THE TWENTY-SECOND ORATORICAL.

C. J. OVIATT WINS FIRST PLACE.
A. J. HUTCHINS, SECOND.

The twenty-second annual Oratorical contest was held in the armory Friday evening and though only representatives from four societies competed it was, in general interest, excellence of orations and point of student attendance one of the best contests held in recent years.

C. J. OVIATT

He will represent M. A. C. in the State Oratorical Contest at Kalamazoo, March 5.

The productions were carefully prepared, perfectly committed and rendered in a manner which showed much careful training. The Orchestra, which is always appreciated, added much to the pleasure of the evening as did the readings by Prof. King and vocal solos by Mr. Maliskey.

Mr. Hutchins for the Columbian Society spoke on The Development of a National Conscience showing the gradual growth of our present day principles from the beginning of our history up through the great civil war to the present time.

Unto One Another was the subject of Mr. R. A. Turner's oration in which he showed our social interdependence and our social and moral duties. Mr. Turner represented the Eumonian Society.

Mr. Belknap for the Aurean Society took for his subject True Aristocracy which he showed does not depend on physical strength or royal lineage but on character alone.

A Champion of the American Idea, an eulogy for Henry Ward Beecher, was the subject of the oration by Mr. Oviatt for the Union Literary Society. Mr. Beecher's plea in England in favor of the Union at the time of the civil war was the main topic of the address.

The decision of the judges gave Mr. Oviatt first place and Mr. Hutchins second, after which Miss Shirley Gardner, of the senior class, very pleasingly presented the medals.

The judges based their opinions on both comparison and delivery. They were: Judge C. A. Blair, Lansing, Mich.; Judge A. M. Montgomery, Lansing, Mich.; Supt. W. J. McKone, Albion, Mich.; Hon. A. J. Tuttle, Lansing, Mich., and Dr. H. A. Miller, Olivet, Mich.

Much credit is due to the president, Mr. Hoopingarner, and the executive board for bringing about such a successful contest, the only criticism being that so few societies were represented.

The following table shows the decision of the judges. The contestant receiving the smallest total rank is adjudged the winner.

Y. W. C. A.

Last week the Thursday evening meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was led by Miss Rena Crane on the subject, "How God Speaks to Us." The meeting was well attended, and many helpful thoughts were received.

BASKET BALL TEAM DEFEATED.

LOSE TWO HARD GAMES IN INDIANA.

The basket ball team returned Saturday night from a two days' trip into Indiana, where they ran up against their only defeats for the season. The first game was Friday night with Wabash at Crawfordsville in which Wabash came out on top winning by the close score of 39 to 24. The game was the fastest game ever seen on Wabash's floor, according to Crawfordsville papers, which credit M. A. C. with having one of the best basket ball teams of the country.

The first half ended in a tie 16-16, and for some time during the second half, M. A. C. led in the scoring often which Wabash by steady basket ball, and sensational shots, took the lead and kept it until the final whistle blew. "Red" Dickson scored 5 field goals, and McKenna scored 3. "Mac" threw 4 foul goals out of 5 chances. Lambert and Walters of Wabash scored 6 and 7 field goals respectively.

M. A. C. line-up—Dickson and McKenna, forward; Campbell, center; Hanish and Merz, guards. 20 minute halves were played.

Saturday afternoon M. A. C. lined up against Notre Dame, and were again defeated by a score of 26-10 in the roughest kind of basket ball.

The first half closed with the score standing 6-5 in favor of the Catholics. The second half opened with a rush, and within the first two minutes M. A. C. shot a basket making the score 7-6 favor the "Aggies." For some time M. A. C. led with the score standing 10-6, but a sensational bit of playing, coupled with some lucky basket shooting, gave Notre Dame the lead again. Four baskets were thrown inside of 2 minutes by the Notre Dame forwards and this gave them a start which M. A. C. could not overcome. Notre Dame's 20 points during the second half were made in the first ten or fifteen minutes of play. During the last five minutes of the game neither side was able to score.

The game was played before a crowd of 900 Notre Dame rooters, and upon a dirt floor, which was considerable of a handicap to overcome.

At times during the games both teams seemed to forget they were playing basket ball, and enjoyed in several "near foot ball" scrimmages with the ball at the bottom of the pile.

Notre Dame has one of the fastest basket ball teams of the west, having defeated the Chicago "Y" team, acknowledged as one of the best teams in the U. S. by a score of 27-5, last week.

A return game is scheduled for the Armory floor early in February, and should be the best contest on the schedule.

