NEW BARRACK BUILDING.

Plans are now being made for a barrack building to house 250 men of the training detachment. The building of a barracks has been made necessary because of the demolishment of College Hall, which, when rebuilt, was to have furnished quarters for detachment soldiers.

The new barracks will be situated southeast of the drill grounds, between the Armory and Gymnasium. It is probable that it will be constructed after the plan of the Camp Custer barrack buildings. Contract for the building has not been let, but the structure may be purchased ready built and set up in sections. Every effort will be made to have the building completed in time for the third detachment due here September 15.

ST. JOSEPH COUNTY ASS'N PICNIC.

The third annual picnic of the St. Joseph County M. A. C. Association was held at Sand Lake Thursday, August 15. Dean Shaw and 75 others were present. The Dean gave a very interesting address. Among the other speakers were Mr. Wilcox of New London, Conn.; J. M. Wendt, Ella Yaney of Alabama, Mr. Ford Corney, Y. M. C. A. leader; Miss L. Jones, Mr. Alex Sharp and James Yaney, two old picnickers, and T. S. Major, '92, of New York city. It was a most enjoyable meeting. Officers elected: W. T. Langley, '82, president, and Sam C. Hagenbuch, '10, secretary.

MRS. PEPPARD GOES TO RHODE ISLAND.

Mrs. Lillian L. Peppard, professor of Domestic Art, and who has been a member of the college staff since 1908, has resigned to become professor of Domestic Art and head of the department at Rhode Island State College at Kingston, Rhode Island. Mrs. Peppard will be associated with Miss Bessie Beamis, '05, who is head of the Domestic Science department there. On accepting Mrs. Peppard's resignation the State Board of Agriculture mentioned the long, faithful and efficient service which Mrs. Peppard had rendered the College during her time here. Her son, David Peppard, '17, is in training at Harvard Radio school, to become a radio electrician in the Navy.

FACULTY MEN ENTERING WAR WORK.

Four members of the faculty have left during the summer to enter war service. Athletic Director Brewer has taken up work with the commission of training camp activities with which he served previous to coming to M. A. C. last fall and during the summer has been stationed at Camp Sherman, Ohio, as director of athletics. It is expected that he will continue the army athletic work for the next year, on leave granted from the college, but it is possible that he may return for a short time during football season.

Y. M. C. A. Secretary Don C. Heffley has applied for overseas Y. M. C. A. work and is now waiting call at his home in Michigan City, Indiana.

Professor R. C. Huston, associate professor of chemistry, received a commission as captain in the Sanitary Corps and left East Lansing the middle of August to report at the Rockefeller Institute in New York City, where he will be assigned to gas defense work in the chemical division.

Professor Cox has been granted leave for war work and is now in Washington, D. C., where he expects to enter the airplane production division of the army. A captain's commission goes with the position which he is taking.

THE COLLEGE TO BECOME TRAIN-ING CAMP.

That M. A. C. will take on greater military airs this fall than the school has ever known before is certain from the selection of the College for the establishment of a unit of the Students' Army Training Corps. This corps is being placed in a number of colleges over the country in order that students may be securing an intensive military training, along with college work.

Early in July, plans for the students' corps were formulated by the War Department, and M. A. C. was among the first schools to be selected.

In preparation for undertaking the new military work which is to be on a much more intensive basis this fall, Assistant Coach Gauthier, Professors McCool, Corey and Cade, together with some twenty-five of the best of last year's freshman and sophomore R. O. T. C. men, have been in training at Fort Sheridan to fit themselves for military instructors to assist the commandant. The Fort Sheridan camp for student instructors began July 15, and covers two months. President Kedzie and Major Wrightson attended a conference at Fort Sheridan the last week in August at which plans for instituting the S. A. T. C. were laid out and discussed.

Students entering college enlist in the Students' Army Corps and are given a deferred draft classification. Ten hours a week of drill are required, students are paid thirty dollars a month and provided with uniform, subsistence and quarters, and the daily life on the campus will be that of the soldier.

