GEORGE E. LAWSON MEMORIAL PRIZE.

The State Board of Agriculture, at its meeting last Wednesday, accepted the trusteeship of a $500 bond, presented by J. W. Beaumont, '82, the interest on which will enable the board to offer an annual cash prize of approximately $25.00 for the best essay in English produced by a male student, the same to be known as the George E. Lawson Memorial Prize.

George E. Lawson, whose death occurred last February, was a classmate and a very close friend of Mr. Beaumont. In this gift Mr. Beaumont not only encourages the English work of the college but establishes a lasting memorial to his friend.

In his letter to the Board Mr. Beaumont puts the rules regulating the contest into the hands of the President and the head of the English department. He also asks that the prize essay be published each year in all the student publications.

UPPER PENINSULA ASSOCIATION MEETS.

The Upper Peninsula M. A. C. Association held a banquet at Menominee during the meeting of the up-state teachers' association. Following the banquet the M. A. C. people distinguished themselves by giving the only college yell heard at the banquet.

Those present at the banquet: E. C. Lindemann, '11, East Lansing; J. W. Weston, '14, Marquette, extension work in U. P.; Katherine MacDonald, '11, domestic science at Menominee; Margaret Justin, specialist in charge of home economics extension in the U. P.; M. B. Melican, agricultural teacher at Barag; Alice Kuenzli, teaching household arts at Menominee; A. B. Winslow, agriculture at Menominee; E. L. Grover, '07, M. A. C.; R. L. Nye, '12, superintendent of agricultural school at Menominee; A. L. Olsen, '16, agriculture at Munising; Allie E. Bishop, '16, domestic economy at Menominee; Sada L. Anderson, domestic science and art at Menominee; J. Allen Petrie, '14, extension work in U. P.; Bessie L. Rogers, '14, domestic science at Iron Mountain; E. B. Hill, '15, county agriculturist at Menominee; O. G. Dryer, science at Iron River.

For the coming year R. L. Nye was elected president and J. W. Weston, secretary.

On the program of the teachers' institute are found the names of E. C. Lindemann, who talked on "Rural Recreation" and "Principles Underlying Boys' and Girls' Club Work," and Margaret Justin, who gave "Suggestions for Standardizing a Course in Domestic Art."

PASTOR FOR EAST LANSING CHURCH.

Rev. J. T. Jones, who has been pastor of the First Congregational Church at Council Bluffs, Iowa, for several years, has accepted the pastorate of the People's Church, East Lansing. He will take up his duties Nov. 19.

Doctor Jones is Welsh by birth and is a graduate of Oxford University. He has had considerable experience in churches of college communities, having spent four years in Iowa City. He also held pastorates in Pennsylvania.

The East Lansing church has been without a regular pastor since early last spring when Rev. Steensma resigned. Since that time the committee of the church has been looking around considerably for a man big enough to carry out the propaganda of a one-church community that is being emphasized so much by many religious workers. It is felt that in this community there is an unusual opportunity to test out this proposition and a large number of the college teaching staff are backing the movement very strongly.

Prof. Huston of the chemistry department has been giving liberally of his time as assistant to the coaching staff.

The staff of the botany department was entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Bessey last Friday evening.

George E. Torrey and James Gunnison, who were present as students at the opening of College in 1857, were on the campus one day last week. Mr. Gunnison resides in Lansing and Mr. Torrey in Royal Oak.

OCTOBER STATE BOARD MEETING.

President Kedzie and Messrs. Graham, Doherty, Waterbury, Beaumont and Wallace were present at the October meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, held at the President's office last Wednesday.

