LOSES LIFE IN RIVER.

GUY A. FULLER '10, DROWNED
WHILE BATHING.

The college community was horrified Saturday noon to learn that Guy A. Fuller, a Sophomore Agricultural student had been drowned while bathing in the Cedar river at a point almost directly south of the residence of J. H. Cowley. Immediately a large part of the faculty, student body and neighbors hurried to the spot and in all manner of ways tried to recover the body which, however, was not found until nearly 2½ hours after the accident occurred.

Mr. Fuller has been engaged all the spring during his spare time in building a canoe which he finished Saturday morning and he and Guy H. Smith, a freshman engineering student from Detroit, took it to the river about 10:30 to try it out.

As they drifted down stream Smith suggested that they take a swim, to which Fuller consented, stating at the time, however, that he was not a strong swimmer but could keep on top. When they reached a secluded spot they dragged the canoe ashore and prepared to go in, Smith getting in the water first. Fuller went about 100 feet further down stream before taking to the water and was hidden from Smith's sight by brush. Smith heard him take the plunge and shortly after asked him if he was having a good time and, receiving no answer, suspected something wrong, swam to shore and ran down to the place where Fuller went in, reaching there just in time to see him disappearing below the water, which, because of the recent rains was too muddy to admit seeing into it but a few inches. Frantic with fright Smith swam to the place where he saw him go down and endeavored to locate him, but the water was swift, deep and muddy and he failed to find him. He then ran for the canoe, hoping that it would be of assistance, but he soon saw that his efforts alone would prove fruitless and ran for assistance.

In a short time men with ropes, boats and grapples were on the scene, but the body was not found until 1:30 p. m., after it had been in the water 2¼ hours. An attempt was made by Dr. Breugel to resuscitate the body but in vain. A jury impaneled by Justice J. H. Cowley, after viewing the remains returned the verdict of accidental drowning. The body was removed to Buck's undertaking rooms, and on the request of the parents was forwarded to their home at the Canadian Sioux Monday morning, accompanied by floral tributes from the college and the Sophomore class.

Guy Alexander Fuller was born at Woodville, Wisconsin, in October, 1883, and afterward removed with his parents to Michigan and graduated from the Ironwood High School in 1903. In the fall of 1906 he entered the agricultural course at

GREAT TRIPLE VICTORY

M. A. C. WINS FROM YPSILANTI NORMAL IN DEBATE, BASE BALL AND TENNIS.

About 150 Ypsilantians accompanied their debating, baseball and tennis teams to witness the annual contest Saturday and though overflowing with college spirit and enthusiasm lost in every contest and carried back to their anxious friends little but the satisfaction of an heroic effort. In baseball and tennis the "teachers" were clearly outclassed while in debate the absence of "bookishness," so evident in the normal team, and the thorough understanding of both sides of the question brought out through the many preliminary debates by which the contestants were selected gave M. A. C. a decided advantage both in constructive argument and rebuttal. This is the 2nd consecutive debate won by M. A. C. At the similar contest last year at Ypsilanti M. A. C. won the debate but lost in baseball with a score of 2 to 5.

THE GAME.

The game was called at 3:30 o'clock with Leith in the box for the visitors and Vaughn for M. A. C. From the first it was evident that the locals had at last struck their gait which after the ragged exhibition put up in the earlier games of the week with Lake Forest was a great relief to the local fans and though plenty of errors crept in they were seldom costly and resulted in but little advantage to the visitors. In the hitting department M. A. C. showed great improvement over that displayed in the other home games of the season, nine hits being chalked down, two of which were for two bases by Ellis and Crissey and a three-bagger by Harrison. Harrison of Ypsilanti also secured a hit for two bases and Hynes one for three bases.

Vaughn pitched gilt edged ball, striking out six men and keeping the hits well scattered. Leith of Ypsilanti was knocked out of the box in the fifth inning and was replaced by Avery.

Ypsilanti led off in the scoring by registering one run in the second by Hynes who came in on a long fly after getting to third on a three base hit, M. A. C. followed with three in the last half and one in the third. In the fifth M. A. C. bagged six scores and cinched the game by bunching hits and on errors. Mills started with a long single was advanced with a sacrifice by Vaughn and scored on a single by Baker. Harrison got to first on an error and both he and Baker scored on wild throws by the infield. Vance drew a pass, Peterson reached first on an error both scoring on a three bagger by Crissey who himself reached home on a passed ball by Harrison, making a total of 10 runs.

Ypsilanti scored a run in the sixth and with two men on bases and one man out their chances looked good for more but the runners were bagged between bases and both put out spoiling the chance. Vaughn, Mills and Peterson figured on a pretty double play in the fifth.

THE DEBATE.

