AUGUST, 1932

Alumni Association Closes Important Year

(Editor's Note—Because of lack of space the special July issue did not carry the annual report of the secretary and the report of the resolutions committee adopted on Alumni Day. These reports are given below.)

R. Bruce McPherson,
President, M. S. C. association.
Sir:

AFTER more than five years of service to the organized alumni of Michigan State it becomes rather a stereotyped task to make an annual report. The best that can be done is to point out the high spots of the year just closed and make some prophecies for the future. Not always is each detail of a year's program carried out and not always does one feel encouragement in the tangible results of a year's effort. In the field of alumni activity is this particularly true.

Days or weeks of effort often go into some particular problem without the slightest hope that in any public way can the result be demonstrated. The building of a substantial and permanent alumni consciousness is the task of not months but years, and calls for continued persistence, courage, vision, and cooperation on the part of all concerned. I am often impatient at the slowness of progress and setbacks which are, I suppose, the normal obstacles in the way of achievement. As I picture the unlimited opportunities for profound, dignified and helpful service to the College, and realize our own present incapacity as an association to rise to our responsibilities, I try to analyze the situation.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PERMANENT

OCCASIONALLY one hears the old statement that some college presidents would willingly exchange positions with the wardens of state penitentiaries because they would then have no alumni interference or domination. So seldom does the evil ten per cent actually threaten that the malicious picturing of the extreme seems to me to be entirely uncalled for. The answer to the cynic's criticism, the only answer I can give to my own inquiries as to the future, is that alumni organizations are here to stay.

The problem is not whether we shall have them but how to bring them into their most useful relationship with the College, how to widen the interest among the alumni themselves, how to make better alumni. It is generally conceded among members of our alumni secretaries' council that the most important phase of this problem is that of the student body itself. The active and interested student makes the active and interested alumnus. It is then a responsibility resting jointly on the College and the alumni association. The energy of our own association is being directed to a large extent along these lines. Visitations to dormitories and fraternities, publicity stories and advertising in the undergraduate paper have been inaugurated this year. Whatever can be done to build up a more sympathetic understanding among students as to their future relationship with the alumni association and the College will be work of greatest influence and value for the future.

MRS. LINDA E. LANDON

—retired as librarian after more than 40 years of devoted service to the College. In recognition of the important part she played in the lives of hundreds of former students and as an expression of appreciation for her distinguished service the members of the M. S. C. Association extended to her on Alumni Day an honorary life membership in the alumni association.

With the understanding that our association builds its hope, not alone on financial assistance but on a sincere, loyal group of men and women, each one working unselfishly for the common good, we turn to the report.

MEMBERSHIP

IT WAS anticipated that in the hysteria of these times of economic stress that the paid-up membership of the alumni association would drop. We have lost a few for this reason. But the encouraging sign of the year has been the unwillingness of many loyal alumni to allow anything to interfere with the medium connecting them to their college. The officers of the alumni association have asked me to express appreciation to those individuals who have held membership this past year, and to those who have not yet become affiliated I extend a cordial invitation and a sincere plea that you avail yourselves of the opportunity. With a decline in revenue from membership the officers will insist that the alumni program be curtailed and that is something to be deplored because this is the year that the College can use all the assistance possible. We continue to look forward with eager eyes to the time when we can build up our annual alumni fund to the status it must occupy if we are to strengthen and expand our organized alumni work.

ALUMNI UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS

SCHOLARSHIPS and loan funds have been badly needed here for worthy students whose matriculation or continuance in college would be greatly handicapped without some outside assistance. Early last year our alumni president, Mr. McPherson, led a study of alumni undergraduate scholarships. By action of the State Board of Agriculture in April approximately thirty-two boys and girls, graduates of high schools of the state of Michigan, will enter the College next fall as the recipients of the first of the M. S. C. alumni undergraduate scholarships. The selection of these students is now in process and the applicant picked following a culling process which considers the qualifications of hundreds of high school pupils. The scholarships will be distributed equally over the state, one award being made in each senatorial district.

The scholarships amount to a waiver by the College of the term fees or tuition, and have a value of approximately $100.00 per year. The students are nominated by alumni and school officials from the upper one-fifth of their respective high school classes, and nominations have been confined to those students whose financial circumstances definitely warrant this scholarship aid. After the alumni clubs or committees make their final selections a faculty committee appointed by President Shaw will conduct a comprehensive examination for the applicants. This test will be given on July 30 and is calculated to determine accurately the mental caliber of scholarship winners.

