MILITARY NOTES.

The College battalion took part in the Decoration Day exercises in Lansing, and as was the case last year, attracted a great deal of attention. The street cars delayed the battalion an hour and a half and consequently the drill on the Capitol grounds was somewhat shortened.

The battalion, after considerable waiting at the campus station, began the march to the city but the cars came along and were boarded this side the "White Elephant."

In Lansing the battalion marched south on Washington avenue where brief platoon drill took place. The march on Washington avenue stopped this side the Grand Trunk depot, and returning to the Capitol lawn, the battalion executed some movements before a large and interested audience.

There were but three or four absences from the battalion and the full turnout, clean guns, accoutrements and uniforms created a very satisfying impression.

In the competitive drill yesterday evening Captain H. D. Fargo of Company A won the Captain's medal and Mr. W. S. Minck of Company C the sergeant's medal. The judges were Col. Shubel and Captain Durst of Lansing. The drill was the best of the season.

ROUMANIA.

We had the privilege of hearing Saturday evening the program of the Phi Delta Literary Society, the chief feature of which program was a talk on Roumania—its history and development, illustrated by maps, and given by Mr. Henry Geller. Prof. C. D. Smith was present and at the close of the interesting literary program gave one of his characteristic speeches.

The country of Roumania has been the battleground for many centuries of the Turks and the Russians. But through all the years the patriotic and national spirit of the Roumanians has never died out.

The Crimean war was an event in history instrumental in leading to the independence of Roumania. Prince Charles, a member of the Hohenzollern, upon his selection to reign over Roumania, instituted reforms which have led to the material and intellectual advancement of the people.

With '04m. August F. Frey now has a position as draftsman with the Deering Harvester Co. Mr. Frey says his work is very pleasant. His address is 291 LaSalle St., Chicago.

'74. Geo. W. Brewer, who is Industrial teacher in the United States government service at Truxton Canon Training School at Truxton, Arizona, now in his second year, has been promoted to the position of Disciplinarian of the school besides filling the positions of musician, instructor of military tactics and Superintendent of the Sunday School.

'78. Prof. Davenport of the University of Illinois contributes an interesting article to one of the U. S. Department of Agriculture publications on Cooperative Experiments in Illinois. The following is an extract: Cooperative experiments in Illinois have been the outgrowth of natural conditions. No substations are maintained in this State, and the policy is strongly against scattering the work of the station, as it is also against maintaining any more organization than is absolutely necessary. Accordingly, when this station has gone off its home grounds it has been for a particular purpose and for the reason that favorable conditions did not exist at the station. It has therefore chosen a particular spot for a particular purpose, and the logical corollary of this principle is that it should choose the spot or spots best adapted to the desired end, obtain control of the situation, retain it so long as is necessary, and then abandon it. This is in the interest of carrying on an investigation under the most favorable conditions, then of being freed from it immediately afterwards, to the end that the entire energies of the station may be available at all times for fresh work and not be dissipated in caring for acres whose usefulness is past.

'86. Mr. George W. Park has presented the botanical department with eighty-one packages of flower seed and six lots of bulbs. He is located at Lapark, Pa., and besides being a successful seedsman and florist, is publisher of Park's Floral Magazine, which has a circulation of 350,000 copies. In a postscript to a letter written to Dr. Beal, Mr. Park says:

"It may be of interest to you to know that the May edition of Park's Floral Magazine was 452,065 copies, and that that immense number was printed, folded, stitched and trimmed and put in the mail in about seven days."

'90. Prof. F. B. Mumford of the University of Missouri, has been appointed acting dean of the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts and Acting Director of the Experiment Station.

'00. Irma G. Thompson writes from Fairlee Cottage studio, South Haven, that her prospects in art work for the season are good. Her letter shows the usual enthusiasm.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS.

The Thursday evening prayer meeting was led by Mr. C. D. Sterling. Theme, Has God Been Kind to Me? All members who took part in the meeting agreed that God had been kind to them in ways too numerous to mention. He is kind to every creature of his, and we would be able to recognize his kindness to us more than we do if, when we did recognize it we could only appreciate his kindness as we should. As God has been and is kind to us it is our duty to be kind to all with whom we come in contact.

Chapel services Sunday morning were conducted by Rev. G. F. Plummer. Text: John. 14:16. "And I will pray the Father and He shall give you another Comforter, that He may abide with you forever." The sermon was very interesting and appreciated by all present.