The organizing of a students' corps should in a large measure offset any depreciation in enrollment, such as was to be expected with the lowering of the draft age to 18 years.

Since the stoppage of enlistments, a great many inquiries have been pouring into the President's office from prospective students relative to the students' training corps.

Alumni may greatly assist in keeping the college filled by informing prospective students and young men with a hankering for the army, of the unusual opportunity which the S. A. T. C. at M. A. C. offers them.

SUPPORT FROM THE COUNTRY EDITOR.

One of the biggest things that has been undertaken by the college staff insofar as expected results are concerned, and one which will have a most far reaching effect, was the first conference and war council of rural editors and publishers of Michigan, which took place at the college the first three days in August.

It has been apparent for some time that the college was not in as close touch with Michigan farmers and rural communities as they should be and that its influence was not exerted as thoroughly or as strongly as that of like institutions in neighboring states. On certain occasions it has been evident that Michigan agriculturists were not lined up behind the college and as ready to support it as we have hoped they might be.

An analysis of the situation in Michigan has indicated that what we seem to lack more than anything else is a means of reaching farmers and rural communities with a news service of some sort, one which would keep farmers in constant touch with the activities of the college and help in organizing agricultural interests.

Last year, Earl R. Trangmar, '17.

Last year, Earl R. Trangmar, 11. was placed upon the college staff as publicity agent, and his first year of work, which has been largely that of organization, has been topped off most successfully with the rural editors' conference, which he conceived, planned and carried out.

One hundred and forty men representing 90 of Michigan's best country publications were entertained by the college. They were given a good time and a good program, and they brought about an organization which is to be known as the Michigan Rural Press Association. Among other things their resolutions called for an annual conference at the college as a permanent institution, since they "are convinced that a closer co-operation between the Michigan Agricultural College and the rural press is most desirable." Furthermore they endorse the establishment at M. A. C. of a department of rural journalism and have already taken steps to accomplish it through legislative means.

The lining up of the rural press to the support of the college is a big step in the right direction. It will bring a closer connection between the college and the farmer and his community. We sincerely hope that their proposal of the establishment of a department of farm journalism here may be put through.

PAUL N. FLINT '04.

The numerous friends of Prof. Paul N. Flint, '04, well known in several states, will be grieved to hear of his death which occurred recently, following an operation in Denver, Colorado. Professor Flint was born on a farm near Cement City, Michigan, February 22nd, 1883, where he had an exceptional opportunity to learn the practical side of farming and stock raising under the tutelage of his father, John Flint, well known as a successful agriculturist in that community.

Professor Flint graduated from the Michigan Agricultural College in 1904. taking the M. S. degree from the University of Illinois the following year. His investigational work while in charge of the Animal Husbandry Department at the Georgia Experiment Station and later in Arkansas was noteworthy in its bearing upon successful stock feeding in the South. He was later called to the Kansas Agricultural College but was compelled to relinquish his work there because of an attack of tuberculosis. He made a successful fight against this disease and after a year spent in recuperation was called to take charge of the animal husbandry department of the Montana Agricultural College where he remained one year. On the advice of his physician he moved to Colorado, where he greatly improved in health, and where he was engaged in County Agricultural work up to the time of his death.

Professor Flint was an untiring and conscientious worker and his death is not only a grievous loss to his many friends but is a distinct loss to the nation. He is survived by a wife, two children and both parents.

LEROY CHARLES BRASS '07.

LeRoy Charles Brass, '07, died August 5, at the Methodist Hospital at Los Angeles, Cal., after a long and serious illness.

He was born in Goodrich, Michigan, in 1884, but entered college from Bridgeport, Michigan. Upon graduation in 1907, he went to Seattle, where until April, 1915, he was connected with the city engineering department. For the past two years, he has been in the engineering office of the city of Long Beach, Cal. A wife, a father, three sisters, and one brother, a'l in Michigan, survive him.

* LIEUT. THOS. W. CHURCHILL, '15.