The following persons were authorized to attend various association meetings with only transportation expenses paid: C. W. Waid, Official Potato Association of America at Washington, Nov. 12 to 14; Jas. N. McBride, Fourth Annual Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits at Chicago; Dec. 5 to 9; Eben Mumford and C. B. Cook, Conference of County Agent Leaders at Washington, Nov. 10 to 14; R. J. Baldwin, same conference; Dean Georgia White, the Conference of Teachers of Home Economics in Land Grant Colleges at Washington, Nov. 15 to 17; W. H. French, Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations at Washington Nov. 15 to 17; M. M. McCool, same conference; F. S. Kedzie, G. W. Bissell, and R. S. Shaw, same conference; V. M. Shoemaker, annual meeting of the Society of Agronomy at Washington, Nov. 13 to 14; W. O. Hedrick, Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits at Chicago, Dec. 5 to 9, also American Economics Association at Columbus, last week in December; D. C. Hefley and C. B. Mitchell, Conference of the Y. M. C. A. at Chicago, Oct. 25; A. J. Patten, meeting of feed control officials at Washington Nov. 15 to 17; C. S. Langdon, Fifth Annual Meeting of Association of Alumni Secretaries at Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 26, 27 and 28.

The Secretary was appointed to represent the Board at the meeting of the Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations at Washington, Nov. 15 to 17, provided the expense is borne by the Board of State Auditors.

The President and Captain Longacker were directed to discuss with the War Department the matter of developments of the military department at the College under the terms of the recent federal act.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, $1 PER YEAR

Subscriptions may be paid for by P. O. Money Order, Draft, or Personal Check.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1916.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS

From the number of letters that have come in from subscribers asking just a change in street address but stating that the Record has been missed very much this fall we take it that postal authorities are very lax about giving notice of changes, and that subscribers do not all understand our system of sending the Record to an address until requested to change. At the beginning of the college year the Record is sent to everyone on the mailing list the last year unless a change is asked. If this were kept in mind it would make for greater satisfaction with all concerned. We cannot always supply back numbers.

To the Record it is gratifying and worthy of comment that there are two educational institutions in the state between which there exists such a cordial athletic relationship as between the University and M. A. C. That two football teams of such high grade can be developed within the state is still more worthy of note.

There is not another game on our schedule that holds the interest of the alumni like the Michigan game. Always believing that the University of Michigan leads the state universities of the country as an educational institution, we look to it, also, to stand in the front ranks in athletics, and nothing touches the pride of an M. A. C. man more than to think his Alma Mater can turn out athletic teams capable of competing on a parity with those of the University.

We sincerely hope this relationship can be continued and that a record for clean and high quality sports can be set up in this state which cannot be beaten by any other state in the Union.

An alumnus writes, "Keep the Record up to the level of that of the 17th (the last number) and you ought to have no trouble about new subscriptions." Experience has shown that our trouble in getting new subscribers is not that alumni do not want the Record, but that they "never get around to send for it." We've taken advantage of this in some cases by sending the paper and then a bill.

This usually brings them 'around.' The ideal way would be to have each subscriber take the responsibility upon himself of sending in a new subscriber. For this service we could give value received as we would be able to put out a bigger and better paper. And we venture to say that at least one-half of our subscribers come in contact with people every month who are not taking the Record. M. A. C. people are wise—and 'a word to the wise is sufficient.' Try it out.

The establishment of a prize for the best essay by a male student calls to mind again that the M. A. C. Association pledged itself, through the local association, at the annual meeting last June, to create a fund, the interest of which would be used to promote interest in public speaking. One of the associations has already raised one-tenth of the money desired and at this annual meeting another association promised another tenth. It is to be hoped that the local associations will take this matter up at once so that the English department will have something definite to work on this present year.

This recent gift but emphasizes the fact that the encouragement of work in English is considered a worthy endeavor.

The Spirit of M. A. C.

There centers around our Alma Mater a certain indefinable force, perhaps more potent than its other attributes and of greater value than its tangible assets. This we may call the "Spirit of M. A. C." It is difficult to define and sometimes hard to recognize. Professor French, in his spirited address at the last Cap Night Ceremonies, said the spirit of M. A. C. is "practical unselfish service." This it no doubt is in large degree, but it is something more. There is in it a broad democracy, a large practicality, unbounded belief in hard work, unlimited hopefulness, and splendid optimism!

