THE M. A. C. RECORD

VOL. XXII.

EAST LANSING, MICHIGAN, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1916.

NO. 8

WASHINGTON ALUMNI SEND INVITATION FOR NOV. 16.

Dear Record:

We have postponed announcing a get-together during the week, Nov. 13 to 19, in order to see what night would offer the fewest counter attractions. It's hard picking, but we decided on Thursday night, Nov. 16. So kindly announce that on that evening all M. A. C.-ites within a radius of 2,500 miles of Washington are called upon to join the colors at the Ebbitt House at 6:30 p. m. Classes of 1861 to 1920, inclusive, are ordered out irrespective of age, sex, health, disposition or condition of pocketbook. Failure to attend is very apt to incur Royal displeasure. Probably more famous alumni will be present than ever before were assembled under one tent, and with this galaxy of stars there is bound to be some time. Tell President Kedzie that if he will come we will have the alumni confirm his election to office.

G. V. Branch, '12.

[The Editor wishes that this could have been printed last week, but the mails didn't carry it fast enough, so we're using it this week—for its literary value (?)]

MANY M. A. C. MEN IN WASHINGTON THIS WEEK.

M. A. C. alumni and professors have a very prominent part in the programs of the various national associations which have their meeting in Washington, D. C., this week. Among these associations are: Land Grant College Engineering Association, of which Dean G. W. Bissell is president; American Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations of which Chas. E. Thorne, '67-'68, director of the Ohio Experiment Station, is president; Official Potato Association of America; County Agent Leaders; Teachers of Home Economics in Land Grant Colleges; Society of Agronomy; Feed Control Officials; Association of Official Agricultural Chemists; Society for Promotion of Agricultural Science.

Dean R. S. Shaw is secretary of the Experiment Station section of the A. A. C. and E. S., and as such is responsible for the program at this meeting. F. B. Mumford, '91, dean of agriculture at the University of Missouri, is a member of the committee on Graduate Study and also of the executive committee on Projects and Correlation of Research with U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Dean Eugene Davenport, '78, of Illinois, is a member of the committee on Experiment Station Organization and Policy. President Kenyon L. Butterfield, '91, of Amherst, is a member of the committee on College Organization and Policy, and also the Special Committee on Agricultural Terminology. Prof. W. D. Hurd, '99, of Amherst, is a member of the committee on Extension Organization and Policy.

At the meeting of the Extension Section of the A. A. C. and E. S., R. J. Baldwin, '04, director of Extension at M. A. C., has a paper on Home Economics in Its Relation to Rural Engineering and Architecture. C. B. Smith, '94, chief of the U. S. Office Extension, North and West, is to give a discussion of The Advisability and Necessity of National Conference on Extension Projects.

At the Experiment Station section meeting, Dean E. A. Burnett, '87, of Nebraska, discusses the subject, Shaping Results of Experiment Station Work for Extension Uses. The Employment of Research Assistants Who May Register As Graduate Assistants at the College is discussed by F. B. Mumford, '91. At the meeting of the National Potato Association, C. W. Waid, extension specialist on potatoes at M. A. C., presents A Proposed Plan for Reorganizing the National Potato Association.

At the meeting of the Society for the Promotion of Agricultural Science, Dr. W. J. Beal of Amherst talks on Improving Grasses by Selection; S. M. Tracy, '68, of Biloxi, Miss., presents Varying Effects of Salt on Different Plant Families, and W. D. Hurd, '99, of Amherst, speaks of Boys' and Girls' Club Work in Relation to Agricultural Education.

Dean G. W. Bissell is scheduled for a discussion of the subject, Proposed Legislation to Establish Engineering Experiment Stations, at the meeting of the Land Grant Engineering Association.

In addition to the above named the following will be present from the college: Dean Georgia White, President F. S. Kedzie, Prof. W. H. French, Dr. Eben Mumford, C. B. Cook, Dr. M. M. McCool, V. M. Shoemith and Prof. A. J. Clark.

ROSE COLEMAN, '16, AND R. S. CLARK, '18, WINS ADDITIONAL HONORS.

