MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

As one of the leading land-grant universities and the first agricultural college in the nation, Michigan State University provides a technical, practical and cultural education for its student body, in addition to extensive research and extension services to the people of Michigan.

Now in its 101st year, Michigan State University has grown from three buildings and six faculty members to the ninth largest university in the nation. It has approximately 2,000 staff members engaged in teaching, research and public service, 93 permanent and 490 temporary buildings, and almost 4,200 acres of land, including 628 acres in the campus area proper.

Founded in 1855 to educate youth for the major occupation of that day—farming—Michigan State University has broadened its offerings as young people, preparing for other vocations, have sought the advantages of college training. Today, Michigan State University has eight colleges—Agriculture, Business and Public Service, Communication Arts, Education, Engineering, Home Economics, Science and Arts, Veterinary Medicine—and the School for Advanced Graduate Studies, and offers 126 different courses of study, 70 of these on the graduate level. This excludes the curriculum of the Basic College, which has been hailed as one of the most progressive ideas for higher education in the nation today.

Michigan State University continually strives to expand its service to the people of the state through the Agricultural Experiment Station, the Cooperative Extension Service and the Continuing Education Service. The Agricultural Experiment Station conducts research on campus and at five off-campus substations. Through the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, more than 271,000 families are reached with technical information on agriculture, homemaking and the 4-H Club program. The field staff, located in every county, extends M.S.U.'s campus into every township in Michigan. During the 1955-56 year, the Continuing Education Service reached about 200,000 persons in programs conducted both on campus and in local communities. The Continuing Education Service also directs the M.S.U. Evening College.

Today, more than 17,000 students from Michigan and other states and from nations all over the world are attending the University at East Lansing—about 9,000 of whom are housed on the campus proper. With about 85 percent of these students coming from communities in every section of the state, Michigan State University is doing its part to fill the greatly increased demand of the younger generation for higher education.

In the agricultural, business and professional fields, Michigan State University has proved its worth to the people of the State of Michigan, paying dividends many times the appropriation for its maintenance each year by the state and national governments. Noted for its democratic and friendly spirit, the student body harmonizes with the University faculty to make Michigan State University a first-class educational institution.

The purpose of the Michigan State University is to provide a liberal education and to advance the state of knowledge in the sciences, arts, and letters. It is to be a center of research and learning, and to be a place where the highest quality of education is provided.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

The pageantry and color at commencement exercises reveal a record of academic achievement of the various individuals taking part in the exercises. The following brief description is given that the audience might more readily interpret such achievement.

In 1894, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, met at Columbia University to draft a code which would serve to regulate the design of gowns and hoods indicating the various degrees as well as the colors to indicate the various faculties. This code has been adopted by most of the colleges and universities in America and its use has made identification of scholastic honors an immediate activity.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors are made of black worsted material and have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters may be made either of black silk or black wool and have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. The arm goes through a slit, giving the appearance of short sleeves for the master's gown. Doctor's gowns are made of black silk and are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree. If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department or faculty to which the degree pertains.

Historical associations of color have been continued to signify the various faculties. Art and letters can be recognized by the white, taken from the traditional white fur trimming of the Oxford and Cambridge Bachelor of Arts hoods. Red, long traditional of the church, indicates theology. The royal purple of the King's court signifies law. The green of medicinal herbs immediately identifies a medical degree. Philosophy is signified by the color of wisdom and truth, blue. Because through research untold wealth has been released to the world, science is identified by golden yellow. Oxford pink indicates music and russet brown, the color of dress worn by ancient English foresters, indicates forestry.

The wording of the degree determines the color of the velvet of the hood. For example, a Master of Science in Engineering would be signified by golden yellow (science) instead of the orange of Engineering. A Bachelor of Engineering would wear the orange of Engineering.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the bachelors graduating from the different departments of study by tassels of the official department color as established by the Intercollegiate Code.

VISITORS ARE WELCOME

ALUMNI MEMORIAL CHAPEL

The Alumni Memorial Chapel was erected in memory of over 400 boys who left this campus to serve in the armed forces of America and who paid the supreme sacrifice.