As an instance of Notre Dame's strength this year, three of last year's team are playing as substitutes, having been beaten out by new material this winter.

The summary of the game follows:

Notre Dame 26.	M. A. C. 10.
Gibson..... r. f.....	Dickson
Fish..... l. f.....	McKenna
Vaughn..... g.....	Campbell
Freeze..... r. g.....	Merz
Scanlon..... l. g.....	Hanish

One-half time score—Notre Dame 6, M. A. C. 5. Field baskets—Vaughn 5, Fish 4, Gibson 2, Freeze; McKenna 3, Campbell. Free throws—Vaughn 2, McKenna 2. Referee, Barrett. Halves, 20 minutes.

COLUMBIAN COSTUME PARTY.

The Columbian Literary Society held its annual costume party Saturday night in the armory. This is the fourth year the party has been given, and it is much looked forward to by the Columbians and their guests. The decorations represented a cloister in the woods, with an arcade of evergreens surrounding a ceiling of white bunting. The windows were also draped with evergreens, and around the walls were hung red lanterns, each with a letter of the name Columbian. Across the eastern end of the armory was a low brick wall with three gates, through which one entered to the cozy corners hidden among ferns and trees. The M. A. C. orchestra furnished the music. After the grand march all formality was thrown aside and Indian and dude, peasant and king, colonial ladies, cow boys, Mother Goose, children, old men, a Rube from Hayville, Uncle Sam himself, and strange costumes of all descriptions were mingled in wondrous profusion.

Needless to say, everyone had a good time. The Lansing guests had some difficulty in getting out, because of the accident to the street cars, but cabs and autos and even "Shank's-mare" were pressed into service, and the only objection found to the party was that it didn't last long enough. And by no means the least factor in the enjoyment of the party was the chaperoning of Dean and Mrs. Bissel, while Director and Mrs. Brewer and Prof. and Mrs. Halligan were unable to be present, they two were a host in themselves.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1909

The college is to be represented this year at the state oratorical contest by one of the strongest speakers that has ever represented the college. In Mr. Oviatt we have a clear thinker, a forceful speaker, one who is experienced, not only as a public speaker at mass meetings and before his fellow students, but as a member of our victorious debating team of last year.

It has been several years since M. A. C. has been victorious at the State Oratorical Contest. As a technical college we have consoled ourselves with the thought that oratory does not come prominently within our field of action and interest in the contests has suffered to some extent. This year though only four societies were represented at the annual contest, interest seems to be growing. A good audience of students was present and, though close, the decision of the judges proved satisfactory to all.

Our next move is to support our representative. At the state contest at Kalamazoo let every loyal M. A. C. man or woman who can, be present and by their presence cheer Mr. Oviatt on to a supreme effort so that this year we may add to our many laurels the honor of winning once again first place in the state oratorical.

Of the 350 people present at the oratorical Friday evening careful observation disclosed the fact that there were present less than one dozen who can be classed as members of the teaching or experiment station force of the college.

Granted that the night was rainy, that the majority of the teaching force may not be interested in literary work and that a charge of 25 cents was made for admission there still remains the fact that the faculty owe some support to student organizations, and that the faculty as a body cannot and will not receive the support of the student body unless they in turn make some effort to support the student organizations.

Don't fail to hear Prof. King at the Armory, Feb. 3rd.

TRACK CALL TO-NIGHT.

FRESHMEN ASSEMBLE AT GYMNASIUM.

A call for freshmen track candidates has been issued by Director Brewer of the athletic department, for to-night, in the gymnasium. A new scheme for track is to be tried this year, and a special team of freshmen material will be formed for regular winter work. A track schedule has been made out and a series of four meets will be held. Two will be with Lansing High, one out here, and the other in Lansing, possibly at the Y. M. C. A., one with Detroit Central High, probably at Detroit, and one with D. U. S. here. It is possible that the meet with D. U. S. will be postponed until spring when it will be held as an outdoor meet. This makes an attractive schedule and should serve to give the freshmen something to work for during the winter term.

The call for regular varsity men has been made for to-morrow (Wednesday) night, and all men who were out last year are urged to get out and work again this winter.

The schedule for the spring term has been made out, and while not announced officially as yet, includes many good things, meets with Notre Dame and Armour Institute being among them. A team will be sent to the conference again this spring, and should be able to land a place well up among the leaders.

