EAST LANSING

Nov. 5, 1920

AN INNOVATION in intercollegiate sports will be made here Saturday when teams representing the University of Michigan and Michigan Aggie will meet in a soccer match on the Aggie field. It will be the first big game of its kind ever staged on the East Lansing field, and it is expected to prove a most interesting game. Michigan varsity is one of the strongest soccer organizations in this part of the country. Last season, out of five games played, four were won without any trouble. At East Lansing, soccer is not a varsity sport. It has been used for intra-mural competition, but no attempt has ever been made to include it among varsity sports. For Saturday's game, a group of local men, most of them natives of countries where the sport ranks ace-high, will represent the Aggies. They are all exceptional players, and may be expected to give the Wolverines a tough battle. The team is being coached and managed by Jack Heppinstall, the Aggie trainer who gained his laurels in the game in England.

VETERINARIANS from M. A. C. attended the annual meeting of the Central Michigan Veterinary Association in Jackson, October 29. Dr. F. W. Chamberlain, acting dean of the division, Dr. H. F. Johnson, Dr. E. T. Hallman, and Dr. O. A. Taylor represented the faculty, and seven undergraduates were at the session. One of the principal addresses was given by Dr. Hallman.

PREPARATORY TO THE COMING ELECTION, the East Lansing Woman's Club listened to a talk on "Woman's Place in Government," by Mrs. Bessie Leach Friddy, Dean of Women at Ypsilanti, on Monday afternoon. The meeting was held in the parlors of the Woman's Building.

FREE MAIL DELIVERY will be started in East Lansing December 1, according to a notice just received by Postmaster Aldrich from the post office department at Washington. This innovation will help to relieve the congested condition of the local office. For the past several years the East Lansing office has been working under the handicap of insufficient facilities to handle the large amount of mail that passes thru the office every day, the chief difficulty being that of having too few boxes to serve the entire community. It is expected delivery by carrier will be made twice a day.

NEW YORK STATE CLUB has reorganized for the coming year. New York has always been well represented at M. A. C. and a New York club has been existence for a good many years.

ARMISTICE DAY has been declared a legal holiday on the campus, and the William Riker Johnson post of the American Legion is arranging a pretentious celebration in the morning. Dr. M. S. Rice of Detroit is to be the speaker. Victory medals will be presented to the ex-service men.

R. E. DOOLITTLE '06, Chief of the Central District Bureau of Chemistry of Evanston, Illinois, will address the meeting of the local section of the American Chemical Society at the chemistry lecture room on November 9. This is an open meeting and the public is invited. Early in December the society plans to hold a meeting in Lansing, at which a prominent chemist from one of the central Western colleges will be the speaker.

THE BAND is working on concert music preparatory to giving a concert in the armory some Sunday afternoon soon.

CLUB BOYS from Michigan won tenth place in the national contest just recently finished at Atlanta, Georgia. The contest was nationwide, the best junior judges from leading livestock states all over the country being entered. Michigan boys have been winning many judging honors this fall. Early in October a dairy team finished seventh in the national Dairy Show club boys' judging events at Chicago, Michigan scoring second highest points in judging Holsteins, competing against teams from fourteen other states. R. A. Turner '09, State Leader of boys and girls club work, went south with the team which won the recent honors at Atlanta. The boys received their training under the club leaders of the M. A. C. extension division.

FACULTY of the veterinary division entertained the veterinary students in the Surgery and Clinic building on the evening of October 27. At 6:30 a dinner was served by the faculty wives, which was followed by a smoker, with fortune telling and Hallowe'en games.

THE MEN'S GLEE CLUB met last Thursday to consider plans for this year's trip. The Girls' Glee Club met the same evening to elect officers and consider plans for the trip.

SCHOOLS, COLLEGES, and UNIVERSITIES are requested, in a proclamation issued by President Wilson, to observe the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, on December 21. The War Camp Community Service of New York City is preparing programs and urging the observance of this day.