The funds were provided by gifts from alumni and friends of Michigan State University.

The chapel is available for weddings as well as for other services which may appropriately be held in such a shrine. There are accommodations for approximately 200 persons.

The building is located on Auditorium Road and will be open all day to visitors.

ART EXHIBITIONS

An exhibition of work by students in the Department of Art is on display in the Art Room on third floor of the Student Union from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. The examples constitute a selection of the best work done during the past year in ceramics, sculpture, drawing, painting, design, industrial design and print making. Visitors are cordially welcomed. There is no charge.

BEAL GARFIELD BOTANIC GARDEN

In the Beal Garfield Botanic Garden are between two and three thousand botanical plants. The Garden is open to visitors any time.

THE UNIVERSITY FARMS

The University Farms are located on the south side of the Red Cedar River. By driving south on Farm Lane, the road running north and south past the University Auditorium, many of the farm buildings can be seen. Attention of the visitors is called especially to the University Dairy Barn, the Experimental Cattle Barn, the Pavilion, the Agricultural Engineering Building, the Research Greenhouses, and the University Poultry Unit.

At the corner of Shaw and Farm Lanes, west of the Agricultural Engineering Building, the new $4,000,000 Animal Industries Building is under construction. Upon its completion in September, 1956, it will house the dairy, animal husbandry, and poultry departments.

UNIVERSITY MUSEUM

The Museum, located in the Auditorium Building, is open to visitors on weekdays from 8:00 to 5:00 P.M. and on Saturdays and Sundays from 1:00 to 5:00 P.M. On display are exhibits of animals, plants, historical items of the farm and home, fabrics and ornaments of primitive man, and examples of fine workmanship in arts and crafts. Attention of the public is directed especially to the exhibits of Michigan fishes, birds, deer, beaver, bear and other animals in natural habitat groups, the Richey collection of ceramics bearing a corn motif, breeds of poultry, the Chamberlain collection of antique watches, porcelain figurines and the Lee collection of Chinese embroidered textiles. Materials preserved by the Museum for both display and study are obtained largely through the generosity of alumni and friends.

Visitors are cordially welcomed. A member of the staff is always on duty to answer questions or to direct you to exhibits of special interest.

WKAR-AM, WKAR-FM, AND WKAR-TV

WKAR-AM and WKAR-FM, the University Radio Stations, with studios above the main entrance to the Auditorium, and the WKAR-TV Studios, 600 Kalamazoo St. (formerly Quonset Cafeteria), will be open today to visitors after 10:00 A.M.

HORTICULTURAL GARDENS

The Horticultural Gardens, east of the Horticulture Building and the greenhouses, will be open all day to visitors.

MICHIGAN STATE'S BUILDING PROGRAM

Four units of the Brody Hall group of men's residence halls on Harrison Road have been completed. This includes three dormitories, Butterfield, Bryan and Rather Halls, plus the central dining room and recreational facility building, Brody Hall. Three additional dormitories, Emmons, Armstrong, and Bailey, are being completed for full occupancy in September 1956. This group of dormitories is constructed on a self-liquidating basis.

A modern married-student housing project called University Village has been constructed on Kalamazoo Avenue. At the beginning of the Fall term, 1955, 456 of these apartments were available for married students, and 176 more are now being constructed.

The physical facilities of the Music Building, Health Center, and the Stadium are presently being expanded to meet the increased needs of the growing student body.

ALMA MATER

I

M. S. U. we love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M. S. U.

II

When from these scenes we wander
And twilight shadows fade,
Our mem'ry still will linger
Where light and shadows played.
In the evening oft we'll gather
And pledge our faith anew,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M. S. U.

It is a matter of sincere regret that construction at the Stadium will cause some inconvenience to our guests at this commencement by limiting the number of entrances and exits available to them.

The East concourse of the stadium is reserved for the graduates. All of the space in that area is needed to handle efficiently the distribution of diplomas and the checking in of caps and gowns.

Please do not try to meet graduates in that area.
