EAST LANSING

NOVEMBER 11, 1921

DR. CHESTER B. EMERSON, pastor of the North Woodward Avenue Congregational Church of Detroit, the largest in Michigan, gave the address at the Armistice Day exercises held in the Gymnasium Friday morning. The program which was in charge of the William R. Johnson Post of the American Legion and directed by Prof. A. H. Nelson, followed a parade of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at which ex-service men were in the reviewing stand. All classes were dismissed after 10 o'clock. The band and the R. O. T. C. unit participated in the Armistice Day parade in Lansing in the afternoon.

WEDNESDAY MORNING the campus awoke after a day and a night of storm and found itself wearing the coat that it usually saves for January, nineteen inches of "the beautiful" having fallen since Monday night. This was the heaviest fall of snow ever recorded for this time of year, in the period covered by the records of the East Lansing Weather Station. Goloshes and sleighbells jingled on campus highways Wednesday and Thursday.

THE HOMECOMING CROWD at the South Dakota game Saturday was the third largest ever gathered on College Field to witness a football contest. The largest crowd ever accommodated was on the occasion of the Michigan game in 1914, the second for the Oregon Aggies in 1915. Saturday's throng was estimated at between 6500 and 7000. The alumni sections were sold out by the middle of the week and their allotment of seats had to be increased.

PRESIDENT-ELECT DAVID FRIDAY, Dean R. S. Shaw, Dean G. W. Bissell, Dean Mary E. Sweeny and R. J. Baldwin, of M. A. C., are representing Michigan Agricultural College at the National Conference of Land Grant Colleges being held at New Orleans. Prof. E. H. Ryder is acting president in the absence of Dean Shaw.

"TO A WILD ROSE," a poem by Miss Ruth Lechlitner '23, of East Lansing, appeared in the November issue of the Contemporary Verse magazine. This poem was written last spring for the Eunomian-Holcad contest which offers a prize every year for the best poems written by college students. Miss Lechlitner won both first and second prizes for the contest last spring. Her poem "The Factory," was awarded first prize. The editors of the Contemporary Verse are putting out a little volume of current college poetry and the poem "To a Wild Rose" will appear in this volume.

THE NEXT TIME HON. L. WHITNEY WATKINS '93, comes up to the campus for a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture he may be expected to be wearing a big green varsity monogrammed sweater. The Varsity Club sprung a little surprise upon Mr. Watkins in the evening of Homecoming day, when, gathering with him in their midst in the Varsity Club rooms in the Gymnasium, they presented him with the varsity sweater.

A TAG DAY SOLICITATION was made Thursday to send the Clown Band to Indianapolis to accompany the team in its tilt with Butler College Saturday afternoon.

DR. ALFRED E. TAYLOR of Philadelphia, appears Wednesday, Nov. 16 on the Students' Lecture Course. Dr. Taylor is said to be one of America's most famous economists and lecturers, and has performed some wonderful work for the University of Pennsylvania and for the government.

AFTER TWO DAYS OF CAMPAIGNING the East Lansing team, captained by Jacob Schepers, had reported 212 subscriptions totaling $3537 on Wednesday. The Lansing Community Welfare Fund drive of which this is a part opened Monday night, November 7 with the blowing of whistles and display of fireworks in Lansing and will continue for the entire week. East Lansing came into the limelight along with competing campaign teams on Monday when at the daily luncheon following the first day of the drive they reported a total of 78 subscriptions. This was the largest reported by any team and the East Lansing squad was awarded the blue pennant for that day. At the meeting of the campaigners on Wednesday the East Lansing team stood second in the number of subscriptions and second in the amount subscribed. In the Community Welfare Fund are grouped fifteen charitable and welfare organizations which are to benefit. Included in these are the College Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., the former to receive $2,000 and the latter $400.