Word has just been received from The Stratford Company of Boston that poems, written by Miss Rose Coleman, '16h, and R. S. Clark, '18e, have been selected for publication in the Anthology which this company is getting out and which will contain the best poems written by American University students the past academic year. The introduction to this book will be written by William Stanley Braithwaite, author of the Lyric Year, and poetry editor of The Boston Transcript.

The poems selected from M. A. C. are "Johnny Raves on Springtime Joys," by Clark, and "Rime to the Chicken Fry," by Miss Coleman.

It will be remembered that Clark won the Eunomian Prize contest this last year with his poem, "Ryme of the Plowman," which appeared in the Summer School number of the Record. Miss Coleman won this contest a year ago with a poem, "The Gypsy," and she also wrote the prize song at M. A. C. last year, "The Seasons at M. A. C.," which was published in the Commencement number of the Record.

There is an interesting story in connection with Miss Coleman's poem. When Clark's poem, "Rime of the Plowman," was published in the Holcad last spring, it was signed, "R. S. C." A good many of Miss Coleman's friends, knowing of her poetic ability, attributed this poem to her, and congratulations were so profuse that it "got on her nerves." She then resolved to "get even," and "Rime to the Chicken Fry" is the result.

The Eclectic society is going to help make the Alumni Homecoming a success by entertaining their alumni at the house after the game. All alumni planning to return are requested to notify the secretary of the society.

LANSING ALUMNI.

We sincerely hope that Lansing alumni, and others nearby, will avail themselves of the splendid opportunity which the luncheon affords this week Saturday of meeting a large number of college friends. You turned out in large numbers at the luncheon held last June previous to the Cap night celebration, and we are sure you enjoyed yourself. We promise to give you a still better time Saturday, and a still more interesting attraction after the luncheon.

LANSING AND EAST LANSING UNITED.

Not really, but virtually so. For the cement road which has been under process of construction for some time is now completed between the Harrison road, which touches Michigan Avenue at the White Elephant site, and the Split Rock, which now marks the eastern boundary of Lansing.

The city of Lansing is now extending the road to meet the old pavement, and the city of East Lansing has voted to pave east to the point where the street car track bends north on the Pine Lake track. The latter work will not be done, however, until next year.

This road was very largely made possible by the generosity of W. K. Prudden, '78, who offered to contribute $10,000 if the property owners along the road would pledge the remaining small amount. The College authorities believe that in this gift Mr. Prudden has contributed greatly to the well being of M. A. C. for the road between the two cities was getting into such poor condition as to reflect harmfully upon the educational institution nearby.

The Union Literary society will hold "Open-House" after the game this week.

Since there was no attraction in the way of a football game Saturday, the M. A. C. Union held a party in the Armory from 2:30 to 5 p. m.

ENGLISH INSTRUCTOR ELECTED PROSECUTING ATTORNEY IN OHIO.

A telegram was received by A. S. Burket, instructor in public speaking at M. A. C., last Tuesday morning, notifying him of his election to the position of prosecuting attorney of Vinton county Ohio. Burket is a Republican and the telegram said that he had 100 majority. This was exceedingly gratifying, since the announcement also said that the rest of the Democratic ticket was 100 in the lead of the Republican.

This leaves Burket in a quandry. If he takes the position he will have to resign, and he had decided to give up law work for the present. If he lets the county officials fill the vacancy they will put in a Democrat. Hence he is inclined to accept the position and appoint an assistant to carry on the work in Ohio.

QUESTION FOR TRI-STATE DEBATE SELECTED AT M. A. C.

For the fourth time in the history of the Tri-State debate the question finally chosen is the one submitted by Prof. C. B. Mitchell of the English department at M. A. C. This year M. A. C. selected a question, but voted for the one submitted by Ames. Then word was received from Purdue that they wanted the M. A. C. question and did not want the one proposed by Ames. This led the M. A. C. English department to reconsider, with the result that the following question is the one to be used in the debate which occurs some time in March: Resolved, that the United States Should Provide by Federal Enactment for Compulsory Arbitration of all Disputes Between Capital and Labor Involving Public Utilities.