EAST LANSING MASONIC LODGE held a smoker at the Masonic temple on election night, during which they received election returns.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

"In season and out of season, I believe that secretaries, of state universities especially, should preach the doctrine, that in one form or another, every beneficiary of a state university should return to the institution what he received from it."

John A. Lomax, Alumni Sec'y, Texas.

THE BUILDING PROGRAM

The Record is indeed pleased to call the attention of alumni to the proposed building program that the State Board of Agriculture resolved upon at its October meeting. The action will be found in the minutes of the meeting which are printed elsewhere in this issue. The buildings which M. A. C. actually needs and for which the State Board filed its budget estimate with the State Budget Commission last week are a new auditorium, $375,000; a library and administration building, $500,000; two new dormitories totaling $600,000; a Home Economics building, $400,000; and a stadium for the athletic field, $100,000.

We want M. A. C. men and women to read this program again, if necessary, and get it firmly fixed in their minds for it presents in a nut shell the most crying needs of the present-day M. A. C. We join in the acclamation with which we know alumni and former students will greet this action of the State Board of Agriculture. It is the first time in the history of the college that so large an amount has been asked from a state legislature and the building program is greater than has ever been summed up in one budget estimate. However we believe it is the first time that the college has ever had the temerity to ask for an appropriation covering so great a share of its needs.

In considering the amount asked for and the structures proposed, we must bear in mind the rise in everything and that M. A. C. has received only a meager portion from the last several legislatures. The burning of the Engineering building (the replacing of which was a decided setback) and Williams Hall greatly depleted our equipment and with our failure to acquire the two new buildings passed upon by the last legislature our needs have accumulated. It is this accumulation that the State Board are now presenting. It is simply a matter of "laying the cards on the table."

The library and administration building and the auditorium are buildings that the college has wanted and needed for a number of years but a chain of circumstances have continually kept them from our grasp. Alumni, better than anyone else, are acquainted with the need in these two departments and have followed the story of their unsuccessful quest from year to year with interest and with disappointment. The need of the two proposed dormitories which will help replace Williams Hall and Abbott Hall, recently taken over for women students, has been voiced again and again by those graduates and former students who had the privilege of dormitory life in the old days.

The Home Economics building is intended to house the offices and lecture rooms and laboratories for the Home Economics department and will release much of the space in the Woman's Building for dormitory space for the girls. The athletic field is another need with which alumni are very well versed and one which keeps us from our rightful position in middle-western athletics.

The presenting of this budget sums up our accumulated needs for a period of years and we know that M. A. C. men and women will rejoice that the State Board of Agriculture have come forward with this program and are actually asking for our present needs. The building program is not the responsibility of the State Board of Agriculture, however. It is the individual responsibility of every graduate and former student of M. A. C. who wants the "old college" to grow and keep its place as the "first in America." Let us see to it that this building program doesn't fail in the coming legislature.

THE HEALTH SERVICE

The new health service established at M. A. C. at the beginning of the present school year is in line with the latest word in up-to-date educational institutions. Only a few of our western colleges have established this work, among them being Michigan, Wisconsin, and Illinois. Adequate hospital and health service has been one of our greatest needs for a number of years, and this new phase of physical education moves M. A. C. to the front in the work of caring for her students.

Unlimited service is given students at the office free of charge. This includes as much as sixty days' hospital service when necessary. New students are required to have a complete medical and physical examination, and to attend a series of health lectures. Other features of the service may be gathered from a perusal of the regulations which will be found in the minutes of the State Board meeting.

In the establishment of this health service the college is seen to realize her responsibility to turn out well rounded citizens, physically as well as mentally.

Who's Who

Howard Evarts Weed '89

Any man or woman who has helped make the world a more beautiful place to live in we believe deserves honorable mention in the hall of fame, or in the column of M. A. C.'s 'Who's Who,' and for this reason we are presenting a few facts about the work of Howard Evarts Weed, who has made a specialty of developing beautiful varieties of flowers.