A UNIQUE PLAN IN SENDING OUT "BIDS" to the women's literary societies, one designed to minimize the heart rendings of freshmen girls who are prospective pledges, was put into effect this fall with much success. The names of all girls who were to be bid were sent by each society to Mr. Carl H. Reynolds, a disinterested Lansing lawyer. From his office there was then sent to each girl on the lists, a preference slip, on which she stated her choice of the societies she wished to join if she was asked. These preference slips were then matched up with the names desired by the societies and the results communicated to them after which bids were sent the new girls according to their choice. So successful was the plan as carried out this year, that it will undoubtedly be adopted as a permanent arrangement.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

"Alma Mater, our institutional mother, unlike our dear mother of flesh and blood, is always young, is always growing and always needing strength. She is a creature of immortal youth and deathless function and endless needs. There is about her an eternal fecundity. Young scions play about her knees in ever increasing numbers while her great grandchildren come on pilgrimages in her honor."—Edwin A. Alderman, President of the University of Virginia.

Never has the need of a real college home been quite so noticeable as at Homecoming this year. At the annual gathering of alumni at Commencement the weather is usually warm and pleasant and meeting and visiting and talking can be done out of doors anywhere. But at Homecoming it's different. As the crowd gathers in November a warm place under a roof and with a glowing fire in sight is most conducive to a flow of good spirits while shaking hands and extending greetings to the old college friends again.

Picture if you can what the Union Memorial Building would have meant to the campus and to alumni Saturday. First of all it would have been a center, a headquarters where returning graduates and former students would have found the hospitality of the campus extended to them. It would have been a general gathering place where everyone would have gone first to leave their wraps or their bags or to have reserved a room or their seats for the game, and where they would have found John Jones and Bill Smith and all the old bunch. It would have been the one spot where they would have expected to find every other one of their old college mates sooner or later. As it was Saturday, the crowd was scattered here and there over the community and many of the old friends entirely missed each other. With a Union Building, a returning alumnus steps immediately into the center of college life. He isn't buffeted to the outer edges as happened Saturday.

The need of a dining room where a luncheon or a banquet can be prepared and served for numbers up to 600 or 700 was never so well demonstrated, regret it as we may. With Clubs A and C closed against any affairs except their own regular "mealers" it is almost impossible to arrange a banquet for any number over 100 in the whole college community. Caterers won't take the job and we don't blame them. The Union Building will be planned and equipped for just such banquets as this, and will serve not only alumni but the whole college family dozens of times a year.

M. A. C. alumni must own their own home and that, soon.

Another Homecoming celebration is history. As the refrain of the old song rang through the air Saturday it surely did seem as though the "gang was all here." "ALL HERE" This year's annual football celebration of alumni was by far the largest ever held and the best attended. From a casual glance over the stands during the game the hundreds of familiar faces made all the estimates of alumni and former students attending the game seem conservative.

Never before have the campus divisions of the M. A. C. family been so enthused and energetic over a Homecoming spree. Student committees began early and worked late planning and preparing for the entertainment of alumni. Everywhere there was a desire to make something more of Homecoming this year than had been made of it in the past. Practically every campus organization had a part in the preparation.

In view of the fraternity agitation many of the societies seized upon Homecoming as an opportunity for discussion and consideration of the long talked of fraternity matter. There was a larger return of the older "brothers and sisters" to the societies than there has even been before.

This is the first time that the barbecue has been included as a part of the Homecoming festivities. It was entirely new to many who had never before witnessed the celebration in which the sophomores bid the freshmen welcome to the campus home and take them in as a part of the family. It is hoped that it may continue as a regular feature of the Homecoming program in years to come.

Those who missed Homecoming this year missed something good and all we may add is, resolve now not to be a "misser" next year.

ONE HUNDRED BOY SCOUTS acted as ushers at the Homecoming game Saturday, and at the same time nearly three hundred Scouts of Lansing and East Lansing were guests of the Athletic Association at the contest.

A SMOKER was held by the American Legion in the Armory Tuesday evening, November 8. Members of the Gun and Blade Club were guests, participating in the cider, doughnuts, and smokes.

