MICHIGAN STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

VOL. 13.

LANSING, MICHIGAN, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1908.

No. 20

PROFESSOR SMITH MAY GO TO BRAZIL.

Has a Flattering Offer From That Country to Establish an Agricultural College There.

Prof. C. D. Smith was called to Washington last week to confer with the Brazilian Ambassador, Mr. Nabuco, who formally tendered him the presidency of Brazil's first Agricultural College. Though no contract has been signed it is quite probable that he will accept and will sail from New York on May 5. This action on the part of the South American nation has been made after a thorough canvass of the United States in search of the man best able to build up a system of agricultural education in that country and carries with it a correspondingly attractive salary.

The responsibilities of the position are broad and far-reaching. Not only will he be intrusted with the duties of administration but also the working out of the details of a course suitable to the needs of the agricultural interests of that region. Coffee is now the principal crop but an effort will be made to introduce a diversified system of agriculture including the growing of grain and improved breeds of livestock.

The site of the first college will be at Piracicoba in the state of St. Paul, the southernmost state of the country. When this is successfully established colleges will be established in the other states. It is peculiarly significant that a representative from this college, the first agricultural college in North America, should be honored with the privilege of founding the first college of a similar nature in this South American Republic.

BOARD OF AGRICULTURE TO BE ELECTED.

Resolution to that Effect Passed by Con-Con.

If the revised constitution is adopted when submitted to the people, the State Board of Agriculture will hereafter be elected by popular vote instead of appointed. The present constitution provides that the Governor of the State shall appoint in January of each alternate year two members to serve for a term of six years, and by an act of the legislature in 1905 provision was made for another member to be appointed from the upper peninsula. According to the resolution passed last Wednesday night the Board will be placed on exactly the same grounds as the Board of Regents of the University and will be elected in the same manner.

FARMER'S CLUB.

L. J. Smith speaks tonight on Farm Power.

R. J. Edwards '09 has returned to his home in Houghton where he will undergo an operation for appendicitis.

SECOND PRELIMINARY DEBATES.

Last Saturday evening the second preliminary debates for the Ypsilanti contest were pulled off. There were three teams of six men each, each team debating before one of the literary societies at their regular literary meetings. We wish to thank the three societies for their courtesy to the debaters and their friends, and also the nine judges who so kindly gave their services. The men winning the first four places will be rearranged and made up into two teams which will comprise the third preliminaries, to be held Feb. 29th. Below is given the teams and the winners:

Team I. At the Columbian rooms:

Affirmative	Negative
C. C. Taylor	Z. S. Graybill
C. T. Nash	G. A. Barcroft
A. H. Perrine	Wm. M. Rider

1st, Taylor; 2nd, Nash; 3rd, Rider; 4th, Graybill. Judges, Prof. Rider, Mr. Gunson, Mr. L. J. Smith.

Team II. At the Union Lit-Building:

Affirmative.	Negative.
H. T. Kempster	F. H. McDermid
C. J. Oviatt	R. T. Kurtz
L. A. Affer	R. P. Holdsworth

1st, Oviatt, 2nd Affer, 3rd Kempster, 4th Holdsworth.

Judges: Prof. Sackett, Mr. Tomkins, Mr. Stevens.

Team III. At the Aurorean Rooms.

Affirmative.	Negative.
A. J. Kunner	G. F. Hubbard
P. H. Pifer	W. D. Frazer
J. C. DeCamp	J. J. McDevitt

1st DeCamp, 2nd Piper, 3rd Runner, 4th Hubbard.

Judges: Mr. Robinson, Mr. Cullom, Mr. Wright.

As was announced last week, the question of Chinese immigration to the U. S. would be definitely settled at the Debating Club. Messrs. Ingall and Mason argued the affirmative, but the mass of evidence and unanswerable arguments brought forth by Messrs. Belknap and Hoffman so affected the judges that two of the three voted in favor of the latter. There shall consequently be no further immigration of Chinese into our country. The decision of the judges was followed by an open discussion, giving all members of the club an opportunity to air their views upon the subject.

