THE MILITARY BAND AT M. A. C.

The best military cadet band in the country. The band which has aided, by its excellent music, on every occasion when such aid was requested. The band which has given us open air concerts on each Wednesday evening of the spring term. M. A. C. appreciates such an organization.

COMMENCEMENT.

With a graduating class numbering more than 125 members, this year's commencement will be a record breaker in attendance as well as in other particulars. Plans are going on rapidly for the various events, and a good time is assured our seniors during this, their last week in college.

The committee, having in charge the senior reception, is composed of Prof. Eustace, Prof. Vedder, and Miss Gilchrist. This has come to be one of the most important features of the commencement festivities, and will be looked forward to with much pleasure by all.

The program as arranged is as follows:

Friday, June 16—Commencement Parties.

Saturday, June 17—Faculty reception to seniors, 8 p. m.

Sunday, June 18—Baccalaureate sermon, by Rev. A. W. Wishart, of the Fountain St. Baptist church, Grand Rapids, 3:00 p. m.

Monday, June 19—Senior class-day exercises, 2:00 p. m.

Monday evening—President's reception to senior class.

Tuesday, June 19—Commencement exercises, at 10:00 a. m. Address by Dr. James K. Patterson, of Kentucky State University.

Tuesday evening—Commencement parties.

The seniors hold their annual picnic at Pine Lake, on Saturday, June 17.

A large number of alumni and former students are expected back to join in the week's festivities.

The senior girls have a house party at Pine Lake on Tuesday.

CAP NIGHT.

The big farewell to the seniors, known as cap night, will be held on Thursday night of this week, and it is hoped and expected that every one will turn out and help make this event one long to be remembered.

The program will consist of speeches, music, fireworks, and the usual number of stunts will be carried out. Last year a large number of Lansing friends, as well as College and East Lansing people, witnessed the festivities, and everyone enjoyed the same immensely.

The program will start promptly at 7:30, so be ready to swing into line. The classes will gather in groups, as indicated on the posters. They will then join in a parade, headed by the band, and the way to Sleepy Hollow will be illuminated by colored lights. At Sleepy Hollow the program proper will be carried out around the big camp fire.

The music will be contributed by the College Military Band, the girls quartet, and the Aureorean quartet. Speeches will be made by the junior and senior class presidents, C. J. Oviatt, of Bay City, class of 1909, by Mayor Gunson, and others. A good display of fireworks will be a feature of the evening.

The burning of the senior book, and the freshmen and prep caps will be carried on with due ceremony, and the program will be fun from start to finish.

Led by the band the entire gathering will sing Alma Mater at the close of the evening program. Cap night has become one of the important functions of the season, as the classes are brought into the closest relationship, and the old and the new are more firmly cemented together.

George R. Torrey, a student at M. A. C. during the years of 1857-1860, was a college visitor the past week, for the first time since the semi-centennial in 1907. He is connected with the C. H. Little Co., of Detroit, dealers in builders supplies. Mr. Torrey has been with the above firm since 1865, and is still able to visit his offices each day and take care of his share of work. "A visit to the campus brings to mind many interesting events of the early days," said Mr. Torrey, and, while they were not all the most pleasant, he was perfectly willing to tell of them. Mr. Torrey was on hand before the shavings from the first building were swept out. Saints' Rest, the half-way stone and "hard tack and cheese" were all commented upon, and Mr. Torrey believed there had been progress all along the line.

Edwin J. Freeman, of Minneapolis, Minn., paid the college a short visit on Saturday for the first time in 15 years. He was both surprised and delighted at the progress of the old school. Following his graduation, Mr. Freeman was professor of physical sciences at the State Normal, Winona, Minn., until '99, when he accepted a position as professor of chemistry at the Northern Institute of Osteopathy in the same city. He is now connected with a large manufacturing concern in Minneapolis, and when here was on a trip in the interests of his company. The company manufacture automobile supplies, and are doing a rushing business in these days of rapid transit.

Chas. G. Watson, with '96, was on the college grounds a day the past week, doing a little superintending work on the new addition to the chemical building. Mr. Watson is a contractor of Detroit.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

A. E. Kocher, '02, is in from soil survey work in Texas to spend the summer.

H. E. Young, '02, editor of the Farmers' Review, Chicago, visited Washington M. A. C. alumni on the 9th. He was on an extensive eastern tour in the interests of his paper.

E. J. Krause, '07, research assistant in horticulture at the Oregon experiment station, was in Washington a few days recently on some work in connection with his post graduate work at Cornell University.