Homecomers Came Home, As Never Before.

The largest crowd of homecomers ever had at the annual fall celebration enjoyed the game and the many entertainments planned for them last week-end. It was not possible to get a registration of all alumni and former students but it is estimated from the crowd at the game, the Society guests and the attendance at the Homecoming luncheon that at least 800 graduates and former students renewed their acquaintance with the old college again and had their youthful spirit revived in the Homecoming festivities.

Starting off with the barbecue Friday evening and ending with the Union party Saturday night there was something doing every minute. The first phalanx arrived Friday morning and by Friday evening there were several hundred on hand for the barbecue.

The student parade was the best ever put on, practically every society and campus organization being represented. Its caricaturing of college history and campus characters was greatly enjoyed by the "old timers."

About 325 attended the alumni luncheon in the Armory, at which Dean Shaw, acting president, gave a brief but most assuring outline of the college situation and the future before us. His sketch of the forward strides that M. A. C. is sure to make in the next few years was greeted with much applause. During the luncheon the clown band led by Mark Small '22, "busted in and busted out again" rendering a number of snappy selections between "busts." Miss Agnes Ayres '25, gave several violin selections during the banquet.

While the crowd gathered in the stands for the game, Arthur Davis '23, professional stunt flyer, sailed through a thrilling repertoire of aerial acrobatics high up over the field. Between halves the "Shorts" and the "Leans" in a burlesque football game were introduced by the clown band.

The Union party in the gymnasium at night attracted a great many of the old boys and girls who were still young enough to "shake

The Barbecue Friday night opened the Homecoming celebration. The huge pile of wood heaped up all Friday afternoon by freshmen and sophomores blazed with such intensity that it was feared that it would shatter the windows of Kedzie Laboratory at the right. The outlines of the Union Literary Society House may be seen in the center just beyond the fire, with Wells Hall at the extreme left.

a wicked foot." During the dance and throughout the day in fact, the Varsity Club bar in the club rooms in the gymnasium was a most popular rendezvous.

Numbers enjoyed the hospitalities of the society houses over the week-end and were entertained with dinners, luncheons, and open house affairs on Sunday.

R. T. Taylor, English Prof. on Rhodes Committee.

Rudolph T. Taylor, Asst. Prof. of English, has just been appointed as one of the three men who will form the Rhodes Scholarship Board for the state of Michigan. This board passes upon all applications from the state of Michigan for Rhodes scholarships at Oxford University.

Prof. Taylor, who is a graduate of the University of Kentucky, was a Rhodes scholar a few months previous to the breaking out of the World war. He left his studies to become an attache of the American embassy in London. While engaged in this work he became intimately acquainted with Lord Northcliffe, at whose home he lived for several months.

Girls May Win Varsity Monograms.

M. A. C. co-eds now have a chance to win a varsity monogrammed sweater. By a recent arrangement of the department of physical training co-eds are to be given points for their work in athletics and have a chance of winning honors just as a football, basketball or track man wins his monogrammed sweater.

There are seven distinct sports in which a girl will have a chance to participate. They are swimming, hockey, soccer, baseball, basketball, rifle marksmanship and tennis. A definite number of points are awarded to each girl who participates in some of these sports and if she makes a class or winning team she gains an extra number. To the winner of 100 points a heavy monogrammed sweater is awarded and a class sweater is given to those who make class teams.

This gives young women students an equal chance with the men in winning varsity recognition in athletic attainments.

Executive Committee Meeting.

The Executive Committee of the M. A. C. Association met in the People's Church Saturday morning, November 5, Homecoming day. The meeting was called to order by President Ranney and the following were present: H. C. Pratt '09, vice-president; C. S. Langdon '11, director; A. C. MacKinnon '05, representing Bay City; Glen Burkhart '10, representing Livingston County; Merritt Reeves '20, representing Central Michigan; N. O. Weil '17, representing Central Michigan; R. G. Carr '08, representing Grand Rapids; C.

