakers of note may be mentioned Maj. H. E. Alvord, chief of the dairy division, Washington, D. C., J. H. Monrod, of the N. Y. Produce Review, Ex-Gov. Hoard of Wisconsin, and Dr. S. M. Babcock from the Wisconsin Experiment Station.

A feature that needs special mention was the splendid display of creamery machinery. This was most complete in every respect and was highly interesting and instructive.

The entries of butter numbers over 600. No awards had been made up to Thursday noon.

The subject of a State butter scoring contest was brought before the Michigan delegation by the writer, and after considerable deliberation, it was unanimously voted that such a contest be inaugurated and conducted under the auspices of the Agricultural College. A resolution authorizing such a contest was also passed by the Michigan Dairyman's Association at its last annual meeting.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

Station Terrace is receiving some much-needed repairs.

Sec. Brown was in Schoolcraft recently where he delivered an address before the library association of that place.

Instructor Parrott received a short visit one day last week from Mr. H. S. McKeever, an old University of Kansas friend.

The sub-freshmen have elected the following officers: President, N. Prakken; vice-president, Miss E. Danford; secretary, John Bowditch; treasurer, V. Sullivan; sergeant-at-arms, F. Bates.

Reports from Olivet say that the Olivet football team is having secret practice in preparation for M. A. C. An appeal was recently made in chapel to support the team. As a result there are three teams out for practice every night.

The Geneva system of mailing the experiment station bulletins is now in full operation at M. A. C. By the new method the bulletins are mailed after the manner of the newspaper mailing system. The new method is more economical than the old.

Prof. McNair has been doing some interesting work in the mathematical line, using the great Tame-rack shaft as a basis. He is now in conjunction with the U.S. Geological Survey determining the thickness of the Earth's crust in the same shaft by means of several pendulums and accessories. Professor McNair was assistant professor of mathematics at M. A. C. during '92-'93.

Miss Nellie Foster is the new assistant in the postoffice.

The bulletin announcing special courses is being prepared.

The new bacteriological laboratory is being plastered and the new bath house is about ready to be enclosed.

Pres. Snyder's brother, Mr. S. B. Snyder, of Council Bluffs, Ia., visited the president last week on his return from Pennsylvania.

In the soil's laboratory is to be seen a unique piece of electrical apparatus, devised by Mr. Morton Burrows, for recording the time for aspirating air through soils.

There is some talk of running excursions to Olivet and Albion for the respective games with these colleges. As these are the only games away from home, it would be well to help the team on in this way.

The statistics of the railroads show that 7,510 people visited the College during the summer excursions. Many visitors drove in during the week and the total number of visitors is probably over 8,000.

Some enemy of Mr. Myers has suggested that the following be inserted in the paper: A catastrophe is something which happens. Prof. Myers sometimes happens—to go cat hunting; therefore, is he a catastrophe? If he is not one himself he certainly brings a cat-as-trophy when he returns from the hunt. Probably the question can't be settled till Myers "lets the cat out of the bag."

The children of Mr. Scott, janitor of the library building, have diphtheria.

The Zickel Publishing Co. has sent THE RECORD a copy of the "Jolly Student," a new and popular college song.

Prof. Taft has been over the southern part of the State recently and has inspected more than a hundred nurseries.

The horticultural department is gathering a collection of fruits and vegetables for display at the meeting of the National Grange to be held in Lansing, Nov. 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th.

The experiment station is harvesting its sugar beets and retaining samples of each variety for experimental testing. Mr. Potts of the station has been at Alma the past week to look after the experiment station beets at that place.

The following item was unavoidably crowded out of last week's issue:

At the botanical club last week Prof. Dandeno gave an exceedingly interesting talk on "The process of freezing in plants." An illustration was given of a piece of apparatus used to show, as nearly as possible, the actual conditions of affairs going on in the tissue—particularly that of leaves—during the lowering of the temperature to and below the freezing point. It was shown that, as freezing goes on in a leaf, minute crystals of ice are formed in the intercellular spaces; the water to form these crystals being extracted or forced from the living cells adjoining. When a plant is frozen the cells have lost water. When a frozen plant is thawed rapidly, the intercellular spaces become filled with water, and this gives the leaf the translucent "water-logged" appearance which it usually has after being thawed. If, however, the thawing be done very slowly, the cells may be capable of re-absorbing the water as fast as it is formed from the melting ice, and if so, there will be little or no danger to the tissue. Tuesday evening (tonight) Mr. Gunson will give a talk. A good attendance is desired.

The following mechanical men, with Prof. Weil, were in Chicago the 24th and 25th on a visit of inspection: A. Adelman, A. R. Alger, E. Balbach, G. N. Cardozo, W. F. Carleton, A. R. Carter, J. O. Greenway, D. A. Gurney, G. V. Howard, J. P. Knickerbocker, W. S. Merick, W. F. Millar, P. B. Pierce, G. G. Robins, H. J. Schneider, H. D. Sweet, M. W. Taber, L. C. Thomas, H. G. Walker, G. W. White. The others in the company were, L. T. Newell, Mr. Proctor, Instructor Theadore, Mr. C. J. Voorhorst of Lansing.