W. H. Lapham, '99, in charge of the western division of the soil survey, has left Washington to spend the summer in supervising survey work in the Pacific and Rocky Mountain states. His wife and little daughter accompanied him to Colorado.

Word was received recently from the Philippines to the effect that R. L. Clute, '96, has severed his connection with the bureau of agriculture, as an agricultural inspector, to finish work on a text book of elementary agriculture for Philippine schools. C. M. Conner, '92, is assistant chief the bureau of agriculture.

CAPT. C. M. HOLLEY

In whose honor was given the Second Annual Banquet of the M. A. C. Military Officers' Association.

OFFICERS' BANQUET.

The second annual banquet of the Officers Association of the Military Department was held at the Hotel Downey on June 5, 1911. The affair was in the nature of a farewell to Capt. Holley, who leaves this summer to join his regiment in the regular army.

After a delightful dinner, the following program of toasts was given, with Col. C. W. McKibbin as toastmaster:

Reminiscences of Army Life—Sergt. P. J. Cross, U. S. A.

A Huge Joke—Capt. G. H. Smith.

The Military—Pres. J. L. Snyder.

Superba—Capt. Geo. Sheffield.

The Full Canteen—Major Robt. P. Holdsworth.

Adios—Capt. G. M. Holley, U. S. A.

At no time in the history of the college has the military department been in better condition, and each speaker took occasion to compliment the work of our popular commandant.

Capt. Holley spoke interestingly on the subject of International Peace, and stated that, as a class, no one is more anxious for peace than the soldier himself. Home ties have been established, and he is loath to leave these for the privations of a life in the army. The speaker reviewed his work at M. A. C., and stated that he had enjoyed the work during the past two years very much indeed.

The officers of the college regiment, numbering fifty, attended this banquet in full dress uniform. Prof. F. S. Kedzie was among the guests.

The menu cards were of the college green, an excellent picture of Capt. Holley appearing on the cover.

'02.

The Detroit College of Law holds its 21st commencement on Thursday evening of this week. About 50 young men will receive diplomas at this time, among whom is our old friend, Burt Wermuth, '02. While holding his position on the Michigan Farmer, Mr. Wermuth has occupied his spare time in study, the result of which is as stated above. The class will be in Lansing Friday, when they will be formally admitted to the bar.

TAU BETA PI.

The year's activities of Tau Beta Pi were brought to a fitting close last Thursday night when Mr. G. W. Williams, '96, was initiated as an honorary member. Mr. Williams received the advanced degree of M. E. from this college in 1909, and is now superintendent of a manufacturing firm at Dundas, Ontario. After the initiation, the company adjourned to Club G, where a good feed was in readiness. Prof. Wilson acted as toastmaster, and the following toasts were responded to:

The Past—H. H. Musselman, '08.

The Engineering Profession—Dean G. W. Bissell.

The Present—G. W. Williams, '96.

The Elastic Limit—E. E. Wallace, '11.

The Future—L. J. Knapp, '12.

The alumni members present were: A. C. Pratt, '07; H. C. Pratt, '09; H. E. Marsh, '08; H. H. Musselman, '08, and G. W. Hobbs, '10.

Fifteen members graduate this June, leaving the chapter with an active membership of eight with which to begin the work of next year.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB FAREWELL BANQUET.

The second annual banquet of the club took place last Wednesday evening, June 7th, in the parlors of Club D. The tables were daintily decorated with carnations in red and white, which are the colors of the club. The menu was in the nature of a strawberry feast, augmented with enough solids to make the feast unsurpassed. Toastmaster E. C. Lindemann called upon the following gentlemen, who ably responded to their toasts: A. Itano, '11, "Launching the C. C. at M. A. C.;" C. Okada, "Looking Backwards;" J. F. Campbell, "The Cosmopolitan Athlete in Action;" Mayor T. Gunson, "The Man and the Student;" President: A. Iddles, "Farewell, Seniors;" President-elect H. Hough, "The Outlook for 1912."

The assembly favored the suggestion of E. C. Lindemann to publish an alumni leaflet. The banquet left the members in an invigorated spirit for productive activities in the coming 1912.

A SURPRISE.

On Monday evening, June 5, Miss Coad was given a dinner party by the department teachers. The party, which was a surprise, was in honor of her approaching marriage.

A delightful menu was served, after which the following program of toasts was given:

The Groom—"None but himself can be his parallel," MISS COAD

The Mother-in-law—"And all her paths are peace," MRS. H. C. GILCHRIST

The Bride—"Angels are painted fair to look like you," ROSAMOND KEDZIE

The Yet to Be—"Be wise today, 'tis madness to defer," MISS FREYHOFER

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS.

