GRADUATE SCHOOL OF HOME ECONOMICS.

The fourth session of the Graduate School of Home Economics will be held at M. A. C. in connection with the Graduate School of Agriculture, July 1-26.

The purpose of this school is to give advanced instruction in home economics by means of lectures and laboratory courses and to give opportunity for conferences and discussions in regard to problems and investigation. The requirements for admission are the same as for those who enter the school of agriculture. The matriculation fee of ten dollars admits the student to the privileges of both.

The courses offered will include in the first week lectures on Nutrition by Dr. Sherman, of Columbia, on the Principles of Jelly Making, by Professor N. E. Goldthwaite, of the University of Illinois, and lectures and laboratory demonstrations on the Chemistry of Textiles by Dr. J. Merritt Matthews, of New York.

During the second week, Dr. Mendel, of Yale University, will lecture and conduct a conference of Nutrition, and Dr. Sophonisba Breckinridge, of the University of Chicago, will lecture on Social Economics.

The third week will include lectures on the Physiology of the Cell by Dr. C. E. Marshall, of Michigan Agricultural College; lectures on Costume Design, by Professor Carr, of the University of Missouri, and two lectures by Professor Amy Daniels, of the University of Missouri. A series of laboratory lessons in food will be taught and discussed by Professor Agnes Hunt, of Michigan Agricultural College.

During the fourth week Miss Grace Smith, of the Technical High School, Springfield, Mass., will lecture on Industrial History in relation to the Teaching of Textiles. Dr. Langworthy, Professor Hunt and President Bevier will also lecture during this week.

In addition special laboratory courses will be offered by Dr. Rahn, of our department of bacteriology, and in chemistry by Prof. Kedzie.

All correspondence concerning this school should be addressed to A. M. Brown, Registrar, East Lansing.

Miss Emma C. Baker writes from Bricks, N. C., to renew her subscription to her college paper. Miss Baker is still teaching in the Joseph Keasbey Brick Agricultural, Industrial and Normal School. There is a postoffice at the school and her address is now Bricks instead of Enfield.

'86.

Prof. Kedzie has recently received a letter from Theo. A. Stanley, of the above class. Mr. Stanley is proprietor of Cedar Hill Dairy Farm, at New Britain, Conn.

M. A. C. IS VICTOR.

DEFEATS U. of M. IN FAST GAME SATURDAY.

FINAL SCORE, 7 TO 6.

Two Home Games This Week—Syracuse and Alma.

M. A. C. won the big game of the season Saturday afternoon, when the university team was beaten in one of the greatest games ever seen on the home field. From the spectators' standpoint, at least, it was a most exciting contest, as it was anybody's game until the last few minutes of play. On two or three occasions errors on the part of the home team practically gave the game away, but the finish came in fine style, and everybody (except) was happy.

M. A. C. started strong, getting two of her runs in the first inning, and in fact, as the summary shows, played more consistent ball all the way through the game.

Except for the fourth and eighth, the visitors were taken care of safely. In the fourth a couple of hits, coupled with four costly errors, netted them 4 runs, and the last two came in the eighth. M. A. C. kept men on bases a good part of the time, which made things interesting.

At the beginning of the ninth the score stood 5 and 6 in favor of the university boys. M. A. C. filled the bases, Dodge batting in place of Spencer. Gorenflo bunted and Bibbins was out at home, and again the bases were filled. Mogge at this point came in for a squeeze, and did a good job. The pitcher was then kept busy taking care of 1st and 2nd, while Bradley and Dodge scored the winning runs.

Great credit is due Spencer for the way he handled the game. His pitching was a feature, and he was able to pull out of some tight places. Bradley, on third, and Griggs, at first, both played exceptionally good ball, the former getting three hits and the latter two.

The day was ideal, and a good crowd witnessed the contest. Saturday evening a bunch of students went to Lansing and celebrated—parade, bonfire and speeches.

SYRACUSE AND ALMA.

Two more good home games are scheduled for this week: Syracuse on Friday at 4 o'clock, and Alma Saturday at 2:30.

Syracuse always puts up a good game, and we were able to defeat her by only a small margin last season. A good contest is assured.

Alma, our old time rivals, have in Myers one of the best pitchers in the state, and will come with every intention of winning. Our sister college won a two inning contest with the U. of M. recently, and can be relied upon to furnish some excitement.

ALPHA ZETA CANDIDATES.