The death of Thomas William Churchill, '15, occurred on July 8, at West Point Academy, where Lieutenant Churchill was veterinarian and instructor. Death was attributed to heart failure, following an operation undergone the previous week. He was 27 years old.

Lieutenant Churchill entered M. A. C. from Detroit High School and graduated with the '15 class. Following graduation he was veterinarian at the biological farm of Parke, Davis and Company, and later was with John T. Milliean Company at St. Louis, Missouri. At the beginning of the war he applied for a commission in the veterinary reserve corps and was made second lieutenant July 20, 1917. On November 22, he was promoted to first lieutenant and only recently had been recommended for a captain's commission.

While in college, Churchill was prominent in athletics and was a member of Sabor Knot, and lieutenant colonel of the regiment in his senior year. He was also a member of Alpha Psi, the honorary veterinary fraternity. Lieutenant Churchill was buried at West Point, and was given a military funeral. He is survived by a wife, Estelle E. Churchill of New York City, and mother, Mrs. Mary Churchill, of Detroit.

* LOUIS K. HICE, WITH '18.

Casualty lists of August 5, contained the name of Louis K. Hice, with '18, as having died from wounds received in action. Death occurred June 19th, three days after being wounded.

Hice left college to enter the army, having enlisted in Battery C, 119th Field Artillery, on the 18th of September, 1917. He had been serving with Battery C, until recently when he was transferred to the headquarters company of the same regiment. His home is in Three Rivers, Michigan. He was a member of the Phylean Society.

Michigan State troops at Gross Pointe. Vaughn entered M. A. C. in 1907 and for two years was very prominent in baseball, football and basketball, and track. He was one of the best all around athletes ever attending the college. Since leaving M. A. C. he has been engaged in the contracting business in Detroit. He is survived by a wife (Helen Albertus, with '10) and three sons. He was a member of the Hesperian Society.

JOHN L. SNELLINK WITH '14.

'1..e death of John L. Snellink with '14, occurred June 3, at his home in Grand Rapids. Snellink spent three and one-half years at the M. A. C. He was taken with tuberculosis in his senior year, and left college to go to a sanitarium in Colorado. Temporary relief was effected and he returned to Michigan in 1915, where he obtained a life certificate to teach from the Kalamazoo Normal. Failing health required his return to the West, where he lived till a week before his death.

While in college, Snellink was very popular and prominent in student affairs. He was a member of the Delphic Society, and the Tau Beta Phi fraternity and was assistant business manager of the 1913 Wolverine and business manager of the Holcad in 1913 and 1914.

ORSON T. KELLOGG '20.

Orson T. Kellogg, '20, quarterback on last year's football team, died August 21, in Petoskey, Mich., from typhoid fever. He was spending his summer vacation at Bay View. Kellogg was 20 years old and a popular junior argricultural student. His home was in Reading, Michigan.

COLLEGE HALL NOW PATHETIC PILE OF DEBRIS.

Walls Gave Way While Reconstruction Work Was in Progress.

College Hall is no more. In the spot on the campus where the oldest agricultural half in America has stood for sixty odd years there is now but a pile of debris reminding one of a Hun-demolished castle in northern France.

On the morning of August 12 there stood in its accustomed place a shaky, but amply propped College Hall. At 5 o'clock a creaking of tackle, a crackling of timbers, a crash and a heavy roar that resounded throughout the college community, marked the end of M. A. C.'s oldest campus building. As the old building fell to demolition the strains of the Star Spangled Banner floated across the campus from the drill grounds where the training detachment was standing retreat—a fitting requiem in recognition of long and faithful service to the nation.

About July 20, when work was well along with the reinforcing of the building a portion of the west side gave way beneath the steel I-beams which were supporting the upper floors. An examination was immediately made by Architect J. M. Donaldson, who previously inspected the building for Detroit alumni.

College Hall Partially Demolished.

The southwest corner which with its heavy cracks appeared the weakest stood till the very last along with the south walls as may be seen in the picture.