L. Rose '10, representing Saginaw; G. V. Branch '12, representing Detroit Club; Glen Sanford '11, representing Jackson, and Mrs. Ranney, Mr. McCool and Doctor Hedrick of the Plans Committee. Proxies from Washington, D. C., Calhoun County and Milwaukee Association were in the hands of President Ranney.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The matter of an undertaking of the Varsity Club representing a solicitation of a small amount from the alumni members of the club and the faculty was presented by Mr. Weil. This was approved after some discussion, it being the opinion of those at the meeting that the undertaking would in no way interfere with the plans of the alumni organization.

Mr. Weil also presented the matter of scholarships for athletes as a proposal from the Flint Club. In view of the question of policy involved it was felt best that this should be given a very thorough consideration and it was moved and seconded that a committee be appointed to consider the matter. The motion was carried.

Motion was made and seconded that a committee be appointed to secure from the State Board of Agriculture at the earliest opportunity their sanction of the location requested for the Union Memorial building. Carried. Those appointed on the committee were Doctor Hedrick and Secretary McKibbin.

Mr. Branch moved that the Secretary be authorized to get in touch immediately with companies and individuals who make a business of college and university money raising campaigns and get from them their terms for organizing and carrying on the publicity in the campaign for the Memorial Building. Seconded and carried.

A motion was made to appoint a committee to take under advisement the situation with regard to finances and help in the Secretary's office. This motion was amended to make the President, Mr. Branch and Mr. MacKinnon that committee. The motion as amended was carried.

Adjournment, to meet again the first week in December or earlier upon the call of the President.

C. W. McKibbin, Secretary.

WHO REMEMBERS IT? The Lansing State Journal on Tuesday, November 8 printed the following in its "25 Years Ago Today" column: "There was a small fire in Williams Hall at M. A. C. this morning."

PROF. A. C. CONGER of the Zoology department was in Marshall on Friday, Oct. 28, where he gave a talk before the Community Club on the economic value of birds. Mr. Conger's services were secured for the occasion by R. M. Roland commonly known as "Dad" of the class of '15, now County Agent of Calhoun County.

ATHLETICS

Victory Staged for Homecomers.

An excited and enthusiastic crowd of Homecomers, the largest that has ever been drawn back to the campus for the annual fall reunion of the M. A. C. family, saw the Green and White win from South Dakota on College Field Saturday 14 to 0.

Fumbles, most of them resulting from erratic passes from center, and failure to make use of their best bet in the way of offense were responsible for M. A. C.'s failure to run up a larger score against South Dakota.

The throng who witnessed the Homecoming game approximated seven thousand, probably the greatest number on the East Lansing field in six years. The Green machine was pitted against a team which it could outplay by five touchdowns, but its two touchdown victory was keenly appreciated by a majority of the alumni who had returned for the occasion.

Brady, calling signals until the middle of the fourth quarter, when he was injured, failed to take advantage of the Aggie ability to sift through the Dakota defense on off-tackle and through guard plays during the fore part of the game. At the same time he played such an aggressive game on his own part, that his mistakes in directing the attack can be easily overlooked.

Saturday's game proved once more than the tales of the Aggie defensive strength constitute no myth. Only twice during the game did the Dakotans make their distance, once when Collins broke through the line for a 15-yard journey, and again when the first forward pass attempted by the Scarlet, was completed. On this last occasion, South Dakota held the ball in Michigan Aggie territory, it being the only time in the game that it accomplished the feat.

Time after time, the Vermillion eleven tried to repeat the successful pass, but Barron's men had been too well-drilled in the valuable art of breaking up aerial plays. Just before the close of the game, South Dakota made one pass too many. Noblet intercepted the leather in its flight and ran 30 yards for the final touchdown for the Aggies.

Graves was the power behind the line in the Aggie defense. Roving behind the Green forward wall the big fullback kept his eyes glued to the ball, and when linemen were busy taking Scarlet-clad forwards out of play he was almost always in position to throw himself into the hole and ground the runner without gain.