Four members of the junior class have recently been initiated into the Fraternity of Alpha Zeta. Messrs. C. C. Carstens, K. M. Klinger, F. L. Granger and W. S. Fields are to be congratulated upon the standard of their college activities that makes them eligible to membership this spring term. The chapter this year decided to discontinue the public titiation that has thus far provoked many laughs since the inception of the organization at M. A. C. In the place of it the candidates will be introduced with announcement that is congruous with dignity to the honors conferred.

Tonight the chapter, together with their honorary members, are enjoying a chicken pie banquet in Club G.

ALUMNI

'69.

Henry E. Gibson, for twenty years a member of the firm of Hedges & Gibson, druggists at North Lansing, died at his home on Capitol Ave., April 29. The cause of his death was a complication of heart troubles from which he has suffered for three months. Mr. Gibson was at one time connected with B. F. Essler, a dry goods merchant of Grand Ledge and was also engaged for a short time in the grocery business in Detroit. He came to Lansing in 1892. The funeral was held from the home on Thursday morning.

George W. Brewer, teacher in the Indian School Service in Minnesota has changed his address from Nett Lake to Grand Portage. His new home is on the north shore of Lake Superior near the Isle Royal.

Miss Mary Jeanette Carpenter has been voted the prettiest girl in Goucher College, Baltimore, where she is a student in her first year. Miss Carpenter, who is 19 years of age, is the daughter of L. G. Carpenter, '79, and wife, Mary Merrill Carpenter, also a graduate of the class of '81, of Denver, Col. The vote was taken by the other young women of the school, and is but another demonstration of the oft repeated remark that the western girl is the real American girl.

'92

In renewing his subscription George W. Davis of Tekonsha writes as follows: "I graduated twenty years ago this summer, came back to the home farm, and have been here ever since. M. A. C. men will be more than welcome here at any time. I shall always feel that during my student days I was associated with four of the greatest professors ever connected with the college, Kedzie, Beal, Cook and Grange. They were great men and they did a great work. I remember a little incident in one of Dr. Beal's classes which I have never seen printed. It was during a class in parasitic fungi that a student raised his hand and called out 'Oh, professor, I have found something under my microscope.' Back came the Doctor's answer,—'In that case, I'd advise you to study it awhile.'"

'09.

Announcement is made of the birth of a son on April 15 to Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Allen in Cheshire, England, where Mr. Allen is located, representing the Ford Motor Co. at that place. Mrs. Allen was formerly Harriet Weston, with 1911.

'11.

E. C. Lindemann, '11, of Detroit, spoke before the union meeting of Y. W. and Y. M. C. A., Sunday evening in the People's church.

WESTERN State Normal School of Kalamazoo celebrated Arbor and Bird Day with a Rural Progress lecture and suitable program. Upon the back page of the program we note the following from the pen of Charles W. Garfield of the class of 1870:

"Who has not truly loved some tree—loved it for itself, its memories, its associations: loved it too well to destroy it—has not truly lived. The tree is childhood's tower and stronghold; the tree is the castle whose leafy parapets shelter 'love's young dream'; the tree is weary labor's summer tent; upon the friendly tree that knew his childhood sports age leans, a child again looking toward sunset. Then, at last, when dust has returned to dust, the tree becomes a temple of memory through whose arches come whispers and beckonings from the world beyond."

A COPY of The 1911 Bond has been handed us, which proves to be the official publication of the class of 1911. As mentioned therein, the Bond is published occasionally by the members of the class of 1911 for the purpose of keeping aflame the spirit of the class and the love for alma mater.

"Some things to think about" is the heading of a set of questions which each member is requested to fill out, detach and return to the editor.

These include proposed change of name, billiard and pool rooms—are they desirable adjuncts, general policy of M. A. C., should the prep. course be abandoned, new buildings, etc. The editor urges that these matters should be of more than passing interest to the class, and they should express opinions.

The Bond also contains a complete roster of the class.

A publication of this kind, rightly managed and made permanent, will do more good for the interests of M. A. C. than any memorial could be.

Editor Lindemann is the moving spirit.

FELLOWSHIP AT U. OF M.

The University of Michigan offers a fellowship with a stipend of $300 for the academic session. This offer is made to one student graduate of this institution who may desire such fellowship and post graduate study in the University. This offer is open to any department of the Michigan Agricultural College.

Any student who is interested, or desires to be a candidate for such a fellowship should report to Prof. W. H. French on or before May 10.