President Kedzie said he couldn't exactly define it but thought he knew what it was. We agreed that it is something very potent, yet not beyond injury; capable of being torn down, added to or detracted from, exalted and ennobled or traduced and debased. A busy little psychologic entity, forever getting in its work, at the College, all around us, on the Campus, in the trees and fields and forests, and in the clubs, the class rooms, lecture halls, armory and gym.

Perhaps it is the survival of all the influences that have gone into the making of M. A. C. Maybe it is made up of little soul particles of all the mortals and immortals who have lived and labored and are laboring for the upbuilding of the College and the advancement of its ideals.

Certain it is that we all owe something to this entity and that we cannot escape responsibility for its well being, since its qualities of faithfulness, devotion, determination, persistence and purity, as well as of tolerance, charity, good cheer and hope, are the composite reflections of our lives. Its most striking and showy characteristic—that of local color—rests most largely with the student body. They of all should be loyal to the "Spirit of M. A. C."

—HENRY A. HAIGH, '74.

OCTOBER STATE BOARD MEETING.

relationship with the federal office of markets was granted.

President Kedzie presented a letter from Mr. Beaumont asking the Board's acceptance of a bond for $500, the net income therefrom to be applied annually to provide for the George E. Lawson Memorial Prize, a prize to be given for the best essay in English produced by a male student. The Board accepted the gift with an expression of sincere thanks to the donor.

L. P. Hoppman was employed as assistant in wood shop to take the place of Mr. Rix. W. H. Tully was employed as instructor in poultry husbandry in place of Mr. Francis, resigned.

J. B. Coyle was employed as instructor in Physics.

O. L. Snow and W. E. Laycock were each made assistant professor of physics.

Mr. Bowd, college architect, was directed to submit plans for the rebuilding of College Hall to the board and a committee of the M. A. C. Association, and work upon the reconstruction is to proceed as soon as funds are available.

A resolution was adopted accepting the general plan of the campus and the location of future buildings as provided by Olmsted Brothers, landscape architects of Boston.

A communication from Dean Lyman relative to the organization of a new department was referred to the President for report and recommendation at a future meeting.

President Kedzie presented a comprehensive report from Director Shaw in regard to the milk weed fibre investigations being carried on at Saginaw. The whole matter was referred to Director Shaw with power to act, it being the sense of the Board that the investigation be continued.

It appearing from statements made by the President that the matter of student pay as fixed at a former meeting of the Board, is unsatisfactory, the question was referred to the President and Secretary with power to act.

It is a noticeable fact that there was very little competition between societies for the Armory and Agricultural Hall for dancing parties on the dates Oct. 20 and 21.

It appears from Dean Shaw's report of the milk weed fibre investigations being conducted near Saginaw that the weed is not the one common to sandy land but is a swamp milk weed, Asclepias incarnata. Reports had gotten out in the state papers to the effect that it was the common upland weed and inquiries came in to the dean's office by the score. If this plant ever does come to be regarded as a satisfactory fibre plant its cultivation will be limited very closely.

THE NEW ENGINEERING BUILDINGS.

The above view of the new engineering buildings taken recently from the top of Agricultural Hall gives a general idea as to how they will look when completed. The two-story shop, Shop No. 1, is well along towards completion and will be used as a wood and pattern shop. Engineers, Ags., and women will do their wood work here. Shop No. 2, just the saw-toothed roof of which can be seen above the power house, is the machine shop. Machines have already been moved from the agricultural building and new ones installed, much of the work being done by students. Shop No. 3 appears just back of the R. E. Olds Hall of Engineering. Here the foundry and forge work is done. When finally completed the agricultural students will do their forge work here with the engineers.

SPARKS, MICHIGAN'S QUARTERBACK, CAUSES AGGIES DEFEAT, 9 TO 0.

JACKS AND BUTLER STAR FOR M. A. C.