This week the question, "Resolved, That the U. S. senators should be elected by popular vote," will be discussed by Messrs. Campbell and McMillan on the affirmative, and Messrs. Crane and Cavanaugh on the negative. Everybody is welcome to hear this discussion—Room 7, College Hall, Thursday from 7 to 8 p. m.

J. H. Taylor, instructor in agriculture here last year, called on college friends last week. He has been working in an architect's office at Battle Creek.

THE SHORT COURSE—PARLIAMENTARY CLUB.

Since the early part of this year's Short Course most of the first and second-year men have met regularly, two or three times a week, for instruction and practice in parliamentary law, under the direction of instructor F. W. Howe. The class numbers about 90 members, meets regularly in Room 2 of the Dairy Building, and is organized under a constitution and by-laws as "The Short Course Students Farmers' Club." Their aim is to discuss without special preparation any subject of interest to the ordinary farmer, using the subject-matter as "laboratory material" for parliamentary treatment and practice.

"Howe's Handbook of Parliamentary Usage" is used as the guide in such practice, and 85 copies have been sold at a reduced price to supply the demands of the class. The book has a unique arrangement which displays only the titles of the various motions when the book is opened flat in the middle, thus enabling the chairman or speaker to turn instantly and without confusion to any motion proposed and find all the rules, exceptions, forms, and comments that govern its proper use. This feature has caused the book to be widely advertised by its publishers as the "Instantaneous Arbitrator" in parliamentary usage. With the book in hand, the class has been able from the outset to follow all the spontaneous motions offered by various members and to dispose of them in the proper order.

Members have been frequently called to the chair without previous notice, and the rest have done their best to entangle them with irregular motions. This kind of practice is the best possible to establish confidence before an audience. It is doubtful whether many of the regular students could handle situations that have developed with any more assurance than some of the members have gained in a few weeks. From now on a well-contested struggle is likely to be seen at every meeting, on Monday evening at 7 o'clock and Thursday p. m. at 4. A limited number of visitors who are interested in this kind of work can be accommodated in the room and will be cordially welcomed.

PHI DELTA PARTY.

The Phi Delta society gave its winter term 11 o'clock party in the armory Saturday evening and about sixty couples, including the members and their guests, spent a pleasant evening in dancing. The feature of the evening was the pretty light effects used at times. The gallery at the west end was decorated to represent a small wood and with the lights turned off a large spot light for a moon and twinkling stars could be seen through the trees. Bunting, pennants, cozy corners and a student room made the building look very attractive. The patrons for the evening were Prof. and Mrs. Vedder and Prof. and Mrs. Kedzie.

ALUMNI.

with '73.

F. C. Wells, who on account of sickness lacked but a few months of finishing his course at M. A. C. and afterward took a course in veterinary medicine at Detroit college, made the college a pleasant call while in Lansing to attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Veterinary Association. He is located at Saline, Mich.

In the Independent for Feb. 6, L. P. Fimple answers the article, Weighed and Found Wanting, in a recent number of Human Life. Mr. Fimple is an enthusiastic supporter of Hughes and believes the attack made in Human Life is far from justified. Mr. Fimple is now at Colon, Mich.

Below we publish a letter from H. E. Emmons, '82. It is these letters from the older alumni who still remain loyal to the college that should spur us on to greater effort to build up the college and widen its field of usefulness.

EDITOR RECORD: Some little time ago R. A. Clark, who like myself is an old M. A. C. man, called my attention to the RECORD. Some years ago I think I was a subscriber. Of late years, as my whereabouts have been somewhat uncertain, having been from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the North Coast to the Isthmus of Yucatan, I have lost in a great measure the news from M. A. C.

