THE S. A. T. C. UNIT will probably be continued until June 30, 1919, according to word received from the war department this week by the college authorities. The order, of course, refers only to Section A, collegiate division, of the training unit. No word has been received yet regarding the disposition of the vocational division of 540 men, who were expected to leave the campus on November In the meantime these boys are being held and given additional training, while the authorities wait for orders in the matter. Rather broad changes wll be made in the program of work for the Section A men, especially after the first of the year. Peace-time conditions call for greater emphasis on the academic side of the training, and less attention to the purely military work. In line with this policy the military authorities are seeing to it that special duties, such as "K. P." and guard, are not to interfere in any way with the regular schedule of college classes. Details of the new program have not all been worked out as yet, but certain modifications are already in force.

M. A. C. co-eds are at last enjoying the privileges of the new gymnasium. Company B of the training unit was quartered in the building for several weeks during the influenza epidemic, and the girls were consequently deprived of the use of their section of Miss Casho, who is in the gym. charge of the girls during physical work, moved her classes in on Monof this week, however. The building is at her disposal from 9 until 12 every morning. The girls use the pool and the main gym floor, including all apparatus and facilities.

A WAR DEPARTMENT REQUEST that all officers in charge of the local S. A. T. C. unit signify their desire in regard to staying in the army permanently, brought out some interesting facts. Of the seven senior officers on the campus, one expressed a willingness to remain in the army for from six months to a year; four signified a desire to make army work their permanent vocation; while two were ready to return to civilian life. this percentage is kept up throughout the country, the government will have no difficulty in securing more "willing" officers than it can use.

TO MIDDLE-WEST ALUMNI —HAIL!

As you may have observed by the signboards, all ye dwellers in * and about the environs of Madison, Wisconsin, that certain 11 * stalwart sons of M. A. C. will * joust with a similar number of * well-built sons of Wisconsin in a * football game on November 28, to * wit, Thanksgiving Day. The foot- * ball oracles have forecast that of * the aforementioned thanksgiving, * the Aggies promise to acquire a monopoly, which being so, all old * grads, and grads not so old, are * invited to be present to partici- * pate in and partake of the fruits * of victory. A cheering section is * being reserved at Madison for M. * A. C. rooters, seats in which can * be obtained by writing to the di- * rector of athletics, University of * Wisconsin, with a request for " reservations in the M. A. C. block. *

M. A. C. FRESHMEN are at last having a taste of real college life, in spite of the presence of military authorities and generally upset conditions. Inspired by the declaration of peace the few upperclassmen who are not in the S. A. T. C. decided to see to it that the "regular" freshmen, who number about 75, observed some of the time-honored college traditions. Freshmen caps are now much in evidence; cutting across the lawns has been stopped; and it has even been rumored that the Red Cedar has not been altogether without its customary fall bathers. While these "Sophomoric" activities are strictly unofficial, they are a pretty healthy sign andindicate that it will not take long for the undergraduate body to complete the switch to normal campus conditions when the opportunity is presented.

The valities fighting spirit of the Aggies seems this fall to have lost none of its old force—at least such manifestations of it as are an accompaniment of mass meetings have been as vigorous as in any of the balmy days of yore. Mass meetings were preludes to both the Purdue and the Notre Dame games, while another is on call for tomorrow evening to prime the squad for its appointment with the University of Michigan at Ferry Field Saturday. Students, faculty and members of the military staff of the college have all co-operated in the pep-fests. Thus Major William E. Murchie, Coach George E. Gauthier and Dr. Ward Giltner appeared upon the platform as heralds of the engagement with Purdue; Coach Ion Cortright, Lieut. Joseph F. Lessig and Judge C. B. Collingwood were the stimulators of enthusiasm before the game with Notre Dame, while Lee (otherwise "Pete") Bancroft and Edmund Shields have been nominated to provoke the proper anti-Michigan spirit for the game with the Wolverines. All the meetings are being conducted in the college gymnasium, as the old armory is still doing service as a barracks for Company A of the vocational unit.

THE M. A. C. UNION, which for a number of months had been in a somnambulant or semi-deceased condition, came back to life last Saturday evening with a great kicking of heels. The Union engineered an all-college dancing party in the gymnasium, where co-eds were given their first official opportunity for making the acquaintance of the boys who make up the student army training corps. The introduction appeared to be mutually agreeable. Among the "out of town" guests during the evening were Mr. "Baldy" Spencer, '15; Lieut. Karl Fisher, '17; Miss Ruth Beebe, '14, and Miss Fern Ferris, '18.