The brilliant work of Michigan's quarterback, Sparks, with his accurate toe and his ground gaining ability carrying the ball, together with some team work consisting of excellent blocking and tackling by his mates, were responsible for M. A. C.'s defeat by the University on Ferry Field Saturday.

It was a Michigan day. There were no flukes on either side. Both sides seemed to use all they had, and Yost's huskies had the edge. The scoring started in the first quarter. An exchange of punts and a penalty forced M. A. C. to punt from her 32-yard line, Sparks received the ball and ran it back to M. A. C.'s 45-yard line. Maulbetsch, Sparks and Raymond made a first down and then the Aggies held. Maullie dropped back as if to try a place kick with Sparks holding the ball. Suddenly Sparks arose, caught the ball, dropped it to the ground, and neatly toed it between the uprights.

Michigan's touchdown came in the last quarter. Baker had replaced Butler on account of a minor injury. Sparks punted to Baker on M. A. C.'s 22-yard line, but Baker fumbled and Smith recovered for Michigan. Sparks and Smith advanced the ball around left end to the Aggies' two-yard line and Maulbetsch took it over. Dunne missed goal and the score was: Michigan, 9; M. A. C., 0.

M. A. C. had just one chance to score and this in the last period. Michigan was held for downs on her 30-yard line and the ball went over. Jacks made two yards through center and Butler added seven through right tackle. With barely a foot to go on the third down Butler was thrown for a loss. Butler attempted a field goal but the ball went low and Michigan took it on the 20-yard line. Had M. A. C. scored a drop kick here the game would undoubtedly have ended 3 to 3.

According to statistics Michigan gained 200 yards through the line and around the ends. Of this total Sparks made 107. On his end runs he had three and four men running interference and the Aggies failed to pierce it once. In addition to this he ran the ball back from punts a total of 150 yards. In this department M. A. C. was woefully weak on account of lack of interference as the ball was advanced only 10 yards. Through the line and around the ends M. A. C. advanced the ball 174 yards. "Fred-die" Jacks, left half, made 79 yards of this, and, next to Sparks, he was easily the star of the field. He was pitted against Maulbetsch, holder of All-American laurels, but Maullie was only able to make 34 yards through M. A. C.'s forward wall. Butler, playing fullback for M. A. C., who has been out of the last two games on account of a bad ankle, and who had his leg bandaged Saturday from knee to ankle, was also able to best Maulbetsch advancing the oval through the line as he carried it 36 yards.

In the forward passing department the Yostmen were greatly superior. Out of five attempts they got away with two for a total of 50 yards. M. A. C. tried six but only made one good and this went but for three yards. This showing of the Farmers in the aerial style of play was surprising, especially as it was just what they had been coached in almost the entire past week. It may have been that the ball was too slippery but it is sure that they didn't open up.

M. A. C.'s line was superior. Blacklock was the best tackle on the field. And he made some good plunges through the line when called back. Straight played a great game at left tackle and twice VanDervoort got the man carrying the ball for a loss. Of the ends Henning seemed the harder pressed and Ramsey did some fine tackling, proving his place on the varsity line-up. Rehor, at right guard for Michigan, played a stellar game, showing a hundred per cent better than in the M. A. C. games the past two years. Butler outpunted Sparks but all his punts went low. It would have been much better if he would have punted higher and not so far and given M. A. C.'s ends more time to get under them.

The summary:

M. A. C.	Michigan

ALL FRESH STILL HAVE GOOD SCHEDULE.

Since this is M. A. C.'s first year under the third year rule in athletics considerable attention is being given to development of the all-fresh football squad. And the showing of Coach Beatty's team against Albion a week ago proves that they are a likely bunch of youngsters upon which the varsity can draw next year. With the Albion game out of the way the all-fresh still has four good games. This week Saturday they will hold a preliminary to the varsity game with North Dakota by playing the Michigan all-fresh. Not knowing the strength of the North Dakota team, the all-fresh contest is expected to develop almost as much interest as the varsity tilt on this date.

Other games are as follows:

Nov. 4, Western State Normal at Kalamazoo.

