ALUMNI SECRETARIES MEET AT NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE.

Fifty of the leading educational institutions of the United States were represented by alumni secretaries when the National Association of Alumni Secretaries met last week at Nashville as guests of Vanderbilt University and the George Peabody College for Teachers. Treated to that hospitality peculiarly characteristic of Southerners, the meeting was both a pleasurable and profitable one for all concerned.

The meetings, which were held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, were presided over by the president, Wilfred B. Shaw, alumni secretary for the University of Michigan. While the topics for discussion were of a wide variety, touching on every conceivable phase of alumni and college activity, none received greater attention than "The Ideals of Alumni as They Affect or Are Affected by Athletics." R. H. McLaughlin of Brown University led in this discussion. Other prominent topics were: "Practical Application of Results of Alumni Organization," by A. H. Upham of Miami University; Alumni University Day, by Edwin Rogers Embree, Yale; Student Housing, H. A. Hitchcock, Cornell; "Rendering the Local Alumni Association and the Class Unit Effective," Frank W. Scott, Illinois; "Alumni Influence on Student Life," W. W. Sheldon, Wesleyan University. "Methods of Raising Funds and Inviting Alumni Support," "Subscriptions, Collections, Advertising for Alumni Journals," "Gifts and Endowments," and "University Policies" were other topics.

On Thursday the conference was entertained at luncheon at the George Peabody College and Thursday night the alumni secretaries were guests of Vanderbilt University at dinner at the Commercial Club. At this meeting addresses were made by Chancellor Kirkland of Vanderbilt University, on "University Ideals," and C. P. J. Mooney, editor of Memphis Commercial Appeal, on "Publicity for the University." Comments on these addresses and those above will be found in the editorial column.

The program on Saturday included a visit to the Hermitage, Andrew Jackson's home, about 10 miles out of Memphis, and attendance at the Vanderbilt-Virginia game.

Those present and the institutions represented were: Charles Cason, Vanderbilt; J. S. Wampler, George Peabody College; Wilfred B. Shaw, Michigan; H. A. Hitchcock, Cornell; R. W. Voorhees, Rutgers; E. B. Johnson, Minnesota; Theodore Waner, Iowa; W. H. Johnson, Dennison University; K. D. McClelland, Knox College; C. T. Olmstead, Case School of Applied Science; A. H. Upham, Miami Univ.; H. J. McCorkle, Carnegie Tech.; Tom Garner, Univ. of Alabama; Walter Humphreys, Boston Tech.; H. H. Kenyon, Univ. of Missouri; Frank W. Scott, Univ. of Illinois; R. H. McLaughlin, Brown Univ.; C. S. Langdon, M. A. C.; David A. Shepard, Sewanee; Otto B. Cornell, Otterbein; Edwin Rogers Embree, Yale; Levering Tyson, Columbia; J. D. Turner, Univ. of Kentucky; S. R. Thornburg, Ohio Wesleyan; John Crawford, Univ. of Wisconsin; H. Shedd, John B. Stetson Univ.; L. R. Neele, Univ. of Tennessee; C. P. Atkinson, Southern Univ.; S. H. Sherb, Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

SHORT COURSE STARTS THIS WEEK.

ASHLEY BERRIDGE, '12 IN CHARGE.

The two-year short course in Agriculture starts this week, registration being Monday and Tuesday. The full course consists of two terms of sixteen weeks each and is especially arranged to meet the needs of young men who wish to gain practical information on up-to-date methods in agriculture.

Dean Shaw believes that this course will be of great benefit in the development of Michigan agriculture. Those who attend are usually farmers or farm boys who go back to the farm and put into practice many of the ideas received. Ashley M. Berridge, '12, a graduate of the four-year course at M. A. C., and a man who has been eminently successful as a practical farmer and community leader at Greenville, Michigan, has arrived to take charge of the short course work. He will also have charge of the eight weeks short course, which begins the first of January.

KALAMAZOO ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET.

The annual banquet of the Kalamazoo County M. A. C. Association was held at St. Luke's Parish House, Kalamazoo, Oct. 24. Arrangements for the local reunion were in charge of Fred W. Temple, '14. The toast program was very ably presided over by Jason Woodman, '81.