1912 SUMMER TERM OF FORESTRY.

The fourth session of the summer term of forestry will again be held on the estate of David Ward which lies in Antrim, Otsego, Kalamazoo and Crawford counties. This estate embraces some 80,000 acres of mixed hardwoods, hemlock and white pine, perhaps the largest continuous body of hardwoods in Michigan, if not in the United States.

The 1912 forestry camp will be located but a short distance from the location of the camp in 1911. The general establishment and routine of the camp will be the same as that in previous years. Students will be housed in individual tents and will eat the same food as the loggers. A yard man will have charge of the daily up-keep of the camp grounds. Every facility will be at hand to advance the work. The subjects given are strictly technical, the courses are not complete in themselves but form a step in the whole organized forestry group and meet the needs of the foresters in their future professional work.

Work will begin Wednesday, June 19th and continue until Saturday, August 10th. The following courses will be given:

Forestry 4. Field Methods given by Instructor W. I. Gilson. The course will treat of the care and maintenance of men, horses, and equipment in field operations and the consideration of the cost of typical field investigations. In the field work of this course, each two students will be completely outfitted for a cruising trip—pack baskets, pack harness, blankets, hatchet, pocket compass, cooking utensils, meal bags, food cans, etc. In horse transportation, horses, pack saddles, alforjas etc., will be at hand and utilized by the student in field demonstration work.

Civil Engineering 2 a. Topographic surveying given by Ass't. Prof. W. B. Wendt. Complete instrumental equipment will be at hand to make this course effective in every detail and it will be the means of constructing the map which will be a basis of the field work in courses in Silviculture and Mensuration which will follow.

Entomology 7. Forest Insects. Field work given by Prof. R. H. Pettit and Dr. G. D. Shafer. A short course in field investigation of insects injurious to forest growth. All emphasis will be placed on determining under actual field conditions just how particular insects injure particular tree species. This course must be preceded by Entomology 1, which deals with insect anatomy, development and classification. The student must be familiar with types of various groups of insects, and must be able to classify them properly in order to be able to carry on the necessary field observations of this course.

Forestry 5. Silviculture given by Assistant Prof. F. H. Sanford. This work will be a discussion of what theoretically and actually constitutes a forest type and the outlying of particular types found on the area mapped in the course in Topographical Surveying.

Forestry 3. Forest Mensuration given by Prof. J. Fred Baker. This course will take up the theory and use of instruments to determine diameter and height of standing trees, the calculation of the volume of felled and standing timber, the theory and practical use of log rules. Special attention will be given to cruising by different methods, the area mapped in the Civil Engineering work. Stand maps will be constructed to accompany the topographical and Forest type maps of the other courses.

These courses will entitle the regular students to ten credits which may be substituted during the senior year.

Messrs. H. B. Darlington Associate Editor of the American Lumberman magazine; J. C. Knox, Secretary of Michigan Hardwood Manufacturers Association and Supervisor Wm. B. Piper, of the United States Forest Service will spend several days in camp during the term. Two special lecturers will be announced later.

OHIO WESLEYAN 2—M. A. C. 1

Ohio Wesleyan were the victors on Wednesday of last week, winning by one point. Although M. A. C. secured more hits than did the visitors, failure to hit at the opportune time, coupled with the fact that Ohio's errors were not taken advantage of, lost the game.

Our tally came in the first when two hits were secured. In the second and third two more hits were registered, and at one time the bases were filled with but one out, and it looked as though the game was all M. A. C. From this time on, however, Hunter for the visitor's pitcher used his "spit ball" to perfection, and the home team was able to find him but once for safety.

Dodge started the game for M. A. C. and during the first five innings pitched excellent ball, allowing but three hits. The visitors bunched three hits in the third inning after two men were out which netted them two runs and won the game.

Spencer relieved Dodge in the sixth and started off by striking out three men. After the third it was simply a pitchers battle and a good one too. Spencer allowed but one hit in the last four innings, while seven were registered against Hunter for the visitors.

Bobo, the visitor's first baseman was credited with 15 put outs. Dodge registered 5 strike outs Spencer 3 and Hunter 3. The day was rather cool for ball and the crowd was not especially large.

HOME ECONOMICS ASSOCIATION.

The Home Economics Association will hold its second annual meeting at the Michigan Agricultural College on Saturday, May 18.

The forenoon will be devoted to committee meetings. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock there will be an address by Miss Mary Snow, Supt. of Household Arts, Chicago. Reports of the various committees will be heard and certain amendments to the constitution will be proposed. Luncheon will be served in the Women's building by the department of domestic science at 35 cents per plate.