Nov. 11, Michigan State Normal at East Lansing.

Nov. 17, Mt. Pleasant Normal at Mt. Pleasant.

The game with Ypsilanti on the 11th is sure to be watched with interest as the State Normal eleven held the Michigan all-fresh to a scoreless tie. And when the freshman squad goes to Mt. Pleasant on the 17th it will be teams pitted against each other that are coached by classmates and teammates, for Blake Miller is coaching Mt. Pleasant and he and Beatty were on last year's winning varsity eleven at M. A. C.

NEWS AND COMMENT

It is estimated that between ten and twelve hundred students went down to Ann Arbor to back up the team. The M. C., P. M., and M. U. T. ran special trains and cars.

That the game wasn't expected to be a walkaway by the Ann Arborites is shown by the fact that the student council there requested the M. A. C. student council that the M. A. C. band refrain from playing "The Victors." As it turned out there was no occasion for this. However, the request was a proper one and would have been complied with under any circumstances. M. A. C. students do not think for a moment that the spirit of the University is shown in any way by the number of anonymous letters received to the effect that if "The Victors" was played the Aggies would have to get new band instruments.

Classes were conducted this week Monday as usual.

M. A. C. was shown something in the way of welcoming opponents in the interesting football programs.

Aggie players were without numbers on the field. It surely would have helped some 25,000 spectators follow the game better had they been left on. A Detroit paper called this move a step backward.

For the first time in history the M. A. C. band was late on the field. Inability to get dinner on time is given as the cause.

H. F. Bird, '14, talked at the meeting of the Hort Club last week on "Horticulture in the Northwest."

Misses Edmonds, Bigelow and Garvin of the Home Economics department spent the week end in Detroit.

The M. A. C. "Scrubs" have been challenged to play Alma College at Alma, Nov. 4. This came as a result of the Varsity-Alma game when M. A. C. used members of the scrub team very largely. Coach Helmer believes that his team can win. This invitation is welcomed by the scrubs who mostly get little recognition outside of the knocks administered by the varsity crew in practice.

Director Able of the College Chorus reports that thus far he has had an enrollment of about 175. He expects this number to be added to materially when the Chorus takes up some definite production. Thus far they have been singing some of the 'more familiar songs' in order to become thoroughly familiar with them. For the men's glee club there are about fifty new men in addition to the old men trying out and prospects look rosy for a very creditable organization. Eliminations start this week Thursday. At present the band consists of 57 pieces and that number were taken to Ann Arbor Saturday. Mr. Able expects to cut this down to 50 but says that it is a difficult task since they are so uniformly good.

Another very largely attended and most enthusiastic meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association was held at the College last Tuesday. Maintaining that they have the figures to show that the price of milk received by the consumer in the past has not been equal to the cost of production, the executive committee of the association received the support of the members in its proposal for $2 per hundred for 3.5% milk for seven months and $1.65 for five months. This is the price they will stick for from the big condensed milk dealers and if they will hold together the experience of other milk associations in the country goes to show that they will get what they ask for. W. J. Kittle of Chicago, manager of the milk producers' association of that city, told how the farmers of Illinois and Wisconsin obtained what they considered a fair price by striking, last spring. Some of the other speakers were N. P. Hull of Dimondale, president of the association, Prof. Anderson of the College, John C. Ketcham, master of the state grange, and James N. McBride, state market director.

ALUMNI NOTES

Charles Goodwin, of the class of 1875, died at Bancroft, Shiawassee county, Michigan, on the second instant, the day his lifelong friend, Professor Cook, was buried, about six miles distant. Mr. Goodwin had lived near where he died, ever since and during his college days. He had been an intelligent and progressive farmer for some years. One of his classmates makes the statement that he was as good a man as the college ever graduated. He leaves a widow and two adult sons, both of whom took their degrees at the University of Michigan and are successful engineers.

'04.