The debate was called shortly after 7:15 o'clock in the armory after a band concert had been given in the open air. President Snyder presided and amid a storm of applause introduced the first speaker of the affirmative, Mr. William Grocinger, of Ypsilanti, who stated the question: "Resolved, That measures which have been adopted by the Michigan legislature and approved by the governor shall be referred, upon petition of one-twentieth of the qualified voters, to a popular vote," and attempted to show that the spirit of the referendum is in accord with the growth and development of our government.

Mr. C. C. Taylor opened the debate for the negative by attempting to show that the referendum is contrary to the American principle of representative government.

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY AND ASSISTANT COACH.

R. W. Thacker of Olivet College has accepted the position of general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and assistant athletic director for next year. Mr. Thacker is in his senior year at Olivet college, is an enthusiastic Y. M. C. A. worker and a popular college man. In addition to the office of general secretary Mr. Thacker has been officially elected as assistant athletic director, for which position he is likewise well qualified, he having played fullback with the Olivet football team four years, caught in baseball and is a general all-round track man. Last fall he coached the Mt. Pleasant Normal School team.

His work as assistant coach will be largely office work and helping to get the teams in shape. In the spring he will devote considerable time to track work. He takes up the duties of his office at the opening of the school year.

OPEN MEETING OF TAU BETA PI.

Following an established custom of holding a meeting open to its friends during each college year, the Tau Beta Pi held an open meeting in the Engineering Building on Thursday evening of last week. After a short talk by Mr. L. J. Smith on the history and aims of the fraternity and its place in the college life, the following program was given:

"The Spirit of Work," H. H. Musselman.

"Tunneling," Prof. S. C. Hadden.

"The Gyroscope," E. S. Martin.

"A Pontoon Drawbridge," J. V. Gongwer.

Mr. Harry Pickhard of the Holophane Shade Co., gave an illustrated lecture on the use of shades and reflectors in conjunction with incandescent lamps, which was very interesting.

He showed how in lighting a room one should light with a definite purpose, and by selecting suitable reflectors or shades one could suitably light a room with a minimum cost for current.

RESOLUTIONS.

WHEREAS, The Almighty has seen fit to take from among us our fellow classmate, G. A. Fuller, be it

Resolved, That the members of the class of 1910 extend their heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved parents and friends, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the afflicted family, a copy be entered on the class records, and a copy be printed in the M. A. C. RECORD.

T. A. JORDAN,

R. W. VONDETT.

May 25, 1908.

Don't forget the afternoon concert Thursday afternoon. It will be a treat for all music lovers.

THE SPIRIT OF WORK.

(A Paper Read at the Open Meeting of the Honorary Fraternity, Tau Beta Pi, May 21, 1908.)

The successful engineer is a good machine. His mental make-up is in such nice adjustment, and in such complete harmony with his physical equipment, that under the most adverse conditions he is able to produce an indicator card which will show a creditable record of performance. Apart from his moral or aesthetic nature he has a brain trained to think logically, accurately, and quickly, without noise or jar, vibration or lost motion; and quite often the mental machine which shows the highest efficiency is the one whose apparent work, like that of the nicely adjusted engine, is least noticeable.

But man is more than a simple machine. He is a complex mechanism of automatic control. The cross-head of an engine must keep to its ways, and the crank-shaft must continue to rotate in its bearings; while the mind of man, prone though it is to follow a certain worn path or groove is susceptible to control and direction. The purpose and scope of this paper shall be to enumerate, as we see them, some of the things which are useful in the direction of mental energy and which increase or decrease the efficiency of that figurative machine—the mind. This is in accord with the objects of Tau Beta Pi—to elevate the standard of engineering and scientific education, both in the curriculae of the colleges and in the life of the student body. The assertions we make are not all the grist of experience, but are gleaned from our observation of associates and friends some of whom succeed because they possess desirable attributes; others who fail because they lack them.

"Mamma," said little Elise, "do men go to heaven?"

"Why, of course, my dear. What makes you ask?"

"Because I never see any pictures of angels with whiskers."

"Well," said the mother thoughtfully, "some men do go to heaven, but they get there by a close shave."

EVENING CONCERT.

(Oratorio "St. Paul.")

By chorus of 100 voices, assisted by the above-named soloists, and Mr. S. T. Schroetter, pianist.

Mr. S. T. Schroetter is too well known to the college people to need much of an introduction since he has twice played for us at our May Festivals, and his masterly accompanying of "The Creation" is well remembered. Mr. Schroetter has been very successful as Director of the Music Department of Virginia Institute, a large Baptist School for Young Ladies in Bristol, Virginia, for the past two years.

Since Mr. Schroetter makes his home with his aunt, Mrs. Freyhofer, in Lansing, and is coming to Lansing to spend part of his vacation, it is possible to secure his services at this time.