The interest of alumni throughout the state in this important alumni project of the year leads me to believe that if the project is continued another year the result will be more applications, enlarged scholarship award committees, and definite and more carefully prepared plans by this network of active alumni in every county of the state of Michigan.

THE ALUMNI CLUBS

NO GREAT effort has been expended in the organization of alumni clubs this past year. I have previously expressed the feeling that local clubs, organized by pressure of the general association soon become stagnant. It is my opinion that except for specific purposes the growth of clubs should come slowly and as a result of local alumni desire.

We now have twenty-five regularly organized alumni clubs and I have personally visited eighteen of these groups this year. The past summer a trip through the east provided an excellent opportunity to meet our alumni in Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Ithaca, New York city, Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh. This summer I expect to direct my attention to visitation of alumni resident centers within the state of Michigan.

The alumni office constantly assists the local clubs—by supplying up-to-date lists, sometimes mailing notices, securing speakers, movies, etc.

THE ALUMNI OFFICE

AS I stated last year in my report, it is difficult for one to describe the multitudinous activities of our alumni office staff throughout the year. It has always seemed to me that much of the time and labor spent in gathering statistics and other detailed information about the accomplishments of the past might be directed much more profitably toward the doing of something worthwhile for the future. Lest you think that all we do in the office is smile sweetly into the telephone and take a vacation once a year—I quote from the authentic records of the Union's night commissioner that, during the twelve-month period ending June 1, the alumni office alone mailed out 43,175 letters and cards. In addition we sent out more than 30,000 copies of the alumni magazine, kept up a filing system for more than 7,200 graduates with separate base cards, plates, folders, etc., for each, located several hundred "lost alumni," assisted all local alumni clubs in one or more meetings, supplied hundreds of M. S. C. alumni with information and addresses enabling them to keep up intellectual and social contacts begun during college days, assisted class secretaries with reunion plans and letters, and numerous other groups who carry prestige for the College.

The backbone of our alumni relations is still, and probably always will be, THE RECORD, official alumni magazine. That magazine must continue to speak for itself. It has appeared this year in a new cover, as a symbol of sustained vitality, which has been quite favorably received.

CONCLUSION

I CANNOT close a report of this nature without voicing my appreciation of the work of the other individuals employed in the alumni office. Miss Gladys Franks, '27, as alumni recorder and office manager, handles the office routine in such a way that we have been complimented many times on our efficiency. Our restricted finances have made it necessary to eliminate one stenographer from our corps, and George Culp, of the class of '33, on a part time basis, has proved capable of carrying increased responsibility, decreasing but little the efficiency of the office though it has meant considerable night work for him. In addition I am sure few alumni associations can boast of a more harmonious executive committee than has served your interests this past year. To our retiring president, R. Bruce McPherson, '90, I wish to express my appreciation for his vital interest in the Association for the past two years and to tell him we are glad he is to retain a place on the executive committee.

While the office succeeded in spending all the money that the distracted treasurer could raise, it was expended for needed maintenance and a few improvements already overdue. The Association is only, properly speaking, the instrument, the machinery perhaps, to serve the College and the alumni in whatever manner is most desirable and feasible. The secretary asks only that the support of the alumni office be sufficient to keep the machinery in good order.

Respectfully submitted,

GLEN O. STEWART, '17,

Alumni Secretary.

Resolutions Committee Reports to President

To the President,
Michigan State College Association.
Sir:

Your committee on resolutions recommends the adoption of the following resolutions.

CLAUD R. ERICKSON, '22,

Chairman,

CLIFFORD W. MCKIBBIN, '11

W. G. KNICKERBOCKER, '16,

M. G. KAINS, '95,

MARY LASALLE, '17.

RESOLUTION 1

WHEREAS, We, as alumni of Michigan State college, have observed with great satisfaction and much pleasure, the steady progress and the sound development of our Alma Mater under the capable administration of our beloved president Robert S. Shaw, and

WHEREAS, we recognize this condition to be due in no small way to the integrity, far-sightedness, and inherent love for Michigan State college, possessed by our president, and

WHEREAS, this development has been made possible through the splendid cooperation given President Shaw by the State Board of Agriculture, administrative officers and faculty, and

WHEREAS, we, the alumni, have the utmost confidence in President Shaw's ability to build an even greater, more beautiful, and more useful Michigan State college,

IT IS FURTHER RESOLVED, that we, the alumni of Michigan State college, in annual meeting assembled at East Lansing, June 11, 1932, do hereby express our appreciation to President Shaw, his assistants, the faculty, and the State Board of Agriculture for their excellent work in behalf of our College and we do further pledge to President Shaw our continued support of his program for the strengthening and upbuilding of Michigan State college.