East Lansing gave Hughes 182 votes, Wilson 183. Now there are something like 183 people who claim they cast the deciding vote. It may be mentioned incidentally in this connection that the registration of voters in the college town was 20 per cent larger than ever before. This gives some idea of the growth recently.

Public society initiations have been the feature of student life the past week. While they smack somewhat of high school "doin's," it cannot be denied that they are occasionally humorous. In the freshman chemistry class one initiate, who had most of his outer garments on wrong side to, was being quizzed by Dr. Kedzie. The verdant one wasn't getting along very well and "Uncle Frank," with his never failing humor, said, "Well, you seem to show a reversal of form today."

EXTENSION DIVISION GETS RESULTS WITH JUNIOR POTATO CLUBS.

That the Extension division at M. A. C. is getting results in its boys' and girls' potato club work is evidenced by the showing made by the sixty-eight club members who exhibited at the State Show held at Escanaba, Nov. 1 to 3. Thirteen counties were represented by exhibits, with Marquette county taking first place. In general the club members of the Upper Peninsula made a better showing than those in the lower section of the state. This was due to the more favorable weather conditions north of the straits.

The state champion potato grower is Verner Felt. He secured a yield of 402.6 bushels per acre, his profit on an acre was $503.30; the story of his experience in raising the potatoes scored 80, and on quality his tubers scored 90.

Following is the list of the ten club members who made the best yields on standard-size club plats:

First—Verner Felt, National Mine, Marquette county, 402.6 bushels per acre.

Second—Matie Franz, Loretto, Dickinson county, 332 bushels per acre.

Third—Clyde Mantta, Tapiola, Houghton county, 301 bushels per acre.

Fourth—Richard Grangood, Tapiola, Houghton county, 286.6 bushels per acre.

Fifth—Cleo Farm, National Mine, Marquette County, 277.1 bushels per acre.

Sixth—Bernard Nelson, National mine, Marquette county, 270.9 bushels per acre.

Seventh—Weikko Lukkarinen, Palmer, Marquette county, 258 bushels per acre.

Eighth—Howard LaFrance, Hersey, Osceola county, 252 bushels per acre.

Ninth—William Skog, Metropolitan, Dickinson county, 250 bushels per acre.

Tenth—Joseph Dziedzie, Loretto, Dickinson county, 240 bushels per acre.

The average yield per acre for the ten highest is 287.02 bushels.

The profit per acre was ascertained in each case. In order to make conditions equal for all members an arbitrary scale of prices was adopted. According to this scale all market potatoes were computed at $1.25 per bushel; all cull potatoes at 30 cents per bushel, and all seed potatoes at $2 per bushel. On this basis the profits per acre for the ten highest are as follows:

First—Verner Felt, National Mine, Marquette county, $503.30.

Second—Frank VanElsacker, Northland, Marquette county, $372.14.

Third—Richard Grangood, Tapiola, Houghton county, $361.40.

Fourth—Bernard Nelson, National Mine, Marquette county, $276.27.

Fifth—William Skog, Metropolitan, Dickinson county, $251.84.

Sixth—Howard LaFrance, Hersey, Osceola county, $241.10.

Seventh—Julia Isaacson, Metropolitan, Dickinson county, $233.76.

Eighth—Irene Parent, Loretto, Dickinson county, $231.12.

Ninth—Matie Franz, Loretto, Dickinson county, $220.96.

Tenth—Kenneth Stevens, Northland, Marquette county, $207.74.

The average profit per member for the ten highest was $289.96 per acre.

RIME TO THE CHICKEN FRY.

It's some folks joy to mix and stir
And bake a fancy cake,
And pile it up with frostin'
Till its hull foundations shake;
And some will bile a batch of fudge
And take a keen delight
In addin' nuts, and beatin' hard,
And squarin' off jest right—
Then let 'em choke themselves on sweets—
But me—I heave a sigh
To stand around that old cook stove
And smell a chicken fry.

I like to tie my apern on,
All checked and starched and stiff,
And chuck the stove plum full of wood,
And fling the skillet—biff!
Then add a hull great heap of fat—
Of lard and butter mixed,
And season up that chicken's joints
Until they're nicely fixed,
Then lay 'em neatly side by side
When the grease goes sizzlin' high,
Then stand around that old cook stove
And smell that chicken fry.