The Aggie offense continues to lag behind the defense. However, Brady, Johnson, Archbold and Noblet all carried the pigskin on flying trips during the game, and Graves had to be ridden by more than two opposing players to be stopped in his plunges.

Fumbling of the backs on running plays and plunges can be blamed for the most part on the passing from center.

For muffing the ball too frequently on short passes the backs themselves were to blame. Archbold and Graves each juggled the leather on occasions when there seemed little reason for their not clamping on it.

After the third period had gone half way, Johnson circled right end for twenty yards putting the ball on the Dakota eight-yard line. Carrying the ball a second time, he traveled the opposite end and crossed the goal line. Brady kicked goal.

It was in the fourth quarter during Dakota's frenzied passing attempt that Noblet who had replaced Brady, scored the second touchdown. Noblet grabbed the ball on the 30-yard line, ducked through the Dakota backs, fell on the 10-yard line, but recovered to make a touchdown. During his run the whistle had blown for the close of the game, but the play was in motion and good as gold. Archbold kicked the goal.

Noblet made the touchdown on his last play on the Aggie field. He receives his third monogram at the close of this season and passes out of varsity to ball circles.

Cross Country Lost to Michigan.

The Green and White lost the state championship for the first time in three years as a result of the Michigan State Cross Country Run staged over the East Lansing course Saturday as a feature of the Homecoming entertainment. Michigan won Saturday's meet with a total of 29 points, M. A. C. finishing second with 28 points.

Other finishing teams and their scores were as follows: M. A. C. reserves, 110; M. A. C. freshmen, 116; Michigan State Normal, 136;

Michigan reserves, 137; Hope, 170. Full teams for other schools entered failed to start. The time for the run was 25 minutes 40 1-5 seconds, this being a record for state runs.

This year's victory gives Michigan the first leg on a new state championship trophy. The former cup was won for the third time and permanently by M. A. C. last fall.

Had either Nesman or Clark been running for the Aggie varsity a victory would have been gained again this year. However, both of these men were relegated to the reserves for the state run, and their low scores only aided the second team to place third in the list.

Michigan and M. A. C. will meet again in the Western Conference run at Indiana University on November 19. According to reports from Bloomington the field will consist of ten conference schools, Iowa State and M. A. C.

Individuals who won the first ten places in Saturday's run were Chute, Michigan, first; Thurston, M. A. C., second; Adolph, M. A. C., third; Arndt, Michigan, fourth; Brendel, M. A. C., fifth; Huston, M. A. C., sixth; Whittemore, Michigan, seventh; Standish, Michigan, eighth; Bowen, Michigan, ninth; Klassen, M. A. C. freshmen, tenth.

Tennis Squad Begins Early.

Plans for next year's tennis team were threshed out in the gymnasium last Wednesday evening, when Coach Young met the dozen or more court enthusiasts in preparation for the net game next spring.

Plans are being laid for a series of six talks on the technique and science of the game, by the coach and a couple of men who have played considerable intercollegiate and tournament tennis.

Practice sessions will go into effect this week in the handball room in the gymnasium where the squad will endeavor to develop greater perfection in striking and serving. Regular schedule giving everyone a couple of hours a week to practice and keep in form has become effective.

Stroh '15 Compliments Commandant.

Schofield Barracks, Hawaii,
September 22, 1921.

Major P. G. Wrightson,
Michigan Agricultural College,
East Lansing, Mich.

Dear Sir:

I have just read, in the September issue of the Infantry Journal, an account of your unique and doubtless successful efforts to arouse interest in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at the Michigan Agricultural College.

My interest in this matter is especially keen in that I am a graduate of the College, class of 1915; and I desire to add my congratulations to those of the editor of the Journal on your excellent work as Commandant there.

During my four years at M. A. C. I was actively interested in the military work, but in looking back to that period, with our woefully inadequate equipment, and haphazard instruction, it seems hardly possible that in less than five years such remarkable changes have been made for the betterment of the training offered.