RESOLUTION 2

WHEREAS, The people of the State of Michigan through their legislature have seen fit to maintain and continue the long established mill tax plan for financing this institution, a sound plan which has been endorsed and adopted by many other states in the Union, and

WHEREAS, this system of mill tax financing makes it possible for the administrative officers of Michigan State college to plan effectively for the growth and progress of Michigan State college,

THEREFORE, we, as alumni of Michigan State college, assembled in annual meeting at East Lansing on June 11, 1932, do hereby express our appreciation to the people of the state of Michigan, the legislature, and the administrative officers of the state for maintaining and continuing this sound method of financing Michigan State college.

RESOLUTION 3

WHEREAS, The Michigan State college association has enjoyed a most effective year even through a reduction in finances, and

WHEREAS, this has been in no small part due to the splendid work and energy of our president, R. Bruce McPherson, and other officers of the Association, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the alumni of Michigan State college in annual meeting assembled at East Lansing on June 11, 1932, do hereby express our sincere appreciation to Mr. McPherson and other officers of the Association for their splendid efforts.

RESOLUTION 4

WHEREAS, The growth and usefulness to the students, alumni, and friends of Michigan State college, of the M. S. C. Alumni association and the M. S. C. Union have been due largely to the energetic efforts of Glen O. Stewart and Ray H. Riggs.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the alumni of Michigan State college in annual meeting assembled at East Lansing on June 11, 1932, that we do express our appreciation to Glen O. Stewart and Ray H. Riggs for their sincere and effective work in our behalf.

RESOLUTION 5

WHEREAS, We, as alumni of Michigan State college, have observed that to insure the financial stability of our association and alumni magazine we must build up a substantial permanent fund similar to the Life Membership plan now in use in many alumni groups,

IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED that we urge the executive committee of the M. S. C. association to give serious consideration to the matter of starting a Life Membership plan through which alumni can make one single payment for Life Membership or by equally divided installments, thereafter being free from further annual assessments.

RESOLUTION 6

WHEREAS, Charles W. Garfield, Class of '70, honorary life president of this association, has during the past year celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday anniversary and was on that occasion honored by the city of Grand Rapids as its most beloved citizen, and

WHEREAS, "Uncle" Frank Kedzie, class of '77, past president of Michigan State college and now historian of the institution, was honored by the city of Lansing on the celebration of his seventy-fifth anniversary, and

WHEREAS, these illustrious alumni of Michigan State college have brought much credit and glory to M. S. C. and have been actively interested throughout their lives in the upbuilding of Michigan State college and in the activities of this association,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that we, the members of the M. S. C. association in annual meeting assembled on June 11, 1932, do hereby extend our heartiest congratulations to Mr. Garfield and Mr. Kedzie on their accomplishments to date and extend to them our best wishes for many years of future activity.

RESOLUTION 7

WHEREAS, during the past year Mrs. Linda E. Landon has retired from active duty as college librarian after having served Michigan State college for forty-two years, and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Landon through her daily associations with the students and faculty has played an important part in the life and activity of Michigan State college and has through these years of activity and service taken an irreplaceable part in the lives of each succeeding class of students,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that we the members of the M. S. C. association in annual meeting assembled June 11, 1932, do hereby extend to Mrs. Landon an expression of appreciation on the completion of her forty-two years of distinguished service to Michigan State college, and do hereby extend to her an honorary Life Membership in this association.

RESOLUTION 8

WHEREAS, Almighty God in His Divine Wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst during the last year, Mrs. E. S. King, Mrs. Charles Spurway, Mrs. E. E. Gallup, Alfred Voigt, '81, Eugene Law, '83, J. E. W. Tracy, '96, and many other alumni and friends of Michigan State college, and

WHEREAS, the loss of these dear friends and loyal alumni is real and irreplaceable and their departure brings real sorrow to the alumni and friends of Michigan State college,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the alumni of Michigan State college in annual meeting assembled at East Lansing, June 11, 1932, that we do hereby express to the families and relatives of the above mentioned our most sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their recent loss through the death of these our friends, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that appropriate copies of this resolution shall be mailed to the families of alumni that have departed this life since we met a year ago and it is ordered that this resolution be spread upon the records of the alumni association and a copy published in the M. S. C. Record.