Then when one side is rightly browned
I take the fork—jest so—
And turn that chicken over
The way it ought to go—
Then let it brown and brown again
Till it can brown no more,
Then shove the skillet towards the back
Where it can simmer slower—
'Tis then I leave behind me
All the theories of Dom. Sci.,
When I stand around that old cook stove
And smell that chicken fry.

Yes, some folks think a salad
Is the only thing to eat
And some insists that turkey stuffed
Is very hard to beat,
And others go to heaven
On a mould of puddin' light,
While a fat, rich pie to many
Is a vision of delight;
But me—I'm jest a sayin'
That I think of joy I'd die,
To stand around that old cook stove
And smell that chicken fry.

Large Attendance Expected for Homecoming and Many Interesting Events Scheduled.

ALUMNI REGISTER AT COLLEGE BOOK-STORE BUILDING.

The schedule of events which the alumni will be interested in for the Annual Fall Homecoming this week end is as follows:

Student Mass Meeting in the Armory, Friday night.

Annual Michigan Intercollegiate Cross-Country, Saturday, 10 a. m.

Alumni Registration at New Headquarters, Bookstore Building, Saturday, 8 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Alumni Luncheon under auspices of the M. A. C. Union, Club D, Wells Hall, Saturday at noon.

M. A. C.—Notre Dame Game, College Field, 2 p. m.

Literary Societies At-Home, Saturday evening.

According to calls for tickets which are pouring into the M. A. C. Athletic Association, this week Saturday will see one of the largest crowds of alumni on the campus that M. A. C. ever experienced. A large number have signified their intention of being on hand for the noon luncheon which will be held at Club D, Wells Hall, under the auspices of the M. A. C. Union, and many of these will get in in time for the Intercollegiate Cross-Country run scheduled for 10 a. m.

Alumni should note that the alumni headquarters has been changed from the Forestry Building to that known as the Bookstore Building or Waiting Room. Here the alumni should register as soon as they get off the car. Luggage can be left here in perfect safety and tickets for the noon luncheon can be obtained.

The Union Literary society has very kindly opened its home for the convenience of alumni in assembling for the luncheon. After the luncheon the crowd will march to College Field in a body to see (every one hopes) M. A. C. duplicate that 17 to 0 score passed out to Notre Dame the last time the two schools met in 1910. Many of the literary societies are planning special entertainment for their society members Saturday evening.

AGGIES HAVE STRONG INDIVIDUALS--WILL BE IN TOP FORM SATURDAY.

That the Aggie football squad is composed of as strong individuals as ever donned a uniform for the green and white is easily conceded by any one who has followed the work of the players this year. The coaches say that with more emphasis upon harmony of motion and a little of the old-time punch in the pinches M. A. C. will have a team that will just "rip things up" Saturday and be going in top form.

And whatever may be said about the Aggie eleven it cannot be said this year that they've reached the pinnacle and slumped. "There hain't no such animal." Confidence in the camp over the outcome of the Notre Dame game rests on the belief that this last week will see a rounding into form theoretically possible only at the end of the season.

There is some exceedingly good ground for this confidence. Blacklock will be back in the line. This isn't so much a result of his showing at South Dakota as the fact that Charlie Butler will be back at fullback. The injuries which seem to have been troubling him more or less all the season now appear to be on the run. With Butler going good, and barring injuries to Jacks and Huebel, M. A. C. will have a strong offensive.

The line is all that could be hoped for. Coach Gauthier says it will stand the punching of any backfield in the country. "Notre Dame is strong on forward passing and around-end plays, and this is just what we have been giving most attention to the past two weeks. Stop them? Why, we're going into the game to win and with this one idea characterizing Aggie playing you see a fight to the finish."

Considerably more is at stake than winning from Notre Dame. If the boys do secure a favorable decision the season will be counted a success, but if on the other hand—but the game Saturday is going to be a winner!

