Dear Professor Ishino:

You will find enclosed three copies of the packing list covering shipment of your household goods now en route to you by National Carloading freight to the west coast and military sea transport from Oakland, California. As you will note in the attached copy of our letter to the Port Transportation Officer, we have requested that you be advised at destination of the vessel on which shipment is made and estimated arrival date at Okinawa.

Mr. Perry, of Michigan State University, requested that all of the goods be included in one freight shipment and that shipment be made as soon as possible since the express charges, amounting to about $150.00, on the goods specified for advance shipment would only save about one week in time in transit.

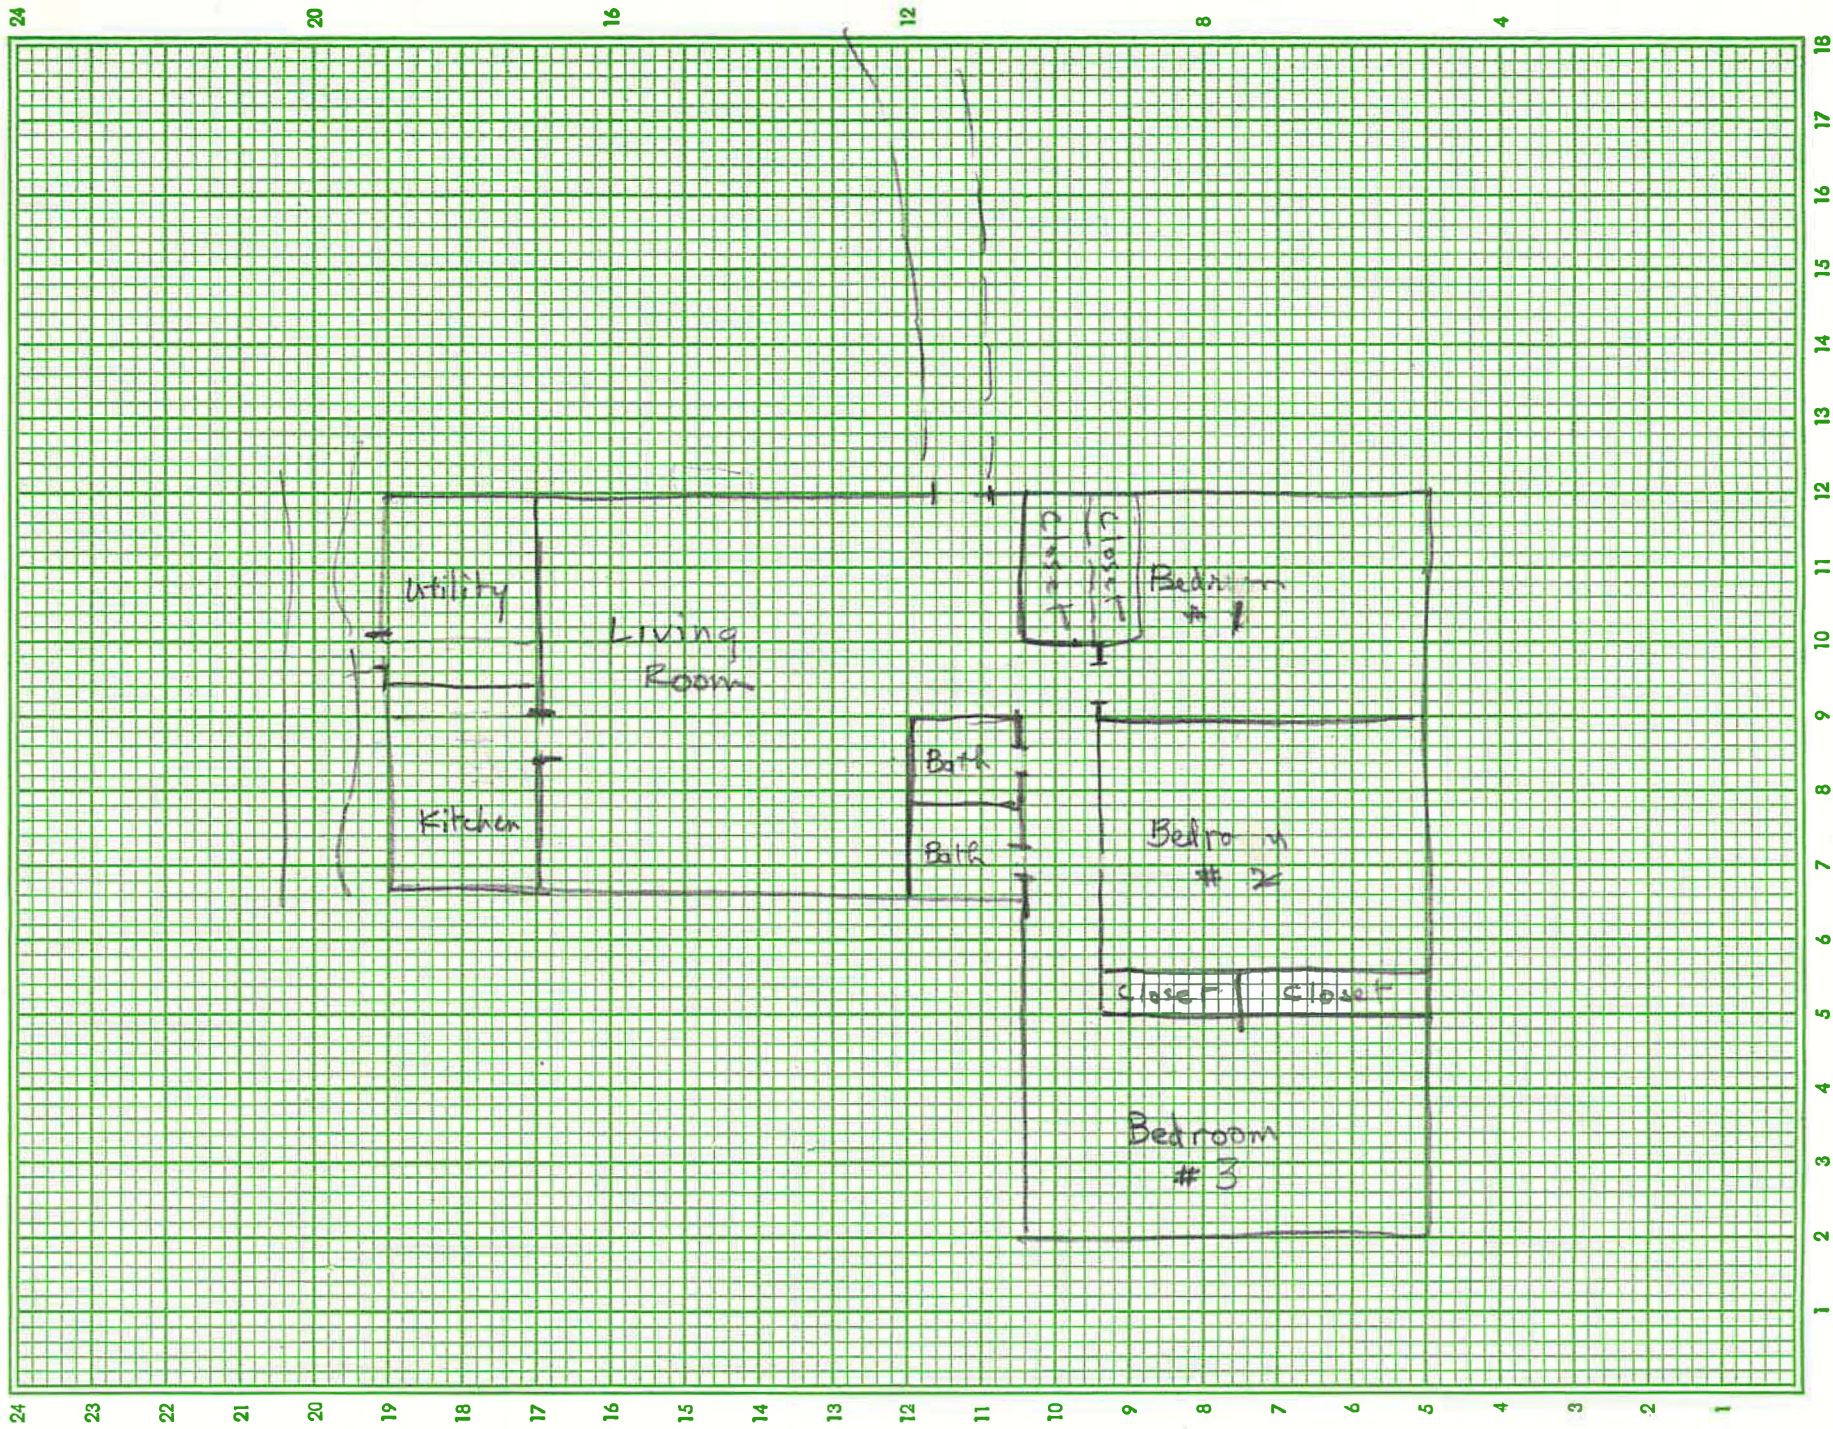

We were successful in including all books in this shipment and all items originally specified for shipment except the washer and dryer. The actual gross weight was 4455 pounds.