The officers who are stationed on the campus gave a military ball on the evening of November 16, entertaining at the Hotel Downey with a banquet and dancing. Forty couples, including about fifteen guests of the "military," participated in the function. Leut. J. F. Lessig was in charge of the arrangements.

THE FAMOUS M. A. C. BAND will be on hand for the Michigan game, and will, as usual, accompany the team and the cheering section on the special train. Under the leadership of Prof. A. J. Clark, the musical organization has reached its old time standard of efficiency, and plenty of snappy music is sure to float out from the Aggie section at the big game.

WILL THE HABIT STICK?

In the days before the war it was a common taunt of our friends across the sea that we were a race of money grubbers, recognizing no standard but the gold and placing trust in no sign but the dollar. Our gifts to patriotic funds and our support of the war have set them right on this misreading of our national character and have reaped for us a new harvest of esteem. But now that the war has ended, what? Will this giving habit cease to be?

The question is one that alumni of M. A. C. can well afford to ask themselves, for while we have been loud in our praises of Alma Mater-particularly in seasons of football victory-it is nevertheless a painful truth, uncomfortable perhaps, but nevertheless a truth that the habit of giving has not been a predominant trait among our alumni. Perhaps this statement should be limited to the declaration that gifts to the college have been few. The opportunity is here. The difficulty would be selec-tion of a point to begin. The lack of a Union building is sorely felt. The decrepit dormitories, Williams and Abbot Hall could be replaced without provoking grief in anyone. An administration and library building must be had-the list could be dragged out endlessly.

But while the alumni of certain of our neighboring state institutions have been liberal with their endowments, the records thus far tell of no son or daughter of M. A. C. who has ever loosened purse strings, even to the extent of repaying the debt owed—in other words the $1,600 direcet outlay it costs the state for every man and woman graduated from the college. Twould be a simple task to drag other skeletons from the closet, but the truths are so apparent and the needs so evident that none can be so blind as not to see where duty lies.

Mayhap, now that we have learned the giving habit, or should have learned it, the plans for the erection of a Union building will cease to be something more than a pleasing specimen of architectural art praised by everybody, and supported by nobody. Let us hope that as alumni we will cease to be the envy of our allies of the tight little isle.

PERROTTET DIES IN FRANCE.

Name of Perrottet, Illinois Boy With '19, is Added to Roll of Honor.

A gold star is gleaming in the service flag of the college in memory of Laverne Perrottet, Ag, with '19, who was killed instantly on June 15 by a German shell that burst in his gun pit in the front line trenches. Friends only a few days agon learned of his death.

Perrottet attended college a year, entering in 1915 with his class of 1919, from his home city, Wheaton, Ill. The details of his death were communicated to Mrs. Perrottet, his mother, in a letter written to a friend of hers by Junius B. Wood, the famous war correspondent of the Chicago Daily News. A copy of this letter follows:

"Dear Mary:

"I suppose before this you have heard of Verne Perrottet's death. finally was within twenty-five miles of his company today and made the trip to find him. The lieutenant who was there said that only two men had been killed in his platoon and that he was one of them. He had made a good record and came through all the fighting without a scratch. The last night, June 15, I believe, they were in before they were to be relieved, he was in a gun pit with another man up in the front line. A shell made a direct hit on their little hole and killed him instantly, though the other man was little more than scratched. He was struck in the breast. The lieutenant said he wrote to his father immediately. He is buried in the Bois de Belleau, where so many other young Americans lie. This is not a chee rufllZ cheerful letter, but I had a presentment that I would never see him, as I had missed him so often and tried so long to get trace of him. Yours, "JUNIUS B. WOOD.

"July 5, 1918."

GOOD TIME AT ALUMNI LUNCHEON.

The home-coming luncheon for alumni, which was held in the People's church, East Lansing, on Saturday, November 16, was an exceptionally enjoyable gathering. Nearly one hundred M. A. C. men partook of the dinner, which was served by the women's club of the church.

W. O. Hedrick acted as master of ceremonies for the speakers, and introduced the orators with his customary humorous remarks. President Kedzie, Prof. Woodworth, '86, of the Lewis Institute, Chicago, Mr. Ranney, 1900, of Greenville, Mich., and Rev. McCune, '01, pastor of the East Lansing church, were the speakers.

Outside of East Lansing, Howell, Mich., was more fully represented than any other community. Six M. A. C. families from that town were in "attendance."

