COMMENCEMENT 1968

Sunday, June 9
Spartan Stadium, East Lansing

ACADEMIC COSTUME

The pageantry and color at commencement exercises reveal a record of academic achievement of the various individuals taking part in the exercises. The following brief description is given that the audience might more readily interpret such achievement.

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, met at Columbia University to draft a code which would serve to regulate the design of gowns and hoods indicating the various degrees as well as the colors to indicate the various faculties. This code has been adopted by most of the colleges and universities in America and its use has made identification of scholastic honors an immediate activity.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors are made of black worsted material and have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters may be made either of black silk or black wool and have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. The arm goes through a slit, giving the appearance of short sleeves for the master's gown. Doctors' gowns are made of black silk and are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree. If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department or faculty to which the degree pertains.

Historical associations of color have been continued to signify the various faculties. Art and letters can be recognized by the white, taken from the traditional white fur trimming of the Oxford and Cambridge Bachelor of Arts hoods. Red, long traditional of the church, indicates theology. The royal purple of the King's court signifies law. The green of medicinal herbs immediately identifies a medical degree. Philosophy is signified by the color of wisdom and truth, blue. Because through research untold wealth has been released to the world, science is identified by golden yellow. Oxford pink indicates music and russet brown, the color of dress worn by ancient English foresters, indicates forestry.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the bachelors graduating from the different departments of study by tassels of the official department color as established by the Intercollegiate Code.

ALMA MATER — Traynor

M.S.U., we love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M.S.U.

When from these scenes we wander
And twilight shadows fade,
Our mem'ry still will linger
Where light and shadows played.
In the evening oft we'll gather
And pledge our faith anew,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M.S.U.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, one of the leading land-grant universities and the first agricultural college in America, strives for excellence in affording liberal and practical education for its students in a broad range of human endeavors.

MSU also serves people of the state, nation and world through its numerous research, extension and international programs.

Now in its 114th year, Michigan State has grown from three buildings and six faculty members to one of the ten largest universities in the nation. It has approximately 3,000 staff members engaged in teaching, research and public service, 439 buildings, and approximately 5,000 acres of land of which 2,010 acres are in existing or planned campus development.

Founded in 1855 to educate youth for the major occupation of that day — farming — MSU has broadened its offerings to meet the educational needs of today. Michigan State now has the School for Advanced Graduate Studies and 15 colleges — Agriculture and Natural Resources, Arts and Letters, Business, Communication Arts, Education, Engineering, Home Economics, Human Medicine, James Madison, Justin S. Morrill, Lyman J. Briggs, Natural Science, Social Science, Veterinary Medicine and the University College, which offers basic courses for all freshmen and sophomores. Nearly 200 areas of specialization are available to undergraduates; approximately 300 are offered for graduate students.

The Honors College, which enables superior students to waive normal graduation requirements and undertake individual programs, attracts many of the nation's finest young scholars. The Merit Scholarship Program, of which Michigan State University is a prominent sponsor, enrolled nearly 200 Merit Scholars in this year's freshman class. This figure represents more than seven percent of the nation's total of this unusually select group.

One of the newest of many innovations in higher education made by Michigan State University is its coeducational academic-residence halls. Incorporation of classrooms and faculty offices with living, dining and recreational facilities has given these giant new dormitories, now nine in number, a stimulating academic environment. Each of these halls is the center of curricular and noncurricular activities, creating a "college within a college" atmosphere.

The "small college within the larger university" concept was introduced in 1965 at MSU by the establishment of the Justin S. Morrill College, which offers a limited enrollment liberal education program with an international emphasis; an intensive program in foreign languages is required of all Justin Morrill students. The concept was expanded in 1967 by the establishment and opening of the James Madison College and the Lyman J. Briggs College. James Madison offers a curriculum for the study of public policy problems within the framework of the social sciences and related disciplines. Lyman Briggs makes available a liberal curriculum for students especially interested in science and mathematics.

Today, nearly 39,000 students attend the University at East Lansing. About 80 percent are from Michigan, representing every section of the state. Students also come from every state in the nation and 78 foreign countries.

Looking to the future, Michigan State University is preparing for increasingly larger enrollments as the great number of children born after World War II reach college age. To meet this challenge, MSU is revising curriculums and developing new teaching techniques through its Educational Development Project.

In the land-grant tradition it pioneered, Michigan State University is concerned with research and service as well as teaching.