The secretary, Miss Lenna F. Cooper, of Battle Creek, urges the attendance of every one interested in this work, as Michigan needs the co-operation of all.

HORT. CLUB.

Professor G. A. Coons discussed the dangers of careless methods of pruning from a botanist's standpoint before the Hort. Club, Wednesday evening. As a preliminary he reviewed the process of food manufacture, emphasizing the functions of the various members of the tree and correcting prevalent but erroneous notions as to the "circulation" of sap and the comparison of leaves to organs of an animal body.

Professor Coons reviewed very thoroughly the botany of growth and its connection with the healing of wounds. Whenever the corky layer is broken the exposed surface is ready prey to the attack of numerous fungi. This is especially true of the stub of a pruned arm or branch if left for nature to heal. Heart rotting fungi begin their work in these wounded surfaces, working down through the heart wood, where there is plenty of air, into the trunk and then into the entire branching system of the tree, seriously weakening it and rendering it susceptible to serious or entire ruin from wind storms.

Good lead paint is suggested as a remedy and should be renewed very liberally. The use of wood tar, bitumen asphalt and creosote are efficient but their effect upon the tree is not definitely known.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

A large number of college people took advantage of the opportunity to hear Madam Schumann-Heink Friday evening.

The senior class in domestic science visited the Lansing High last week, where they observed classes in that subject.

President Albert Ross Hill, of Columbia University (Mo.) will deliver the commencement address at M. A. C. on Tuesday, June 20.

Ray Turner, '11, of Hillsdale, will be at M. A. C. Sunday, May 12, and will assist in the choir at chapel service. He will also sing a solo.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bassett, who have been spending the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Jesse J. Myers, left Wednesday for their Illinois home, visiting Chicago, en route.

The first band dance will be held in the Armory Friday evening, May 10, and promises to be a very enjoyable affair. Lieut. and Mrs. Cron, Sergt. and Mrs. Cross, and Dr. and Mrs. Hedrick will act as patrons.

The following juniors have been elected to membership in the new honorary society, Omicron Nu: Rhea Allen, Clara Waldron, Mrs. Martha Lorce, Louise Clemens, and Nell Favorite. These were chosen as having the records for school work, thus meeting the requirements of the society.

We are in receipt of a copy of The College Farmer, a monthly magazine published by the students of the University of Missouri. It is designated as "Poultry Number," and contains two articles from the pen of Mr. H. L. Kempster. An excellent cut of "Kemp" appears in connection with his article, "Hatching a Chick," and, in addition, a picture of his first poultry class at Missouri.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

C. L. Opperman former assistant in poultry at M. A. C. was a college caller on Friday of last week.

A. B. and C. B. Cook, of Owosso, with their families, came over Saturday in their auto for the big game with Michigan. We believe they felt well repaid for the trip.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Krentel, Jr., on Wednesday, May 1, a son, Kenneth Alex. Mr. Krentel who was with the class of '01, is engaged in the poultry business at East Lansing.

Capt. Harrison Hall, of the General Staff U. S. Army, has been designated to make the annual inspection of the military department at M. A. C., and will arrive Friday evening, May 10. The inspection will take place at 8:30, Saturday morning, May 11.

A surprise was given at the home of Mr. Frank Rude, of Tekonsha, on May 1, when his daughter, Viola, and Roy J. Van Winkle, of our present senior class, announced their marriage in September last at Windsor, Ont. The young people have kept the fact an entire secret until now.

Prof. and Mrs. H. W. Reynolds, of Berkeley, Cal., who have been abroad the past year, are expected here this week. They might have been passengers on the ill fated Titanic, as they started about the same time for America. Mrs. Reynolds (Vine Armstrong) graduated in '05, and Mr. R. was formerly a professor at M. A. C.

Mrs. V. T. Wilson spent the past week visiting relatives and friends in South Bend, Ind.

Ralph G. Kirby writes from Benton Harbor that he is already hard at work and enjoys the duties of his new position very much.

A number of men in the community turned out Saturday afternoon and put the finishing touches on the church yard, leaving it in fine shape for seed bed.

In the farm mechanics laboratory last week a corn planter and grain binder were connected up with gasoline engines giving opportunity to study the general workings of both.

Dr. John Knox McClurkin, pastor of a large Presbyterian church in Pittsburg, Pa., has accepted an invitation to deliver the M. A. C. baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 16.

Two big Base Ball games this week. Syracuse vs. M. A. C. on the home field Friday at 4:00 p. m. Alma and M. A. C. will clash on Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Good games. You can't afford to miss either.

