

Ninety-second Annual

COMMENCEMENT

MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

JENISON FIELDHOUSE
SUNDAY, JUNE FOURTH
NINETEEN FIFTY

Alma Mater

I

M. S. C. we love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our hearts to thee,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M. S. C.

II

When from thy scenes we wander
And twilight shadows fade,
Our mem'ry still will linger
Where light and shadows played.
In the evening oft we'll gather
And turn our thoughts to thee,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M. S. C.

The escorts for the academic procession are members of Mortar Board, an honorary society for senior women; and Tower Guard, an honorary society for sophomore women.

Michigan State College

As one of the leading Land Grant colleges and the oldest agricultural college in the world, Michigan State College provides a technical, practical, and cultural education for its student body, in addition to extensive research and extension services to the people of Michigan.

Now in its 94th year, Michigan State College has grown from one building and four faculty members to one of the largest universities in the nation. It has approximately 1,300 staff members engaged in teaching and research, 124 modern permanent and 988 temporary buildings, and almost 12,000 acres of land, including 540 acres in the campus area proper.

Founded in 1855 to educate youth for the major occupation of that day--farming--Michigan State College has broadened its offerings as young people, preparing for other vocations, have sought the advantages of college training. Today, almost 90 different courses of study are offered in the schools of Agriculture, Business and Public Service, Engineering, Home Economics, Science and Arts and Veterinary Medicine. This excludes the curriculum of the Basic College which has been hailed as one of the most progressive ideas for higher education in the nation today; and the Graduate School, which offers 56 courses leading to the degrees of master of arts, master of science, master of music, master of forestry, doctor of philosophy, and doctor of education.

Michigan State College continually strives to expand its service to the people of the state. Five sub-stations of the Agricultural Experiment Station are maintained in various parts of the state, and more than 225 conferences, short courses and special courses are held each year on the Spartan campus. During the 1949-50 year, more than 85,000 persons attended these "extra-curricular" educational courses and meetings.

Today, some 16,000 students from Michigan and other states and from nations all over the world are attending the college at East Lansing--8,200 of whom are housed on the campus proper. With about 85 percent of these students coming from communities in every section of the state, Michigan State College is doing its part to fill the greatly increased demand of the younger generation for higher education.

In the agricultural, business and professional fields, Michigan State College has proved its worth to the people of the state of Michigan, paying dividends many times the appropriation for its maintenance made each year by the state and national governments. Noted for its democratic and friendly spirit, the student body harmonizes with the college faculty to make Michigan State College a first class educational institution.

Approximately 40 per cent of the cost for the physical expansion was secured through legislative appropriation and the remainder through self-liquidating loans without public expense. Buildings completed or under construction which have been financed on a self-liquidating basis are: Landon, Yakeley and Gilchrist Halls for women; Snyder-Phillips and Shaw Halls for men; food storage building; 11 apartment buildings for married students and faculty; and additions to Macklin Field stadium and the Student Union building. Buildings completed or under construction which have been financed by state appropriation are: Berkey Hall, Natural Science building, Physics and Mathematics building, Home Management building, Agricultural Engineering building, Electrical Engineering building, Plant Science Greenhouses on Farm Lane, and a steam generating plant. Now under construction is the modern seven-story Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, which will provide accommodations for the college's extensive program of continuing educational services to the people of Michigan.