Winding Cedar Comments

M. S. C.'s new horde of freshmen will convene on the Campus this fall, September 21 to 24, for Freshmen Week services, the administration announced recently. They will undergo various tests and orientating procedures before the upperclassmen arrive for actual college classes September 23 and 24.

Impressed by a personally conducted survey as to what State students are reading, Jackson E. Towne, new college librarian, intends to overcome excessive novel reading on the Campus by placing open book shelves in all rooms of the library. State's modern library is built under the "hidden shelf" influence in architecture, and as a result no one but the attendants know what the shelves contain. Mr. Towne hopes to correct this evil by placing in full view the library's store of biography, travelogue, history, and works of a similar serious nature.

Headed by the world famous Will Durant and "Young Bob" LaFollette, six outstanding American lecturers will cross the Liberal Arts lecture platform here next winter. The list includes: Daniel Frohman, stage impressario; LaFollette; Robert Reynolds, prize-winning Harper novelist; Durant; Dr. R. L. Ditman, New York zoologist and reptile authority; the Rt. Hon. H. B. Lees-Smith, British cabinet minister.

Preceded by fifty-seven cavalry officers riding side roads toward Camp Custer, the M. S. C. unit of R. O. T. C. officers left June 16 and 17 for their annual six weeks summer camp training. Eighty-seven students left this post; infantry and cavalry for Camp Custer, and coast artillery for Fort Sheridan, Illinois. Intensive training in all practical problems of military life is required of upperclass cadet officers prior to graduation.

Comparison between the results of Rockefeller Foundation tests given applied science and liberal arts sophomores at Michigan State and all Pennsylvania colleges, revealed that State students are slightly below the Penn average, according to word received by Professor L. C. Emmons, research professor in institutional management. Spartans topped their Penn contemporaries somewhat in English grammar, but fell behind in science and literature. Liberal Arts students in general were higher than their fellow science students in literature and cultural subjects but dropped in scientific fields.

Gifford Patch, '16, and C. R. Oviatt, '16, of the College extension department, appeared before the Federal Farm board in Washington, D. C. during June to negotiate loans which would enable Michigan sugar beet factories to operate during the present season. It is reported that between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000 is to be distributed about the state.

Six Spartan athletes went to the Pacific coast late in June for participation in the I. C. A. A. A. meet at Berkeley, California. Their expenses were paid by California universities who desired to assure the meet for their section of the country. Roger Keast, sophomore quarter miler; Otto Pongrace, half miler; Ted Bath and Cliff Liberty, ace hurdlers; Art Buss, weight specialist, and Ralph Small, two miler, went west in private cars, accompanied by Ralph H. Young, director of athletics.

Upon the favorable impression created by Sphinx, local women's honorary, on Miss Elsie Murray, national vice-president of Mortar Board depends much of State's chances of gaining a charter from the national women's honorary fraternity. Miss Murray was on the Campus June 7 and 8 to inspect Sphinx for prospective membership.

Depicting "Re-Dreams of Old Red Cedar," the senior class staged successfully the annual Water Carnival June 11 and 12 on the banks of the Red Cedar before a combined crowd of 5,000 persons. Events in canoe racing and tilting, vaudeville skits and musical numbers preceded the traditional procession of floats, this year numbering 33. The entire history of the College was portrayed for the audience, many of whom were former graduates back for Alumni Day. Sigma Alpha Epsilon drew first prize for its conception of M. A. C.'s part in the World War. Kappa Kappa Gamma depicted the founding of the Liberal Arts division successfully to take second honors. Trimouira fraternity was awarded third place for their float representing State's chances at the Olympic game this summer. Clark Chamberlain, senior president, and Maxine Sturgeon, vice-president reigned over the carnival as King and Queen, from their elevated thrones above the river. James Hasselman, supervisor of publications served as preceptor, while Curne Hampton, of Lansing, was general chairman.

Professor E. H. Ryder, first dean of the liberal arts division, was recently reappointed after a leave of two years due to ill health. Dr. E. L. Austin, acting dean of the division, will continue his duties as head of the department of education.