In a recent issue I read with much interest the communication sent in by my old classmate, Charles C. Georgeson, who is located at Alaska I believe. His letter awakened in me many old college scenes, and called to mind some of the various tricks that I used to play on Charles C.

Being located for some indefinite time in Pittsburgh, I should like to get the RECORD regularly, and herewith enclose my subscription for one year. The RECORD will reach me if sent to my office, 1714, Farmers' Bank Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Friend Clark called on me today, advising that he had severed his connection with the insurance business, and was to devote his entire time and attention to the selling of railroad bolts. I can only wish him success, for if what he has got is good it will be much safer for all of M. A. C., as well as the entire world, to travel on our railroads.

In the issue of January 14th, I note mention of the whereabouts of a number of different students, but none of my class of 1878. I wish it were possible that more of the students of the early life in college might communicate through the columns of the RECORD.

With kind regards, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
H. E. EMMONS.

SHADE TREES FOR PUBLIC ROADS.

YOU CAN HELP.

This is a great work for some one to do in pushing the roadside shade tree idea in Michigan. Do not wait for your neighbor to start.

There is a stretch of five or six miles of public road west of Downs, Kans., lined with trees on either side.

Naturally, travelers, who can do so without going out of their way, select this road and the trees lend additional value to the farms on which they stand.

For one-half of the distance along a field a quarter of a mile long the trees are scattered. For the rest of the way they stand close together and here where thus sheltered from the south winds, corn yields six bushels more per acre than in the rest of the field. The different appearance of the sheltered portion of this field, compared with the other, is very noticeable.

Six bushels per acre on fifteen acres increases the yield of the field by ninety bushels. This at 25 cents per bushel, amounting to $22.50, much more than compensates for the loss of ground occupied by the trees, which are now approaching a size suitable for box boards and other purposes.

Every loyal citizen of the state ought to be responsible for the planting of at least one roadside tree during the spring of 1908.

Spring is nearly here.

OLYMPIC ANNUAL FRESHMAN FEED.

Saturday evening was held the most enjoyable society meeting of the winter term, it being the occasion of the annual freshman feed.

The feed proper was carried out in elegant style and the new men proved themselves good waiters as well as excellent managers. But that which will add to the joyous remembrance of the evening most was the fluent speaking of Messrs. Chrisy, Hewson, Webb and Merwin.

'84.

J. J. Bush of the above class, in a recent letter to Prof. Kedzie, says that the New York City alumni were planning for a big feed at the new Plaza Hotel, Feb. 5.

CHAPTERS IN RURAL PROGRESS.

BY KENYON L. BUTTERFIELD, '91.

Chapters in Rural Progress, a 250 page book dealing with rural economic problems by Pres. K. L. Butterfield, of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, and a graduate of M. A. C. in 1891, comes to our desk. In it are discussed problems of rural progress, the agencies which are at work solving these problems and the social side of the farm question.

President Butterfield has made a careful and exhaustive study of the economic and social problems of the farmer, has always been directly associated with farmers' organizations and is a recognized authority. The book will prove a valuable addition to the literature on this increasingly important subject.

It is published by the University of Chicago Press, Chicago and New York.

Y. W. C. A.

The meeting of the Y. W. C. A. held on Wednesday was unusually well attended. Rev. H. C. Wilson of the First Presbyterian church of Lansing, gave us a very helpful talk on "The Divinity of Christ." The society hopes to have Mr. Wilson for another evening in the near future. Rev. Case, of Stockbridge, was also present.

A larger attendance at the weekly meeting is earnestly desired. We feel that you will not only be helping the Y. W. C. A. by your presence but that we can do you good. "Come, let us worship together."

E. M. McElroy is now Supt. of schools at Coldwater, Mich. He has recently been re-elected for two years with a substantial increase in salary. Looks as if he was making good.

COLLEGE SPIRIT.