Howard Evarts Weed '89, has been called the peony and iris wizard of the northwest.

"There are Christopher Columboes among florists," says a writer in a recent Oregon paper, describing the work which Mr. Weed has accomplished. "Howard Evarts Weed, a landscape architect who came to Portland from the east a few years ago," the writer continues, "has discovered that peonies grow more beautifully and vigorously in the vicinity of Portland than anywhere else in the world, not excepting the place of their ancient origination in southern Asia.

The Weed Landscape Nursery is located on the Canyon Road six miles west of Portland and one mile east of Beaverton. The location was selected after ten years' investigation to find the ideal combination of soil and climatic conditions suitable for the growth of ornamental plants. Mr. Weed has the most extensive collection of peonies in the west and the largest selection of iris in the northwest, with 400 varieties of peonies and 300 varieties of iris.

"At his place near Beaverton," the article continues, "he has 400 varieties of peonies from which he made an exhibit, in connection with the last Portland Rose Show. An expert who had seen the famous Paris flower show told him he possessed blossoms more beautiful than any grown in France or exhibited in its capitol. Similar testimony has been offered by eastern members of the American peony society, that Portland peonies cannot be equalled much less surpassed.

"Mr. Weed believes there is a relation between the growing conditions of the rose and of the peony and that the soft rains, golden sunshine, gentle air and vitally productive soil which account for the exquisitely delicate charm of one are likewise responsible for the vivid beauty of the other.

"Portland peony plants are distributed thruout the United States, and the business of growing them is becoming more and more profitable year by year. One of the distinctive characteristics of peonies, apart from their vast variety of color and petalage is that if gathered as buds they may be kept in the house two weeks before they wither, and if placed in cold storage at a temperature just above freezing and in very moist air their freshness may be retained for a period of from three to six months."

Previous to locating in Oregon in 1911, Mr. Weed was a landscape gardener in Chicago, and before that he was connected with Cornell University, with the Mississippi Experiment station, and was Agricultural Agent for the Central of Georgia Railway.

Mr. Weed is married and the Weeds have three children, Wilbur 20, Edith 18, and Thurlow 13. "My son Wilbur," he says, "is a senior in Landscape gardening at Oregon Agricultural college, and editor of the Oregon Countryman, the college agricultural paper. He will be in business with his dad after June next. Edith is a sophomore at Oregon Agricultural college, taking physical culture.

Mr. Weed gives his hobby as the production of new varieties of flowers, and in answer to the question, "What part of your college training do you think has helped you most?" he answers, "The general association with others."

Besides his work as a producer of new varieties of flowers and plants, Mr. Weed has acquired a reputation as a lecturer on civic improvements and beautification. He is author of "Modern Park Cemeteries," and of "Spraying for Profit," of which 300,000 copies have been printed.

Several alumni were back for the Union Literary party held in the Ag building October 29. These included L. P. Dendell '14, Dr. O. A. Taylor '15, R. J. Baldwin '04, E. T. Goodwin '13, H. J. Gallagher '15, M. F. Beauchamp (with '18) and Clarence McKenzie '17. The hall was decorated in keeping with Hallowe'en.

WITH THE ALUMNI CLUBS

Grand Rapids Alumni Join Aggie Teachers in Spirited Meeting.

The alumni banquet that has become an annual event of the State Teachers' Association meeting was held in the Grand Rapids Board of Commerce dining room Friday noon, October 29. This year's meeting is believed to have been the largest gathering of Aggie teachers and others that has ever been held in connection with the state meeting, about 180 being present. Grand Rapids alumni were well represented in the gathering and vied with teachers of the '20 class for numbers.