Guests from the College were Dean Bissell, who outlined very fully the recovery of the Engineering division from the fire, and C. S. Langdon, alumni secretary. Ervin D. Brooks, '76, was called upon for impromptu remarks and he painted a vivid picture of student days at M. A. C. The real feature of the program was a musical number by Fred Temple. The performance was on an instrument resembling a violin, made by himself out of a cigar box, a stick of wood, and one steel wire. Music of fine quality was forthcoming and the assembly voted Temple the genius of the gathering.

Following the banquet adjournment was taken to another room where old and young tripped the light fantastic until a late hour.

The following were among those present: Jason Woodman, '81; E. D. Brooks, '76; A. M. Nutton, ex '95; Wilfred Strong, '05; C. D. Mason, '10; "Bob" Russell, '11; "Short" Snow, '12; Ezra Levin, '14; F. W. Temple, '14; C. M. McCrary, '16; Lillie Thomason, '16; Leah Swift, '16; R. E. Decker, '16; Roy Weinberg, sp.; B. F. Spaulding, ex '15; J. G. Eldridge, ex '18; J. Biscomb, sp.; B. E. Schaffer, Sherman Read and E. S. and L. H. Mills, short court, Clinton Milham, ex.

Recent initiates into the Omicron Nu, the national honorary girls' sorority at M. A. C. are the following: From the teaching force—Misses Zella Bigelow and Edna Garvin; students—Margaret Ryan, Lansing; Etta Schaller, Lansing; Mildred Force, Lansing; Helen Peterson, Lansing; Cydna Free, Lansing; Josephine Fry, East Lansing; Louise Smith, East Lansing; Elsa Schuren, Detroit; Blanche Snook, Metamora; Lou Butler, East Lansing; Elsie Lautner, Traverse City; Bernice Hales, Oak Park, Illinois.

UNIVERSITY IDEALS.

All present at the meeting of alumni secretaries at Nashville last week expressed themselves as wishing that all alumni might be present to listen and take part in the intensely interesting discussions. This idea took tangible form in the resolution adopted at the business session which provided that all presidents of the various alumni associations be invited to the next meeting which will be held at the University of Michigan two years hence.

Of particular interest and inspiration was the address by Chancellor Kirkland of Vanderbilt University on University Ideals. Chancellor Kirkland might be said to be the James Burrell Angell of the South, his service has been so long and he is held in such high esteem. It ought to be said here that Vanderbilt is spoken of as the Yale of the Southland.

Dr. Kirkland, who has been largely instrumental in the campaign, closing last Saturday night, for a million dollars endowment for the liberal arts school, spoke in part as follows: "When I met you at my office this afternoon and suggested that you were probably here to tell us how to run a university, I was not joking in the least. I meant every word of it. I look forward to the time when the destinies of our universities shall be largely in the hands of the alumni. Alumni secretaries shall have the qualifications of a college administrator, and shall have no small part in the administration. No one shall know more about the university than the alumni officer, and in his position, between the great body of loyal alumni on one side and the university on the other, his influence shall be second to none.

"The colleges and universities of this country follow too much the path of the greater schools. Girls' schools are modelled after boys', and negro universities after white. We ought to look towards the establishment of distinct personalities in our various educational institutions and not measure them all by the same standards. I look to you men to see that alumni sentiment is turned in this direction."

M. A. C. AT NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW.

M. A. C. RECORD:

Here it is again, M. A. C. to the front at the national dairy show at Springfield! This kind of news comes so often that it may be getting stale to faculty and students of the college on the Red Cedar.

The program for the 15th of October announced J. L. Brooks, president of Eastern Stock association, will preside; address of welcome, by President K. L. Butterfield of Massachusetts Agricultural college; address, by H. E. Van Norman, president of National Dairy association; address, by Rev. Dr. A. B. Guthrie, of New York.

Who is K. L. Butterfield? He is a Michigan product, a graduate of M. A. C. in '91. Who is H. E. Van Norman? He is another Michigan product, a graduate of M. A. C. in '97. He was secretary of the National Dairy association for a time and afterward its president. For a few years past he has been dean of the Agricultural college of the University of California at Davis where the agricultural students spend two years out of four before graduating.

W. J. BEAL.

CORRESPONDENCE.

EDITOR THE RECORD:

I have been much impressed with the "Appreciation" of Professor Cook, by Mr. L. H. Baker, of the class of 1893, in the last number of the "Record." My own class of 1875, having entered college in the spring of 1872, at which time Professor Cook was about thirty years of age, an intimate friendship sprang up between us at once, and continued until his death.