Mr. Strong has a most beautiful voice, which he uses with rare discrimination and ease, and his interpretation of everything which he sang showed fine musical feeling and artistic finish.—Tarkio Avalanche.

Miss Benedict made a great hit here as contralto soloist in company with Dr. Carl Dufft and Mme. Savage in "Elijah."—Detroit, Mich., Free Press.

Schubert's "Die Allmacht" is a dangerous number to give, as it were, in the shadow of Schumann-Heink; but Miss Hudson rendered it with impressive tone and nobility of feeling, and Tschaikowsky's "Schlafe" was exquisitely done, and Hammond's "Wenn ich in Deine Augen Seh" and "Im wunderschönen Monat Mai" were sung with delightful freshness.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MR. FREDERIC MARTIN—BASSO.

The hero of the hour, if a great singer can be a hero, was Frederic Martin, twice honored with a festival engagement in this city and the most successful bass that Worcester had heard for many years, more particularly in "The Messiah." It has been stated on good grounds that Mr. Martin has a voice that cannot be compared with any other in the country for its suitability for the bass roll in "The Messiah." This statement was well borne out last night. It would be a difficult matter for any singer to bring more pleasure and satisfaction to an audience than did Mr. Martin.—Worcester (Mass.) Daily Telegram.

MISS PEARL BENEDICT.

Loses Life in River.

M. A. C., and though compelled by circumstances to largely support himself while at college he was among the best students of his class and was respected for his industry, model habits and substantial moral character. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. The whole college join in mourning at his demise.

TAKE TWO FROM LAKE FOREST.

Lake Forest University crossed bats with M. A. C. on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons in two games which were remarkable for erratic playing. Both teams were handicapped in not having been able to get in much practice on account of wet weather. The Chicago team was in somewhat worse shape in this respect than M. A. C., for through necessity they had been forced to call off five scheduled games. Both the games were won quite easily by the local team and should have been of even higher score had not errors figured prominently. A noticeable increase in hits showed that M. A. C. was doing better work in this department, but several ragged errors and careless base running did not look so well for the fielding. Vaughn and Peterson both pitched steady games and only allowed a few scattering hits. The last game was a good one to watch and the general verdict was that the home team were playing better ball than they have done in the last year. The result of the first game was 6 to 3 and the second 5 to 1. Both in favor of M. A. C.

Dr. Edward A. A. Grange, professor of veterinary science here from 1883 to '97, has recently been elected president of the Ontario Veterinary College. The Canadian Sportsman and Live Stock Journal gives an extended notice of his appointment in its issue of May 22.

M. J. Buck of Lansing spoke before the Foresters club last Tuesday evening on Fashions in Furniture Woods. In his lecture Mr. Buck stated that circassian walnut and some other woods are becoming so scarce and valuable that they are reckoned by the pound and predicted that if oak, mahogany and birch continue to hold popular favor they will soon be sold by weight instead of volume. Already the price of oak has become so high that many imitations have been put on the market which in some cases are difficult to distinguish from the genuine article.

Seldom has the college community been given a musical (instrumental) treat equal to the entertainment given Friday evening by Mrs. Kedzie and Mr. Clark, with Prof. E. S. King as reader. The first part of the program consisted of a series of cornet solos by Mr. Clark accompanied by Mrs. Kedzie, a reading by Prof. King and piano selections by Mrs. Kedzie. The second part was the dramatic poem, Das Hexenlied, given by Prof. King, Mrs. Kedzie rendering the musical setting. All numbers were heartily cheered, each having to respond with an encore.

Glen M. Dodge, '08, was taken seriously ill last Tuesday evening and was removed from the Eclectic house to the college hospital where the case was diagnosed as appendicitis. He was removed to the city hospital Friday where an operation was performed by Drs. Breugel, Toles and Hagadorn. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

ENGINEERING NEWS.

Last Tuesday evening Mr. F. F. Rogers, C. E., deputy highway commissioner gave one of the most interesting talks before the Engineering Society this term. The subject, "Road Way Engineering" was treated by the speaker in an excellent manner. The fact that 70,000 miles of public roads are under the supervision of the highway commissioner goes to show the responsibility of the department. A great deal of the work is to improve old roads, that is, make surveys for reconstructing the old roads. When the land surveyor employed by the state goes to lay out a line, the first thing that confronts him is the lack of experienced help. Farm helpers are only available, and from these inexperienced men he must pick an efficient group of helpers who must be trained in short time to be accurate and reliable.

One difficult feat of roadway surveying is to determine the location of corners. A good surveyor will never reestablish a monument until he is absolutely certain that the old monument is lost.