All colleges and the Agricultural Experiment Station are engaged in a wide range of research. Some 2,100 individual projects are in progress. The University's research tools include the giant Control Data 3600 Computer and a 50-million-volt cyclotron. Modern facilities include the following new buildings: Chemistry, biochemistry, psychology research, veterinary medicine, plant science research, and natural resources.

Through an agreement with the Atomic Energy Commission, MSU will become a national center for basic research on plants and their reactions to radiation. Involved is construction of a $2 million building, a staff of approximately 90 persons and an annual budget of approximately $1 million when the program is fully underway.

Benefits of the University are brought to every county in Michigan by the Cooperative Extension Service and the Continuing Education Service. Their programs, on and off campus, provide a wide range of technical information and formal course work for hundreds of thousands of Michigan citizens. The Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, one of the finest conference centers in the nation, annually hosts nearly 50,000 adults who come to the campus for some 600 conferences and other educational meetings.

Michigan State University's land-grant concept of service is international. Supported by grants from the federal government and private foundations, Michigan State University maintains research and technical assistance projects in Asia, Africa and Latin America. International projects have given many faculty members overseas experience, adding a new dimension to their teaching.

With more than a century of educational achievement behind it, Michigan State University continues to apply its academic and physical resources to the problems of today and the challenges of the future.

THE UNITED NATIONS FLAGS

The flags at the rear of the stage are those of the United Nations from which students are attending Michigan State University. They are displayed in the English alphabetical order of the countries represented. The United Nations Flag itself is displayed in the center. Not included in this list are the U. S. possessions: Canal Zone, Guam, Puerto Rico, and The Virgin Islands. The arrangement from left to right is:

HONORARY DEGREES

JOHN NASH DOUGLAS BUSH

You have had a deep and far-reaching influence on the study of literature and the humanities in America. Your numerous scholarly books devoted to classicism, mythology and Renaissance literature invariably have brought humanity to the study of letters. Without sacrificing the utmost accuracy and diligence in the collection of facts, you have insisted that the scholar's function is not merely to assemble information, but also to bring meaning and value to the human condition. Both as writer and as teacher at Harvard University and elsewhere, you have demonstrated to countless students your unique ability to illuminate, by sudden flashes of wit and wisdom, whole areas of human thought and experience. Because of your dedication to humane learning and the testimony of your own distinguished career that integrity, wisdom and grace are as meaningful in life as in literature, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Letters.

ZAFAR ALI HASHMI

In the two decades since your graduation from this university as a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, you have followed a distinguished career in science and education in your native West Pakistan. As a scholar you have made significant research discoveries in the treatment of animal diseases and have written extensively in the scientific journals of Pakistan and other countries. During your years as a teacher and administrator, and especially as Vice Chancellor of the West Pakistan Agricultural University, you have carried out the best traditions of that land-grant philosophy of education which was a part of your American experience. Because of your unusual energy and knowledge, you have held positions of leadership in many scientific organizations and have represented your government in educational conferences throughout the world. In recognition of the honor which you have brought to yourself and this institution, and the valuable contributions which you have made to the agricultural and scientific progress of your country, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Science.

BENJAMIN ELIJAH MAYS

Your long and distinguished career as a churchman, teacher and administrator is one of the most remarkable in the annals of religious education in America. You have demonstrated the achievements which are possible for men of vision, courage and faith. As a lecturer, writer and delegate to social and religious conferences throughout the world, you have displayed an admirable devotion to the welfare of your fellow men of whatever race or nationality. And especially during your many years of wise and intelligent leadership as President of Morehouse College, you have brought a radiant hope and a larger dream to thousands of young people. In all of your many endeavors you have supported with both words and deeds the cause of freedom and human dignity. Because of your unusual accomplishments and because you have shown, by the example of your own life, that the human heart can encompass a love of God, a devotion to country and a compassion for every fellow citizen, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws.

HONORARY DEGREES

JOSEPH IRWIN MILLER

Your record of achievement as an industrialist and business executive has earned for you a distinguished reputation. As a specialist in the development of the diesel engine, you have made outstanding contributions to technological progress in transportation and industry. During your tenure as president of the Cummins Engine Company, and as director and trustee of numerous other organizations, your administrative leadership has been marked by intelligence and vision. Your endeavors in business, finance and other fields have been enriched by your dedication to civic improvement in your native Indiana and elsewhere in the nation. Your generous efforts in such areas of human service as education and good government are widely recognized and appreciated. Because of your devotion to the economic and civic welfare of your fellow Americans and to the country's industrial progress, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws.