The gathering was one of the most successful luncheons ever held by the alumni.

WOLVERINE MANAGERS CALL FOR ALUMNI SUPPORT.

The present Junior class has decided to publish the Wolverine this year, unsettled conditions on the campus notwithstanding. Last year's class got out a very creditable book, in spite of various handicaps, and the present editors and managers are determined to keep the long string of Wolverines unbroken.

Financial difficulties will, of course, be great, with the price of all material high and the number of prospective undergraduate subscribers low.

The men in charge of the publication are consequently making an appeal for support from the alumni. The book will contain all the old features and a number of splendid war "extras" which will make the Wolverine as interesting and valuable for graduates as for active students.

The editor makes the following announcement:

"All alumni who still feel a warm spot in their hearts for the college and want to see it stand up under the present crisis will send in their Wolverine orders at once to Edward E. Carpp, Business Manager of the Wolverine, Box 522, East Lansing, or to any other member of the junior class, who will see that the order is placed. A deposit of $1.50 is required with the order. Those who order in the near future will have their names engraved upon the cover free of charge."

Word THAT CIRLS may have parties during the term has been given out. Conditions brought about by the presence of the S. A. T. C., and the restrictions on dance activities which were held over the men, caused the girls to give up hope of having their fall term dances. An arrangement has been made, however, whereby those men fortunate enough to receive invitations will be given passes for the evening. The authorities in the Women's Building have consequently given permission for parties which comply with war-time requirements, and several of the societies are planing to entertain in the near future.

MANY TO INVADE ANN ARBOR.

Early Calls For Reservations Foretell Record Turn-out of M A. C. Folk at Michigan Game.

Not since 1913 has there been such a rush for reservations for the M. A. C-Michigan game as has come this week with the near approach of the invasion of Ann Arbor. A feeling. amounting almost to a certainty, that M. A. C. has an unusually strong team, and the presentment that a "revival" of old glories is about due, have contributed to the inflaming of interest. The prospect today was that the largest delegation of rooters that ever followed an M. A. C. team into action on Ferry Field will convoy the squad to Ann Arbor.

The main body of M. A. C. rooters will entrain at the college siding, in the rear of the Engineering building, at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, with the 'varsity band striking up "Are we all dead yet?" and the regiment of cadets acting as escort. A special dispensation which will make it possible for the entire student army training corps to journey to Ann Arbor has been secured from district headquarters by Major William E. Murchie. The corps will embark as a military unit

Co-eds and civilian students will have coaches of the same train. A section of this train will also leave Lansing at 9 o'clock, from the Union station.

Lansing's rooting cohorts, with the famous French military band at its head, will pull out of the Pere Marquette station in Lansing at 11 o'clock. arriving in Ann Arbor at 1:30. This train will carry a diner.

The march to Ferry Field will be started at 1:45 o'clock from the Allenel, which will be headquarters for M. A. C. men and women during the day. Both the French army band, and the M. A. C. band will furnish the marching music for the parade, which will be in two sections. One section will consist of the corps of cadets, in uniform, and the other of alumni and civilian students.

"ON WISCONSIN" ON NOV. 28.

Team Will Finish Season With Badgers at Madison on Thanksgiving Day.

For the first time since 1913-an occasion which the Badgers would e'en forget-the Aggies on Thanksgiving Day will make a foray into Wisconsin for a battle at Madison. The game will be the finale of the football season for M. A. C. The word has accordingly gone forth to M. A. C. alumni within visiting distance of the Wisconsin campus that their attendance in the rooting stands is earnestly requested.

Also the word is circulating that barring possible irreplaceable losses at Ann Arbor tomorrow, the team ought to be able to repeat on what its forbears of 1913 were able to do, for while M. A. C. is more than commonly strong this fall, Wisconsin is reported to be just a little feebler.

The game will afford members of the squad their first—and also their last—opportunity for getting outside the boundaries of the state this year, for thus far all engagements have been played at home. The meeting at Ann Arbor, which is scarcely considered as "out of town" is the only appointment, aside from the Wisconsin game, that is taking the boys away from their own army cots.

As for the prospects at Madison, they should be excellent for victory, for irrespective of what the squad does tomorrow on Ferry Field it should be going better by Thanksgiv-With three or four exceping Day. tions, the members of the eleven are all youngsters, who while endowed with much of natural prowess, have I cked that working knowledge of the game that comes only by living through such battles as they have been fighting this fall. Of late the men have been showing more of the stableness of veterans. It is this fact that is giving observers cause to feel that there will be big developments at Madison-developments of a not too mournful nature.