The report of Mr. Donaldson respecting the condition was as follows:

"Pursuant to your request the undersigned has this day made an examination of the College Hall, Michigan Agricultural College.

"Upon this occasion, the building having been exposed as to its materials and real structural condition and showing serious defects in both materials and structure, the writer is forced (notwithstanding his report of September 20, 1917) to the conclusion that it is impracticable and unwise to expend more money in the endeavor to preserve the building, and I therefore recommend that it be taken down.

"While the shoring at present in place is serving the temporary purpose of supporting the walls, the materials of the walls shored and their defective application make it desirable that the building be razed without loss of time."

On July 24, enclosing a copy of Mr. Donaldson's report, President Kedzie wrote the members of the College Hall alumni committee as follows:

"You will perhaps remember that Mr. Donaldson in his first report, while acknowledging that not a very thorough inspection of the building could be made in the time allowed him, was of the opinion that the building could quite readily be made safe for occupancy, but as the walls, instead of being of solid brick construction, were hollow and the kind of brick used shows by actual test to be only 25% resistance to crushing which it should, notwithstanding the use of concrete and reinforcing steel, it is now apparent that the building caunot be made safe for occupancy.

"On my invitation, Mr. Graham of the Board visited the campus yesterday and went over the entire matter with Mr. Bowd. Mr. Donaldson was here during the forenoon and it is the opinion of both of the architects as well as Mr. Graham, Secretary Brown and myself that the building cannot be allowed to stand in its present condition as it is a menace to the traffic which necessarily must be allowed to pass the building.

"The facts of the case were stated to the members of the State Board last night by mail and I have telegraph confirmations from four members of the Board authorizing that the structure shall be razed. I have written Judge Carpenter fully regarding the matter. No one is more disap-pointed in the outcome of our attemp, to restore the building than I."

The building has now been entirely razed and the debris is being cleared away. Probably the much talked of new administration building which has been in the minds of many college officials for the College Hall site will not be undertaken until after the war.

SECOND ARMY DETACHMENT FINISHES AUTO-MECHANIC COURSE.

M. A. C. Turns Out 1100 Specialists for Army During Summer.

The second motor mechanic training detachment is now completing its final months' work at the College and will soon be dispursed to the various camps or sent to over-seas duty where motor truck drivers are in great demand. The present detachment is made up entirely of Michigan men who arrived on the campus and began their struggle with motor trucks and army discipline on July 15.

The first week was given over to organization and the rudiments of military work, in which the detail of temporarily appointed sergeants selected from the first detachment greatly assisted. The second detachment rounded into shape much quicker than the first one, due to the improved organization, and with their uniforms and equipment, which were issued them upon their arrival, they rapidly took on the appearance of full fledged "Yanks." Vocational training was begun the fourth week in July.

Two New Courses Given.

Besides the motor mechanical and tractor course given to the first detachment, there has been added to the soldier curriculum a course in carpentry, conducted on the second floor in the wood shop, and a course for horseshoers given in the farm mechanics' forge shop and veterinary laboratory. Some time each week is spent by men in the latter course at the Constabulary Camp where the prospective horse shoers are made acquainted with animals and learn how to handle them.

Fifty men are entered for the new courses, having been sent here from Valparaiso University, Indiana, which institution was unable to provide facilities for the special instruction.

The second detachment was first organized into two companies, C. and D, but upon the arrival of the men from Valparaiso a third company, E, was formed and the sizes of the units reduced accordingly.

New Medical Officer.

It would appear that Michigan men are not as healthy a lot in general as those from Wisconsin since a materially larger portion were rejected for physical disability or hospital treatment from the second detachment than from the first. Practically no sickness has occurred during their stay on the campus.

Early in August, Capt. Lavin, Medical Officer of the first detachment, was transferred to Camp Sevier, Greenville, South Carolina, and Capt. John M. Henderson of Camp Custer was sent to replace him. Captain Henderson was very successful in stamping out the epidemic of empyema, which was prevalent at Camp Custer last winter. Previous to entering the army he was a practicing physician in Seattle, Wash.