JAMES M. ROCHE

Your career over the past four decades as an industrialist and business executive has been unusually distinguished. Beginning as an assistant branch manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Company, you have advanced through positions of increasing responsibility to become the chief executive officer of the world's major manufacturer, the General Motors Corporation. Because of your imagination, energy and social responsibility, you have made noteworthy contributions to the automotive industry in such areas as personnel policy and sales management. All of your varied endeavors have profited from your exceptional knowledge and your enlightened view of corporate management. In addition to your career in industry you have devoted much time and effort to civic projects important to the welfare of the people of this state. In recognition of your outstanding contributions to the economic life of your fellow citizens and to the American automotive industry, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws.

FRANCIS OTTO SCHMITT

Your achievement in the field of biology has given you an international reputation. As a teacher and research scientist you have consistently demonstrated the enthusiasm, intelligence and steadfast purpose which have been the hallmarks of your career. Your patient labors in zoology and physiology, which have brought you signal honors and awards, are of great importance in the unending struggle against disease. Despite your many activities and your leadership in professional organizations and conferences, you have remained an outstanding teacher at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and wherever you have taught. Your work in public health has been highly praised by your colleagues and in the health agencies of our government. Because of your devotion to scientific truth and your successful advancement of man's knowledge about himself and his environment, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Science.

HONORARY DEGREES

JOHN ORMSBEE SIMONDS

Since your graduation from Michigan State University three decades ago, you have pursued a distinguished career in the field of landscape architecture, broadened beyond its original limits. By use of your intelligent and imaginative application of your professional knowledge, you have combined the qualities of beauty and usefulness in urban planning, highway beautification and other important activities. Internationally recognized as a consultant in community planning, you have left your mark upon the environment of numberless people both in this country and abroad. As a writer, critic and architect, you have consistently maintained the highest ideals of your profession. Because of the great credit which your admirable work has brought to yourself and this institution, and your accomplishments in the shaping of man's natural environment, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Science.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARDS

WILLIAM J. BAKER

Class of 1915. Mr. Baker is President and Chairman of the Board of the Midland Federal Savings and Loan Association. He also owns and operates the Mid-Homer Farm which is noted for registered Holstein cattle. He has been in the financial world since he was graduated from Michigan State University. His first position was with the Peoples State Savings Bank, Midland, serving as Vice President at the time the bank was acquired by the Chemical State Savings Bank of Midland. He worked briefly for the Chemical State Savings Bank before he organized Midland Federal in 1933. A Trustee of Alma College, he was honored in 1962 by that institution for distinguished service. In 1965 he was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Northwood Institute, Midland. For years an active, interested, dedicated alumnus, he was a founder of the Michigan State University Alumni Association, and presently serves on the Michigan State University Alumni Development Fund Board. He helped organize and is a member of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and the Midland County Fair Association, serving as Director and Treasurer of both organizations at one time. He was a member of the original charter group for the City of Midland, has served as Chairman of the County Board of Social Aid and was a member of the City of Midland Parks and Recreations Commission. Recently he completed more than 25 years of membership in the Kiwanis Club.

CARL H. BOEHRINGER

Class of 1925. Mr. Boehringer is presently the Executive Director of the American Chamber of Commerce in Japan with offices in Tokyo. He has served in this post since 1963 and has lived in Japan for fifteen years. Mr. Boehringer has had a very interesting career which began while as a student on the Michigan State University campus. He was editor of The Holcad, forerunner of The Michigan State News. After graduation he took a 17-month trip around the world serving part of the time as sports editor for The China Press, Shanghai. During the first half of 1929, he was a publicity writer for the Food and Drug Administration, Department of Commerce, and began a career of 32 years specializing in economic and commercial work and mainly in or on the Far East. During 1929-39 he served abroad with the Department of Commerce at Singapore, Batavia (now Djakarta), Manila and Tokyo. During the next 22 years, as a Foreign Service Officer, Department of State, he served at Tokyo, Osaka, Chungking, Nanking, and again at Tokyo, followed by assignments to Bonn, Manila, and finally Washington. At Bonn, 1951-54, he was the first postwar commercial attache assigned to Germany. At Tokyo and Manila he served as Counselor for Economic Affairs. He retired from the Department of State in 1961.