The union meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening was conducted by Mr. W. M. Brown, and the annual report of the Geneva delegation was given. The reports were short and to the point thus lessening the tedium experienced in listening to the average convention report. The lantern views of Geneva scenery were fine and gave some idea of the beauty and picturesqueness of Geneva scenery.

BASEBALL LAST WEEK.

M. A. C. OUT OF RACE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP. — END OF COLLEGE BASEBALL SEASON NEAR.

On Wednesday afternoon M. A. C. played Albion on the latter's grounds, and was beaten by a score of 15 to 0. The day was cold and Pinance was not in form, but perhaps the less said about the game the better. Both teams wanted the game very much, and Albion was destined to be gratified. Fierce hitting by Albion and errors by M. A. C. tells the tale.

Albion scored in but three innings, but made enough scores to win an ordinary game in the second.

DETROIT COLLEGE BEATEN.

On Thursday afternoon M. A. C. beat Detroit College on the home grounds. The visitors were confident of victory after having read in the Detroit papers the Albion-M. A. C. score of the previous day. A small crowd was present to witness the contest, which was uninteresting after the first half of the game was over.

M. A. C. blanked the visitors in the first half of the first and made one score. Detroit College got a man around the bases in the second and this was all they could do in the way of scoring. M. A. C. pounded D. Sullivan's shoots consistently from the beginning but in the sixth drove him out of the box. D'Haene who succeeded him fared little better. Last year Sullivan was very effective against M. A. C., but the home team had on its batting clothes and would have hit any pitcher placed in the box. As Detroit College had recently defeated Albion, M. A. C. got much satisfaction out of the one-side score 19 to 1.

THE LAST GAME.

The Walpole Indians played M. A. C. Decoration Day before a large crowd. M. A. C., as a fitting end to the baseball season, beat the visitors 10 to 4 before a large crowd. Millar was in good form and kept the visitors' hits well scattered. The Indians showed lack of team work, and the game was rather one-sided from the spectators' point of view.

It will be well for the M. A. C. entertainment course committee to secure for its program, when it is possible, William E. Curtis of the Chicago Record Herald. However, Mr. Curtis's dates for College lecture are all full for 1903-4, twenty lectures before College audiences being on his schedule. It is his practice when visiting a College to write up an account of the particular institution, which account appears in the Record-Herald and is, of course, seen by thousands of readers.

The Try and Trust Circle of the King's Daughters held their last meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Harry Smith, Wednesday, May 27, '03. After the regular devotional exercises and business meeting, a short literary and musical program was given, followed by an informal reception in honor of Mrs. Weil, one of the members who soon leaves for her new home in Detroit. Mrs. Weil was presented with Elizabeth Barrett Browning's complete works as a little remembrance from the society and as a token of love and esteem. Mrs. Weil organized the circle and has been one of its most faithful workers at all times and will be greatly missed from the circle. Light refreshments were served.

The wrestling meets that were partially arranged for between M. A. C. and Olivet and M. A. C. and Albion did not take place last week.

Mr. W. S. Leonard is revising his book for use in shop methods, the first edition having been published two years ago. The new book will contain in the neighborhood of 125 pages and 100 illustrations.

A small part of the botanic garden, lower than the rest, has been scraped and preparations are now being made for elevating this portion. Two-hundred varieties of seeds have been planted under the bower belonging to the garden.

The board in the men's boarding clubs for the spring term has been audited as follows: A, $2.60; B, $2.51; D, $2.93; E, $2.65; G, $2.01; H, $2.17. The high prices are doubtless due to the advance in the cost of meats.

At the Horticultural Club last Wednesday evening, Mr. Longyear gave an illustrated talk on Kergo-kensis or cell division, and Mr. Dean spoke interestingly of this year's orchard and garden experiments, especially those with strawberries. The next meeting will be held June 3rd. Election of officers.

Miss Hannah Bach gave her pianoforte recital in the parlor of the women's building Friday evening according to the program as published last week. The parlor was well-filled with College people none of whom were disappointed in the performance. Miss Bach was entirely at ease in her renditions and her selections were given with much expression. The ladies' double quartette varied the program with vocal numbers and were heartily applauded.

Several College people made visits at home Decoration Day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Collingwood very pleasantly entertained a number of young people Saturday evening.

The Free Press and the Tribune of Detroit both had in the Sunday editions fine cuts of the M. A. C. wrestling team.