Henry T. Ross, a, of Milford writes: "Am still on the farm where I was born, and although business is rushing most of the time, I do not forget the good old days at M. A. C. I am in the race again for the job described by the above heading (member of Michigan House of Representatives) and hope to get at least one more touchdown." Always fall forward, Ross, we're with you.

'07.

O. A. Kratz, e, of Portland, Oregon, was on the campus last week.

F. E. N. Thatcher, e, is sales engineer for and stockholder in the Floyd Construction Supply Co., Grand Rapids, Mich.

E. C. Krehl, a, of Detroit, was on the campus last week. Eddie is and has been since July 1st superintendent of Towar's Wayne County Creamery.

'09.

An item from the 1909 Bulletin gives us the news that Laverne L. Perkins of this class died some time last winter in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Oviatt of Sheridan, Wyo., were recent guests at M. A. C. They attended the Alma and Michigan game. Chan Taylor of Louisville, Ky., was also a campus visitor last week.

The editor wishes to correct the impression left by the last Record as the Grace Martin given there in the '09 notes belongs really in the class of '16. Not having heard from the '09 Grace Martin for a long time and not having the "freshmen" firmly fixed in our minds, we jumped to our conclusions, from which we are now jumping back. The last we have heard of the '09 member she was at Port Byron, N. Y. The '09 bulletin says Clinton Springs. Who knows?

'11.

F. G. Wilson, f, "Pud," of Devils Lake, Wis., was a campus visitor last Friday.

Jack DeKoning, e, of Grand Rapids, was a campus visitor last week. He is superintendent for the Wilmarth and Morman Co., of that city.

I. J. Cortright, who is director of athletics at the U. of Cincinnati, says that things are a lot different there and it's going to be mighty hard to develop a winner. Good luck to you "Cort."

'12.

L. R. Himmelberger, a (D. V. M. '14), who is now with the Fort Dodge Serum Co. at Fort Dodge, Iowa, writes that L. A. Mosher, '15v, is a traveling representative for that company and that S. F. Edwards, '99, of the Edwards Laboratories, Lansing, is their Michigan representative.

'13.

Laura Edna Crane of Saginaw and Louis Hadley Eaton were married August 28. They are at home at Fargo, N. Dakota.

D. A. Brice, a, "Sam," began work October 1st as park commissioner and city forester at Flint, Mich. Hunzicker, '16, has Brice's former position as assistant city forester in Detroit.

'14.

D. G. Brown, e, is estimator with H. G. Christman Co., Constructor and engineer, of Detroit. Brown lives at 191 12th St.

"Here's a dollar that's worth more to me in the form of a weekly M. A. C. visitor than any other," writes Glen H. Myers of Flint. Mr. and Mrs. (Minna Baab, '13) Myers have purchased a home at 433 W. 2d Ave. and "have a glad hand here for M. A. C. friends." Myers is in the engineering department of the Mason Motor Co.

'15.

G. K. Fisher, f, is with the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Co., living at 34 E. Alexandrine St., Detroit.

'16.

Lynn Ralya, a, is teaching chemistry in the Arthur Hill Trade School, Saginaw. He writes that there are six M. A. C. people on the faculty.

"Am running a sort of fanning mill so that the seed of knowledge I am trying to deliver to the "masters of the future" shall come somewhere close to the state law on adulteration of seeds; some job at times to sift what you know from what you thought you knew and then pick out what you know you don't know, and still have a little left to plant. But I want you to alchemize the inclosed bit of yellow paper into a weekly issue of the newsy Record." Wm. J. Atchison, Muskegon, Mich.

MADAME, That Indispensable Tailored Suit or Coat for Fall:

Knowing how little really good tailoring there is to be had, we have always been careful in choosing our tailored garments.

Just in this regard, we wish you would inspect the Suits and Coats we offer this fall.

When looking at them, note, for example, that the lining of every garment is built separately and then fitted into its garment, with interlining at chest and back—preserving the smart appearance of the garment as long as it is worn.

You will see here a larger choice than you might expect to find in any other store.