McDermid is Unanimous Choice For Treasurer.

The junior class met on Thursday noon of last week, and placed in nomination candidates for the several offices. On Friday the election was held, and, though very close, the best of feeling prevailed. With the exception of treasurer, the successful candidates won out by from four to eight votes. F. H. McDermid was unanimously chosen for the second time as treasurer. So efficient has been his services that the class would not consider any other candidate. This is the third time "Mac's" classmates have thus honored him—twice unanimously, and once by straight election. The officers elect are: For president, R. J. Tenkonohy; vice-president, Elida Dearborn; secretary, Ralph Kirby; treasurer, F. H. McDermid, members of the student council, Earl Hotchin and Max Gardner. For the third member on this council, Verne Branch and Alfred Iddles tied. In order to determine the position a coin was tossed, and the lot fell to Mr. Branch.

HORT. CLUB BANQUET.

A most enjoyable banquet was that of the Hort. Club on Tuesday evening of last week. Nothing was included, either in the menu or in the decorations, that was not a fruit of some sort. Every fruit which the market affords was served, and served in all sorts of ways. The banquet was held in Williams Hall, and the variety of fruit, together with the floral decorations, made a very pretty scene.

This was the third annual banquet of this club, and the event was in the nature of a farewell to the seniors. The members, together with their guests, gathered at the Hort. building at 7:30, and marched in a body to the banquet hall. Secretary and Mrs. Brown were guests of honor.

After the banquet was served, C. B. Tubergen, president of the club, presided as toastmaster, and called upon the following for short talks: Sec. A. M. Brown, Prof. H. J. Eustace, L. B. Scott, '11, of Auburn, Ind., Mayor Gunson, and R. G. Kirby, '12.

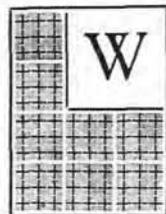

J. H. Carmody, '12, secretary of the club, was called upon, and read letters of regret from David Woodworth, of Clinton; Hon. Chas. W. Garfield, '70, of Grand Rapids; C. E. Basset, of Fennville, who is secretary of the Michigan Horticultural Society, and Benton Gebhart, of Hart.

The affair was a fitting close to the successful year's work accomplished by the club.

ECLECTIC ELECTION.

The Eclectic Society held their annual election of officers for the fall term of 1911, Saturday, June 3. The following members were elected: Harry V. Collins, president; P. I. Allen, vice president; Harmon K. Wright, secretary; L. Stanley Storms, treasurer; Glenn T. Caley, marshal; Leo J. Hughes, RECORD editor, and Leon J. Hill, house inspector.

After the election a smoker and feed was given by the retiring officers, and a general good time was enjoyed.

M. A. C. 2 — OLIVET 3.

In the final baseball game of the season the home team lost out on Olivet ground, Saturday, by the above score. Although the home team hit harder and oftener, failure to hit at opportune times was a feature. Twice were the bases filled, but the lucky hit was not forthcoming.

Olivet made one run in the first and one in the second. M. A. C. braced and put two over the home plate, thus tying the score. With no one on bases Olivet sent in a man who put the sphere over the fence and tallied No. 3, and the winning score in the sixth.

The fielding was of a high order on both sides, and Olivet furnished a good crowd of loyal rooters who cheered their team on to victory.

A summary of the games will be published in the last issue of the RECORD.

Mrs. J. F. Baker entertained a number of guests at dinner Saturday and Sunday evenings.

FACULTY-SENIOR GAME.

A goodly number of college people witnessed the faculty-senior ball game Tuesday afternoon, and were treated to a good class of ball. The faculty started out strong, and had the game ended with the second inning the story would have been different, as at that point the odds were in their favor 3 to 0.

Reed starred in his fielding and batting, and also got a difficult put-out and one double. Dean Lyman secured the first run in the first inning. In the second two more scores were made, which closed the scoring for the faculty.

Those who took part in the contest were: Prof. Macklin, c; Dean Shaw, p; Prof. Vedder, 1; Pres. Snyder, 2; Sec. Brown, 3; Prof. Halligan, s; Fielders, Prof. Reed, Prof. Wendt, Dean Lyman, and Dean Bissell.

The complete batting list was not available, but there were several, at least, so say the seniors.

For the seniors, Lindy and Watts were used in the box and Anderson for catcher.

The final score was 7 to 3 in favor of seniors. The rooters were satisfied, and everyone enjoyed the game.