I also note with interest, in the September 2 issue of the M. A. C. Record, the fine records made by the College men at Fort Monroe and at Fort Sheridan, no doubt largely due to your splendid efforts.

The old school occupies a large place in my heart, and any success her representatives achieve, particularly along military lines, is a source of great gratification.

With best wishes for continued success,

Very truly yours,

D. A. Stroh '15.

Capt. 35th Infantry.

Major Frazer '09 Captures Rifle Trophies.

From his performance at the National rifle matches at Camp Perry this summer it appears that William D. Frazer '09, now Major, Coast Artillery Corps, and professor of Military Science and Tactics at University of Washington, Seattle, (but always just plain "Bill" to his classmates in '09), pulls a "mean trigger." In fact "Bill's" trigger finger is about the "meanest" in Uncle Sam's whole army, there's only one meaner for Frazer lost the National Individual Rifle Championship by one point.

When Major Frazer journeyed homeward from Camp Perry this summer he carried with him the Leech Cup and enough medals and prizes to satisfy most men for the rest of their days.

The Leech Cup, won by Major Frazer, is the oldest and most famous of the National match trophies. It was presented to the Rifle-men of America by Captain Arthur R. Leech of the Irish Rifle team in 1874, on the occasion of the visit of this team to America and has been competed for at National matches since that time. Major Frazer broke all previous records in this match by 45 points.

Major Frazer lost the National Individual Rifle Championship by one point, but was awarded a gold medal. During the matches, he won four gold and three bronze medals, besides numerous cash and merchandise prizes. In detail his winnings were:

(1) The Leech Cup Match. The winner gets Gold Medal and custody of the Leech cup for one year. Match consisted of seven shots for record with the rifle at 800, 900, and 1000 yards. Highest record for 25 years was 135 points. Winning score this year 180 points. (30 consecutive bull's-eyes).

(2) Sixth place in the National Individual Pistol Match and a gold medal.

(3) Fourth place and bronze medal in the Athletic Girls Group in the Homecoming Parade.

All-Around Championship of United States. This match consisted of shooting rifle, pistol and shotgun in a series of matches with these weapons.

(4) Gold medal and place on the Coast Artillery Rifle and Pistol Team.

(5) Bronze medal for being selected to shoot on the All-Army Team in the United Service Trophy Match. Sixteen men are selected from the entire army for this team.

(6) Gold "Distinguished Marksman" medal. The highest rating given by the government for excellence in marksmanship with the rifle.

(7) Several other medals in team and individual matches and the usual assortment of merchandise and cash prizes.

Department Notes

SEVERAL MEMBERS OF THE HORTICULTURAL DEPARTMENT attended the meeting of the Huron Fruit Belt Horticulture Society held at Almont Tuesday, Nov. 8, where they had important parts on the program. Mr. W. C. Dutton of the experiment station here discussed the subject of spraying and dusting at the meeting. Prof. R. E. Marshall talked on the subject of Pruning, and T. A. Farrand, extension specialist here represented the Michigan State Horticulture Society. Prof. R. E. Loree '13, was also one of the speakers.

COL. W. D. CHITTY, from the Chicago headquarters of the Sixth Corps area of the R. O. T. C. visited M. A. C. last Thursday to inspect the local unit of the R. O. T. C. Col. Chitty expressed himself as well satisfied with the appearance of the college unit, and with the instruction that was being given. He stated that he recommended this organization last year for the distinguished class which is conferred by the war department. There are only 12 units in the United States that receive the distinguished class. M. A. C. received it two years ago but not last year.

PROFESSOR VICTOR T. WILSON and wife of Detroit spent the Homecoming week-end with friends at East Lansing. Prof. Wilson was formerly at the head of the department of drawing and designing at M. A. C.