The students in Syracuse University and in Iowa University have been vaccinated because of small-pox scares.

Cornell has a registration of 2213 students in Ithaca. This is an increase of 200 over last year. Princeton, on the contrary, has 44 men less in the freshman class than it had last year.—The Dartmouth.

Y. W.-Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION.

The reception, given in the parlors of the Woman's building by the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, was the most successful one yet given at M. A. C. Over three hundred were in attendance, the reception lasting from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Conversation cards and a musical romance was the method of entertainment during the first part of the evening, and later the art gallery was a source of amusement. We print below the list of things in the art gallery. Pleasant Reflections was found to be a mirror, and things to adore a key and lock, these indicating the nature of the gallery.

1. Pleasant Reflections. 2. Recollections of the Old Masters. 3. Horse Fair. 4. Rose of Castile. 5. A Drive Through the Wood. 6. Sweet Sixteen. 7. Wayworn Traveler. 8. Misplaced Switch. 9. View of Boston. 10. Marble Group. 11. Departed Spirits. 12. Tax on Tea. 13. A Perfect Foot. 14. Bust of a Commentator. 15. The Oldest Revolver. 16. View of Long Branch. 17. The Lay of the Last Minstrel. 18. Ruins in China. 19. Military Ball. 20. The Family Horse. 21. The Skipper's Home. 22. The Lamplighter. 23. Links of Mystery. 24. Burn's Complete Works. 25. A City in Ireland. 26. Our Greatest Colonel. 27. A Dead Beet. 28. Lovers' Greeting. 29. Sold Again. 30. Bridal Scene. 31. Resort in Distress. 32. Music in the Air. 33. Mustered In, and Mustered Out. 34. Things to Adore. 35. Our Colored Waiter. 36. Letters from Home. 37. Fireside Companions. 38. The Watch on the Rhine. 39. The Flower of the Family. 40. A Family Jar. 41. A Skeleton of a Belle. 42. Styx Crosses by Shades. 43. The Cot by the Sea. 44. High Tide. 45. The Stranded Barque. 46. A Coat of Mail. 47. The Barber's Assistant. 48. An Old Ear-Ring. 49. An After Dinner Speech.

During the course of the evening Miss Ethel Adams sang, and the Y. M. C. A. quartette also gave selections. The musical romance was conducted by Miss Bemis and Miss Rounds, all the guests present being required to guess selections played. Frappe and wafers were served in the small dining room.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS.

The Thursday evening prayer meeting was led by J. A. Fisk. Theme, Missions. The great command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature," is not only to every Christian, but to every person of all Christian nations, for those who cannot go themselves can help send those who can go.

Chapel services Sunday morning were conducted by Rev. J. A. Schaad, of Lansing. Text, Joel 3:10. "Beat your plow shares into swords, and your pruning hooks into spears, let the weak say I am strong." The services were well attended.

The union meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. was led by Mr. Rollo Kirk Bryan, of Lansing, who gave a temperance talk. The meeting was extra well attended, and the illustrated talk on "Temperance" very interesting. The truths of the great cause were pressed home in two languages with unusual earnestness. All present enjoyed the talk.

ATHLETIC NOTES.

Athletic meeting Thursday, Oct. 23d: It was decided to charge members of the association twenty-five cents at the DePauw and Beloit games, others fifty cents. By this means the expenses of the DePauw team were almost met. The week before the results were very satisfactory, as the expenses of the team to Ann Arbor were a little more than covered.

After the business meeting addresses were made by Mr. Denman and members of the team. There was a good attendance and much enthusiasm. During the week more men have been showing up for work on the second team owing to the game Saturday, and the game at Flint this week promises to keep it well up to size.

The team goes to Olivet this Saturday and many students have expressed their desire to accompany it. Olivet always puts a good strong team in the field and the game should be well worth the trip. It is only twenty-seven miles. The team will leave Lansing 10:42 a. m. and returning leave Olivet 7:34 p. m. A train leaves Olivet going east at 4:18 which, if the game should be called at 2:30 students may be able to take.

A large crowd should turn out as it is certainly a great help to the team and we have never taken a crowd anywhere in several years and returned defeated.

The college is two miles from the station however, with no street car, and difficulty may be found in transportation.

SILVER RECOVERED.

It will be remembered that Dr. Marshall's house was looted last spring and many things taken. The Dr. has recovered two-thirds of his silverware and some other things, that were taken, the story of the recovery of the goods being rather interesting.

When C. A. Messenger was arrested in Charlotte a short time ago, the Dr. suspected from some things that came to his ears that Messenger had some of the missing goods. Accordingly Dr. Marshall made a journey to Charlotte and got back some of his silverware and a few other articles. The coat stolen from the Dr. was on the burglar's back at the time of arrest and the Dr. did not claim it.

Messenger, it seems, is a hold, bad man, he having two knives and two revolvers on his person at the time of arrest. One revolver was attached to a string so as to be ready for instant use. Messenger was a "rounder" living for a few months in one place and then moving on.