I suppose the term "college spirit" is best illustrated by the species known as the "Yale spirit." I believe that in almost any crowd of the country when anybody says "Yale" he hears the word in all directions. A spirit seems to be engendered there that lasts through life and that holds together the students of the whole institution almost unto the ends of the earth.

I think this spirit is forming here now, around a word which has been caught up somewhat recently; and that word is "loyalty." A song has been made called "Loyalty;" it is set to catchy music and everybody is singing it. The beginning of this centered around a song called "Illinois" which was composed by an early professor in music.

Like any other spirit I suppose this is an intangible thing, but it is as catchy if it once gets started as is a microbe disease. Just how to vaccinate for it or against it I do not know. Of course the association with common ideas and common things forms the ground-work for this spirit, and I suppose that some catchy phrase or song serves to crystallize the sentiment and makes it perpetual.

E. DAVENPORT, '78.

F. N. SMITH STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY.

Student at M. A. C. 1876-78.

Fred N. Smith, proprietor of the Star laundry, near the Michigan ave. bridge, was stricken with apoplexy while taking a nap this noon, and died in about a half hour.

Mr. Smith had eaten a hearty meal and lay down in a small room off the entrance to the laundry and immediately went to sleep. He made no struggle or noise when the attack of apoplexy came on.

The body was removed to his home at 215 Main st. e.

The deceased was born in Oakland county 50 years ago, and then moved with his parents to Watertown, where he attended school and later took a two years' agricultural course at the M. A. C. He came to this city about 17 years ago and engaged in the oil business. Later he went into the coal business with Frank Wells, Sr., the firm name being Wells & Smith. About four years ago he purchased the Star laundry. He is survived by his wife and three children, Mrs. Charles St. Johns and Miss Gladys and Franklin Smith, all of whom reside in this city. His mother, Mrs. Franklin Smith, and a sister, Mrs. John Steiner, also survive him.—State Republican, Feb. 3.

Owing to the fact that Mr. Rogers, deputy highway commissioner, cannot be at the Round-up Thursday afternoon he will speak Tuesday evening instead.

Prof. J. W. Toomey of the Yale Forestry School will be at the Round-up and will speak Tuesday afternoon on the Outlook for State Forestry. Prof. Toomey is a graduate of M. A. C., with the class of '89.

Messrs. B. B. Pratt, '09, and G. A. Gilbert, '09, are being initiated into the mysteries of the Alpha Zeta this week.

WHAT A WOMAN CAN DO IN HER TOWN.

"Your front yard and your back yard are things, which, if properly laid out and beautified, contribute as much to the social and moral and ethical life of the community as anything that could well be done anywhere. Beauty is a prime factor in man's well-being. If you help make the world beautiful you are doing as much as any one can do.

It is not only here in your yards, but out in your streets, in your public squares, in your schools and churches, around your depots and public court houses, that interesting and charming results can be obtained.

If you are a woman of idea and taste, don't hide your light under a bushel; don't stand in your little front room or kitchen and imagine that you are forsaken and of no account. Talk. Express your views. Go to the people who are doing things, or who are capable of doing things, and see if you cannot get some action.

You can see whether your and other people's school children are surrounded with the proper artistic and affectionate atmosphere which belongs to the school—whether it has growing plants; whether it has pleasing and attractive pictures on the walls; whether the spirit of the school room is kindly and intelligent. And if these things are not right you can find ways of making them right."—The Delineator, Feb., 1908.

BOMBARDED.

"Ah, my friend," said the old soldier, "you don't know what it is to be in the midst of a shower of shells."

"Yes, I do," responded the younger man.

"Been in the war?"

"No, but I have often sat in the parquet while the gallery gods were munching peanuts."—Detroit Tribune.

Of all the habits and principles which make for success in a young man, the most useful is the determination to do and to do right all of those things which come his way each day, whether they are agreeable or disagreeable; and the ability to do this is best acquired through long practice in doggedly doing along with that which is agreeable a lot of things which are tiresome and monotonous and which one does not like.—Ex.