THE LANSING BRANCH of the Society of American Bacteriologists held its opening meeting of the year in the Bacteriology building at the college Tuesday at 5 p. m. Dinner was served for members and friends at 6:30 p. m. in The Flower Pot, about thirty-five attending. The program was a varied one, including "The Decomposition of Peet," and a preliminary report on cylinder experiments, by R. M. Snyder '14, of M. A. C.; "A Rack for Sterilizing Needles for Injection Purposes," by C. C. Young and M. Crooks, of the state health department; "The Concentration of Human Focces," by C. S. Robinson of M. A. C.; "The Quantitative Relator Between Antigen and Antibody in Complement Fixation," by R. L. Kahn and S. R. Johnson, of the state health department; "The Reaction of pirochete Tenogyrates to Neoarsphenamin," by W. L. Chandler, of M. A. C.; "Some Basic Requirements for Correct Wassermann Tests," by Mr. Kahn.

PROFESSOR H. W. MILLER, a retired colonel of the World war, and at the head of the drawing department of Michigan, visited the drawing and designing department recently and complimented the department on its work. Prof. Miller is the author of the "Mechanical Drafting" and the "Descriptive Geometry" texts that are used in the department.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT is preparing a musical play, "Love and Whist," which they hope to give about the first of December for the benefit of the music department and the band, which will assist in giving it.

WITH THE ALUMNI CLUBS

Macomb County Organizes.

Alumni and former students of Macomb County have decided to organize for business and the first meeting for the purpose of forming an M. A. C. Association is to be held on Tuesday evening, November 15, in the Mt. Clemens Club rooms, Chamber of Commerce Building. The time is 8 o'clock eastern standard time.

Announcements have been sent out to all Macomb County M. A. C. folk of which there is record. A representative from the campus will assist in the organization meeting.

Detroiters' Column.

"Mel" Taber drove from Detroit to East Lansing in two hours and 10 minutes Homecoming day. Another chance for Mel to boast about that Olds of his.

C. F. Jeffers '17, came to life the other day and showed up for the Friday lunch. His card reads "representing Michigan Rubber Heel Co., 110 E. Woodbridge St."

Another man, V. A. Clemens, decided that the best way to get on the mailing list was to show up at a lunch and pay his dues. His address is 5617 16th St.

Max Somers '17, who was badly wounded on a hunting trip a few weeks ago is almost ready to get back on the job. Max is an inspector for the Forestry division, Dept. of Parks and Boulevards.

Murdoch and Si Pate have just let the contracts for a $175,000 water system for the village of Lincoln Park.

City Forester Ed Smith '10, just returned from a buying trip through Iowa, Connecticut and New York. He was picking up shade trees for the Dynamic Village.

Earl Metzen has settled in Detroit again after spending some time in Florida. His address is 170 Moss Ave., Highland Park.

E. J. "Ty" Manuel says he has dodged his creditors long enough and will make his address permanent. It is 5509 Underwood. He is an electrical engineer with the Detroit Edison Co.

F. W. Marx '17, is with the Detroit City Gas Co., doing chemical work. He lives at 8711 Waterloo, Apt. B 3. Sunday afternoons he perambulates a baby daughter.

"Chuck" Bassett has developed a real football team at Ovid this year. Five members of the team have selected M. A. C. for their college.

Thirty-six alumni members sat down to dinner at the Eupomian House Homecoming day. "Chet" Spaulding came from Des Moines, Ia. He is handling paper products for the Scott Paper Co.

"Shelly" Lee '17, has changed his business address to 504 Union Trust Bldg., telephone Cadillac 440. He is selling insurance with the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

The following Detroit people have moved. Does anybody know where they are? Addresses given below are those last known:

Flint Club Boosts Athletics.

The peppiest and most successful alumni meeting ever held by the Flint M. A. C. Club took place in the private dining room of the Dresden Hotel Thursday evening, Nov. 3. While the total number was not as large as the officers of the club had hoped for, the enthusiasm and "pep" of the assemblage far surpassed any previous meeting.