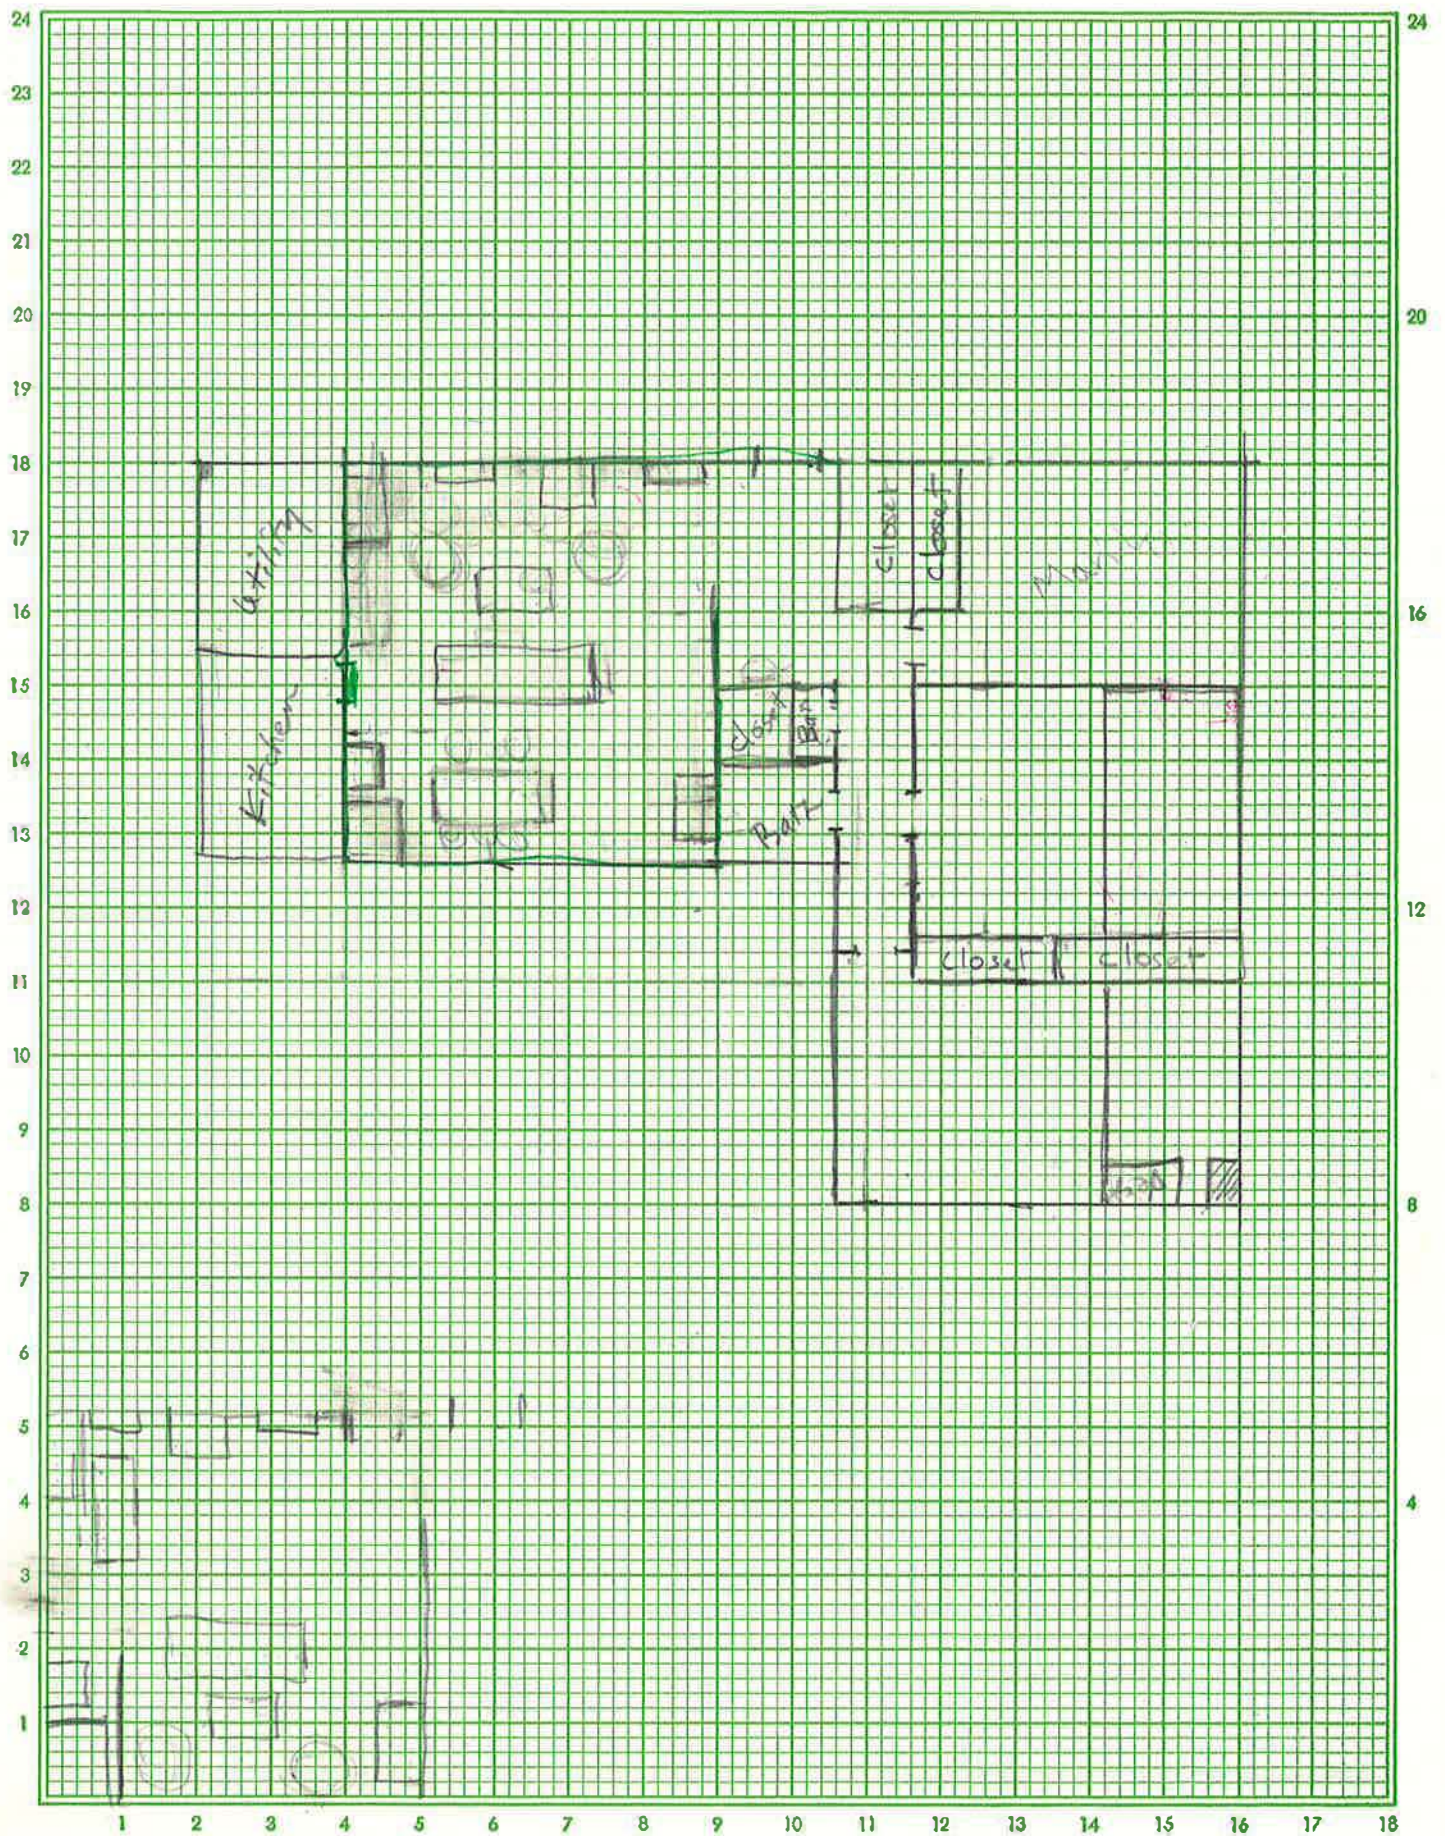

We trust that this shipment arrives promptly in good condition and would appreciate being advised if this is not the case.

Very truly yours,
LANSING STORAGE COMPANY