A treatise entitled, Researches on the Performance of the Screw Propeller, issued by the Carnegie Institution at Washington, has recently come to our attention. The author is W. F. Durand, Prof. of Mechanical Engineering at M. A. C. from 1887-1891. Prof. Durand is now with the Leland Stanford University.

If all the caramels given to girls by our students were combined into one caramel, it would take a girl with a jaw 31 ft. 6 in. long and having a tensile strength of 286 ton per foot to chew it. Oh, ye of little consideration; think of what you are feeding and pity the man who must be her husband!—The Fulcrum.

Waitress—I've got frog's legs chicken's liver, calves' brains.

Boarder—I'd advise you to see a physician.—Ex.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

The RECORD comes out in a dress of new type this week.

Miss Rose M. Taylor of the U. of M. takes up her work in the department of botany this week.

Instructor Halpin and the students electing poultry were in Mason Thursday attending the poultry show.

The agricultural section of the Michigan Academy of Science will hold its annual meeting at the college in April.

James Dewley, graduate of the special sugar beet course in 1901, and now superintendent of the Carrolton factory in Saginaw county, was a college visitor last week.

These are the days when the various M. A. C. alumni organizations are holding their annual meetings. The RECORD would be glad to receive reports from their meetings.

M. A. C. will send Shassberger for first and Hoopingartner for alternate to the state oratorical contest at Hope College. It will be like the Dutch getting home.—Moderator Topics.

Mr. L. F. Shackleton, of Grand Rapids, a student in the special short course in general agriculture, was confined to the hospital by an acute attack of rheumatism last week. While there he received news of the death of his mother which occurred on Wednesday. He was able to leave Thursday evening to attend the funeral.

Flowers for the Junior Hop.—Leave your orders with Chas. Dunlap, '09.

Instructor Liverance was in Williamston Sunday, to attend a funeral of his grandfather.

Dean Gilchrist gave an afternoon luncheon in her parlors Sunday, for the young ladies and their brothers who are attending college.

At the school election Saturday, the following board members were elected: Prof. H. K. Vedder, Prof. W. Babcock, R. S. Baker, A. C. Jenson, S. A. Robinson and Dr. C. E. Marshall.

The annual oratorical contest of the Ero Alphan Society was held last Saturday afternoon. Miss Gilchrist, Miss Paddock and Prof. Hedrick kindly acted as judges, and gave the decision in the following order: 1st, Miss Zello Kimmel; 2d, Bernice Griffin, and 3d, Elizabeth Frazer.

Considerable comment was made last fall when the sophomores departed from the usual custom of having the class athletes distinguished by numerals. When the sweater vests were "sprung" last fall every one had the numeral '10, the athletes being distinguished by an arrow. The upper classes took the matter up in class meetings and appointed committees to investigate customs in other colleges. Recently the sophomores have appointed a committee to work with those from the junior and senior classes. The numerals may have to go.

Dr. Hurt would like to get a student stenographer for a few hours' work each week.

D. C. Carpenter, '10 Agr., has been confined to his home in Lansing on account of a serious affliction of the eyes.

A delegation from the State Association of County Supervisors which met in Lansing last week, visited the college Thursday afternoon.

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by those who attended the military party last Friday evening. The college orchestra which made its first public appearance in this capacity was highly appreciated. Prof. and Mrs. Vedder, Secretary and Mrs. Brown, and Prof. and Mrs. Baker were the patrons.

Judge Landis, who soaked the Standard Oil Company with a fine of $29,000,000, which has never been paid, isn't in it over at Albion with the judge who soaked a student $15.06 for carrying off a fifteen cent piece of colored felt from a co-ed's room after the thing was returned, and then enforced his decree by putting in an alternative of 65 days in the cooler in case the poor man could not raise the price. But it is only another evidence that the rich and powerful may violate laws with impunity, while the poor and wretched must suffer. We fear that an awful landslide of conversions to anarchistic doctrines will result at Albion College.—Normal News.