I doubt if anyone could pay a more fitting tribute to our dear teacher than has Mr. Baker. There is no question but that he knew the professor. I particularly like his reference to the professor's contagious enthusiasm in his class work, his never failing courtesy, his constant personal kindness to those who needed help (material or immaterial), his perennial optimism and his never being neutral on any question of ethics or morals.

Of the two or three men whose lives and friendship have influenced, benefited and inspired me most, Professor Cook certainly was one. No one of his acquaintances will deny to him that highest possible encomium, that he was one of the very best of men. He was one of the builders of one of the greatest colleges in this country, but he was something far above even this, because the things for which he unostentatiously stood, built, moulded and established the characters of men. We shall not soon see his like again.

O. E. ANGSTMAN,
Class of 1875, Detroit.

"The recent death of Dr. Cook on September 29th, starts in mind a long chain of thought extending over a long period time. Kedzie, Beal and Cook worked together at M. A. C. for 22 years with about ten years apart in our ages in the order named. I always regretted very much that he left the college and think he made a mistake in going. His influence among students was first class. After graduation in 1862 he spent some years in California and often spoke of the state with great admiration, and expressed the thought of spending his last days there. He performed valient service for many years in the Michigan horticultural society.

"A college was established at Clairmont by the Congregationalists and his wife's brother was to be its first president. He left our college and entered into the work at Clairmont with great zeal. He tried to induce other members of his family to remove to California. He was the best man to manage a farmers' institute I ever knew, and at such work he would soon wear himself out. The University of California employed him for several years in extension work. He was a tremendous enthusiast inspiring his hearers to good resolutions and good work. Very naturally he was sought and much gratified to become the commissioner of horticulture where the opportunity and needs were unlimited.

"While in Michigan in 1879 he was one of the founders of the society for the promotion of agricultural science with 21 members, still growing in its 37th year with a selected membership of nearly 150.

"A good and just man has gone to his reward leaving with us a most exemplary record.

"His friend,

"W. J. BEAL."

HELEN HEITSCH.

Helen Heitsch, a graduate of M. A. C. in the class of 1916, died at her home in Pontiac, October 23. Miss Heitsch had been ill of typhoid fever for some time.

HELEN ST. JOHN HAFTENKAMP.

Helen St. John Haftenkamp, wife of J. P. Haftenkamp, '05, of Rochester, and instructor in domestic art at M. A. C., 1903-05, died Sept. 21, after an illness of quite extended duration.

The many friends of Frank Hurst, at one time Y. M. C. A. director and assistant coach at M. A. C., will be pleased to learn that a scholarship has been started at Alma College in his honor and memory. The movement started at a recent banquet of Alma people in Detroit, and that night some $3,000 was pledged.

BRAZILIANS APPRECIATE PROF. SMITH.

The following letter from the director of the College in Brazil, where Prof. C. D. Smith, recently deceased, did such good work, shows how the people of South America appreciated him:

Escola Agricola Luiz de Queiroz,
Piracicaba, Sept. 19, 1916.

To the Most Excellent Lady

Mrs. C. D. Smith,

Trumansburg, N. Y.:

Having today received the news of the unexpected death of your honorable husband, Clinton D. Smith, always remembered, Ex-Director of this School, I beg of you to accept in name of the same School for which he worked with such rare competence and acknowledged love, the most heart felt and sincere condolence.

It is also my duty to tell you, that as a mark of profound grief for the illustrious dead, the School was suspended for two days, and the flag hoisted at half mast draped in mourning.

Respectful Greetings,
Tarcisio de Magalhães,
Director.

EARLY STUDENT BELIEVES IN THE RECORD.

The following letter has been received from J. M. Knapp of the class of '61:

"Two years ago I was elected assistant biologist at the Washington State Normal School, Bellingham, Washington. This school has 1,000 students; 255 graduated last year.

"I am one of the few persons living who were present as students at the opening of College and heard President Williams' address.

"I think every student who has attended M. A. C. should subscribe for the Record and keep in touch with the College that has done so much for them. I enclose order for $1.00.

"Trusting that you may have a large subscription list this year, I am,
Yours truly,

J. M. KNAPP,
617 21st St., South Bellingham,
Washington."

Surveyors for the Michigan United Traction Co. were busy last week going over the ground for the new depot which is to be erected just to the right of the campus entrance.