The Farmers of the University of Columbia, Mo., held the seventh annual fair on the college farm April 26. From the "official guide" we take this fair to be on much the same line as the annual athletic carnival at M. A. C. The benefits as set forth in the guide are advertising, recreation, amusement, financial gain for some worthy enterprise and "department spirit."

Miss Ethel Gilbert, of Lansing, has been appointed as stenographer in Sec. Brown's office in place of Miss Harper, resigned.

Howard Hough, C. L. Harrison and Harold Barnum were among our seniors who were obliged to be at their homes a few days the past week looking after agricultural interests.

The members of the Athletic Carnival committee hold a final meeting this evening at 6:30, to consider the settlement of all outstanding bills. A final report of the venture will then be forthcoming.

The Aureoan spring term party was held in the assembly room of the Agricultural Building Saturday evening. Logan's Orchestra furnished the music. Prof. and Mrs. King and Prof. and Mrs. Clark were patrons.

Mrs. Bessie Cornell Reid, of Springfield, Mass., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cornell, on Abbot Ave. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reid were former M. A. C. students. Mr. Reid is connected with the Orange Judd Farmer of Springfield.

Beginning on Sunday, May 12, vesper service will be held in the People's church at 4:30 p. m. This will take the place of the regular evening service and will be continued during the remainder of the college year. This will in no way affect the union meetings of Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. now held in the church.

The teachers in the Women's building gave Miss Berg a delightful birthday spread Monday evening, April 29.

G. V. Branch will conduct the Thursday evening Y. M. C. A. meeting. Laura Crane will have charge of the Y. W. C. A. on the same evening.

Newell J. Hill, '08, with F. F. Van Tuyl consulting engineer of Detroit, was a college caller last week. Upon learning of Prof. Kedzie's condition he left for Lansing at once to pay his old "Prof." a visit.

The Hesperians held their spring term party in the armory on the evening of May 4. The music was by the College Orchestra. Dean and Mrs. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Seeley, Mrs. Minogue, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Sprinkle were patrons.

The Cadet Band will give the first open air concert of the season on Wednesday evening of this week. An especially good program will be given and it is hoped that college people in general will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this first open air concert.

A Y. M. C. A. class in the study of the Chinese revolution has been organized and promises to be well attended. At the first meeting on Thursday evening 15 men were present and several were absent on account of chorus practice. The class will meet at 7:15 on Thursday evenings, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

AN ALFALFA HUNTING TRIP.

From Sairam we went to Karabulak, stopping on the way when we met a "Kirghiz" man with a camel to induce him to let us ride the camel, an experience neither of us had ever enjoyed. It amused him immensely to think that people would be willing to pay to do such a common thing as to ride a camel for a few minutes.

At Karabulak we again stopped with the head man of the village. We were treated as very honorable guests, and as head of the expedition I had to eat the pieces of meat which my host picked out with his fingers and placed before me. The next morning we drove out to see some more alfalfa fields and then visited the market, it being the great market day for live stock. There we witnessed the sale of sheep, cattle horses and camels, and had an opportunity to see a great many types of people. We returned to Chimkent that night and next morning started on the return journey.

On the return trip we found it much more difficult to secure horses than before, but we soon learned that a ruble or two skillfully placed in the hands of the keeper of the post station enabled him to find horses which did not exist before. In this way we got along well until we came to a place where the head of the post had been celebrating his birthday and had become so intoxicated, together with his wife and all the employees, that we could get nothing from them. We were compelled to spend the night there. Next morning we roused a drunken driver in order to get our horses ready for the rest of the journey.

At the last station before Tashkent we were informed that it was absolutely impossible to get horses as they were expecting to supply horses for the semi-weekly mail. No offers of small amounts of money were effective and we purchased some milk and eggs and ate our dinner. Finally after we had exhibited five rubles the situation was relieved and plenty of horses were forthcoming.

In this last lap of the journey we met a drove of several hundred of runaway camels. They kicked up such a dust that we could not see our own horses, and a part of the time not even the driver. We could see their huge shapes looming up at arm's length at the side of the wagon, running by at top speed and squealing the peculiar camel squeal. Now and then we could hear the shouts of some of the men who, on camel back, were trying to stop the stampede. It was almost impossible to breathe, and we choked and coughed for a long time after the drove had safely passed us. Fortunately we suffered no damage from the occurrence.

When we reached Tashkent the first place we visited was a Turkish bath establishment, where after considerable effort, our skin was again visible.