Slightly diminished outstate entrance list in the tenth annual R. O. T. C. horse show at State May 30 helped student entrants capture fifteen places. Of 26 participating from equitation and military classes, ten took prize money. Expert Spartan riders were: Philip Teusink, Ensign Clyde, Weldon Slisher, Catherine McCutcheon, Ray Lamphear, Virginia Skinner, M. H. McMichael, Charlotte MacKinnon, Gladys Traynor, Annette Leavitt, and Fern Blanchard.

In commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of Haydn, and in honor of State's 75th anniversary, the combined college chorus, assisted by the Lansing Orpheus club, numbering 150 voices, presented Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation," June 12 in Demonstration hall. More than 3,000 people attended.

L. L. Frimodig, assistant director of athletics in charge of all football ticket sales, has had a busy summer revising application blanks and income forms. All because Uncle Sam hasn't been so kind to ticket men for athletic contests. To make it easy for eastern alumni in ordering tickets for the Fordham game, Frim has appointed Wallace B. Liverance, '07, as his agent in New York City. Fordham tickets are $2.20 each, plus postage for return registered letter. Alumni are urged to mail their applications to Wallace B. Liverance, Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U. S., Room 826, Lincoln building, 60 East 42nd street, New York city. His phone number is Vanderbilt 37490. There will be an alumni rally at the Vanderbilt hotel on Friday evening, October 21, preceding the Fordham game.

SPARTAN CLUBS

PITTSBURGH CLUB ELECTS

OUT of some forty-four alumni found to hibernate in and around Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, fifteen crawled out of their shells April 8 long enough to attend a get-together at the William Penn hotel. Campus views were shown on the screen and good fellowship was rampant. So much so that it was decided to hold a picnic this summer and to have luncheon meetings upon the least provocation.

C. D. Miller, '26, 3223 Pinehurst avenue, Dormont, Pennsylvania, was elected president; Burwell Cummings, '23, 1119 West North avenue, N. S., Pittsburgh, secretary; and Charles W. Mason, '09, Carnegie library, Pittsburgh, treasurer. H. C. Newman, '24, 524 East End avenue, and Loren S. Ross, '23, 1005 N. Sheridan street, were appointed chairman of the picnic and luncheon committees respectively.

The purpose of this is to serve notice on all alumni that we will be more than glad to throw a luncheon for them and pay the check if they will get in touch with any of us when they are in Pittsburgh.

—BURWELL CUMMINGS, Sec.

BERRIEN COUNTY

TAKING time out between strawberry and cherry seasons the live-wires of the Berrien county alumni association held a picnic at Lake Chapin, Berrien Springs.

Election of officers, the entertainment of the winners in the alumni undergraduate scholarship contest and a talk by W. E. Berkey, Cassopolis publisher and member of the State Board of Agriculture, were the attractions planned by Leo Stanley, '16, Benton Harbor, retiring president.

The alumni committee in charge of selecting the scholarship winners announced that Miss Rose Jones, of Cassopolis, had been awarded first place and Worth Stonecliffe, of Benton Harbor, as alternate. Both appointments were conditional upon the successful passing of a comprehensive examination at the College, July 30.

Officers elected for the ensuing year include Frank Daniels, '27, of Benton Harbor, president; Arthur Knoblauch, '29, Buchanan, vice-president, and Lee Rosencrans, '30, secretary-treasurer.

Close Beside the Winding Cedar

Resignation of Louis Graveure, former head of the vocal department of the Michigan State Institute of Music and Allied Arts was accepted by the State Board of Agriculture at a special meeting August 16. The resignation was made effective as of April 1, 1932. No successor was appointed.

The eighteenth annual summer session closed on July 29, with an unusual attendance of more than 850. Professor Albert H. Nelson, director, aided students in planning a series of summer terms for fulfilling the requirements of either the College or the state. The usual conferences and entertainment provided for the summer session were well attended.

One of the most successful Farmers' Day programs ever held on the Campus was attended by more than 5,000 visitors on Friday, July 29. Dean J. F. Cox, of the agricultural division, was in general charge of the program and gave an interesting review of Michigan State college and its 75-year contribution to the field of agriculture. A novel feature of the afternoon program was a pageant of progress in the field of agriculture, depicting harvesting, transportation, and home conveniences.

M. S. C. celebrated two anniversaries this spring. In addition to its own 75th birthday, it joined the city of East Lansing in commemorating the latter's 25th year as an incorporated community. An elaborate pageant depicting East Lansing "Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow" took place in the Peoples church with many students and faculty participating. Local merchants displayed antiques and ancient oddities in their windows for the edification of the townspeople.