M. A. C. freshmen will debate with Hillsdale College, Dec. 15. As an incentive for a large number of tryouts three credits will be given the freshmen who make the team.

NEWS AND COMMENT

The Alpha Psi, the honorary veterinary fraternity at M. A. C., initiated the following recently: Faculty, Dr. Ward Giltner and Dr. F. W. Chamberlain; students, F. E. Kunze, '18, of East Tawas; D. C. Beaver, W. C. Heustis, '18, Flint; O. O. Mater, '18, Nashville; H. A. Weckler, '18, South Haven.

The White Elephant is no more, except in memory. Its bricks are being used in the buildings now under construction. Over its site runs the road leading to the fine bridge across the Red Cedar at this point. This latter is somewhat ethereal, being only part of the plans which Prof. Halligan has drawn up to show how this athletic entrance will look when completed, with the landscape gardening which will be used in conjunction to make it attractive.

At a meeting of the M. A. C. faculty last week solid geometry was stricken out of the list of subjects from which entrance credits must be selected for matriculation. With this exception, however, that those who expect to take the engineering course must have had solid geometry. The faculty passed a resolution thanking J. W. Beaumont, '82, of Detroit, for the interest in the curriculum shown by the establishment of the George E. Lawson Memorial prize. Favorable action was also taken on the request of the junior and senior horticultural students to attend the state horticultural meeting at Grand Rapids, Dec. 5.

ALUMNI NOTES

'93.

W. L. Harvey, a secretary and treasurer of the New Prague Milling Co., was declared to be the "whole works" of that company in New Prague, Minn., by L. S. Storms, ex-'13, Michigan representative, who visited M. A. C. last week.

Dear Record: Please find enclosed $2 as pay for your welcome and cheery presence. I was with '93 and surely enjoy all of the news of my classmates' whereabouts and doings. Several M. A. C. grads are here and we expect to start a club in the near future. We yelled strenuously for the football team, but were defeated. Having roomed with Dr. Cook's family and received much extra kindness other than the privilege of his magnificent classroom work, I feel extremely sad at the passing of such a grand and useful soul away from our midst. After leaving M. A. C. I have studied at the State Normal College, U. of M. and with Mrs. Treat of Grand Rapids. I taught kindergarten in the public schools of Stockbridge for eight years and am on my sixth year in Ann Arbor as private kindergarten teacher. Have also conducted a Sunday kindergarten for your children who are entrusted to my care during the church services at the First M. E. church. Have enrolled 135 children and have five teachers, a pianist and singer. Also conduct mother classes and lecture on child psychology in Ann Arbor and surrounding cities. So have used my training almost continuously. Such teachers as Dr. Edwards, Dr. Kedzie, Dr. Cook, Dr. Beal and others have influenced and inspired my life for the efforts I am succeeding in if success is mine. Do you know the whereabouts of Marie Sterly with '93?

Very sincerely,

Mrs. Cora D. (Stocking) Palmer,
1345 Geddes Ave., Ann Arbor, Mich.

'03.

Edna V. Smith, h, is now assistant in home economics extension at M. A. C., under Paulina Raven, '05.

'04.

O. K. White, a, was a college visitor last week. He now lives one mile north of DeWitt where he has bought a fine farm.

'05.

Lillian M. Taft, h, has resigned her position as dietitian in the Homeopathic Hospital at Ann Arbor, and is now at home in East Lansing. Last Saturday afternoon Mrs. L. R. Taft gave a party in her honor at which time her engagement to Dr. Henry Morton Sage of Columbus, Ohio, was announced. The wedding will take place late in December.

Ray A. Small, e, steam engineer for the Smet-Solvay Co., of Syracuse, N. Y., visited the college last Tuesday. While in Michigan he attended the wedding of Ray B. Delvin, '12, and Miss Grace Atkins at Howell.

'10.

After much coaxing E. P. Bushnell, f, who is in the U. S. Forest Service at Johnson City, Tenn., "comes across" with a subscription. He says, "You win, and I shall be glad to get the paper for the rest of my life."

'11.

A daughter, Florence Mabel, was born Oct. 18 to Mr. and Mrs. Edwy B. Reid, 3110 19th St., Washington, D. C.