Professor French to whom teachers and alumni are always indebted for the arrangement of this annual affair, took charge of the meeting and introduced Alumni Secretary McKibbin as toastmaster. The short program of toasts were: "The Living Present" Miss Edna Ceas, '20; "M. A. C. and the Development of Leadership", Superintendent Paul Rood, '16; "The Needs of M. A. C." Elda Robb, '16; "The Days of Yore" William K. Clute, '06. Miss May Person, acting dean of the Home Economics department, and Mrs. Dora Stockman, of the State Board of Agriculture, presented to alumni the particular needs of the Home Economics division for larger equipment and told of the plans of the State Board of Agriculture for presenting this need to the state legislature this winter.

That M. A. C.'s greatest needs are better and larger facilities for caring for her student body was expressed by President Kedzie in his short pointed talk to the teachers.

Yells and songs, particularly those of the '20 girls, livened the occasion and helped make it spirited. Those who attended were:

U. P. Ass'n Meets with U. of M. Alumni; Pres. Burton Guest.

The Upper Peninsula M. A. C. Association banquet was combined with the Michigan Association at the Upper Peninsula Educational Association at Escanaba Thursday, October 21, at the Golf Club room. Plates were set for seventy-five, but one hundred and eight were there to partake. Extra tables, settees, benches, dishes, etc., were quickly brought together from out of "somewhere" and everybody had a regular "banquet feed." No one seems to know where the extra "pie" came from, not stating the other dishes of note. All were well fed, all pleased, all happy. Music given all the time, M. A. C. and Michigan yells and songs while we waited. No dull moments. The intellectual feed was given by three boosters of education. John Doelle, Secretary-Manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, a Michigan man, and superintendent of schools at Houghton for years gave a talk on what the University and M. A. C. can do for the Upper Peninsula. It was good and right to the point. Prof. French of our own M. A. C. spoke for Alma Mater and did it as he always does in a pleasing and convincing manner. Dr. Burton, Michigan's new president, spoke for the University and for the Michigan educational institutions in general. He gave an excellent talk enjoyed by everybody. The whole program was unexcelled. After the intellectual feast the M. A. C. Association gathered for a short business meeting and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: E. L. Kunze '14, Sault Ste. Marie president; Helen Pratt '16 also of the Soo as secretary-treasurer. The next annual meeting will be held at the Soo. It was voted unanimously to have an annual assessment of one dollar per member to carry on what expenses may occur during the year.

Engineers Given Wider Choice

Engineering students, under the changes which went into effect last year, have a wider choice of work than under the old arrangement. After the freshman year, the mechanical, civil, electrical and chemical students begin specialization in their particular courses, and then in the senior year, a choice to specialize along particular lines is again offered. Mechanical students may elect special courses in automotive, steam or industrial engineering; civil engineers are offered options in structural, highway, hydraulic, or sanitary lines; men in the electrical department are offered a variety of choices along electrical lines; while chemical engineers have only the prescribed work in the senior year.

Prof. Pettit Back

Prof. R. H. Pettit of the Entomology department has returned to the campus after a three months' leave on pleasure and business. He motored to Florida and back and collected specimens on the trip.

M. A. C. Alumnae!

Home Coming day there will be a mass meeting of all the Home Economics graduates in the lecture room of the Woman's building at 11 o'clock. You must be there to help put across the greatest project M. A. C. has ever had to promote her Home Economics.

ATHLETICS

M. A. C. 109, Olivet 0, Largest Score On College Field

Putting up a game fight in spite of overwhelming odds Olivet was buried under a 109 to 0 score Saturday afternoon. This is the largest score that has ever been run up on College Field.

Olivet enters the gridiron lists this fall considerably handicapped because of the interruption of athletics during the past two years of inactivity—however they are gamely reestablishing themselves. A small band of supporters of the losing team accompanied their team to East Lansing, and like the outfit they backed they were not beaten until the game was history.