The College library has received recently two sets, 10 volumes in each set, of very fine books. One set is entitled "The Masterpieces and the History of Literature." The other set is entitled the "World's History and Its Makers." The twenty volumes are well bound and illustrated.

The two young elks in the College "Zoo" were sold last week. They have been placed in the John Ball Park, Grand Rapids. The two old elks at the College are shedding their old coats of hair very rapidly and the elk that dropped his antlers a few weeks ago now has new ones developed to a considerable size.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

Prof. U. P. Hedrick talked before the Maple River Farmer's Club one day last week. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hedrick.

In the current number of the Michigan Engineer is published Instructor Waterbury's paper on Haslett Park Sink Holes.

Mr. St. John, brother-in-law to ex-Secretary Bird, and one of the best tennis men at the U. of M., will pay M. A. C. a visit before long.

Experiment station bulletin No. 208, Michigan Mushrooms, by Mr. B. O. Longyear is ready for distribution. Like the other bulletins which have come from the press recently, No. 208 is written in an entertaining way and consequently will not repel anyone by the dry-as-dust quality. Numerous half-tones appear in the bulletin, the originals being furnished by photographs, and drawings by Mr. Longyear.

President and Mrs. Snyder gave a reception to the senior class at their home Friday evening. Heart contests were the methods used in entertaining. In the first contest, all were required to find hearts invisible and visible about the house. Mr. Severance discovered the greatest number and took first prize. In the second contest the gentlemen were obliged to make complimentary speeches to the young ladies. If the speech pleased, the speaker received a heart, if not, a mitten. Mr. Hesse carried off the honors in the contest. The refreshments, so far as possible, were also in the shape of hearts.

The Y. W. C. A. girls served strawberry ice and cake, Friday afternoon and evening and were liberally patronized. In the afternoon the ices were served on the lawn in front of the building, but in the evening the tables were set in the corridors. After Miss Bach's recital the auction sale of home-made candy took place. Miss Gertrude Peters proved a very energetic and effective auctioneer and the boxes of candy sold well, the prices per box ranging from 15 cents to 60 cents. A cake made by one of the bachelor instructors also brought a fancy price. About $15 was cleared by the Y. W. C. A. and the amount will help defray the expenses of the delegates to Lake Geneva. It is hoped that three Y. W. C. A. delegates can be sent from M. A. C. One delegate, Miss Irene Way, has already been chosen.

Hitherto livestock demonstration work at M. A. C. has been limited almost entirely to living animals. From the form and handling qualities of animals deductions have had to be made regarding the kind and quality of the carcass without any means of proving the correctness or falsity of these deductions. So much discrimination is being made by both markets and consumers regarding quality of meats that this question demands very careful study. Arrangements are being made for the coming year whereby the student will have an opportunity to handle and judge the live animal and will then be instructed in slaughtering and slaughter tests of the same. And finally the student will be required to cut up the carcass, weigh out the various cuts and determine the percentage and quality of the same. Demonstrations with living animals only does not permit of a study of "quality" one of the most important factors in meat production.

During the last week the following tennis matches were played: Wheeler—Willett, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5, 6-1, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2. This practically assures Wheeler's playing the singles at Albion. In doubles on Saturday Wheeler and Willett beat Fall and P. H. Stevens, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3. In ladies' singles Miss Hadley beat Miss Adams, 6-1, 6-0, and Miss Eichbaum, 6-2, 6-3. Miss Hadley will represent the College in ladies' singles and Misses Hadley and Eichbaum in doubles. The team expected from Alma again neglected to appear but from the results of the draw as made by two members of the M. I. A. A. board we meet them first in both singles and doubles, and as they are the strongest team we are to face we run a good chance of not playing much after Thursday. There is certainly something very peculiar about the way in which the matches were arranged. The drawing being done by Bechtel of Albion and Sperry of Olivet apparently without witnesses and with no authority from the board. Further, they have not been officially accepted by board although each individual member has been notified. The strange part of it is that in both singles and doubles the drawings were the same: Alma drawing M. A. C.; Hillsdale, Kalamazoo; and Albion, Olivet. This looks to be more than chance and seems another proof of the intention of the denominational colleges to do all possible to injure M. A. C. Meeting Alma the first day in a 2 out of 3 match gives us about half the chances of winning we should have in the 3 out of 5 final match. Alma's man Hyney, who beat Sheldon two years ago when playing at Albion tires easily. The drawing will be protested but probably the results will be the same as in the case of the Kalamazoo baseball game.