How many students at M. A. C. are of voting age? This question may be settled in part when it is found out how many of them will avail themselves of the opportunity to go home and exercise their franchise at the pending election. Word has gone out that they will be excused from college for this important mission.

BIG DOINGS FOR HOME-COMING NOVEMBER 18.

ALUMNI SECTION RESERVED FOR NOTRE DAME GAME.

In addition to the game with Notre Dame at M. A. C. on Nov. 18, the athletic authorities have provided for an All-Michigan Cross Country run on the forenoon of that date as an added attraction for the annual Fall Home-coming.

All the colleges of Michigan have been invited to send cross-country teams here and it is probable that the University will be represented by both a varsity and an all-fresh team. A perpetual trophy cup is up for first place and individual winners will be given gold, silver and bronze medals. Try-outs for the M. A. C. team will take place Nov. 11.

Coach Gauthier has announced that for the football game an alumni section will be reserved and alumni can reserve seats by sending direct to the athletic office. Popular prices for the game have also been announced. For the center of the field between the 25-yard lines seats will be $1.50. From the 25-yard lines to the end of the field reserved seats will be $1.25. General admission will be $1.00. Box seats will be $2.00 each. Checks for tickets should be made payable to the M. A. C. Athletic Association.

The game is expected to tax the capacity of College Field to the limit. And not only will seating and standing accommodations be taxed but the Notre Dame aggregation itself is expected to battle to the finish. The Hoosiers have the best team in their history and everybody believes that the game will be harder than the Michigan game.

Barring injuries between now and then, M. A. C. will be much stronger than at Ann Arbor. Straight had a shoulder at that time which he had to favor and Butler was not up to form in rushing and kicking. With the forward passing department braced up and better interference worked out, the Green and White will give an accounting.

WITH IMPROVED FOOTBALL M. A. C. BEATS NORTH DAKOTA 30 TO 0.

HUEBEL DEVELOPS AS DROP-KICKER.

With much improved work in forward passing and some improvement in blocking and interference over these features as evidenced in the Michigan game, the Michigan Aggies defeated the North Dakota Aggies on College Field Saturday, 30 to 0.

Except for a brief spell at the opening of the game when the westerners uncorked a powerful attack reminiscent of that of the Oregon Aggies last year, North Dakota was not within striking distance. And in this advance they were only able to reach M. A. C.'s 40-yard line. At this point Sommer's men stiffened up and the opponents could not gain. Barchus of North Dakota tried for a drop kick from the 45-yard line but the ball hit the cross bar and bounded back.

Aside from M. A. C.'s impregnable line, which stood in such good stead in the Michigan game, and superior forward passing tactics, one particular bright spot in the game was the drop kick by Huebel. While this may not prove that "Hub" is a veteran drop kicker it gives the Aggie fans much to hope for, for M. A. C. has not had one such in many years and they are beginning to believe that a drop-kicker is a mighty important addition to a varsity crew.

Individual honors in the game go to Jacks and Turner, the former for his line smashes which could not be stopped, and the latter for his accurate judgment in receiving forward passes. While at end, having been substituted for Capt. Henning, Turner took no less than four passes out of the air for a total gain of 70 yards. In addition to this he was very effective in around-end plays.

The first count for M. A. C. came in the second quarter and was the result of a 25-yard pass, Huebel to Henning, after which Blacklock took the ball over for the remaining five yards. Soon after Huebel and Henning worked the same play for 40 yards, following which Huebel registered his drop kick.

The second touchdown was made in the third quarter by Jacks after two forward passes had advanced the ball to striking distance. The M. A. C. boys came back in the final quarter stronger than ever. After steady gains down the field Blacklock went over for a touchdown. Turner afterwards made a 15-yard run around left end which was responsible for the last touchdown.

The summary:

M. A. C.	N. Dak. Aggies.
Ramsey	L. E. Underwood
Straight	L. T. Peterson
Coryell	L. G. Shinn
Frimodig	C. Nemzek
Vandervoort ..	R. G. Ross
Blacklock	R. T. Bjornson
Henning	R. E. Gazette
Huebel	Q. B. Keely
Jacks	L. H. Movald
Butler	F. B. Barchus
McClellan	R. H. Kelly

Field goal—Huebel. Touchdowns—Blacklock, 2, Jacks, Turner. Goals from touchdown—Huebel, 2 in 3; Butler, one in one.