It appeared the interest in the stands was slumping considerably at the end of the first half when some Aggie voiced the happy suggestion to "Make it a hundred." From then on the struggle for a hundred score lent excitement to the contest and brought the rooters to their feet again and again.

Following the first quarter, in which three touchdowns were scored, Coach Clark sent in an entirely fresh team. At the beginning of the second half, the eleven which opened the game was sent back and at the opening of the last period, team number two was again sent into the field.

Straight football alone was used by the Aggies. The new attack which has been given the team for the Nebraska and Notre Dame games was not attempted. Several forward passes were tried and of these a few were successful but it was on off-tackle plays and end runs that the gains were made.

For the first time since the opening of the season, the Aggies now have two weeks in which they can take time to do anything necessary from patching weaknesses to rebuilding the entire team. No game is scheduled for next Saturday but the following week, Chicago College of Physical Training comes here for the Homecoming game.

Cross Country This Week

M. A. C.'s cross country team is showing excellent form in the last few days before the state run against Michigan and other colleges which will take place Saturday. A try-out over a four-mile course was held Saturday for the seven men who compose the team. The men were not strung out very badly at the finish and Coach Smith believes that we have a good chance of winning against our state competitors.

It was formerly hoped that the run could be held on Home Coming day and it was set for that time when arrangements were finally settled but the Annual Home Coming has been postponed one week and the run cannot be postponed. If it were postponed until the thirteenth it would leave the meet too close to the run which is to be held on the twentieth of November. If the Aggie runners show up well Saturday and finish a full team in fairly close order they are promised a trip to the Conference.

'15 Alumnus Returns

Elton B. Hill returned to the college on October 15, as Assistant to Dean Shaw in the preparation of bulletins and other Experiment Station work, and part time instructor in short courses during the winter. Since leaving college Hill has been located in Menominee, Michigan, first as county agricultural agent and for the last two years as agriculturist for the Menominee River Sugar Co. His varied experiences along practical agricultural lines makes him especially fitted for his new work.

The Cornell Semi-Centennial Endowment Fund, which is being raised among alumni chiefly, to provide increases in salaries for members of the instructing staff, has reached $5,939,000. A goal of $10,000,000 is set for January 1921. When the project was first started, $5,000,000 was the goal.

In Japan only one person in 6,700 ever attends a school of college or university grade.

Two dormitories	600,000
Cement Stadium	100,000

the above figures to be revised by Architect Bowd.

The President presented a tentative budget for Vocational Teacher Training under the Smith-Hughes Act which, on motion of Mr. Woodman, was referred to the President and Prof. French for further conference and report at the next meeting.

The expenses of Deans Bissell and Shaw and Director Baldwin, as well as those of Dr. Bouyoucos, in attending various meetings at Springfield, Mass., under the auspices of the Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, were approved. Also the expenses of Dean Bissell in attending the anniversary celebration at Ohio State University.

The request of Dr. McCool for funds with which to carry on co-operative soil survey work with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, was referred to the President with the request that if he deems necessary, the required sum be added to the budget.

The soc penalty fee for late payment of fees by students, was abolished beginning with the winter term.

Mary E. Sweeney was appointed Dean of Home Economics, and the appointment of May Person as Acting Dean of Home Economics was approved.

The following rules relating to the Health Service were adopted with the proviso that Rule 4 be referred to the President and Secretary with power to act after conferring with the Health Officer:

1. An annual appropriation should be deposited to the credit of the Health Service.
2. A Health Service fee of one dollar and fifty cents should be paid by each student including the short course students (this fee should entitle each student to physical examinations, unlimited advice and treatment at the Health Service Dispensary and sixty days' care per year in the College Hospital).
3. A room call fee of two dollars should be made for each call placed with the Health Service Director, by a student, between 6:00 A. M. and 9:00 P. M. A similar fee of three dollars should be made for each call placed between 9:00 P. M. and 6:00 A. M. A bill for each room call should be sent from the office of the Health Service to the proper college authority to be collected and deposited to the credit of the Health Service.