Oviatt, Tillotson, Bignell, Kempster, Knecht and Allen are still in school, and a relay team should be picked from this bunch which could make any team at the conference go some for first place. "Big" Burroughs is eligible for the shot put this spring, and with "Long" Campbell should be able to make things hum in that line.

What M. A. C. needs, and needs badly is a sprinter, and the athletic department will work hard to find or develop one among the freshmen material during the next few months.

ICE RINK OPENING.

The ice rink committee have made arrangements to have a formal opening of the rink on the river next Saturday afternoon, providing proper weather conditions prevail. All the subscription money has been turned in, and a space 400 feet long will be kept flooded and cleaned until the spring breaks up. During the last week or ten days lights have been put up, and everything is now in readiness for the opening.

A band will be in attendance from 4 to 6 and a huge bonfire will be kept going all afternoon. If it can be arranged for, a hockey game may be scheduled to take place from 3:30 to 4.

Small tags signifying who have contributed to the subscription fund are being printed, and one of these will be given to each person who has paid, and will serve to designate him while on the ice.

MASTODON BONES.

Mr. William Lovejoy, of Perry, Michigan, has just deposited in the college museum three bones of the hind leg of a mastodon, taken from a swamp in Conway, Livingston county, Michigan, in the fall of 1907. The largest bone is the upper bone (femur) of the hind leg, the lower part of which is perfect, but the upper fourth of the bone is wanting. The part left measures twenty-nine inches in length, and the circumference of the shaft at its smallest point is fourteen and one-half inches. This means that the entire thigh bone would measure from thirty-six to forty inches, and indicates a nearly full grown animal, probably a male. The average old bull mastodon has a thigh bone ranging from forty-four to forty-seven inches in length, indicating an animal at least ten feet high and with nearly the proportions of an adult African elephant. The tusks sometimes measure ten feet in length, but usually not more than seven or eight.

The mastodon has been extinct for hundreds, probably thousands, of years, but its remains are frequently found buried in bogs and marshes, where the wet soil, and in some cases at least, the preservative action of peat, has prevented decay. The bones above described were thrown out by a dredge while excavating a county drain, but they were at first buried in the embankment and were exposed only after some months by the washing away of the mud by the rain.

The museum already has fine specimens of mastodon teeth, together with a large part of the lower jaw and some large sections of tusks. Complete skeletons of either mastodon or mammoth are extremely rare, but single bones, especially leg bones, ribs and teeth are by no means uncommon. The mastodon was a species of elephant quite closely related to the existing Indian and African elephants, but with teeth of an entirely different pattern and tusks decidedly larger in proportion to the size of the animal. WIN FROM ADRIAN 53-13.

In a fast but interesting game last evening M. A. C. won from the fast Adrian team by a surprising score of 53-13. Adrian is considered one of the best teams in the state, and the best in the M. I. A. A., but were outplayed by M. A. C. in every stage of the game. The fact they were playing under inter-collegiate rules for the first time added perhaps to their confusion.

Dickson threw seven baskets, McKenna six, Hanish four and Merz seven. Belknap was substituted for Hanish, who was injured. Half time score, M. A. C., 32; Adrian, 5. Final score, M. A. C., 53; Adrian, 13. Fouls, Dickson, two, McKenna, one, Belknap, one, Gray, two, Stoke, two. Fouls thrown, McKenna, one in four; Gray, two in five. Referee, Mills, M. A. C.

In the preliminary games the seniors won from the freshmen 10 to 8, and the sophomores from the Preps, 21 to 8.

In mentioning the social events of the week in our last issue we omitted to speak of the Idlers' Party in the Armory which was probably the largest and certainly one of the most enjoyable parties ever held at the college with the exception perhaps of some of the Junior hops. One hundred and eleven couples were present. The patrons were the teachers of the Home Economics Department.

Attention is called to the Alumni of the state to the program of Farmers' Institutes for February found elsewhere in this issue. The institutes this year have been exceptionally well attended, good weather favoring nearly all the season. The Alumni and old students can do much to assist in their usefulness by being present, and taking part in the discussions and by calling attention of their neighbors to coming institutes.

The Experiment Station has just issued Circular No. 4, of the series of popular bulletins which treats of the Methods of Breeding for the Improvement of Michigan Cattle and the Organization of Co-operative Cattle Breeders' Associations in Michigan. The second division of the circular deals with the work of Mr. W. F. Raven, field agent in charge of the co-operation work, the working plan and articles of agreement. Though the plan has been in operation only one year a great work has already been done and many other states are adopting this means of improving the general standard of their herds.