Substitutions—M. A. C.: Archer for Frimodig, Springer for Butler, Butler for Springer, Turner for Henning, Brown for Butler, Oas for Ramsey, Frimodig for Archer, Ramsey for Oas, Ode for Straight, Baker for McClellan.

lan, Chapel for Vandervoort, Thompson for Ramsey, Miller for Blacklock. North Dakota, Loyland for Ross, Elliot for Gazette, Gazette for Underwood, Hanson for Keely, McClune for Loyland.

Referee—Hoagland, Princeton. Umpire—Pelham, Michigan. Head linesman—Cox, O. S. U. Time of quarters, 15 minutes.

M. A. C. ALL-FRESH DEFEAT MICHIGAN ALL-FRESH 13-7.

Saturday was a banner football day for M. A. C., for, in addition to the varsity defeat of North Dakota, the M. A. C. all-fresh took revenge on the University of Michigan by defeating the U. of M. all-fresh, 13 to 7. Notwithstanding the fact that it was a fluke victory won by intercepting a forward pass and a 60-yard run for a touchdown at the last moment of play, the game does give much satisfaction since it can be taken as a prediction that the University of Michigan will not "have anything on" M. A. C. in the annual contest next fall. The varsity teams of both colleges will be made up of men now in school and M. A. C. will be able to hold her head well above water.

For the first two quarters the battle was an even one, though M. A. C. scored in the second quarter on three straight first downs and a fortunate recovery of a fumble on Michigan's one-yard line. Weckler took the ball over. The play, however, was a costly one, O'Connor, M. A. C.'s star quarterback, being taken out on account of an injury. Barnard, another star backfield man for M. A. C., was soon after ruled out for rough playing.

With M. A. C.'s weakened backfield Michigan was able to gain consistently in the third quarter. They made seven first downs and Quarterback Hitchcock went across for a touchdown. He afterward kicked goal, making the score seven to six. M. A. C.'s other touchdown was secured by Allan who substituted for Walton at left tackle. Michigan attempted a forward pass in the last minute of play. Allan caught it and ran the length of the field for the touchdown, after which Kellogg, substituting for Barnard, kicked goal.

Word has been received that the M. A. C. boys on the border received the M. A. C.-Michigan game over a private wire at the El Paso University Club.

Ring W. Lardner, that king of sport reporters, explains why some western coaches have deemed it necessary to do away with numbering their players this fall, in the following manner: "We presume the reason is that it was thought of out here before it was thought of in the east, and is therefore a ridiculous system."

NEWS AND COMMENT

The Union Lits held a 10 o'clock last Friday evening, Mrs. Peppard and Prof. and Mrs. Gunson acting as patrons.

Murray Gardner of Lansing, a brother of Max Gardner, '12a, has been elected president of the freshman class at M. A. C.

This week the M. A. C. varsity crew of about 25 men journeys to Vermillion, S. Dak., where they will play the U. of S. Dak. The all-fresh will play Kalamazoo Normal at Kalamazoo.

Last Tuesday afternoon the entire M. A. C. student body gave vent to their appreciation and support of the M. A. C. football team by appearing on the football field and holding an enthusiastic mass meeting.

The first number of the Liberal Arts course, Sir Douglas Mawson's Bird, Animal and Travel Pictures, with an accompanying lecture by N. B. Thompson of New York City, was given in the Armory last Tuesday night and was very well received.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Blaisdell, formerly of M. A. C. and now at State College, Pa., were entertained at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Ryder last week end. They were en route to Alma to attend the inauguration of Alma's new president, Dr. Blaisdell's successor.

For the annual barbecue, which was held last Friday evening, the following articles of food were ordered by the sophomores: 1,400 pounds of beef, 5,000 buns, and 400 gallons of cider. That everything disappeared is proof that the occasion was well attended. H. M. King presided at the speaking and responses were made by President Kedzie, Coach Sommer, Prof. French and "Chappie" (Wm. Carl). During the proceedings the knife was handed down by the sophomores to the freshmen and this signalized the burying of the hatchet between the two classes. Music was furnished by the College band.

The most recent news from the grid-iron discloses the fact that Butler is out of the game, probably for the rest of the season. Puffed ankles, a charlie horse, bad knee, and several other injuries are contributing factors. As a result of this Blacklock will be brought back to the fullback position. Coryell, who has shown his worth as a varsity lineman in the last two games, will be shifted to tackle and Ode will go in for Coryell at the guard position. It is not expected that this will materially decrease M. A. C.'s scoring ability. In fact many believe that Blacklock will give a good account of himself in the fullback position. It all depends on the line.