CLARENCE A. BOONSTRA

Class of 1936. Mr. Boonstra is presently the United States Ambassador to Costa Rica. He has held this post since January of 1967. Ambassador Boonstra has been in the foreign service with the State Department for more than 25 years. After graduation from Michigan State University he earned a Master's Degree and Ph.D. Degree from Louisiana State University. He served as assistant agricultural attache in Havana, Cuba, from 1942 to 1945. From there he went to Manila for two years as agricultural attache and in 1947 was promoted to second secretary at the embassy in Lima, Peru, where he stayed for two years. From 1949 to 1953 he was the first secretary at the embassy in Buenos Aires, Argentina, and then held the same post in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil until 1955. From that time until 1957 he was counselor for economic affairs in Havana. He returned to the United States and served the Office of South American Affairs. He became political adviser to the commander-in-chief of the United States Caribbean Command in the Canal Zone in 1961 and was named in 1963 as minister of the Canal Zone. From 1963 until his present assignment, he was the minister at the United States Embassy in Mexico City.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARDS

PAUL W. BRIGGS

Class of 1943. Mr. Briggs is presently serving as Superintendent of the Cleveland Public Schools. He has served in this post since 1964. His innovative ideas with this huge school system have captured the attention of the nation since many of his plans have received publicity in national publications. One of his ideas was to institute the nation's first Supplementary Educational Center and the Elementary School Library Program which in one year opened 135 libraries in Cleveland's elementary schools. A dramatic increase has been effected in the technical-vocational education programs; the system began a program to serve breakfast to more than 20,000 youngsters each morning, and he opened the nation's first school-factory training program. Mr. Briggs did his undergraduate work at Western Michigan University and was graduated in 1934. He studied at Wayne State, Harvard and Columbia Universities. From 1934 to 1940 he served the Brown City (Michigan) schools as a teacher and principal. From 1940 to 1957 he was in the Bay City school system as teacher, principal and superintendent. Between 1957 and 1964 he was superintendent of the Parma (Ohio) Public Schools. Mr. Briggs participated in the White House Conference on Education in 1965 and the White House Conference on Civil Rights in 1966. He is currently serving as a consultant to the Office of Education on Title IV programs.

FRANCIS E. FERGUSON

Class of 1947. One year ago Mr. Ferguson was named President of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, the nation's seventh largest life insurance company and one of the 25 largest businesses of any kind in the United States. Mr. Ferguson has been with Northwestern Mutual since 1951. He has served as an agricultural economics specialist in the mortgage loan department, assistant manager and manager of farm mortgages, general manager of mortgage loans, assistant Vice President and then Vice President in charge of that department in 1963. He held this position until elected President in April of 1967. During World War II he was a B-17 pilot, was shot down over Schweinfurt and spent 19 months in a German prisoner-of-war camp. Between graduation from Michigan State University and employment with Northwestern Mutual he was with the National Farm Loan Association in Lansing and with the Federal Land Bank in St. Paul, Minnesota. An active participant in Milwaukee civic and community affairs, among other posts he has been general campaign chairman for the United Fund of Greater Milwaukee, member of the board of Columbia Hospital, Lawrence University and Cutler-Hammer, Inc.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

TO THE 1968 GRADUATING CLASS
MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY MAIN CAMPUS

Few moments equal the joy, the satisfaction, and the fulfillment of graduation. It is a personal and permanent victory, an honor to last a lifetime. To each of you I extend my sincere congratulations.

The time is past when our national interests could be served by a few who elected to make their country's affairs their own. The complexity of our age and the particular burden history has thrust upon us -- to preserve freedom where it exists and to foster it where it does not -- demands every American hand and every American heart. The greatest responsibility falls to those who have the most to give.

I cannot tell you the extent of America's influence in shaping the new order of world affairs -- though I believe it will be great.

I cannot measure our national ability to abolish ignorance and sickness and injustice wherever these ancient enemies degrade humanity -- though I believe it is limitless.

I cannot predict that America's future will match and exceed the brilliance of her past -- though I believe it will.

The answers will not come in my lifetime, but in the future -- your future. I am confident that you who have proved your ability to achieve, to endure, and to win, will serve that future with distinction.

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Lyndon B. Johnson". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke at the end.