THE TECHNICAL CLUBS

Brief Reviews of the Meetings

HORTICULTURAL CLUB.

Last Wednesday evening the Horticultural Club met as usual. The subject under discussion was the old stand-by of fruit growers, namely, "Apples." Considerable interest was manifested.

"Dwarf Apple Trees" by B. B. Pratt clearly showed that dwarf trees have their place in commercial orchard and will probably receive more attention. Mr. Pratt explained that the principle in dwarfing is one of the mal-nutrition. Some of the advantages enumerated are early maturity, small size of tree which facilitates horticultural operations and adapts the dwarfs to positions not suitable for standards, and the general superior quality of the fruit. Among the disadvantages are extra care required, additional number of trees per acre, short life, and tendency to become standard if planted too deep.

Mr. H. A. Taft spoke on apple producing regions. The speaker explained that while apples are grown in all the states there are certain sections of commercial importance. The region between Nova Scotia and Long Island on the east and Lake Michigan on the west contains some of the best sections in the country. The Ozark region in Missouri and Arkansas and the Northwest are the most prominent of other apple producing regions. Eastern apple growers count on home markets but the West looks to the East for disposition of the crop.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY.

At the meeting of the Engineering Society last week, Mr. J. M. Bull, of Chicago, spoke on the "Reflections of a Consulting Engineer." His subject dealt largely with the relations of business to engineering, enumerating the things an engineer must know, such as cost of material, labor, etc. in order to be successful in the engineering line.

The physics lecture room was packed: seats from the hall had to be carried in to seat a part of the students.

Mr. J. C. Mock, superintendent of the electrical equipment of the Detroit tunnel, will speak tonight on "Signals and Interlocks of the Michigan Central Railroad."

DRAMATIC CLUB ORGANIZED.

The M. A. C. Dramatic Club, organized a few weeks ago, will adopt a constitution at its next meeting this week. Two good plays have been selected and the actors are working hard to make these productions surpass any yet given on the M. A. C. stage.

The Club is organized outside of the regular dramatic impersonation classes and it is expected that much more will be accomplished than could be in the short time allotted to the class.

The Club is made up of twenty-five charter members, all stars, most of whom have appeared to East Lansing audiences and will be most heartily welcomed.

The officers are as follows:

President.—R. V. Tanner.
Vice President.—Florence Hall.
Secretary.—H. Z. Kempster.
Treasurer.—K. D. Van Wagenen.

BENEFITS OF BIBLE STUDY.

Have you ever thought that there is no other group of writings, the study of which affords the same intellectual suggestions, grasp, breadth and power as do those of the Bible? Have you ever thought that you yourself could be benefited by Bible study? Are you thoroughly satisfied with yourself?

"Character building and not mere intellectual instruction," says Lyman Abbot, "is the only adequate education." "Education," says Prof. James, "Cannot be better described than by calling it the organization of acquired habits of conduct and tendencies to behavior." "The cultivation of the spirit," says Dr. Harper, "is for us as serious an obligation as the cultivation of the body or the mind; for without spirit our life is as deficient as would be our body if it had no heart, our mind if it had no brain. Rule out of life this element and you are not a man or woman in the full sense intended by your creator."

Are you so engrossed by the material world that you have no time for spiritual growth? Do you awaken each morning with the thought, how can I amuse myself today? Take some of this time to think seriously what you owe humanity. College men and women dismiss the thought that you are a select people. Take the opportunity while you are still students to become acquainted with the possibilities of life. You profess to be Christians. Do something to be worthy of the name. To be Christians we must be Christlike. We must know His teachings before we can pattern after Him.

Let us be all-around men and women. Get interested in the Bible classes that have been formed. You may not have heard of them before, but they are here. They are for each of you. When you leave college you carry with you the habits there formed. Do not think you are good enough. Do not live on the amusement theory of life. Get all that you can out of every phase of life in order that you may give generously to the world the good that you have absorbed.

Girls, four years ago, Frances Bridges Atkinson, a graduate of Smith College, was a guest at a banquet at M. A. C. She has had a wonderful, though short career among college women. Let us learn more of her life in connection with the class in the "Life of Christ." It will be worth while.

ALL MEATS...

May look alike to you, but there is a very great difference in the quality we handle and that sold by some other markets. We handle none but the very best. Like the pudding, the proof of good meats is in the eating. A trial will convince you that you ought to trade with us. We make daily trips to the College.

BOTH PHONES. Careful attention given to phone orders.

Gottlieb Reutter.