All men of the detachment are now under arms, a number of additional rifles having been received from the State for their use. Exceptionally rapid progress has been made in military drill. The past two weeks, battalion parades and reviews have been held twice each week, and these ceremonies have been carried off as ably as by seasoned veterans. Capt. Murchie's staff spells efficiency and seemingly in no time at all green men are made finished soldiers. Spirit is added to these ceremonies by the excellent playing of the battalion band, composed of twenty-four pieces. Sergeant Bischoff, band leader and musician of the first detachment, is in charge of the band and his progress with them is unusual. He has been particularly successful in developing new material and bringing up the standard to that of a high class musical organization.

Best Men Sent to Officers' Camps.

The War Department now permits the selection of the best men from the training detachments for attendance at officers' training camps and already eleven men from the first detachment who were selected to help with the organization of the second contingent have entered such camps. It is expected that all of the temporarily appointed non-commissioned officers will have an opportunity to fit themselves for officers.

Wells Hall has been taken over by the second detachment in addition to the dormitories used by the first and is occupied together with rooms in the Engineering building by Co. C. Co. D is quartered in the Armory and Abbott Hall, and E occupies Williams Hall and a part of Wells. The battalion headquarters is now in the office in the Armory, having been moved there from the old athletic office in the bath house.

Athletics.

An unusually snappy base ball team has been developed by Sergeant Wesley D. Grey, who is captain and assistant manager. Grey was with the White Sox at one time and later caught for Minneapolis in the Western league. He first won fame at Notre Dame. The detachment team has played games with Owosso and the Prudden, Reo and other teams of the Lansing League and have lost but one game in their short season.

Boxing and wrestling are being given stimulation by Private Foley of D Co., who has had three or four years of ring experience, and who thus far has failed to find his match with the gloves. As the cooler days come on, footballs are beginning to make their appearance among the men during recreation time.

Many band concerts, lectures and social entertainments have been given for the men by Lansing and East Lansing people, in fact this summer the campus has been livelier than in many years.

Fire Fighters, Too.

As a pre-season taste of what they may expect when they "meet up with" the Huns' liquid fire, detachment men have twice rushed out to fight fires on the college farm. A detail carried by their own trucks quickly stamped out a fire in the fields near the Grand Trunk tracks, but the second fire, in the wind-break along the Pere Marquette spur, was not so easily taken care of and required the efforts of fifty men to surround and confine it.

Five new Liberty trucks have been added to the equipment for the vocational course, but other than this few changes have been made in the educational work as given to the first contingent. The college authorities have many times expressed their pleasure and appreciation at the harmon.ous connection existing between the military officers and the officers and instructors of the vocational courses. The second detachment completes its work September 15, when a new group of selects will be received.

Capt. MacLachlan '10.

For gallantry in action, Capt. Ira D. MacLachlan has been cited in orders by Major General Haan, commanding the 32d division. The action took place in June, but the citations for gallantry were only recently made The report, following the first big raid put on by the 32d division before it left Alsace for the heavy fighting about Rheims, was prepared by Major Gansser, of the 32d division, and contains the following:

"Captain Ira D. MacLachlan, commanding machine gun company, 125th Infantry, had personal supervision over the preparation and execution of the part the machine guns played in the section. He was out among his guns during the several hours of the action, and since then has nightly bombarded the breach in the enemy wire, compelling him to pay a proper price for the repairs he needs. He took part in every conference prepara-tory for the 'raid' and by his counsel and co-operation encouraged the feeling of success on the part of the offlcers and men from the infantry making the attack proper. Simple justice requires at least this mention."

Capt. MacLachlan entered the Michigan National Guards in 1914, at Sault Ste. Marie and has made a rapid climb in service, having been commissioned Captain in May, 1916. He who were commanded a company guarding the locks at the Soo. Later he spent considerable time on the border with the Michigan National Guards and on the formation of the 125th Infantry at Camp McArthur was placed in charge of a machine gun company.