First of all, the Dresden gave us the best dinner we ever had for an alumni meeting. The menu is proof of that statement:

Oyster Cocktail
Consomme
Chicken	Browned Potatoes
Biscuits	Cranberry Sauce
Celery	Salad
Ice Cream and Cake
Coffee

If anyone can get stung on that menu, they have to come from Jerusalem or Germany.

The central figure of the meeting was Norm Weil '17a, field agent for the college. Weil, by his year of work among the high schools of Michigan and adjoining states, and by his contact with athletics, has accumulated a wealth of live news and information which is a rare treat to any M. A. C. alumnus. It is unfortunate that some of our members were not present for Weil's talk. The people who missed his talk missed one of the best, if not the best, talk ever given to the Flint Club.

After a review of the recent past and the present and a touch (but not down), upon the A-L-B-I-O-N game, we moved ahead and looked over the plans and contemplations for next year and the successive years. Next, the alumnus' part in the plans for the future of the college, was considered. The drive for students, which is one of the jobs of the Flint Club this year, was given further impetus. The problem of keeping athletes in our college, after we have gotten them there, was considered and following a very favorable expression by the assembly toward alumni scholarships, a committee on scholarships was named as follows: Graves '13, Holihan '16, Fryman '05 and Stone '15.

The program committee are planning on a dancing party for the December meeting providing a canvass of our membership shows a sufficient number of our members interested.

Present at November meeting: H. R. Estes '17, Marjorie Potter Estes, M. Merriman '21, Edith Graham '20, Daphne W. Dodd '20, Clara Perry '20, Harriett Wilder '20, Hazel M. Wayne '15, R. E. Graves '13, Mrs. R. E. Graves, G. G. Holihan '16, Mrs. G. G. Holihan, Alta G. Pierce '05, P. B. Pierce '04, C. R. Wiggins '20, Helen M. Schmidt '21, M. G. Jewett '20, Marjorie S. The following tribute to George "Carp" Julian appeared in this year's Homecoming game program: It seems as we sit here watching this game that your old spirit of fight, "never give up," is out on the field into every play, just as it used to be. You made your mark here, "Carp," old man. Those who saw you in action can never forget you. Those who did not have that pleasure, know you from the high regard with which your name is held. We are delighted to know that you are recovering from the injury which has kept you in bed since 1916. We wish you health, happiness, prosperity. We are ever grateful for having had you with us. Your spirit will always be here. You made your mark, old man. You can't be kept down.

He also inquires "Why are there so few '18 notes?" Well, '18 why are there so few? We write up everything that comes in and the only thing to do is to "keep it coming."

Extracts from a letter from May Foley say "We are just beginning to get down to business in our work, and most of it seems very much worth while. It is hard though to think of studying again after being out of it for three years. The most interesting course I take is in Journalism at New York University. This is entirely separate from Columbia. We could not get what we wanted at Columbia because of the very crowded condition and because they favor their regular Journalism students and would not allow us to take the two courses that we particularly wanted. We go down to New York University once a week. It is an evening class made up mostly of reporters and other professionals. We get the real professional atmosphere. * * * Saturday we went down to New Haven to the Yale-West Point game. Yale beat 14 to 7. It was a most interesting game, especially from a scientific point of view because we could watch both sides impartially, but of course the heart interest of an M. A. C.-Michigan game was lacking for me. And we have them beat a mile for a band. * * * Do you hear much about the Disarmament Conference there. It seems to be the main topic of conversation in New York. Princeton is calling a Disarmament conference of college students from all the western schools. Even twenty of the girls' colleges have responded and are planning to attend. * * * Last Sunday we took a day trip up the Hudson to Poughkeepsie, and saw the most beautiful river scenery in the world. It was wonderful with the lovely autumn colorings (we have had no frost and practically none of the leaves have fallen). On one side we saw the palisades of New Jersey, rocky formations covered with growth, rising almost perpendicular above the level of the water, and on both sides farther up the low mountains and rolling country, with old towns and forts. We of course passed many points of historical interest of Revolutionary days, also Sing Sing prison and West Point Academy. It was a trip worth going across the country to take."