4. Hospital and physicians' and surgeons' fees for patients who are sent to private hospitals by the Director of the Health Service should be paid by the Health Service.

5. Ambulance and taxi service should be paid by the Health Service.

6. The expense of X-ray and special examinations approved by the Health Service Director should be paid by the Health Service.

7. Refer fees to private physicians, operations of choice and operations for chronic conditions should be paid for by the patient.

8. Consultants' fees, if the consultation is requested by the Director of the Health Service, should be paid by the Health Service; if requested by the patient or friends or relatives of the patient, they should be paid by the patient.

Four hundred dollars was added to the apportionment of the Farm Crops Department as a special fund to provide for the expense of a grain and hay exhibit at the Chicago International Nov. 29th to Dec. 7th.

The expenses of Mr. Megee in making a trip to Camden, Indiana, on business connected with the Farm Crops Department, were approved.

Mr. Hudson was authorized to attend a sale of Percheron horses in Iowa Oct. 20th and 21st with expenses paid.

The matter of the appointment of a Drum Major and Assistant in the Military Department, was referred to President Kedzie.

The expenses of Mr. Turner in accompanying the Michigan Boys' Club Live Stock Judging Team for a judging contest at Atlanta, Georgia, were approved.

H. V. Clark is pastor of the Presbyterian church at Burlingame, Kansas.

Clifton B. Charles of Bangor, says his occupation is that of "tired farmer."

'87

Dr. W. W. Diehl, pastor of the First M. E. Church at Albion, is also lecturer of Rural Sociology at Albion College. He lives at 308 College Ct.

W. C. Sanson, Caro, sends this, "Will close my term as County treasurer December 31. Will then go to the state legislature as representative from Tuscola County. I was captain of the football team in '86 and '87, and hope the team will beat Michigan next year."

We'll all be there for Home Coming.

'90

R. B. McPherson, 124 Grand River Ave., Howell, sends greetings to friends in '90.

'91

Herbert W. Mumford is on leave of absence for one year from the University of Illinois as professor of Animal Husbandry, to assume the position of Director of the Live Stock department of the Illinois Agricultural Association with over 100,000 members.

M. G. Kains, in response to a questionnaire sent out to a few Record readers, says in part, "Not enough class notes about older classes to please older classmen. Not your fault! The men think events too trivial to write about. 'Taint so!" Commenting on the heading, 'Special articles about particular alumni who are doing things,' he remarks, "Good stuff! Alumni who really do things should be put in the limelight. Good one while ago about 'Pete' Woodworth. Another about S. M. Tracey—obituary I'm sorry to note—but excellent, especially Garfield's letter following it."

Once more we'll get together Nov. 13.

From E. H. Sedgwick, 168 Howard St., Passaic, N. Jersey, "We would like to see more news items regarding the engineering department's activities, and personals from the alumni previous to 1900. We hope to see the name of the college changed. I hope to send my son out to inspect M. A. C. next summer. I favor perpetuating the dormitory system and boarding clubs."

'03

H. W. Dey, farming at Springport, visited the campus on Oct. 27.

'05

From Mrs. Fred E. Morse (Paulina Eloise Raven), Jasper, we have, "Just as busy as it is possible for a farmer's wife to be. I am raising a fine boy, James Fred, who is a good example of my study in food values. I am also lecturer of the Grange and president of the Jasper Woman's Club. We are planning for a big Lenawee County M. A. C. meeting in the very near future."

See you at Home Coming.

A recent issue of the Lansing State Journal carries this news item, "Robert E. Ferguson, formerly of this city, has resumed his connection with the department of justice, and has taken an assignment which locates him in Los Angeles, Calif. He resigned his position with the government a short time ago to become an investigator for a Wayne County periodical."