E. C. Krehl spent Sunday in Davison.

H. R. Pattengill will speak before the forestry club this evening at 7:00 o'clock in the chapel.

President and Mrs. Snyder will entertain the unmarried members of the sub-faculty Friday evening, Feb. 28.

The basketball team sustained its record throughout the past week. Monday game with the Mt. Pleasant Normal team resulted in a victory score 30 to 23. Saturday the score with Midland Young Men's club was 48 to 8.

The Senior Horticultural students have selected subjects for thesis as follows:

Barden, Darbee and Wilber.—A critical examination of all the reports of the Michigan Horticultural Society with notes on important papers and discussions.

Lindsley.—Report on the renovating experiment in the Burcham orchard and performance of the practical work in pruning, spraying, harvesting etc.

Boyle.—Report of experiment on cold storage of apples.

Burrill.—Experiments in crossing strawberries in greenhouse and strawberry breeding in field.

Conolly.—Design of proposed site for new range of greenhouses at M. A. C. with adjacent gardens.

Pratt.—Report on the rate of growth (in inches per year) and earliness of bearing of all the varieties of apples in south block of college orchard.

WORK IN BASEBALL BEGINS THIS WEEK.

An Exceptionally Strong Schedule Arranged for Spring Term.

TRACK AND CLASS BASKETBALL ALSO ATTRACT MUCH INTEREST.

The baseball men will start work this week. The schedule, which is the best a team has ever had to work for, has made the men anxious to get to work, and it is expected some 75 or 100 will respond to the call. A tentative schedule has been announced as follows:

- April 18 Olivet at M. A. C.
- " 23 De Pau University at Chicago.
- " 24 Culver at Culver, Ind.
- " 25 Notre Dame at Notre Dame.
- " 30 Detroit College at M. A. C.
- May 2 Alma at M. A. C.
- " 8 Hillsdale at M. A. C.
- " 9 Detroit U. at M. A. C.
- " 15 Wabash at M. A. C.
- " 18 Hillsdale at Hillsdale.
- " 19 Alma at Alma.
- " 21 Lake Forest U'sity at M. A. C.
- " 23 Ypsilanti at M. A. C.
- " 28 Syracuse University at M. A. C.
- " 29 Olivet at Olivet.
- " 30 Alma at M. A. C.

The home schedule is especially attractive. Alma, state champions, come for two games, while Wabash, Lake Forest and Syracuse University, the last named, one of the largest and best known of eastern institutions, will also prove features.

Games have been requested also by Beloit, Case, Oberlin, Michigan, and Notre Dame, and, if satisfactory shifts can be made, some of these may be substituted or added to the above.

Interest in track work appears to be more lively than in any previous year. Some one hundred are now enlisted for the work and last Wednesday evening there were sixty-five on the floor in track suits at one time. A thirty-yard dash was run off, eight squads of six men each starting. The preliminaries finally left Bignell, Hanson, Gilbert, Small, old men, and Trautman and Miller, two freshmen, in the finals. In the finals Bignell, Trautman, Small and Miller each won a heat.

The wrestling and tumbling squads are working regularly. The wrestlers will start their matches this Tuesday evening, the finals with an exhibition by the tumbling team to be given in connection with the athletic carnival later in the term.

In the class basketball series the Sophomores are still undefeated, and will meet the winner of the Freshmen-Junior contest. An effort has been made for several weeks to pull off a hand ball tournament and a class indoor baseball series but the Armory has been used every Saturday of the term for a dancing party so that no available time has been found.

In the Evergreen of the Washington State College we notice an announcement of the engagement of Miss Edith Florence McDermott and Mr. William Henford Lawrence. Miss McDermott was the first professor of domestic economy at M. A. C., and now holds a similar position in the Washington State College. Mr. Lawrence is Director of the Experiment Station there. The wedding will occur in the early summer.