M. A. C. DEFEATS NOTRE DAME.

Home Collegians, Playing in Old-Time Form, Win 13 to 7.

The M. A. C. football squad, after suffering a two-years eclipse, emerged from the shadow of the valley of oblivion last Saturday noon by defeating the University of Notre Dame, 13 to 7, in the presence of old grads and to the accompaniment of an almost torrential downpour. Coming as it did after almost two years of compulsory abstinence from the joys of victory, the spectacle was one that did almost as much to re-invigorate returning alumni as the final capitulation of the Huns.

So much for the way the alumni felt about it. Speaking now for the benefit of the football team, it was a deserved success achieved by superior team work under adverse conditions. With mud from head to heel, the ball as flabby as a sponge and as slippery as a Teutonic diplomat, and the field like an imported bit of Flanders after the dykes had been dynamited, the team played through four quarters with scarce a fumble.

The play opened with the Aggies taking the bit in their teeth in the first quarter, Graves, Snider, Ferris and Dunphy carrying the ball almost to Notre Dame's goal by a series of swift charges. Graves cleaned up the last 20 yards by slipping a pretty forward pass to Young, who placed the ball behind the visitors' goal for the first touchdown. There was no further scoring in this quarter.

Notre Dame reacted in typical Notre Dame fashion in the second quarter, the fighting Irishmen driving M. A. C. into its own end of the yard by a number of end runs, varied with an occasional line buck. These last didn't work very well against the home forwards. Mohn finally bucked through center for the touchdown, and Gipp kicking goal, making the score 7 to 6. " The Aggies failed to make their point for goal in the first quarter. Gipp and Bahan in the Notre Dame backfield furnished the Catholics with most of their gains-Gipp, in fact, proved to be the day's sensation and the most dangerous backfielder that has been seen on an M. A. C. field since carp Julian was in his prime.

It was the work of the squad following the commencement of the second half, however, that most gladdened the old grads. With the score standing 7 to 6 against them, and faced by one of the west's most powerful elevens, the squad came back to the fray with the finest display of the football spirit of tradition that has been witnessed on M. A. C. gridiron in years. The visitors kicked off to Ferris who came back 20 yards, whereupon Snider tore off 25 yards more around left end; Schwei helped with 15 by receiving a forward pass from Archer, and Ferris added still another 15 by scooping up a second forward pass from Archer, placing the ball on Notre Dame's 15-yard line. Messrs. Graves and Dunphy brought the advance to a fitting culmination with line-bucks, a la Exelby, Graves finally placing the pigskin on the Notre Dame side of the goal by crashing through a hole made by Franson, Archer kicked goal, giving M. A. C. its final score of 13 to 7.

The final quarter was devoted to defensive tactics by the Aggies, who were content, when Notre Dame became too venturous, to punt back out of danger, giving Notre Dame the opportunity to fumble. Attemps to score by forward passing were well spoiled, the visitors never coming closer than 30 yards to the scoring zone in this period.

"You may at least count me among those present. I finally found some one whom I was able to convince that I might be of some use to Etats Unis. If I can squirm through their mathematics I will probably qualify as an Ensign in the U.S. Navy. Otherwise, I go back into the ranks. Either way I may get a chance to hunt tin fish, so I am satisfied. This makes nine physical examinations that I have taken so if they try to kick me out now I am afraid that I shall rise in wrath and say unto them many things, the least of which would be provoca-tion enough to throw me into jail for five and thirty days."

Big Stock Reduction Sale of Rugs and all Floor Goverings

Do you wish to brighten your home, or your room? A small amount spent for Rugs, Carpet or Linoleum will do more toward making a room cheerful than almost twice the amount spent for anything else.

You owe it to those at home to keep your home cheerful, is one argument; another argument for buying such things now, is that sometimes you can save money by spending money.

We are selling our entire stock of Rugs, large and small. Carpets and Linoleums at from regular prices. This means a big saving when these goods are growing in value, and almost withdrawn from market, due to government requirements of raw material, labor. and looms for our nations protection.

20 and 25 Per Gent Reduction

Our stock is large and offers great advant-es of selection. Wilton, Axminster and ages of selection. Wilton, Axminster and room size rugs: Velvet, Axminster, Tapestry and Ingrain carpets by the yard: Matting of all sorts: Printed and Inlaid Linoleum: Grass Rugs: Bath Room Rugs: Rag Rugs.