'06

Joseph B. Wilkinson (with) is a salesman for the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. and lives at 237 Leslie Ave., Detroit. After January 1 his address will be 1679 Leslie.

'07

George Henry Ellis, Helena, Montana, asks to have his street address changed to 18 Chaucer, and adds these interesting notes, "Helena is an old town with lots of old shacks but very few modern houses. We came here as strangers, and got into an old house with a mean landlord, and so we moved into another old house. It was in pretty bad shape but the landlord agreed to furnish the paint if I would do the work, and so I have painted the entire interior, working nights. I don't remember the name of the man who runs the paint shop at M. A. C., but if he is the same man who was there in the summer of 1906, please thank him for me for the training he gave me during that summer vacation. Am just starting on a week's trip measuring water. Will go down thru the Judith basin, and then catch the Musselshell and Jefferson River coming back. Have been pretty busy for the past six weeks assembling stream flow data for the biennial report of the state engineer."

Be sure to get in early Nov. 13.

“How few of them are making any money”

TWO college men sat at luncheon recently in a New York hotel. One is a graduate of Cornell University, a man in the middle years; the other graduated from Amherst twelve years ago. Both are Presidents of successful corporations; and both are active in the endowment campaigns of their respective alma maters.

“The thing that has amazed me in this campaign,” said the younger man, “is to discover how few of the men who were in my class at college are really making any money. They have been out twelve years, and yet many of them are doing hardly any better than had they never been to college.”

“They never find out what business is all about”

THE older man nodded agreement. “The same thing has impressed me,” he said. “The trouble is that many men assume that a college education is, by itself, a complete preparation for business. They would never expect to succeed at medicine or law without special training.

“But they enter business from the university, get into a departmental position and stay there all their lives. They never master the relationship of the different departments to each other. They are cogs in the machine, without understanding quite what it is all about.”

A Course whose product is understanding

THE Alexander Hamilton Institute was founded by a group of business men and educators who realized that modern business was developing specialists, but not executives; that somehow more men must be taught the fundamentals that underlie the operations of every department of business.

The Institute has only one Course. It takes a man out of college or a man who knows one department of business—advertising, or accounting, or costs, or factory production, or whatever his experience has taught him—and gives him a working knowledge of all the other departments of business.

Such a man receives in a few months of reading what ordinarily would consume years of practical experience. He finds in the Institute a more direct path from where he is to where he wants to be. He has the satisfaction of carrying large responsibilities while he is still young.

Naturally and inevitably he earns more than the average man of the same years and education.

More than fifty universities

THAT the Institute is of special value to college men is proved by the fact that 35% of the men who enrol in its Modern Business Course and Service are graduates of American colleges and universities.

The authoritative character of its training is proved by the adoption of its volumes as text-books by more than fifty of the leading universities and colleges of the country.

The members of the Advisory Council represent national leadership both in education and in business. They are:

Frank A. Vanderlip, the financier; General Coleman duPont, the well known business executive; John Hays Hammond, the eminent engineer; Jeremiah W. Jenks, the statistician and economist; and Joseph French Johnson, Dean of New York University School of Commerce.

Look over the largest businesses

MAKE a list of the most successful businesses in America. It is interesting to note that in every single instance they have among their officers and younger executives a large percentage of Alexander Hamilton Institute men.

In the United States Steel Corporation, 545 men are enrolled; in the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, 346; in the Standard Oil Co., 801; in the Ford Motor Company, 343; in the General Electric Company, 402 and so on thru-out the biggest concerns in America.

Surely when the leading universities and the leading business enterprises of the country unite in such unanimous indorsement, the training which they indorse must be worthy of your investigation at least.

“Forging Ahead in Business”

THE Alexander Hamilton Institute's Course is not for every man. It is no magic to save from failure the man who does not deserve to succeed. Most of the men enrolled in its Course would be successful, in the long run, even without its training. The Institute is a broadener of vision; a more direct path to executive responsibility; a firm foundation for the man who is entering business on his own account. Any man who is not willing to be content with the small rewards of business will find it well worth while to send for “Forging Ahead in Business,” the 116-page book which tells the whole story of what the Institute is and does. Send for your copy today.