George Brault, f, is with the National Lumber and Mfg. Co., at Hoquiam, Wash. They operate a saw mill that cuts 300,000 feet per day, have five dry kilns, two of which are late patterns by Grand Rapids Dry Kiln Co., nine planers and stickers, and a large box factory. They do both car and cargo shipping. Brault has charge of the storeroom, through which department all supplies and equipment have to pass. "Frenchie" asks the editor "Do they still have a Club D on the campus." I often think of it and the waiters. Then I wonder if "Tilly" still likes bananas for breakfast."

'12.

Ray Birn Delyin, e, and Miss Grace Bennett Atkin of Howell were married at the home of the bride's parents, Tuesday, Nov. 7. After Jan. 15 they will be at home at 102 Maplewood Ave., Detroit. Delyin is with the Edison Illuminating Co. in that city.

Edwin Smith, a, stopped at M. A. C. last Wednesday on his way to Corona, Calif., where he will take up the management of an 80-acre lemon ranch. Since graduation Smith has been working in Canada, two years in the horticultural districts of British Columbia and two years in Ontario for the Dominion Government. His work has been along refrigeration and pre-cooling lines, his problem being that of getting fruit from the fruit districts of Canada into the prairie districts in such condition as to compete favorably with American fruit. He gave a most interesting account of his experiences in Canada at the meeting of the Hort Club Wednesday night. He also called attention to the part Canada is playing in the present war. It appeared to him that the people of the United States were wonderfully complacent in view of the tremendous sacrifice Canadians are making towards the very ends this country has seemed primarily to stand for.

A. C. Paulson, e, is assistant master mechanic with the Champion Copper Co. at Painesdale, Mich., a little mining town about 25 miles from Calumet. He writes to the Record, "I might add as a tip to any young engineer who might be looking for a good place to get a varied experience that he get into the mechanical end of the mining game. It can't be beat as far as accomplishing that end is concerned, and incidentally is quite remunerative at the same time. Last but not least, here's hoping we can tie the can onto Old Michigan again."

"It pays to advertise. The last issue before summer vacation I made known my whereabouts and invited M. A. C. people who happened to be passing along the Dixie Highway to stop and visit. Lee Hutchins, '13, was the first to visit and we surely had lots to talk about. Incidentally I had a chance to see Hutchins at work and unless I am sadly mistaken, we will hear big things of him some of these days. Just a little later R. E. Decker, '15, appeared. He was on his way to spend a few days with Sen. Thomas Taggart at French Lick Springs, but I finally persuaded him to stop with me. Yes, indeed, quite a nice time. I see Staples of '14 quite frequently. He is behaving nicely. Recently re-elected county agricultural agent of Orange county, in which capacity I will serve until September 1, 1917. I am enclosing the little pink slip." R. M. Roland, Paoli, Ind.

"Quite a number of M. A. C. men are employed by the Detroit Board of Health in the milk inspection department. Gillette and I started work early in July, and are kept busy spreading the doctrines of cleanliness, cooling and equipment to farmers sending milk to Detroit. Waffle, '15, and Fabian, a recent graduate, started in the same work a few weeks ago. George Petrie, a former student at M. A. C., is another inspector. He has been doing the work for several years. Fred O. (Speed) Adams is in the milk laboratory of the board of health. He was transferred to the laboratory from the farm inspection force early in the summer. He was graduated in '15. Clippert, a former M. A. C. student, is also in the laboratory. All of our work is under Clinton Chilson, '12, chief milk inspector. Dr. McIntyre, who finished the "Vet." course in East Lansing, is another inspector." Howard E. Cowles, 210 Lincoln Ave.

MADAME, That Indispensable Tailored Suit or Coat for Fall:

Knowing how little really good tailoring there is to be had, we have always been careful in choosing our tailored garments.

Just in this regard, we wish you would inspect the Suits and Coats we offer this fall.

When looking at them, note, for example, that the lining of every garment is built separately and then fitted into its garment, with interlining at chest and back—preserving the smart appearance of the garment as long as it is worn.

You will see here a larger choice than you might expect to find in any other store.