ALUMNI NOTES

C. C. Georgeson, in charge of Alaska agricultural experiment stations, with headquarters at Sitka, writes President Kedzie as follows: "On my return from a protracted trip to the interior of Alaska, I find on my desk your catalog of officers and graduates, 1857-1916. I want to thank you for sending it to me, and to express my appreciation of it. I have spent several hours in pleasant reminiscent thoughts over it. I knew practically every man in the classes from '75 to '81 inclusive. Their names recall their faces, personalities, and often events connected with them, and with the College. It is also pleasant to note the important positions that many of them occupy, and the influence they are asserting in the world of affairs. I want also to thank you again for the honor the college conferred on me. I owe it all to you. And to show you that some of my contemporaries do not think the honor was misplaced, I enclose a letter on the subject from Dr. E. W. Allen, who has had excellent opportunity to judge of my work. It may interest you to know what he thinks. My work here grows in interest and importance year by year."

'85.

T. D. Hinebaugh has asked that his Record be sent to 743 Daisy Ave., Long Beach, Cal., instead of Tower City, North Dakota.

'91.

Stanley L. Otis, 87-88, is now secretary of the Hughes National College League, which has its headquarters at 511 Fifth Ave., New York.

'93.

Gage Christopher, with, who has been such a great success as vocalist and voice instructor in Chicago for several years, has recently moved to a larger field in Los Angeles, California. He has already been engaged for a large amount of solo work and will continue private teaching as well as conduct a series of conservatory lessons. A splendid likeness of Christopher appears on the cover of the October number of Pacific Coast Musician.

'03.

"The arrival of the Record reminded me that you are still looking for my dollar. So I am sending it along. You might add to my pedigree in the catalogue of officers and graduates—"M. S. (Univ. of Cal.) 1911." I attended the Graduate School at Amherst this summer and had a number of delightful talks with Dr. Beal. He couldn't refrain from telling me to "keep on squinting." I got a bad infection of the "Book Bug," since coming to Maine, from which I am just now convalescing. Have just received a copy of my second attempt from the publisher and after looking it over have decided that I am going to recover all right."

B. S. BROWN,
(Dept. of Horticulture Univ. of Maine, Orono, Maine.)

George Cover, with, is working for the Oakland Agency in Pasadena, Calif.

'13.

A. H. Hendrickson, a, who is with the division of pomology, U. of Cal., is now located at Berkeley. He writes, "This is our second year of American football at California and we are just getting a few glimpses of what the real game is like. Last year their passing and interference was poor, but we expect to have a winner this year."

Lodie R. Smith, h, is at Falls Creek, Pa., again this year as supervisor of home making in the Washington Township Vocational School.

Harriet Gardner, h, is teaching home economics in the State Normal School at Valley City, N. D. She writes that she expects to hear from other members of '13 through the Record.

J. P. DePagter, f. is at M. A. C. this year taking work in horticulture. He believes there is a great future in the commercial nursery work and expects now to return to Yankton, South Dakota, where he was last year with the Gurney Seed and Nursery Co.

AMES, IOWA.

"In looking over the alumni notes in the Record, I notice that very few of the 1915 class are writing in. I would like to hear more of them through this column and besides we should begin to talk up our reunion in 1917. It is our first one and everyone should try and get back if possible. Let's make it the best ever. I cannot get to the Michigan-M. A. C. game, but expect to get back to the reunion. I am with the Farm Crops Department here as teaching fellow. There are a few other M. A. C. people here, among them is O. F. Jensen, '14, who is assistant in Crop Production and F. A. Hagedorn, '16, who is doing graduate work in Dairying.

H. W. HULBERT, '16.

Helen Pratt, h. will spend the winter with her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Pratt, at So. Pasadena, Calif.

MADAME, That Indispensable Tailored Suit or Coat for Fall:

Knowing how little really good tailoring there is to be had, we have always been careful in choosing our tailored garments.

Just in this regard, we wish you would inspect the Suits and Coats we offer this fall.

When looking at them, note, for example, that the lining of every garment is built separately and then fitted into its garment, with interlining at chest and back—preserving the smart appearance of the garment as long as it is worn.

You will see here a larger choice than you might expect to find in any other store.