A bill was recently passed by the legislature whereby the money collected as road tax cannot be expended until surveys are made, and complete specifications are handed to the town-clerk of said town. Also the law provides that all county surveyors shall be under the supervision of the highway commissioner. Thus in this way, the power for expenditure of money for roadways is systematized, and also the work can be traced.

The society regrets to say, that the engineering students show lack of interest for these lectures. No doubt the warm weather is effective in reducing the attendance, still the students should endeavor to be present, when so rare an opportunity is offered to listen to men of authority. The society urges all to be present this evening. Mr. M. C. Taft, C. E., of Kalamazoo, will give a talk on "City Engineering."

Great Triple Victory.

Arthur F. Lederle, for the affirmative, spoke of the necessity of the referendum in Michigan.

H. L. Kempster followed for the negative and attempted to show that the people of the state are not prepared to vote wisely any measures submitted to them and that the vote of petition required by the question is too low.

Benjamin Pittenger then concluded the argument for the affirmative by showing the practicability of the scheme and summed up the points made.

The argument for the negative was concluded by C. J. Oviatt who contended that the question as presented is much too inclusive to be used with safety and certainly should not be made to include emergency measures, etc.

In rebuttal the local team easily had the best of the ready made speeches of their opponents which had to be badly warped to refute many of the points brought out.

The M. A. C. team was evenly matched and share the honors equally, while Pittenger for Ypsilanti far out-classed his colleagues, and at all times was master of the situation. This may be easily accounted for by the fact that this is his third season on the team and that last year he was a member of the teaching force at the Normal and helped to train the team.

The decision of the judges, President Slocum of Kalamazoo college, Dr. H. H. Miller and Prof. J. Q. Adams of Alma were in favor of M. A. C.

Of the seven debates with Ypsilanti that college has won four and M. A. C. three as follows:

Year	Won by
1902	Normal
1903	"
1904	M. A. C.
1905	Normal
1906	"
1907	M. A. C.
1908	M. A. C.

Pretty good showing for a technical college we think.

TENNIS.

In tennis the Normals proved easy, the locals winning in every event, both men and women.

MEN'S DOUBLES.

Taft and Nichols (M. A. C.), won from Boynton and Miller (Normal) 6-2, 6-8, 6-2.

LADIES' DOUBLES.

Misses Taft and Allen (M. A. C.), won from Misses Wilson and Ronan (Normal), 6-2, 6-3.

MEN'S SINGLES.

Taft won from Boynton 6-1, 6-0. Pratt won from Miller 6-2, 6-1.

LADIES' SINGLES.

Miss Emery won from Miss Howard 6-2, 6-2. Miss Taft won from Miss Ronan 6-2, 6-1.

This is the second meet which M. A. C. has won this season—the continued rain hindering in the playing of other meets which had been arranged. A meet with Olivet and one with the University of Michigan will yet be arranged for during the season.

An incident in connection with the tennis team is that it is composed of four Junior agricultural men—Taft, Pratt, Nichols and Turner.

GET SECOND PLACE AT THE TRIANGULAR MEET.

Coach Brewer and 14 track men left Friday night for Chicago to attend the triangular meet at Armour Institute between Wabash, Armour and M. A. C. On account of the debate with Ypsilanti in which Oviatt took part it was necessary to leave this star quarter and half-miler at home which weakened the team by at least 8 points. The final score stood as follows: Wabash, 53; M. A. C., 35, and Armour, 20.

M. A. C. won points in all but three events, viz.: 220 dash, high jump and pole vault, the pole breaking with Gilbert and putting him out of the race. Allen lowered the record in the half to 2 min. 3 3-5 sec.

The following are the points won by M. A. C. 100 yd. dash, Miller, 3rd; 1/4 mile, Bignell, 1st, Allen 3rd; 1/2 mile, Allen 1st; 2 mile, Carr 2nd, White 3rd; High hurdles, Small 1st; low hurdles, Courtright 2nd; broad jump, Small 3rd; shot put, Campbell 2nd; discus, White, G. C. 1st; hammer throw, White, G. C. 2nd.

About 25 of the "old boys" who are located at or near Chicago, were present and added much confidence to the men by their consistent rooting.

ALL MEATS...

May look alike to you, but there is a very great difference in the quality we handle and that sold by some other markets. We handle none but the very best. Like the pudding, the proof of good meats is in the eating. A trial will convince you that you ought to trade with us. We make daily trips to the College.

BOTH PHONES. Careful attention given to phone orders.

AVERAGE men are as colorless as average clothes. College men are outside the average—their togs have to be—College Brand Clothes are. Just a bit more dash to 'em, a great sight more style—and the precisely right amount of fit. Though exclusive their price isn't enough to exclude you from wearing 'em. For the young man and the "like-to-be-young."