J. G. France is Assistant Farm Adviser at San Diego, Calif.

Huber C. Hilton is still supervisor of the Michigan National Forest at East Tawas, and still single.

Guy H. Smith asks to have his address changed from Detroit, to 327 Eighth St., Miami, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Zelin C. Goodell are proudly announcing the arrival of a daughter, Janet Eleanor, on Monday, October 25.

We'll all be there for Home Coming.

C. Tubergen writes, "If possible please send me the address of Sam Miners. Understand he is somewhere out in the mountains of Colorado. If this is the case would like very much to get in touch with him as I presume he is rather lonesome. One sees so much sickness out this way that it sort of hardens one, and soon you can't tell just who is afflicted. Sort of amuses me. In my quest for a room the lady asked, 'Are you out here for your health?' I said, 'No, for wealth.' However, I haven't been very successful. The living is in keeping with the altitude,—mile high. So can you blame me for wanting to get back to earth. The mountains are wonderful, that is if one likes mountains. As for myself, never having cultivated them, I can't justly say I am crazy about them. At present I am busy trying to locate a home with a nice daughter and a fire-place to spend the long winter nights. However, in this too I must admit I haven't been very successful. Oh, that I had a way with women!"

The country seems to be experiencing a healthy and general readjustment of prices. Prices in many lines seem definitely to be coming down—and the purchasing power of the dollar to be going up.

However, milk prices for October held closely to the September price, which was at a high level. The October milk price was about 30% higher than the May price. Our price on BUFFALO CORN GLUTEN FEED declined some 35% since May.

In this general decline of prices, the feeder of BUFFALO CORN GLUTEN FEED has had a distinct advantage in the shape of our guarantees against decline in our price.

With these guarantees on BUFFALO CORN GLUTEN FEED, the dealer has been able to rewrite his price from time to time, and keep current with the declines; and the dairy farmer, who has bought this feed with the same protection, is able to mark down his costs in the same way.

A grain ration with a liberal proportion of BUFFALO CORN GLUTEN FEED can be made up—on account of these guarantees—at a much lower cost than with other concentrated feeds.

Life on the Ocean with Electricity at the Helm

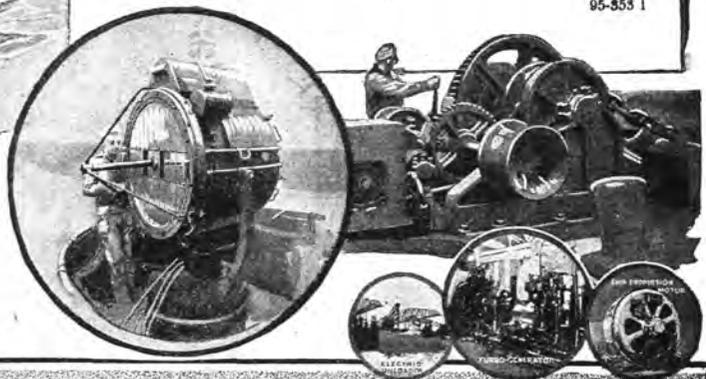

In the old days, life before the mast was rated in terms of man power but the new sea is measured in horse-power, with electricity as the controlling force.

A modern electric ship, like the "New Mexico" or the "California," is a great city afloat. With oil or fuel, a central power plant generates sufficient energy to propel the massive vessel and to furnish light and power for every need.

And on the shore the application of electricity to the loading, unloading and repair work saves time and labor.

To make possible marine electrification the future needs aboard ship had to be visualized and then the machinery engineered to meet those needs. In this capacity the organization, experience and facilities of the General Electric Company have been serving the American Navy and Merchant Marine.
